160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Cresswell Oil Co., Coal Creek, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cornell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and knows how best to locate Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced Oil Man and Driller secured us fortunate by obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL cannot be a barrel at well. Costs from 10c to 20c to produce it. THEY pay 20 to 30 per cent. in dividends. Present GREAT ACTIVITY is but a small beginning in the WELLS STILL COMING IN within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for the output of OIL EXCEEDED THE SUPPLY. The 30 refineries in California have not enough oil, with the result that gravity fields are diminishing. The OIL MUST COME from the fields not developed. The demand is created by the thousands of gasoline engines in service, by the rising of high gravity crude prices, and by the many new ones are locating in VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most productive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overshadowed at any time. One day's delay may be too much—you are too late. ACT NOW. SELL stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Dowas, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. P. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

BIG JEWEL ROBBERY IS STILL A MYSTERY.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15. —The mystery of the theft of the Countess of Antrim's jewels is still not cleared up, despite the fact that a crowd of detectives are working on the case.

Owing to the robberies that have recently taken place in Pullman carriages, C.P.R. detectives are travelling on every train, and the transcontinentals arriving yesterday were liberally protected in this way.

It is claimed that the large number of tilted and wealthy people who are now travelling through Canada has attracted the attention of the gangs in the United States. Within the last month there have been as many as a dozen personages of title and other wealthy people staying at the Royal Alexandra at the same time, and some were travelling with their wives, who carry valuable jewels.

TO SEEK TREASURE BENEATH THE SEA.

Efforts Will Be Made to Recover $5,500,000 From Sunken British Warship.

London, Sept. 10.—Another attempt is to be made to salve the British warship Latine, which was wrecked about a century ago on the coast of Holland.

The romantic venture is to be carried out by the National Salvage Association, Ltd., the statutory meeting of which was held yesterday.

The chairman mentioned that the main object for which the company had been formed was the salving of certain wrecks in South Africa, but they had had brought before their notice the question of salving a British war vessel which was wrecked much nearer home, namely, His Majesty's steamship Latine, wrecked on the coast of Holland about a century ago, and thus much newer than the two vessels which they had been principally formed to salve.

This particular vessel was somewhat historical, and attempts to salve her had been numerous during the last century. Of the $6,000,000 which she was said to contain, only $500,000 had so far been recovered, so that there was a very large amount still there.

They had been able to make very little satisfactory arrangements both with Lloyds and with the authorities in Holland. They had also arranged to take over on favorable terms the appliances and plans of the New Latine Company, which was the last company which attempted to salve that vessel. Although many failures had been made in the past in this direction, there was no reason he thought, why they should not be successful, because they were able to bring to bear knowledge and the use of scientific implements such as were undreamed of a few years ago.

He admitted that the company had been regarded by some as interested in "a wildcat venture," but it was interesting to remember that the telephone business was also similarly regarded at its commencement. They proposed to test their equipment and their crew by the salving operations on the Latine for the rest of the present year, and then devote themselves to the wrecks in South Africa.

He added they quite realize that there was an element of risk to their operations and that they would either have a big dividend or none at all.

FORTUNE IN JEWELS WAS BURIED IN BOTTLES.

Thief Confesses Guilt When Arrested and Put Police on Trace of the Loot.

Paris, Sept. 19.—The Chief Cattaneo, who robbed Mrs. Bacon, the sister-in-law of Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P., of $45,000 worth of jewelry at St. Moritz some days ago, was arrested at Vichey yesterday by the cleverness of the local police commissary.

Cattaneo, who is an Italian and the husband of a maid temporarily engaged by Mrs. Bacon, had a room at Vichey, where he was unfavorably known to the police. Hearing that Mrs. Bacon was at St. Moritz, he went there, took a room at an inn under another name, and walked into Mrs. Bacon's hotel by the servants' door while everyone at dinner.

The man is clean shaven, looks like a servant, and the hotel people who met him in the passages took him for some one's valet, and did not interfere with him.

Cattaneo walked straight into Mrs. Bacon's room, opened a drawer, took two magnificent pearl necklaces, a packet of bank notes and a letter of credit. He left for the Vichey the same evening, and buried the jewelry and notes in a wood near the town, after putting them into bottles so that he could find them undamaged when he dug them up.

Fortunately for Mrs. Bacon, Cattaneo's reputation was sufficiently bad in Vichey to have made his two day's absence a matter of interest to the police. He was arrested by a very smart ruse.

The commissary being informed of Cattaneo's return, walked into the man's room and, putting his hand on Cattaneo's shoulder said, "Now, my man, if you will tell me where you have hidden what you have stolen you will get off more easily."

He had at that time no certainty that Cattaneo had stolen anything but Cattaneo thought that his theft was known and made a full confession.

The police took him out to the wood where he had buried his treasure, and found it intact, with the exception of the letter of credit, which he had torn up.

Street Car vs. Bakery Wagon.

Some considerable excitement was caused at the corner of Brock and George streets yesterday morning, when the delivery rig of J.W. Bourman, baker and confectioner, was struck by a south-bound street car and upset. Fortunately the damage was slight and no one was hurt.

Reception to St. John's Curate.

A special meeting of St. John's Anglican Young People's Society was held in the Guild room, the president Mr. R. J. Devey, presiding, supported by Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. Charles Carpenter, the new curate, and a good number of members. It was decided to give a reception to Rev. and Mrs. Carpenter on Monday Oct. 3rd.

"Can be depended upon," in an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by by all dealers.

Local People Leave for the West.

Mr. Armstrong, who has been associated with Mr. Thos. Barrie, the well-known local fur merchant, left yesterday for Regina, Sask., where he will take charge of a splendid new store, which the firm has opened in that growing Western city. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong's many friends in Peterborough, will wish them all kinds of good luck in their new home.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Bicyclists Escape Juggernaut.

A devil wagon and two bicyclists were in juxta-position yesterday. On Charlotte street two bicyclists were riding side by side westward. In front of the Snowdon House an automobile came along. The bicyclists, turning out to avoid the gasoline impelled machine, collided with one another. Their respective wheels became interlocked and the riders were flung to the street. They narrowly missed the wheels of the auto juggernaut, but were not seriously hurt.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered stomach. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can improve both. Sold by all dealers.

The First Time Seen Here.

Yesterday afternoon, pedestrians, and drivers saw a sight, at about four o'clock, on George street that neither the oldest and youngest resident of this city ever witnessed before in the history of Peterborough. We cheerfully offer a leather medal for any true and satisfactory contradiction of the statement. This unique sight was a large red colored automobile passing down our main thoroughfare containing eight colored people, members of the Jubilee singers performing here. If any person saw an automobile containing that number of descendants of the African race, passing down George street, the medal is his.

Dr. Rogers, V.S., Lost by Fire.

At about 2.30 yesterday morning fire alarm No. 31 disturbed many citizens. Another local fire completely destroyed the barn of Dr. Rogers, V.S., on Charlotte street. The barn is situated within 50 feet of the doctor's new house, and near Mr. G. W. Hatton's home. Dr. and Mrs. Rogers have been living in a tent all summer while their new house was being built and only moved into their home a week or so ago. Unfortunately they had moved only enough of their household effects to furnish three rooms, the remainder being in the barn and were destroyed. The loss will be about $1650, with little insurance.

HURLED BOMB

Former Boarder Out of Revenge Threw Can of Gasoline in House.

Montreal Sept. 21.—Wilfrid Dufresne, is under arrest on the charge of hurling an inflammable bomb through the window of the home of Mrs. Huoit, St. Denis street. Dufresne is said to be a former boarder, and the motive is alleged to be revenge. Mrs. Huot was nursing a sick child, when the canister containing gasoline was hurled through the window. The place was badly damaged by fire which followed.

KILLED MOTHER AND CHILDREN, ROBBERY WAS THE MOTIVE

Westchester, Pa., Sept. 21.—Search is being made today by the police of all towns in this vicinity for a man who is suspected of murdering Mrs. John Saus, her two small daughters and a little son at their home at Byers, Pa., 12 miles from here. The suspect formerly boarded at the Saus home and it is believed that robbery was the motive for the terrible deed and that the four victims were killed in order to prevent an identification. The skulls of the woman and her children had been crushed as though by an axe or club.

The bodies were discovered by the husband and father upon his return from work last night. He found his son Charles, aged 7 years, unconscious in the yard. He almost collapsed when he found the bodies of his wife, 30 years old, and his two daughters, aged four years and sixteen months respectively.

30 KILLED

Terrible Death Toll From Head-on Collision in Indiana —20 Were Injured.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 21.—Thirty persons were killed in a collision between south-bound limited and north-bound local cars on the Fort Wayne and Bluffton branch of the Wabash Valley Traction Line at Kingsland, Ind., 18 miles south of Fort Wayne, according to reports received here.

Twenty persons are injured, some of them, it is believed, fatally.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE JAPANESE EMPEROR—WILL GET DEATH SENTENCE

Tokio, Sept. 21.—A sensation was created by the publication this afternoon of the alleged details of a plot among his own subjects to assassinate Emperor Mutsuhito.

The startling story appeared in the Hochi Shimbun which states that the plotters, who are now under arrest, certainly will be sentenced to death after trials before a special secret court.

This is the first time in the history of the country that the life of the sovereign has been plotted against by his own people and the fact known.

It is understood that a most rigorous censorship has prevented the publication of so much as a hint of the conspiracy until this evening when the Hochi Shimbun assumed responsibility for the alarming announcement.

FENTON TRIAL

It is Rumored That an Axe Was Found With Human Hairs on It—Interest is Resuming.

Beamsville, Sept. 21.—Interest is circles closely connected with the late Elijah Fenton, found murdered outside his barn door on a farm near Stony Creek, one day last spring, is being revived as the date for the trial of Tom Fenton, his son, is approaching.

New stories are being whispered about, and one that seems quite probable, is a report of the finding of an old axe in the vineyard, and having on the blunt end of it a number of human hairs sticking.

CAPT. PEARSON WAS HONORED

A PRESENTATION TO OFFICER OF ONTONABEE NAVIGATION COMPANY.

A Sturgeon Point dispatch to the Lindsay Post referring to a Peterboro citizen, with a host of friends here, says:—This being the boat's last appearance here, some of Capt. Pearson's many friends took the opportunity to show in some small measure their appreciation of the steamer Manita and its obliging crew. When the Manita arrived here the Sturgeon Point people were in waiting at the lower dock. Mrs. Robt. Miller then stepped forward and presented Capt. Pearson with an umbrella, and Mrs. Jas. Marshall played "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Should Old Acquaintance be Forgot," on the concertena, the crowd joining in the singing. Capt. Pearson who was greatly taken by surprise, thanked the friends for their thoughtfulness, and hoped to be on the same run, again next year. The steamer Manita with a fairly good crowd on board started out for Peterborc, to remain away for another year.

When the Manita reached the Wolfe Street wharf in Peterboro, those on board, including M. Jos. Brown, Reeve of Sturgeon Point, bade Capt. Pearson good-bye until the opening of navigation next year.

The Captain has been courteous and obliging, not only to the cottagers at the Point, but to the citizens in general, which tended to make an outing on the Manita doubly enjoyable.

Ontario Jockey Club's Meet.

The Ontario Jockey Club, Toronto, has issued its handsomely gotten up program for the Fall races at Woodbine Park, beginning Sept. 24th, and continuing until October 1st. The program is most artistic, and contains full information regarding Canada's greatest race meet. To give full particulars contained in the program would take too much space; it is possibly sufficient, however, to note that the events to be run off at the Woodbine, this year, will exceed those of all former meetings in interest, both to horsemen and the general public. It is expected that a large number of Peterborough lover of good clean sport will take in this coming event. One great feature of the Ontario Jockey Club's races is that the best horse wins, and absolute fairness is assured. The steeplechase this fall will be the best ever run off in Canada, and it, alone, should draw thousands of people from all parts of the Province.

AT DOWNEYVILLE.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Scores Another Success as an Honored Guest.

At the recent Downeyville picnic Hon. J. R. Stratton was present, and assisted in making the event a success. Owing to the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, naturally, a number of the local priests were not present. Rev. Father McColl of Peterborough, Mr. D. O'Connell of this city, and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Ennismore, were also in attendance. The weather conditions were most auspicious and St. Luke's church had a winner in its picnic. Rev. P. J. McGuire, under whose auspices the picnic was held, was naturally greatly pleased with the results of his work. A holiday was declared in Downeyville in honor of the event, the schools getting a half holiday.

Hon. J. R. Stratton's address was warmly applauded. Rev. Father McGuire, in a short address expressed the gratitude he owed to those present in making his pienic a success.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this city, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted, protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, on Friday, Sept. 23rd.

Cincinnati Has a Birthday.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 22.—Cincinnati today attained the dignified age of 122 years and in recognition of the fact there was a general display of flags on all public buildings. It was on this date in 1788 that a small party of pioneers crossed over from the Kentucky side of the Ohio river and founded the village of Losantiville. About a year later Gen. Arthur St. Clair changed the name of the settlement to Cincinnati.

Miss Marie Derry and Miss Kathleen Fitzgibbon of Kingston, are the guests of Miss Mamie Fitzgibbon, Stewart street.

Deline Now Faces a Murder Charge, Inquest Will be Held Tomorrow

What of To-morrow?

The tragedy near Havelock which resulted in the death of Mrs. Deline and the arrest of her husband on a charge of murder should again press home the duty of a people to the future generations.

The police are in possession of certain unmentionable information that will be made public at the inquest on Friday, and which will have an important bearing on clearing up the death of Mrs. Deline.

What the public do know is that Deline and his wife were not mentally robust. The prisoner has been described locally as a "little queer."

Yet this unfortunate pair have given to the care of this generation, two innocent children, and it will be a marvel of nature if they do not inherit the characteristics of their parents.

For the sake of the normal children who in the years to come must protect themselves against criminal degeneracy and insanity, governments should render impossible marriage between people who are mentally and physically unfit Many of the evils from which society suffers it brings upon its own head. Today the officers of the law are dealing with Deline. Whom does experience show they will be dealing with tomorrow!

University Athlete Whipped the Colonel

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 21.—Excitement reigned for a short time this morning at the ferry dock when Douglas Kay, one of the best known athletes in Ontario, and winner of medals and trophies that would fill a bushel basket, gave Col. Lattimer, of Detroit, a demonstration of his pugilistic prowess.

Lattimer is one of Detroit's most prominent citizens, and lives on the Canadian river front above Walkerville. He came down to the ferry dock in his auto this morning, just as the gate closed. Kay is acting as gateman at the ferry during the summer vacation. Words were exchanged between Lattimer and Kay and the former said he would thrash the young man. He received an invitation to come ahead. Lattimer jumped out of his automobile and was promptly felled by a well directed blow from Kay's fist.

Kay is a Toronto University student and holds an amateur record as shot-putter. He is also a disc thrower of renown.

PRAISES BRITAIN'S RULE WITH INDIA

FINEST THING WORLD HAS EVER SEEN, DECLARES REV. H. HAIGHT WHO LIVES THERE. 6

Missionaries' Good Work—Number of Individual Conversions Is on the Increase—On His Way Back.

Toronto, Sept. 20.—"In my estimation, as an example of wise and kindly rule, British domination in India is the finest thing the world has ever seen. We have made mistakes; in some things we have been selfish and wrong, but on the whole the verdict of time will bear me out in what I have said."

The speaker was the Rev. Henry Haight, a Methodist clergyman, who for over thirty years, has been in close touch with Indian affairs, and who for twenty-seven years has lived in Mysore. Mr. Haight is at present in Toronto, on his way to England after attending the Canadian Methodist Conference at Victoria. Speaking of the vice-regal rule of Lord Minto in India, Mr. Haight has nothing but words of praise.

"Sympathetic, kind and firm, he has been one of the very best viceroys the country has ever had," he said. "His position has been one of the greatest difficulty and danger, and he has borne it as an Englishman should. Danger is still to be feared, though is a minor degree perhaps. So long as the conspirators are kept out of the country and compelled to concoct their plans abroad there is far less to fear.

Mberty to circulate among the people, and to excite the ignorant villagers, there is great danger to life, for the Hindoo is by nature a born intriguer, and when you add to that a reckless disregard of consequences the result is very bad. The plotters are for the time being driven under, but they are not to be disregard.

"What Britain has done for the country I have not time to recount. She has assured the people of internal peace, she has put down the terrible raids and internal strife. Today there can never arise the awful famines of the days gone by. Twenty-five years ago I lived through a famine there when out of a population of six millions we lost a million and a half. We were one hundred and seventy miles away from a railway, and in the enfeebled condition of the bullocks it took six weeks for us to get grain in from Bangalore. Today that cannot happen, for railways have been built, and supplies can be rushed. In spite of the statements of Kier Hardie and men of his way of thinking, India is not being exploited."

Mr. Haight completely discredited the idea that Japan was exercising any influence in India.

Speaking of missionary effort Mr. Haight said that he had more hope of the work in India today than ever before. There is a growing number of individual conversions to Christianity, and, what is of equal importance, a steady pervasion of Christian principle and practice. The East will never be able to give itself wholly to the expression of Christianity in its Occidental form, it must be interpret it according to its own angle of vision, but the great principles of Christianity will ultimately prevail.

PRESSED HARD.

Coffee's Weight on Old Age.

When prominent men realize the injurious effect of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in a Southern state says: "My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that weak all over feeling and sick stomach.

"Some time ago, I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and while taking dinner with one of the merchants of the place, I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum. I was so pleased with it that, after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry some with me, and had wife prepare some for the next meal; the whole family liked it so well that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely.

"I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us.

"I know Postum has benefitted my self and the other members of the family, but in a more marked degree in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

MAN CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER IS KEPT IN SAFE CUSTODY.

Norwood, Sept. 21.—The arrest of Hugh Deline on the charge of murder last night caused a profound sensation here. Provincial Detective Reburn and County Constable Williams left Havelock at noon to visit the Deline home on the 12th concession of Dummer and interview the husband of the dead woman. When they reached the house they found that Deline had left by another road for Havelock to do some shopping, and after a careful search of the premises for any further evidence that they might discover, they returned to the village. Meanwhile Constable Bennett had spotted Deline and kept a close eye on him until the return of the officers, when he was taken into custody.

CHANGED HIS CLOTHING.

It is stated that the arrest of Deline was due to the discovery of spots on the clothing that he wore on the day of the tragedy which correspond with stain found upon the garments worn by the dead woman. It has also been discovered that the clothing which Deline was wearing after the tragedy was not the same as that worn on the day of the murder. These were found hidden away by Constable Williams, who took possession of them on a former visit. This accounts for the lapse of time between the hour that Deline arrived at his home on the night of the tragedy and the time when he went to Mrs. Newell's to give the alarm. The prisoner on being questioned regarding his clothing denied that he had changed them and stoutly asserted that he was innocent of the crime, but afterwards acknowledged making the change. He was arraigned before Magistrate Joyce, who remanded him until Friday, pending the result of the coroner's inquest. He is being taken to the county jail at Peterborough by train tonight.

MARRIED FOR SPITE.

A remark made to a press representative by Mrs. Watson Parks, a cousin of the dead woman, on the occasion of the visit of the reporter to the Deline home on the night after the tragedy, is recalled. It was to the effect that Deline was keeping company with another girl before his marriage and some difference arose between them which resulted in a lovers' quarrel, and he married his late wife for spite.

JOHNSON TO MEET SAM LANGFORD

SAM LANGFORD CORNERS CHAMPION JACK JOHNSON IN BOSTON LAST NIGHT.

Broke Up Jack's Speech With an Offer to Fight Him Any Place for $25,000—Johnson Agrees.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21.—The long and fruitless "chin chatter" between Jack Johnson and Sam Langford was expected to end today with the meeting of the two at a local newspaper office, each with a roll of $20,000 in his pocket to bind a match for the world's heavyweight championship.

"I'll fight Johnson for $20,000 in a cellar or on an aeroplane," (the "Tar Baby" called it "earplane"). was the challenged issued by Langford.

With such expressions of good faith as the basis of their hopes, fight followers were counting on a match between the two ebony maulers at last being made.

Langford, who has camped on Johnson's trail for many moons, had his inning last night at the weekly show at the Armory Club, when he climbed through the ropes and interrupted an oration that Johnson was delivering by his "cellar or car plane" challenge. Langford's action created a storm of enthusiasm, and virtually forced the champion to say that he had come to Boston in the hope of sueing up with the Hub's eminent scrapper.

Young N. Y. Lawyer Was Caught in Trap

New York, Sept. 21.—Florence Burns Wildrick, who eight years ago, was known as "beautiful Florence Burns," when she was tried and acquitted of the murder of Walter Brooks, her sweetheart, was arraigned today in Jefferson Market Police Court, charged with working the "Badger game." The alleged victim tast he will have a sufficiently is Charles W. Hurlbert, a young lawyer in the employ of the Lawyers' Title Insurance and Trust Company.

The former beauty spent last night in a cell at police headquarters and looked worn and worried when arraigned in court. With her was arraigned Edward H. Brooks, who claims to be a real estate dealer, but who is charged by Hurlbert and the police as being an accomplice of Florence Burns. Another arrest was expected today.

HOW GAME WAS WORKED.

According to the police story the woman rented a furnished room at 224 West 24th street a week ago. Hurlbert, who is 27 years old and a lawyer, said he met the woman at her room Sunday night. Shortly afterward Brooks entered. Brooks essayed to the role of outraged husband and compelled the young lawyer to sign a "confession," admitting his relationship with the woman. Hurlbert was then relieved of $57 and compelled to write an order for $500 on a bank where he had an account upon threats of death.

LAWYER KEPT PRISONER.

The lawyer says he was kept prisoner in the room until 6 o'clock on Monday morning when a taxi cab was called, and he was taken to Yonkers. In the meanwhile Brooks had been re-inforced by another man who called himself Hall. Upon the return of the party to New York Hurlbert escaped and ran up to a policeman begging protection.

SAYS IT WAS A JOKE.

The "confession" and order for $500 on the Greenwich Savings Bank were found upon Brooks. Both Florence Burns and her companion set up the plea in court that they were playing a "joke" on Hurlbert. Brooks claims to be engaged to the woman.

TO DYING HERO.

New York, Sept. 22.—Lieutenant-General R.S.C. Baden-Powell, the hero of Mafeking, who has arrived here from Canada, where he spent six weeks stimulating the boy scouts movement, is to be honored tomorrow night with a complimentary dinner given by those interested in the boy scouts in the United States. Elaborate preparations have been completed for the function, which will take place in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says:—

"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, proved highly satisfactory and cured the ailment.

"I have also used Zam-Buk for blocking piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take pleasure in helping my brother men, and if the publicity of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Disease we know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad legs, varicose ulcers, salt rheum, poisoned finger, cold sores, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbal. 50c box, druggists and stores. Refuse imitations.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Trade is booming in Great Britain. imports and exports show remarkable gains, and the situation would be full of encouragement were it not for the gigantic strikes and lockouts which make the outlook the gloomiest in many years. We referred several days ago to the lockout of 30,000 boiler-makers that had been forced on the employers' federation in the shipbuilding industry by contract breaking on the part of small groups of recalcitrant employes, but that is not an isolated case. There is much unrest in other unions, accompanied by insubordination and defiance of leaders and officers, and in at least one instance a local union has refused flatly to arbitrate a dispute affecting working conditions. The boiler-makers have sullenly voted down a proposition to give anti-strike assurances to the employers.

In the British press this state of things is described as "industrial war," and the trades unions concerned are admonished that not only their particular organizations, but the very principles of unionism, are on trial. Certainly collective bargaining, the system of trade agreements and industrial conciliation and arbitration are receiving severe blows from those who have reaped the greatest advantages from these substitutes for strife and trials of endurance and strength. No wonder the sober-minded labor leaders are alarmed and amazed.

What is causing this repudiation of labor contracts and arbitration? There are commentators who put the blame at the door of socialism—of the propaganda of discontent and radical changes instead of gradual amelioration. Others advance different explanations, declining to believe that any mirage of socialism can mislead intensely practical toilers who face the solid realities of life.

Whatever the correct view may be, it is clear to some observers that organized labor has nothing to gain and much to lose by such action as the defiant and rebellious groups have been taking. After a period of chaos and bitterness and loss even these extremists will be compelled to sue for peace on the basis of faithful observance of contracts and responsible unionism. To commence sense they must revert at last, and it is deplorable that reckless advice should prevail over reason and fair play for the time being.

INSPECTOR DEW AND THE PRESS

The Canadian Gazette, an old country publication, seemed rather pleased that Inspector Dew, who visited this country in connection with the Crippen case, "has not endeared himself to the transatlantic journalist." It remarks sarcastically that "At any rate he carried out his job, and will have to manage as best he can without the applause of those in Canada who would have liked to have done it for them."

To Canadians, this appears a some what peculiar attitude. It is probably due—no pun intended—to a difference between the British and Canadian conception of the proper relation of reporter and detectives. The old land idea, as embodied in Inspector Dew, seems to be that the press and the criminal have alike to be outwitted; that it is as smart to deceive the reporter as it is to outwit the lawbreaker. On this continent a different plan has been tried. The police, instead of attempting to mislead the press, have enlisted its aid, and they have found that aid invaluable. They have also found that newspaper representatives are men to be trusted, and that confidence reposed in them is very seldom violated.

Inspector Dew should not forget that it was not Scotland Yard, but the press, which caught Dr. Crippen. It was by reason of newspaper pic—Aristocratic Assassin released from torture that he was identified by the captain of the Montrose. Nearly every big murder nowadays is a "paper chase." Rapid transit has made the flight of the criminal so easy that the assistance of the international press with all its ramifications, is the surest guarantee of his final discovery.

Widow of the late Chancellor Van Koughnet of Osgoode Hall, has donated 2,000 pounds to the Law Society of Upper Canada for the founding of a scholarship to be known as the Chancellor Van Koughnet Scholarship.

The principal is about $9,700. At four per cent. ary, the annual scholarship would be $388, a decided help to many a young man after being called to the bar.

Lady Jane Van Koughnet wrote the Law Society some time ago, intimating her wish, which had also been her husband's wish. The benchers replied, with thanks, that the scholarship would be accepted, and at today's meeting it was reported that the money had been received.

The details, as to when the scholarship shall go into effect, etc., will be arranged within a week or so.

Miss Isabella Rutherford, of Otonabee, has gone for a two months' visit with friends in Minneapolis, U. S. A.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS.

Annual Meeting Begins at Vancouver This Week.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 19.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association which was organized in 1871 and now has a membership of nearly 2,500, holds its annual convention in Vancouver this week, beginning tomorrow and continuing until Thursday. Representatives of the business interests of the entire Dominion are here to take part in the gathering. The first day's session will be devoted to executive business, but thereafter the programme embraces the presentation of many papers and addresses dealing with the progress of business, reports of committees and a discussion of the tariff situation and business conditions. There are already ample evidences that there will be a great demonstration against reciprocity and against lower duties in the tariff. This demonstration will be in response to the strong and persistent pressure which the thirty thousand organized grain growers in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta brought to bear on Sir Wilfrid Laurier during his recent tour in the West.

At the election of officers for the year it is thought probable that the present vice-president, W. H. Rowley of Hull, Que., will be chosen to head the Association. The gathering will close with the annual convention banquet at which Hon. Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia will be one of the chief speakers.

HOP IMPORTER UP FOR FRAUD.

Charged With Duping Banks in an Attempt to Make Million Dollars for Himself.

New York, Sept. 16.—An international aspect today was added to the bank fraud case of Adolph Rothbarth, the hop importer, who is in Tombs prison, charged with duping the Mercantile National Bank and the Liberty National Bank out of $133,000, in the attempt to make a million on Wall street, when lawyers for the bank in question began work on steps to hold foreign companies responsible for Rothbarth's peculations. Indications were today that Rothbarth's bank deals might aggregate $500,000 or more when they were all uncovered.

The Rothbarth firm of hop dealers is one of the biggest houses in the world dealing in that commodity. It is divided in two branches, Adolph, through power of attorney, controlling the American branch, and his brother the foreign section. Because of Adolph's power of attorney from his brothers, lawyers believe that the European house can be held responsible for all of his speculations.

Cobourg, Sept. 17.—A shooting affray took place here this morning about noon, when Tony Toris fired four shots at a fellow countryman named Crescenzo Anitona. One of the shots went through Anitone'a hand and one inflicted a severe wound in the neck, which may prove fatal. The other two shots went wild.

Toris tried to make his escape, but was caught by Chief Ruse near the town limit. The chief went after him in an automobile.

This is the second tragedy to occur among Italians in this town within a few months. Both men are employed by the Randolph Macdonald Co., in wharf construction.

THREE NOTED CASES.

This Week Will See Great Criminal Trials.

New York, Sept. 19.—Proceedings in three noted criminal cases will attract attention to New Jersey during the week. The Hudson County grand jury which meets Wednesday will probably return indictments against James J. Gallagher, who attempted to assassinate Mayor Gaynor of New York. On the same day and in the same county a hearing will be had on the application of the Italian Government for the extradition of Porter Charlton, accused of murdering his wife and throwing her body, in a trunk, into Lake Camo, Italy. The third case to attract attention is that of the Wardlaw sisters, accused of the murder of Ocey M. W. Snead in East Orange, N.J., last November, which will be called for trial Wednesday in Newark.

BIG JEWEL ROBBERY IS STILL A MYSTERY.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15. —The mystery of the theft of the Countess of Antrim's jewels is still not cleared up, despite the fact that a crowd of detectives are working on the case.

Owing to the robberies that have recently taken place in Pullman carriages, C.P.R. detectives are travelling on every train, and the transcontinentals arriving yesterday were liberally protected in this way.

It is claimed that the large number of tilted and wealthy people who are now travelling through Canada has attracted the attention of the gangs in the United States. Within the last month there have been as many as a dozen personages of title and other wealthy people staying at the Royal Alexandra at the same time, and some were travelling with their wives, who carry valuable jewels.

A meeting of the Billeting Committee of the Peterborough Missionary Institute, is called for Thursday evening at 7.30 sharp to be held in the parlor of the Y.W.C.A., Simcoe street. All members are requested to be present.

The annual corn roast of the Charlotte street choir, will be held tonight leaving the Street Railway wharf at 7.30 o'clock. All members of the choir are reminded of this event.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chatten wish to express their thanks to the many friends who have extended kindnesses to them in their bereavement in the death of their daughter, Mrs. Coolidge, and during the long illness of their daughter.

Things at present look black against Hugh Deline, the alleged murderer. However, if your milk jug is lowered in the morning, its not fair to kick the family cat unless cream is on its whiskers.

Proof seems to have been produced by Captain Bartlett that Dr. Cook's story of his reaching the North Pole is altogether unfounded. Possibly some intelligent man will produce, or adduce, proof that Peterborough's financial status is beyond cavil!

That the Crystal Theater is keeping up, if not excelling its old reputation, of providing the best pictures procurable, is proven by the fact that last night the audience vigorously clapped their hands at the drama entitled "The Battle of Lagneno," and roared with laughter over the Temperance picture.

Lindsay Poultry and Pet Stock Association has met to arrange for a coming show. With such a poultry raiser as Mr. S. Oliver in the town Lindsay will undoubtedly have a magnificent show.

The Chimes Fund has reached the total of $4,216; several more donations having been received since our last report.

The Peterborough Teachers' Association will hold their annual convention here on Thursday and Friday Oct. 13 and 14.

The Regimental Band had a good rehearsal last night. Their splendid concerts during the past summer, with the activity they are now displaying give full promise of a future for Peterborough's military music.

Last night the men of St. John's church congregation held a successful and well attended meeting in that church. The rector, with Rev. Chas. Carpenter, the recently appointed curate were on hand and extended a cordial welcome.

St. Luke's Harvest Festival.

On Monday a Lindsay junk dealer was fined $6.20 for assaulting another merchant in the rag and bone business. There is an old saying, that "where theives fall out, etc.," but when the rag and bone merchants pummel one another the Hebrew Slang Dictionary must be invoked for a concise idea of the language used by those Lindsay purists.

HILL CLIMBING.

Food That Makes It a Pleasure.

"I have a large amount of laborious brain fatiguing work to do," writes a young lady from Richmond, Va. "After returning from the office, I have found myself so completely exhausted that I was unable to engage in any recreation or amusement.

"I tried several expensive tonics without effect, and finally noticing an advertisement of Grape Nuts as a food recommended to brain-workers, I purchased a package and tried it.

"I found it extremely palatable, and after a week's use (two meals of it a day) I noticed a general improvement in my condition. The feeling of extreme exhaustion was growing less, and strength visibly increased.

"I began to put on flesh and felt ready to enter into the amusements of the other members of the family, and now after using the food for eleven months, I am like a new person. I do not have the sensation of fatigue; my brain is clear; eyes bright; skin rosy and healthy and my muscles have strengthened to a marked degree.

"I am now able to walk from the office home a distance of 3½ miles up one of the steepest hills for which our city is famous, and to engage in any amusements that may come my way."

"I am also using Postum with excellent results. My sister-in-law, who lives in Norwalk, Conn., writes me that she uses it also, and has not suffered from the distressing sick headaches she formerly had."

Read "The Road to Wellville," found in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter. A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

JUDGE REBUKES THE ALLIANCE

SAYS TEMPERANCE WORKERS SHOULD ENGAGE REPUTABLE WITNESSES.

Liquor Cases Dismissed — One of Three Informers a Reformed Burglar—Warrants Sworn Out by Licensed Victuallers for Their Arrest.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—Judge Bazin aroused indignation among Montreal temperance workers today by declaring that private associations should not engage in public prosecutions unless they summoned witnesses of repute, whereas the Dominion Alliance in prosecuting the hotel keepers had employed palpable perjurers. The judge then dismissed the first thirty of 108 actions which the Alliance had entered against hotel keepers for the alleged illegal sale of liquor.

BITTER FEELING PREVAILS.

The bitter feeling between the Alliance and the Licensed Victuallers was further intensified when Mr. L. A. Wilson, president of the latter association, today swore out warrants against three men employed by the Alliance to get evidence against the hotelkeepers. These three men, who were to have been important witnesses for the Dominion Alliance, did not appear in court today.

A REFORMED BURGLAR.

One of them is J. N. Woods, who claimed to be a reformed burglar. He had served three years in the penitentiary for breaking into ex-Mayor Ekers house, and stealing a quantity of goods. On leaving the penitentiary he had apparently reformed completely and was given service by Secretary Roberts of the Alliance.

Lawrence A. Wilson now charges Woods and two others with conspiracy in connection with the actions taken against the hotelkeepers.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this city, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted, protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Oriental Hotel, on Friday, Sept. 23rd.

Former Local Man Drowned.

Mrs. Frank Fountain, Rubidge St., has received intelligence that her nephew, Mr. W. W. Turcott, Minkota Mich., has been drowned. The deceased had some nine years ago resided in this city, and his father, Joseph Turcott, was employed as a moulder in the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. It seems that the deceased had just completed an engineering course. He was very popular with all who knew him. Turcott's body was found by a member of the life-saving crew, in eight feet of water on Tawas Shoal, after a long search. This former local citizen was 24 years of age.

THIEVES AT WORK.

Grand Opera House and Crystal Theater Worked by Light Fingered Gentry.

The management of the Grand Opera House offers a reward of ten dollars for information leading to the identity of the person who broke a chocolate box and stole the money out of it. From time to time there have been at least fifty boxes broken open. The box, more than the contents is what costs money to replace. In this connection, it might be noted that over a thousand packets of chewing gum were stolen this week from the Crystal Theater. These packages were in boxes near the stage, and were for gratuitious distribution. It was a cheap thief that could have got all the gum he wanted gratis who would steal it.

FOUND CHILD'S BODY IN AN UNUSED VALISE.

Young Woman Had Left the Dead Infant in the Receptacle Several Months Ago.

Hamilton, Sept. 21.—Jessie Sweet, 21 years of age, was arrested this morning on the charge of concealing the birth of a child. The body of the infant was found this morning in a valise hanging on a peg in the young woman's boarding house. The valise had been on that attic peg for at least nine months and had never been disturbed. It is supposed that it contained its ghastly burden all the time. A few days ago Miss Sweet left the boarding house and the valise and her other belongings were held as security. It was while transferring the valise from the attic to a room this morning that the owner of the house made the discovery of the child's body. Miss Sweet formerly lived in London, Ont.

THE HOBBLE SKIRT MUST HOBBLE OUT

AND THE HOBBLED SKIRT WILL BE HOBBLED HIGHER UP, SAY THE DRESSMAKERS.

Clothes Make an Actress—Lillian Russell Gives Practical Demonstration of How She Wears Them.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—There was a flutter about the Palmer House today among some 250 dressmakers here to decide what should and should not be worn during the coming season, when it was announced that Lillian Russell would give a demonstration late today of "What an Actress Owes to Her Dressmaker."

"Fair Lillian, long the wonder of theater-goers, is expected to give away one or two secrets of her perpetual youth. Clothes have something to do with it, Miss Russell says, but not all.

"I intend to appear before the dressmakers in my street costume, which I will take off," said Miss Russell. "Then I will dress myself a piece at a time in a stunning gown, so that the dressmakers may readily see that much of the success I have attained on the stage is due to their handiwork. Clothes have much to do with making an actress."

Several mere men dressmakers were flitting about the corridors of the hotel this morning, but their case is hopeless. They are ruled out.

Models were shown today in gowns that will be the height of the dressmakers' art. The bobble skirts will be bobbled higher up this season, but the short skirt is here to stay. The gowns that looked as though the wearer had been poured into them have been ruled out. The dressmakers say this is because of the difficulty in pouring just right.

A plan to establish a dressmaking institution in connection with Chicago's Public school system will come up at a dinner of the dressmakers next Friday. Supt. of Schools Ella F. Young, representatives of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and others will discuss the matter.

COUNTRIES TO FORM ALLIANCE AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

Hamburg, Sept. 22.—Cable advices received this morning from Rio Janeiro say that an alliance between Brazil, Argentine Republic, and Chile, to check the increasing influence of the United States in South America, is imminent. Jealousy between Brazil and the Argentine Republic has heretofore prevented the consummation of such an alliance, the cables say, but new administrations in these countries have brought about amicable relations. Chile is understood to have favored such an alliance for years.

No Unmuzzling of Dogs for Hunting the Deer

Toronto, Sept. 22.—The Provincial Health Department will oppose the attempts being made by hunters to secure permission from the Veterinary Director General for Canada, to take their dogs up north without muzzles for the deer season. Not only so, but Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, secretary of the Board, stated at noon today that if the municipalities did not enforce the regulations more strictly the order might be made permanent.

In 80 dogs examined at the Provincial Laboratory positive evidence of rabies has been found and 70 persons have been given the Pasteur treatment who were bitten by mad dogs. Sixty-seven of these have recovered, and three are still undertreatment.

"It would be the utmost folly to allow of any relaxation of the regulations," said Dr. McCullough. "To permit hunting dogs from the infected districts to go into the hunting grounds might be destructive to the deer and other wild animals.

"The laboratory authorities state that in the early days of the muzzling order conditions were kept under control, but when less well enforced the infection increased. Many municipalities make no effort to enforce the law."

A HUNDRED ALREADY.

Looks Like Local Y.M.C.A. Will Add Five Hundred Members.

As told in The Times, a few days ago, the local Y.M.C.A. have started a campaign with a view to adding 500 members to their society here. The first day's results give every indication that they will succeed, as reports sent in the first night demonstrated that, in that one day over one hundred names had been added to the list. Many of these have paid their fees while some have just put in their applications and will pay their fees today or tomorrow. This can hardly be avoided because the men whom the workers are after are men on weekly wages, and they have not the money to lay down at a moment's notice. The workers feel very much encouraged, knowing, as they do, that the task they have on no light one. Many prospective members are visiting the building and express their pleasure at seeing the improvements that have been made in the physical department. Work is also being carried on strenuously to get the boys in, and with most encouraging results.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Eldest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Borland, Otonabee, Married.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Borland, Otonabee, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when the eldest daughter, Miss Ruby, became the bride of Mr. Walter H. Kidd, Indian River. The bride, given away by her father, was charmingly attired in a gown of embroidered baptiste and carried a bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. Her sister, Miss Pearl Borland, was bridesmaid and looked very pretty in a gown of white persian lawn, trimmed with embroidered flouncing. Mr. W. Earle Kidd of Toronto, brother of the groom, was best man, while the wedding march was played by Miss Maidie Post, of Belleville.

The ceremony took place in a floral bower, and was performed by the Rev. Wm. Johnston of Keene, in the presence of about seventy guests. After dinner had been partaken of the bride and groom left on the even train for Ottawa. Mr. and Mrs. Kidd will, on their return, reside at Indian River.

BISHOPRIC OF PETERBOROUGH AND ARCHBISHOPRIC OF KINGSTON ABOLISHED.

Center Power at Ottawa—Gauthier and McEvay Between Them to Rule All Ontario.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The appointment of Archbishop Gauthier, of Kingston, as Archbishop of Ottawa, in succession to the late Archbishop Duhamel, was officially announced at Rome yesterday and Monsegneur Gauthier was notified by cable this morning. After cabling his acceptance, Archbishop Gauthier immediately summoned Canon Campeau of the Archbishop's Palace here, to go to Kingston, and the canon left by the 11 o'clock train.

As a result of the transfer of Archbishop Gauthier to Ottawa, there will be a complete redivision of the ecclesiastical Province of Ontario and part of the Province of Quebec. The present archbishopric of Kingston will be reduced to a bishopric and the Bishop of Peterborough will be transferred to Ottawa. Both will be under the jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Ottawa, who will thus divide with the Archbishop of Toronto the whole Roman Catholic ecclesiastical Province of Ontario.

In order to meet the objections of the French-Canadians on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River against being placed under a non-French bishop (for though Archbishop Gauthier has a French name, he is more English than French), the Vatican has decided upon the creation of a new see to be called the Diocese of Hull. This will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Montreal, Monseigneur Bruchesi, who it is stated, will be created a cardinal at the next consistory.

The names of Father Carriere, of Hull, and of Father Raymond of the Brook, are mentioned as possible nominees for the new bishopric of Hull.

GAUTHIER GETS WORD.

Kingston, Sept. 22.—Archbishop Gauthier has at last received official notification from the Holy See of his promotion to the Metropolitan Province of Ottawa.

Will Young Porter Charlton Go Free?

Jersey City, N.J., Sept. 22.—The State Department of the United States Government will decide whether young Porter Charlton, who confessed to killing his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, and throwing her body into Lake Como, Italy, after a quarrel last June shall be turned over to the Italian Government for extradition to stand trial for murder, or whether he shall be protected in this country under treaty and constitutional rights.

Despite the fact that counsel for Charlton set up the claim that Judge John A. Blair of the Hudson County Court could not rule on an international question involving extradition, the court set Monday next as the time when it would receive briefs from the lawyers on both sides and finally hand up a decision. Records of the hearing which started yesterday will be forwarded ultimately to Washington.

In view of the strange turn which the case took, it is possible that Charlton's sanity will never be questioned, and that if the United States Government decides that Italy has no claims on him, he may get scot free in this country.

Big Episcopal Conclave

Important Gathering of Protestants in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 23.—What is considered by the leading Bishops and lay deputies as the most important conclave of Episcopalians ever held in the United States will be held in this city early next month, when the general convention assembles in triennial session, beginning October 5. Delegates from all parts of the United States and from far away Alaska, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines will be present, together with a number of eminent visitors from Canada and various countries in Europe. The Canadian delegation will be headed by the Bishop of Huron and, will include several other churchmen of note. England will be represented by the Right Rev. John Wordsworth, D.D., Bishop of Salisbury. The Bishop, who is one of the most distinguished pulpit orators of England, has accepted an invitation to preach the opening sermon.

The lay representation at the coming convention will be scarcely less distinguished than that of the clergy. Heading the list of laymen will be J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, who has rented a large house in an exclusive residential district and will entertain lavishly during the convention. Another notable lay delegate will be Judge Horace Lurton of the United States Supreme Court, who will sit as deputy from the Diocese of Tennessee.

Among the matters to be discussed and acted upon by the convention are the so-called open pulpit canon, the question of changing the name of the Church, and the question of adopting the English system of electing Bishops suffragan to assist in large dioceses and in dioceses where the negro proble is uppermost. It is expected that several new Bishops will be chosen by the convention.

Against these and numerous other star athletes from various parts of the Dominion will be pitted some of the best amateur performers from New York, Boston, and other cities across the border.

Another Dog Bite Case.

Talking once more about the Constantinople like lot of dogs that make themselves a nuisance in Peterborough it ought be noticed that on Wednesday another child was bitten. This unfortunate victim of the canaitis that is a standing epidemic in Peterborough, was little Wilbert Beaugard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beaugard, 97 Park street. He and a number of other boys were playing on the road near the King Edward school when the dog came along and they began playing with it. The dog bit the boy severely on his right arm and breast. Dr. Marshall dressed the wounds. The dog does not seem to have no particular owner, but simply one of Peterborough's excess population of undesirable canines.

Millionaire Resident of Detroit Shoots Woman, Hangs Himself

THERE WAS A QUARREL BETWEEN MR. E. B. YATES AND MRS. SINGER AND MAN ARRESTED.

Mrs. Singer Had Been Separated From Her Husband—Woman Will Likely Recover From Wounds.

Brantford, Sept. 23.—A despatch received here this morning from Detroit announces the suicide by oath of Mr. Burton Wynn Yates, a millionaire resident of that city, and formerly of Brantford, who had many Canadian interests. Mr. Yates was a son of Mr. Henry Yates, the first chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway. Dr. Yates of Montreal, is a brother.

Cleveland, Ohio., Sept., 22.—Burton Wynn Yates, a prominent Detroit, Mich., business man, hanged himself in the county jail here today, after shooting and seriously wounding Mrs. Fred Singer of this city during a quarrel in a roadhouse yesterday.

They had been out riding all day in an automobile, had after returning to the White Road House at Rocky River, had quarrelled, and the shooting resulted.

WOMAN WILL RECOVER.

Mrs. Singer had been separated from her husband. At the hospital it was said she would recover.

The police were mystified over the identity of Yates. It was at first reported that he was a travelling man of Pittsburg, and also a banker of Toronto. Later it was announced that he was a wealthy Pittsburg business man. Finally it was discovered that he was chairman of the Business Publishers' Company, Limited, of Detroit.

Attorney Frank Bilman, attorney for Mrs. Singer, says that Yates is not the man's right name. Bilman declared that the would-be murderer and suicide is masquerading his identity.

DETAILS ARE PATHETIC.

The lawyer says that the details of the case are too pathetic to be made public. He has given orders at the hospital that no one shall see Mrs. Singer.

"Yates" came to Cleveland three days ago to see Mrs. Singer. It is learned that he is a man of considerable wealth. Mrs. Singer has also been living in Detroit. She came here two weeks ago in the effort to effect a reconciliation with her husband, and employed Attorney Bellman.

Mrs. Singer was identified through her attorney, Frank Billman, who stated that she had come to Cleveland from Detroit two weeks ago in order to escape Yates.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 22.—A son of Burton W. Yates, a well known business man here, arranged today to leave at once for Cleveland to see if the man who committed suicide in the jail at Cleveland was his father.

Burton W. Yates has been chairman of the Business Man's Publishing Company, Limited. He has a wife and a grown-up family, one of his sons having just graduated from the University of Michigan.

At his residence his wife and family were overwhelmed by the report from Cleveland. B. W. Yates left here early in the week for a business trip to Canada, and his family understood that he would stop at Cleveland before returning home.

SOUTH AFRICAN ELECTIONS.

The figures do not indicate that the Botha Government has sustained a reverse in South Africa. Botha's personal defeat may mean little or nothing. Sir John Macdonald was defeated in Kingston when his party scored an overwhelming victory at the polls, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier might have had a similar experience if he tackled a doubtful constituency.

The final returns show that the House will be composed of 67 Nationalists, 37 Unionists, 4 Laborites, and 13 Independents. This gives the Botha Government a majority of 30 over its most formidable opponent, and a majority of 13 over all. It is not to be assumed that all the Labor and Independent candidates are to be ranked with Both's opponents. It would be well before jumping at conclusions to hear Botha's side of the story.

Since the war General Botha has shown a statesmanlike disposition to bury the hatchet and to induce men of both races to co-operate in developing the resources of South Africa, and making it a commonwealth as strong and prosperous as Canada or Australia. It is probable that he will have a sufficiently strong working majority to test his ability to carry out his views.

DEATH ON THE WATER.

The summer boating season is about closed and the record of boat fatalities in Canada has grown with abnormal and terrible rapidity. In former years, before the motor boat sprung into existence, the tottlish canoe used to be the most deadly device known in Canada for aquatic fatalities and that light and easier-tipped craft earned unenviable notoriety as a death dealer, but already the motor boat, though only in existence less than a dozen years, has claimed a toll of human victims far in excess of the achievements of the canoe in its palmiest days.

There is reason for this, too, because the canoe never was a boat giving an outward semblance of security, and consequently never appealed too strongly to the pleasure loving instincts of women and children and was therfore patronized chiefly by those who knew its insecurity and who had self-reliance and nerve enough to take chances to it and generally to overcome its natural disposition to turn bottom side up at the least provocation.

With the motor boat conditions are very different indeed. Outwardly it has the appearance of a staunch built little craft skilfully designed for pleasure without the least danger of upsetting and a perfect safer of labor. Everything about the motor boat's outward appearance tends to coax the unwary pleasure seeker to step aboard and enjoy a rapid spin over the inviting looking waters. It is no wonder then than the motor boat has multiplied until all the waterways of Canada are day and night being churned by their swiftly revolving screws.

But inside the motor boat there is danger enough to satisfy the most reckless. Engines which at first were designed to drive the boat through the water at a rate of seven or eight miles an hour, have been discarded and replaced by more powerful and heavier engines until now a boat of 20 miles an hour capacity is a slow one not worthy of consideration for racing purposes. For general purposes, too, the speed of this craft has been increased so that pleasure parties often including many ladies and children may be seen driving through the waters at high speed of from 15 to 20 miles an hour. The machinery of the motor boat while of extraordinary strength is also of such delicate adjustment as to be easily disarranged as was shown a few days ago on the Otonabee river near Peterboro' when a lady's handkerchief became entangled in the steering apparatus of a motor boat, and caused a collision with a river steamboat that resulted in the cutting down of the motor boat and the drowning of a lady and her daughter, besides imperilling the lives of three other occupants of the motor boat.

Not only is the machinery of the motor boat and the gasoline used for the operation of the machinery of dangerous character, but the gravest and greatest danger of all lies in the fact that most of these boats now in use are being operated by persons who have very little, if any, mechanical knowledge of the rules of navigation and the laws governing the passage of boats on waterways. These unskilled ignorant mariners endanger not only their own lives, but also the lives of many others who have occasion to make use of the waters when these boats are operated. More than a year ago the Kingston Standard briefly drew attention to the need of governmental inspection for this class of boats, but so far as we can learn no such system of inspection has been ordered or even considered. In the meantime the death roll caused by craft of this description has been swelled to enormous proportions, and inasmuch as the motor boat has come to stay and is really a useful and valuable device when properly operated it is certainly time that some regulations should be adopted to govern the operation of this class of boats.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in district of GREAT PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil, Capital Creek, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cook, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and has drilled his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and can consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25c to 35c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty MILLIONS in dividends. The GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT, situated within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDED THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are all RUNNING FULL TIME. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased number of gasolines. Throughout the world the enormous number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude, so refiners and operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most productive fields. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 10th, 1912.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income, which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M. of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. T. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

IS LOP-SIDED?

Said That Ontario's System of Education Neglects the Poor Boy.

Toronto, Sept. 21. — It is said that the Ontario system of education is lop-sided. Ample provision is made for the education of teachers, lawyers, doctors, clergymen, engineers, and dentists, while the poor boy, anxious to learn a trade, has to look out for himself. "Every city in Canada should have a technical school with both day and night classes or many boys working through the day would be only too anxious to get technical training in the evening. This may cost a great deal of money, but the government must face the issue squarely and spend the money."

Sir James Whitney has frequently expressed the opinion that the public school education ought to be framed for the benefit of the 95 per cent. who receive no other education not for the other five per cent. who go on to the high school, and the still smaller number who proceed to the university. He is right so far as he goes, but he does not go far enough. No readjustment of the public school curriculum would meet the case. What is required is that the education of the boy who is to be a mechanic or farmer shall be continued beyond the public school, just as is the education of the boy who is to be a lawyer or a lawyer or a doctor. There should be more technical schools or technical classes in high schools; there should be night schools and half day schools for the benefit of boys who are learning trades and partly earning their own living. There should be ample provision for consulting reference libraries at night. And there should be a beginning made in the establishment of a night university, a place where a complete university course can be taken by those who must work for their bread during the day. There is no reason why education should be confined to office hours.

A UNIQUE FAREWELL.

Grenadier Guards Band Delight Belle Isle Lighthouse Keepers With Selections.

Quebec, Sept. 20.—A unique impromptu concert marked the farewell of the Grenadier Guards Band, which sailed for home yesterday on the Royal Edward.

The idea was conceived by Captain Roberts, commander of the Royal Edward. As the steamer was about to pass the Belle Isle light he suggested that it would cheer hearts of the lonely light house keepers if the bandmaster would assemble the instrumentalists on the navigating deck and play a selection of popular and patriotic airs.

Lieut. Williams immediately grasped the point, and got the band in position, who played four numbers, Rule Britannia, Highland Laddie, Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King. The delighted light keepers marconigraphed their appreciation and wished the Grenadier Guards Band and all the passengers bon voyage.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Write to-day. Get the information that will be furnished and study the facts. Make your subscription as large as you can carry.

Use the attached coupons, and if you are not satisfied after investigating and considering the statements that will be supplied you, your money will be returned without question.

H. LeaMe Parker, of Thetford mines has been engaged to superintend the mill and is on his way to take charge.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 215 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 24 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

JURY SAY THAT MRS. DELINE CAME TO HER DEATH THROUGH FOUL PLAY

AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN CLAIMS THAT GREAT BRITAIN IS TO BLAME

London, Sept. 23.—Austen Chamberlain, speaking at Birmingham, declared that what he prophesied had happened with the Canadian Government, and that none could blame or criticize them. They had negotiated and were still negotiating those commercial treaties with foreign countries which they would have made with Great Britain if she had been ready to grasp the outstretched hand. It would be deplorable, he said, if the next imperial conference passed with nothing done.

ACTED TOO SOON.

London, Sept. 23.—Interviewed by the Standard of Empire, Premier Whitney of Ontario, expressed the opinion that Imperial union has been seriously prejudiced by the prior conclusion of commercial treaties by Canada with foreign countries, prior, that is to the conclusion of an understanding with the Mother Country on trade affairs. Sir James strongly deprecates any reciprocity arrangement with the United States.

The Deline Inquest Held at Havelock

The coroner's jury at the Deline inquest brought in a verdict that Mrs. Deline met her death through foul means, and that the husband should be held for trial.

Havelock, Sept. 23.— The inquest into the cause of the death of Mrs. Deline of Belmont township was resumed before Coroner Dr. Kindred here in the town hall at one o'clock. The chief interest lies in the fact that Deline, who has been arrested for the murder of his wife, will be called to tell what he knows about the case. The prisoner was brought to town on the noon C.P.R. train by High County Constable Cochrane. There was a large crowd at the station to get a glimpse of the man Deline, who seemed indifferent to the curiosity of the crowd. He chewed tobacco and gazed back with no signs of concern. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood of Peterborough, is here looking after the case, while Mr. G. N. Gordon is present in the interests of the prisoner and his family.

A portion of Deline's clothes has been sent to Toronto, that certain stains on them, may be analyzed.

Mrs. Samuel Newell was the first witness called. She testified to having been aroused by Deline on Thursday night last and of having gone to the house with other neighbors. They did not examine the body or look at it until the next morning. Deline had gone to bed at 12 o'clock and slept until next morning, until awakened at six o'clock. Mrs. Newell told of a conversation she had with Mrs. Deline in which the latter said that she and her husband were cousins and that she did not want to have any more family. She wondered if all men were like Mr. Deline. Mrs. Lytle and Mrs. McMullen, neighbors of the Delines, gave similar evidence.

ANOTHER YOUNG WOMAN SUICIDES IN HAMITON—LEAPED INTO BAY

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 23....The police at three o'clock this morning fished another woman's body out of the bay just off the revetment wall, where two other young girls ended their lives within the past three weeks.

The victim is about 23 years of age, identity unknown, although she is believed to come from London.

It was reported that she was employed in the store where Beatrice Stover, who was the first suicide off the revetment wall, worked, and the police are taking employes to the morgue to try and identify the body.

There is a pathetic story back of the tragedy, if what the woman told the crew of the Turbina is true. She appeared at the wharf at midnight, and said she was from London, and was in search of her husband. They had been married only a short time, she said, and she thought he had gone to Toronto. She wanted to follow him.

The deckhands started to jolly her, then she started for the revetment wall. They followed, suspecting her purpose. Before they reached her she plunged off the wall.

THINK MANY PETITIONERS AGAINST THE MEASURE WERE ACTUATED THROUGH A FALSE IMPRESSION OF THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

Some Entertained Erroneous Conceptions of What the Actual Cost to Them for This Much Needed Improvement Would Be.

The City Board of Works is not yet through with the street paving question, and the majority think the petitioners against the measure were actuated largely through a misunderstanding of the project. Recently some residents on both George and Charlotte streets have intimated that had they known the council intended to insist upon all sewer, gas and water connections being made before the pavement was laid, they would not have petitioned against the measure. Others again had entertained erroneous conception of what the actual cost to them for this needed street improvement would be, and on being set right on this matter had expressed their regrets at having petitioned against it.

The cost of paving George and Charlotte streets would be $75,000 for a street that would endure for 10 years, and save a big amount that is now yearly expended in repairing the macadam roads.

Aldermen Hicks, Phelan, Duffus and Bradburn are enthusiasts on this question and think it high time the streets of a city like Peterborough should don twentieth century apparel. Ald. Hicks offered that a public meeting should be called to give the citizens an opportunity of hearing the board's opinion on street paving, backed by their information gleaned in other wide-awake cities.

Next year's board should not have to go over the whole ground again, for this work is bound to come.

His worship was inclined to think the council should pass a resolution that any street will be paved that is petitioned for. He thought the petitions would come along.

Ald. Bradburn guaranteed that, were such a resolution passed, he would quickly come forward with a petition that Lewis street be paved.

Ald. Hicks remarked that whereas many citizens complained at first about oiling the streets it is now generally conceded that such a course is far preferable to street watering. It would be the same with street paving—Very few objections would be lodged once the work was done, and we were enjoying its manifold benefits.

It was left with the mayor to consider the best course to pursue, as the committee in general felt that its labors in this direction—for the good of the whole community—should not be entirely lost.

THROOP WINS.

Mr. George Graham of the Oriental in a Hundred Yards Dash.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. George Graham, the genial proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, and Mr. Ken. Throop, a well known local tonsoralist artist gave an exhibition in sprinting that would make even Tom Longboat green with envy. The race was pulled off on Hunter street between the Oriental and the bridge over the creek on that street, in the presence of several hundred spectators. Mr. Timmy Yokome of the Review staff, acted as starter, and fulfilled his duties with dignity and satisfaction to all concerned. Mr. Graham was given a handicap of ten yards, and put up a fast race. He was, however, no match for his opponent who overtook and defeated this popular bonifacer. Mr. Graham, however, was not discouraged with yesterday's defeat and may yet win over many an ambitious younger man.

LOCAL OWNED HORSES WIN AT OGDENSBURG.

At the great New York State Fair at Ogdensburg, with 15,000 people present, one of the most interesting competitions was between the splendid string of imported English thoroughbred horses sent there by Hon. J. R. Stratton, and the pick of the New York stables. The climax was reached when Mr. Stratton pulled off the event that aroused the most intense interest, the best exhibit of three horses owned by one exhibitor. There were five competing stables, and when "My Pride," "Premier," and "Perfect Dream" carried off the red ribbons, there was prolonged cheering by the thousands of Canadians present.

Mr. Stratton scored first in pair for residents of Canada with "Premier" and "Lady Navarre."

Open single, high steppers—First, Sorg, New York; second, Stratton, Peterborough; third, Sorg.

Single horse by actual residents of Canada—First and second, Stratton, Peterborough; third, Brockville.

Amateur tandem, driven by lady—first, Stratton, Peterborough; second, Sorg, New York; third, Young, Toronto.

Pair harness horses over 15.2 for residents of Canada—First, Stratton Peterborough; second, Brockville; third, Toronto.

Tandems, open—First, Sorg, New York; second, Stratton, Peterborough; third, Sorg, New York.

In the contest for high-stepper which closed the harness events, Mr. Stratton captured second.

Detroit Friends Think That Burton Yates Must have Lost Reason

Detroit, Sept. 23. — The Detroit friends of Burton Wynn Yates can think or talk of little else today than of his death yesterday in Cleveland, Ohio. This morning a prominent representative called on half a dozen of the men well known and highly respected in the social and commercial life of Detroit, and in every case met only a puzzled shake of the head and expressions of the most profound grief and amazement.

Amazement is the correct word. Man after man repeated and insisted that Yates was the last man in the whole big city to be expected to come to a suicide's end after a night of dissipation and the shooting of a female companion. The old theory of a double life does not apply here.

The details of the shooting are now known far and wide. Following a night of drinking there came early in the morning the inevitable quarrel, the two bullets sent into the woman's body, and later the pitiful death of the man in the "bull pen," or common herding place of the lower criminal refuse of a big city, swept together in the course of the night. There is another side to the story. The man's long and irreproachable life as a citizen of Detroit, the life of the better class American man, of affluent circumstances, the life of a man apparently devoted to an ailing wife and growing sons of many deeds of unostentatious kindness, of wide and generous business connections, of a small and well chosen circle of friends of distinctly better class.

Methodists to Observe Rally Day.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 24.—To stimulate enthusiasm in all lines of church and missionary work the Methodist churches throughout Canada have set aside tomorrow for the annual observance of Rally Day. One hundred thousand copies of the programme of exercises to be followed have been distributed gratuitously by the General Board of the church.

Y.W.C.A. Well Attended.

A large number attended the Y.W.C.A. last night, in response to a hearty invitation issued by the president and Board of Management. The splendid premises of this commodious home for young women was inspected and everything found, not only immaculately clean but bright and cheerful and homelike. An interesting program was given in the gymnasium. About an hour was devoted to social greetings and refreshments. The Y.W.C.A. of Peterborough is well equipped, well furnished, well managed, and has a strong influence over many of our local girls. Miss Addison's address was listened to with close interest by all present.

Peterborough Still a Bishropic.

In our issue of yesterday, as indicated by the leading press of Canada, it was intimated that the Roman Catholic bishopric of Peterborough was to be abolished. Enquiries made at the local diocesan headquarters say that the reports printed in yesterday's papers is incorrect. It is said that there is in no possibility of the Bishop of Peterborough being transferred to Ottawa. It would be at least three months before an appointment would be made of a successor to Archbishop Gauthier at Kingston, in consequence of his being transferred to Ottawa.

Y.M.C.A. Will Win Campaign.

The Y.M.C.A. campaign, in which they started out to procure 500 new members seems to have good general ship guiding the movement, because by splendid work on the part of the rank and file. There is every reason to believe that the five hundred, and possibly a straggler or two over will join this grand local part of an international institution. Up to last night, possibly "Sandy" Hall made the best showing in returns. Dr. Middleton was a close second, but after last night the C.G.E., under the leadership of Messrs. Johnston and Taylor will have something to show. Mr. Sisson is proving himself an inspiring leader.

City Board of Works in Regular Session

The Appropriation for This Year is Getting Very Low—Don't Ask for Any New Work or You will Probably be Refused

The City Board of Works met last night. There were present Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Hicks, Aldermen Metheral, Graham, Bradburn, Phelan and Duffus.

W. W. Cole's request for a bridge over ditch opposite his property, 567 Downie street, was left with the engineer with power to act.

The Thos. Bradburn Estate wrote saying that they intended improving their property 88 and 90 Hunter street, by building a cement wall to match that of St. John's church grounds, and erecting cement steps. In order to carry out this project it will be necessary to encroach upon the street line some 30 inches to make a satisfactory job of the entrance steps to the houses in question, for which privilege the estate asked the board's permission.

This request was granted subject to the engineer's supervision.

F. Sandy wrote, saying that he had leased the Chamberlain Estate property at the corner of King and Stewart streets, and asked that an entrance be made on King street at the east corner. This was left in the hands of the chairman and engineer.

J. M. Green's request for tiling and filling in the gully at creek over Charlotte street, where Braund's new store is to be erected, was left in abeyance.

Mr. Chipman reported that work had been delayed on the south end sewer and drainage systems, owing to the contractors not having 1-10 pipes on hands; the firms figured on 1-12 piping, which fact, however, was overlooked by the engineers. The difference in cost between these two pipings is 77 off against 70 off in favor of the 1-12 pipes. There are but a car load of the 1-10 pipes in the country, which has been secured, and which will probably reach here by Monday next. The manufacturers of these 1-10 pipes will be pushed forward in all haste.

Mr. Chipman and the city engineer were given authority to purchase any necessary iron piping for this work, to avoid any possible delay in its prosecution.

Mr. Chipman also reported that the time for receiving tenders for machinery for the pumping station has been extended.

The sidewalk work in Ashburnham will be started at once.

The Board's appropriation for this year has been nearly exhausted. There are but $2,084.57 in hand, with some outstanding obligations. The board will consequently go slow the remainder of the year as regards granting petitions for new work.

The matter of acquiring some three acres and more of Mr. Best's property for park purposes in South City, was left over for the Parks Committee to take up next year, jointly with other propositions.

The engineer will be asked to report on a request for concrete crossings on Aylmer street, at Edinburgh and Dublin streets.

The Otonabee Power Company's request for permission to erect a temporary pole on Charlotte street, was referred to the chairman and the engineer with power to act.

Mr. Thompson asked for a sewer on Smith street, from 160 feet west of George to Benson street, supported by a recommendation to this effect by the Board of Health. On motion of Ald. Graham, this request was granted.

The Dominion Railway Board, through Mr. Armstrong, reported that the Toronto and Eastern Railway's route map from Peterborough to Lindsay will be submitted for approval on October 4th. The city solicitor was instructed to get all necessary information on this matter.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That the two blocks on Rubidge street be oiled a second time.—Carried.

The oil for street purposes costs 4½c. a gallon on the car, and the pumping of same from its tanks is charged for merely at the actual time taken thereby, while this process of perfuming our streets is in its experimental stage, the board will enter into definite arrangements for this work for next year.

Mr. R. H. Bradburn complained that on Perry street, the water in the spring floods up 12 or 14 inches, and over the sidewalk. He asked that some provision be made to get rid of this surface water.

The street commissioner will be asked to report upon this matter, and on the nuisance arising from water lying on Gilmour street. Also on similar conditions on Dublin and Water streets.

The Peterborough Canoe Company asked for the temporary use of the portable engine for a time for power purposes. This matter was left with the chairman and the engineer with power to act.

Harvest Festival at St. Luke's.

On Thursday night the harvest festival at St. Luke's church was held. Unfortunately lack of space forbade our giving a full report. This popular church, under control of the equally popular clergyman, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, was appropriately decorated. Rev. Provost Macklem of Trinity College, Toronto, conducted the service. Miss Ruby Quartermaine rendered a very suitable solo. St. Luke's church, under the guidance of Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, holds a high position in popular esteem. Mr. Davey, organist of St. John's church, also contributed towards the success of the musical portion of the evening's entertainment.

Roosevelt's Big Fight.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 24.—The fight between ex-president Roosevelt and the "old guard" for the control of the Republican party in New York will focus public attention on Saratoga, where the Republican State convention will assemble Tuesday for nomination of a State ticket and the adoption of a platform. The general belief is that the convention will develop into one of the liveliest political contests of the generation and the claims are so conflicting and the issues so confused that it is impossible to forecast the results with any degree of certainty.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Bishop Fallon Charges a Conspiracy

THE BISHOP SAYS THAT THE OTTAWA DESPATCH WAS CONCOCTED BY TWO MEN IN TORONTO.

One is a Civil Servant and the Other on a Morning Paper's Staff.—Denies Charges in Toto.

London, Ont., Sept. 23.—In regard to the assertions made by the press of the country and by some public men concerning his attitude towards the French language and the interest of French-Canadian people, the Right Rev. Bishop Fallon requests the publication of the following statement.

"This agitation, in so far as my name is mentioned, with it, was begun by the publication of a despatch in the Detroit Free Press on June 5 last, when I was not yet quite five weeks Bishop of London. This article was a falsehood on its face, for while for evident reasons purporting to come from Ottawa, it was really concocted in Toronto by two gentlemen, one of whom occupied a position in the Ontario civil service, and the other is on the staff of a Toronto morning newspaper.

"I have never been by word or deed, by intent or desire, unfriendly to the interests of the French-Canadian people, and I never shall be unfriendly to them at any time or place, no matter what the provocation. A number of them live within the limits of my own diocese, and I am as solicitous for their welfare, whether spiritual or temporal, as I am for that of any other portion of the flock confided to my care. I have never issued, nor caused to be issued, directly or indirectly, verbally, by writing, or in any other way, any order or mandate, or even expression of opinion, concerning the teaching of French, or any other language, in the Separate Schools, or in any other schools of the diocese of London, or any other place. I have not and I never had any objection to the teaching of French or any other language in accordance with the laws of the Province of Ontario and the regulations of the Provincial Department of Education.

"This whole agitation, therefore as far as I am concerned, is not only utterly baseless, but is also supremely unjust.

(Signed) "M. F. Fallon,
"Bishop of London."

THE DOGLESS HUNTER.

The Ottawa authorities have issued an order extending the regulation preventing the transport of dogs out of the infected area. This means that hunters will not be able to get their dogs up North for the hunting season, the idea being to prevent the infection of other dogs and there is no reason for this, but they now give out that:—

"While precautions might be taken to prevent hunting dogs shipped from within the quarantined area, I need scarcely point out that the consequences of turning dogs from the infected area loose among the wild animals of our Canadian forests might be very serious indeed, and needless to say, if the infection of rabbies were once started among these wild animals it could never possibly be eradicated."

The absurdity of this is apparent, as it is a well-known fact the dogs will run a mile from the scent of wolves, and there is no animal that a hunting dog would touch that could be infected. Dogs cannot run down deer.

If the Government could determine the townships that are really infected and quarantine them, it would help matters a good deal. To put the whole western peninsula of Ontario under the ban is a great hardship.

An element that enters into the matter is the danger of hunting without dogs. The following is a statement of fatalities in Wisconsin where dogs are prohibited.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Trade is booming in Great Britain. Imports and exports show remarkable gains, and the situation would be full of encouragement were it not for the gigantic strikes and lockouts, which make the outlook the gloomiest in many years. We referred several days ago to the lockout of 30,000 boiler-makers that had been forced on the employers' federation in the shipbuilding industry by contract breaking on the part of small groups of recalcitrant employes, but that is not an isolated case. There is much unrest in other unions, accompanied by insubordination and defiance of leaders and officers, and in at least one instance a local union has refused flatly to arbitrate a dispute affecting working conditions. The boiler-makers have solemnly voted down a proposition to give anti-strike assurances to the employers.

In the British press this state of things is described as "industrial war," and the trades unions concerned are admonished that not only their particular organizations, but the very principles of unionism, are on trial. Certainly collective bargaining, the system of trade agreements and industrial conciliation and arbitration are receiving severe blows from those who have reaped the greatest advantages from these substitutes for strife and trials of endurance and strength. No wonder the sober-minded labor leaders are alarmed and amazed.

What is causing this repudiation of labor contracts and arbitration? There are commentators who put the blame at the door of socialism—or the propaganda of discontent and radical changes instead of gradual amelioration. Others advance different explanations, declining to believe that any mirage of socialism can mislead intensely practical toilers who face the solid realities of life.

Whatever the correct view may be, it is clear to some observers that organized labor has nothing to gain and much to lose by such action as the defiant and rebellious groups have been taking. After a period of chaos and bitterness and loss even these extremists will be compelled to sue for peace on the basis of faithful observance of contracts and responsible unionism. To common sense they must revert at last, and it is deplorable that reckless advice should prevail over reason and fair play for the time being.

ANOTHER INVENTION.

Pittsburg, Sept. 17.—The wonderful explosive engine is becoming one of the most important power producers. Even battleships are to be propelled by this method. Edison has perfected his storage battery, it is said, at a cost of a million and a quarter dollars. This means bringing the power of water falls away in a desert for men everywhere. German experimentalists claim to have invented means for bottling the heat of the sun, so that fuel of every kind may be dispensed with. Chemists put up and sell to farmers germs which will produce nodules on the roots of certain plants in which nitrogen is stored direct from the atmosphere for fertilizing purposes. It is just now announced that the germ which causes consumption has been discovered and may be proceeded against directly. That wonderful storehouse of energy, radium, has been found in a pure state only a few days ago.

All these things indicate progress, and the immense advancement of the world's activities. They may not be revolutionary in their effects, for it appears to be the plan of the universe to give long notice of impending change. But the discoveries and inventions are evidently not all made yet. Nor is the world, improved undoubtedly by our efforts, by any means as perfect as it will be by the time our grandchildren leave it.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

Mexico's New University.

City of Mexico, Sept. 22.—The formal dedication of the University of Mexico makes this one of the most notable days in the long programme of fetes celebrating the centennial of Mexican independence. President Diaz will preside over the opening ceremonies, surrounded by the elite of the social, educational, literary and artistic circles of Mexican capital. The presence of numerous foreign delegates will give to the event an international aspect. Among the colleges and universities of the United States represented either by their presidents or faculty members were Yale, Harvard, Cornell, Columbia, John Hopkins, and Syracuse universities and the Universities of Texas, California and Pennsylvania.

WOOD IS $10 A CORD.

Famine Prices Rule in Winnipeg—New Railways May Give Relief.

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—The price of wood, like everything else in Winnipeg, at the present day, is soaring heavenward. At present, cut and split, it is $10 a cord, which is the highest for years. Local dealers claim that there is no combine to affect prices, and that the present high figure is due solely to the scarcity of the article. The trouble is laid to the fact that the lumbermen could not get sufficient men last winter, while the snow went off the ground early in the spring, so that the wood could not be got out. An early snow would help matters.

What is wanted in the case is the opening of the National Transcontinental to the east and the operation of the line by the Grand Trunk Pacific. There are, it is claimed, thousands of cords of wood, hundreds of thousands, some people say, available right at the tracks of the National Transcontinental. In two weeks time the Winnipeg market would be glutted, and prices would go down with a bang, if enough freight trains could be operated to get the wood in. Whether this service can be given this fall and the public relieved of the necessity of paying through the nose for all fuel of this kind cannot at present be ascertained.

THE STRIKERS' CHILDREN ARE OUT ON STRIKE.

Refuse to Go to School and Sit Beside the Children of Strike-Breakers.

Halifax, Sept. 22.—A new phase of the strike in the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company's mines in Springhill is being experienced. The men have been out for fourteen months. When the school reopened the children of the strikers went out in a body, refusing to sit beside the children of the strike-breakers, or men at work in the mines. The former only went out, but stayed out.

Attorney-General MacLean went up from Halifax to Springhill and tried to reconcile the differences and get the children together, but he failed. The Union men's children would not go back while the children in attendance. The school authorities to of non-union parents remained in attendance. The school authorities to tide over the trouble in the meantime have asked the non-union youngsters to stay away from school.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Mrs. J. M. Dodge Held Under Arrest in Connection With Death.

Lunenburg, Vermont, Sept. 21.—A delay in the arrival here of Attorney General Sargent was expected to result in the postponement until Thursday of the hearing in the case of Mrs. J. M. Dodge, who is under arrest in connection with the mysterious death of William Heath in Mrs. Dodge's home last Saturday. Heath had been employed as a painter at Mrs. Dodge's house and on Saturday the woman notified the police that the man had committed suicide. An investigation showed that there were three bullet wounds in Heath's head, and in the opinion of the authorities the suicide theory was untenable. Mrs. Dodge's arrest followed. Attorney-General Sargent left Montpelier today for Lunenburg, but his arrival was not expected before late in the afternoon.

In searching for additional evidence the authorities claim to have learned that Heath's body was found a few feet distant from a pool of blood on the floor of Mrs. Dodge's bedroom. Mrs. Dodge, according to the officers, explains this by saying that when she found Heath was wounded she turned him over and tried to revive him with liquor.

The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. FRENCH PRESS SEVERE ON FALLON | ROBERT LEACH DEFIES FURY OF RAPIDS

Leach Navigates the Whirlpool Rapids

Strapped in His Barrel, Takes Only a Few Minutes to Reach Whirlpool--- Gets Awful Tossing

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 24 — "Bobby" Leach in his famous red barrel cut loose from his moorings just above the Cantilever Bridge, on the American side, at 3.50 p.m., and passed through the Whirlpool Rapids

It was with some difficulty the barrel was got clear of the eddy and upper current. When it did, it was swept into the rapids, and received an awful tossing and rolling as it sped on to the whirlpool.

It took only two or three minutes to negotiate the rapids.

After making three complete circuits around the whirlpool the barrel came close ashore, where "Bobby" was released.

He came out of the barrel somewhat exhausted, but not much the worse of his trip, having only the few bruises he received when undergoing the buffeting the barrel got going through the rapids, and some smart knocks received while making the tour of the pools amongst the logs.

SULTAN OF SULU TO VISIT AMERICA

Man Who Proposed to Alice Roosevelt, Reaches New York With a Big Retinue.

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Sept. 24.—Mohammed Jumalul Kiram, Sultan of Sulu, with a retinue of fourteen retainers, arrived here today on the steamship St. Louis, and was officially greeted by Major Scott, U.S.A., who was formerly governor of Sulu.

It had been reported that he was married, although this did not stop reports of a possible American wife in the future. The sultan proposed to Alice Roosevelt when she passed through Sulu.

SHOCKING

(Special to The Times.)

London, Sept. 24.—At a dinner party in the Highlands a few evenings ago, a certain lady astonished those present by retiring to the smoking room with the gentlemen, instead of going with the other ladies into the drawing room. It appears that she has become a devoted lover of the weed, and always indulges in a pipe after the evening meal. In the daytime she confines herself to cigarettes, which she smokes in public.

HOWITT NOMINATED IN S. WELLINGTON

Runner Up Moves to Make It Unanimous, Though He Shows Some Disappointment.

(Special to The Times.)

Guelph, Sept. 24.—J. R. Howitt, son of Dr. Howitt, was nominated this afternoon as the Conservative candidate in South Wellington, to fill the vacancy in the legislature caused by the resignation of J. P. Downey.

He received 99 votes to 33 for Drew, and 28 for H. C. Scholfield.

Mr. Drew moved that the nomination be made unanimous, though he plainly showed his disappointment by saying it was the last convention he would attend.

The Progressive Republicans Claim Victory for Roosevelt

N.Y State Political Situation Has Aroused International Interest—The "Old Guard" Gloomy

New York, Sept. 24.—Alarmed by the early gathering of the Old Guard at Saratoga, N. Y., where the State Republican convention will be held, leaders in the Roosevelt wing of the party hurried up-State today to combat anything which the Reactionaries might have secured through an early appearance on the field. Today saw the gathering of the vanguard, and from the indications the fighting and the fireworks over the control of the convention will be in full swing by Monday, when Col. Roosevelt will arrive upon the scene and relieve his lieutenants of the direction of the battle plans.

"OLD GUARD" GLOOMY.

The Old Guard leaders who have assembled in Saratoga are gloomy and filled with bitter prophecies. In equal ratio the Progressive leaders are elated and jubilant. Louis F. Payne, a member of the Old Guard, predicted today that if the colonel was successful in controlling the convention, the split in the Republican party would widen and the result would be the election of a Democratic Legislature.

VICTORY FOR ROOSEVELT.

The Progressive claimed today that the colonel would have more than one hundred votes above the number sufficient to control the convention. The Old Guard leaders, notably William Barnes, jr., have ceased giving figures in their predictions, but they still have claims.

FULL DRESS REHEARSAL.

Rehearsals for the big show were started at Saratoga today. Tomorrow will see the arrival of a large portion of the delegates, and Monday will see a full dress rehearsal, with Colonel Roosevelt and Leader Barnes on the ground. The indications today continued to point to the fact that the Old Guard would make its greatest fight upon the committee on resolutions which will draw up the platform. Foreseeing defeat in the temporary chairmanship, the Old Guard leaders started today with their backs to the wall, prepared to fight to the death.

Wm. Barnes, jr., has opened headquarters in the United States Hotel and started in to line up his horses.

THE PLATFORM.

Vice-President Sherman is expected to arrive in Saratoga with the Oneida delegates on Monday.

While no tentative platform will be outlined before the convention, according to Roosevelt, the colonel will go to Saratoga with a perfectly good outline of that instrument in his mind.

Among the planks, according to today's information will be the following:

Extension of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Direct primaries.

Adoption of legislational amendments to do away with the law's delay.

Removal of judiciary from political influence.

Strengthening of laws pertaining to sanitation and the pollution of streams.

New educational projects in rural districts.

MANOEUVRES A FRIGHTFUL FIASCO

SENSATIONAL STORY CABLED TO THE NEW YORK EVENING POST.

The Attaches Disgusted — A Cable Through American Sources Makes ...Some Remarkable Statements Regarding on British Army.

New York, Sept. 24.—A special cable to the Evening Post here today says:

London, Sept. 24.—The British army manoeuvres, it is claimed by newspapers of all shades of opinion, ended in a frightful fiasco.

The Express calls it a gigantic muddle. There was hopeless confusion. Some battalions fired on their own allies in the fearful and wonderful tangle.

The foreign attaches openly expressed their contempt for the British generalship.

The aeroplanes, which were to do the scouting, couldn't fly.

DISTINGUISHED MEN AT FALLS.

Chinese Prince and the Real Sultan of Sulu Seeing the Sights There.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 25.—His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun, brother of the Prince Regent of China, will be a distinguished visitor in the city today. He will arrive from Buffalo shortly after three o'clock, and will be met at the depot at Niagara Falls, N.Y., by Mayor Douglas and a special committee, and will be escorted around to the various points of greatest interest, including the power works on this side of the river.

Automobiles decorated with Chinese flags will be in readiness for the prince and his royal suite and nine naval attaches. He and his party are touring the country for the purpose of studying naval affairs and conditions, and are visiting the various ship yards and navy yards of the United States.

Another distinguished visitor who is coming to view the cataract is Mohammed Jamalulu Kiram, Sultan of Sulu, and the Dallo Diang Lord of Dulman, who will arrive here on Sunday, Sept. 25.

Want Ohio River Deepened.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—The Ohio Valley Improvement Association, which aims to secure the construction of locks and dams that would insure a permanent nine foot stage the Ohio river, is holding its six-of water throughout the length of tenth annual convention in Cincinnati, in conjunction with the Ohio Valley Exposition. Nearly 1,000 delegates, representing West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio Indiana and Illinois, were on hand when the convention took up its regular programme of business today.

A Grand Selection of Pictures.

DYNASTY IS IN DIRE STRAITS.

Will Find Difficulty in Hanging Out Much Longer, Says Well Informed Man.

London, Sept. 26.— "The Spanish dynasty is on dire straits, and will will find increasing difficulty in maintaining itself much longer."

This prophecy was telegraphed today to the London Telegraph by its Madrid correspondent, who is conceded to be the best posted authority on Spanish affairs in Europe. His despatch is in keeping with other alarming messages today from Spain.

The Exchange Telegraph's correspondent says that the ministry has been warned that more than 100 clerical demonstrations are being planned for October 2, on the eve of the assembling of the Cortes, for the purpose of over-awing the government. To offset the effect of these, the anti-clericals are organizing counter demonstrations and it is considered inevitable that serious clashes will result.

Since the government announced that it would not interfere with the pro-church demonstrations, provided the participants did not arm themselves, the movement has gained immensely, and indications now are that fully 2,000,000 persons will take part in the meetings of October 2.

The entire military strength of Spain will be mobolized for any emergency that may arise on the day of the demonstrations. Publicly, Premier Canalejas still professes the utmost confidence in the ability of

WHO WANTS THE 400 WIVES? EX-HAREM IS NOW FOR SALE

Constantinople, Sept. 24.—Has anyone any use for four hundred wives? If so the Turkish Government would like to get into communication with them.

This is the number of ladies contained in the harem of the late sultan, and the problem of their disposal is becoming a serious one. Most of them are natives of Albania and Arbia, and two distinct efforts have been made to return them to their friends and relatives, but the latter absolutely refuse to receive the ladies.

Under the circumstances, the authorities are in somewhat of a quandry, since the cost of their maintenance is a considerable item; and as many of them are quite young girls it would seem as though they will reimain a burden of the state for many years to come unless someone or other can be induced to take them over. There is some talk of pensioning the outcasts on a scale according to the length of their residence at Constantinople.

The French Press Believe That Rome Has Been Ill-Advised

LE DEVOIR RETURNS TO THE ATTACK ON THE LONDON PRELATE FOR BAN OF FRENCH LANGUAGE.

French Press are Firing Broadside After Broadside at Mgr. Fallon— Warns the French People of Ontario — Says He Pronounced Strongly Against Bilingual Teaching.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—The French press is still firing broadside after broadside at Mgr. Fallon of London. Henri Bourassa in his paper, Le Devoir, again warns the French people of Ontario against excesses, and says that they may believe that Rome has been ill-advised, for this has nothing to do with dogma or morals. Mr. Bourassa also says that Archbishop Gauthier did not seek the nomination of the see of Ottawa, yet it is to be regretted that his grace did not decline the position, for the acceptance, says Bourassa, will render still more difficult the maintenance of cordial relations between the two sections of the Roman Church in Canada, Rome, he adds, must be enlightened, and that cannot be done by making too much noise.

But in another article the Devoir is much more severe on the prelate of London, stating that at the last retreat at which his lordship preached personally to his clergy, he pronounced strongly against bilingual teaching as it has been a failure in the Province of Quebec. Proceeding, Le Devoir asks if Mgr. Fallon did not forbid the Sisters of St. Joseph from teaching a single word of French in the schools at Walkerville and Belle River, and the writer in Le Devoir states that he has a document at hand which confirms the charge.

"If, therefore, Mgr. Fallon wants us to believe his public utterances, he will bring his conduct into conformity with the declaration which has just been made, and which we enregister with a great deal of pleasure."

Continuing, Le Devoir says: "In the light of reason and the church, no doubt Bishop Fallon has learned that the mission of the church is not to tear away from the faithful that which they hold most dear, viz. their language, and their nationality. Rome, we hope, will hear our appeal. It is from Rome, in fact, that we expect justice and peace. Rome alone can reassure us, and place us beyond the blows of Mgr. Fallon, who certainly stated in a certain conversation that:

"In an English Province like Ontario only one tongue is necessary, and that is the English."

Local Charity Under Organized Control

It is altogether probable that his Worship Mayor Morrow will accede with the request formulated by the ladies of the city last Friday at their meeting in the Y.W.C.A., and call a public meeting to discuss the formation of a general association of charities. At the meeting noted representatives from the Protestant Home, King's Daughters, Dorcas Society, St. John's, St. Paul's, Charlotte Street, Knox, St. Andrew's, Mark Street, St. James, Murray Street and George Street churches.

The association will not, in any way interfere with the charities already established. The objects of the association are as follows:

1. To make employment the basis of relief.
2. To prevent indiscriminate and duplicate giving.
3. To protect the community against imposition.
4. To reduce vagrancy and pauperism and ascertain their true causes.
5. To prevent children growing up as paupers.
6. To secure for all deserving cases of destitution, prompt and adequate relief.
7. To elevate the home life, health and habits of the poor.

OBJECTS TO BE ATTAINED.

1. By bringing about co-operation among all charitable agencies and persons.
2. By a system of registration to prevent imposition.
3. By ascertaining through investigation the most suitable action in each and every case.
4. By obtaining from existing charities the precise help needed.
5. By giving temporary relief in cases of extreme emergency, and when all other sources fail.
6. By careful study of the causes of pauperism and of the best methods of dealing with destitution and degradation.
7. By furnishing the needy, with a friend who will counsel them, safeguard their self-respect and inspire thrift and better living.

German General Won't Take Hint to Suicide

Berlin, Sept. 24. — A remarkable story comes from Stuttgart of a general having been asked, or, practically ordered, to commit suicide because he had brought disgrace to the corps of officers. The officer, however, had gone Grisly declined to do to order.

General Gagren is the officer concerned, and he has just been involved in a painful scandal, the details of which have aroused indignation throughout Germany. It is stated that some of his brother officers went to him and requested him to commit suicide, saying, that self-destruction was the only way in which he could rehabilitate himself and wipe out the stain on the character of the German Officers' Corps left by his failings. The general has not followed this advice, but it is significant of the general trend of feeling on such matters in Germany that the alleged advice given to General Gagren to kill himself appears to be generally approved by public opinion.

the government to control the situation, but he is nevertheless in almost constant communication with the minister of war and members of the Cabinet regarding steps to be taken should the clerical agitation reach the threatened magnitude.

PLACER GOLD IN GOAT RIVER

The Town of Creston is Wildly Excited Over It.—A Syndicate Will Be Formed.

Nelson, B.C., Sept. 23.—Creston is wildly excited over the reported discovery of placer gold in Goat River by Ira Bean, an old-time prospector. He came to Creston last Thursday with fine specimens of coarse gold, and the news came out that he had located two claims just above the canon in Goat River. A rush then occurred in the vicinity of the find, up to the present eighteen claims having been staked. A meeting of claim holders will be held this week for the purpose of forming a syndicate to carry out necessary farming and tunnelling to enable the gold to be taken from the bed of the stream to bed rock. The syndicate will be known as the Indiana group, all the owners of various claims being local men. It is believed that the money necessary to exploit the properties can be easily raised. The claim owners are anxious to avoid anything like a stampede from the outside, and it is difficult to get facts as to the real value of the find.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

MAYOR GAYNOR FOR GOVERNOR

TAMMANY FAVORS HIM AS FIRST CHOICE OF DEMOCRATS IN N.Y. STATE.

All to Have Fair Chance—There is, However, Considerable Doubt as to Who Will Get the Gubernatorial Nomination.

New York, Sept. 24.—Tammy will do everything in its power to see that the Democratic State convention to be held at Rochester next week is an open one with a fair representation given to every candidate.

This was the announcement made today from Tammany Hall, accompanied by the details of the plan made by the Tiger braves to attend the convention.

The announcement followed that of Chas. F. Murphy, in which he said that while Tammany favored Mayor Gaynor as governor for first choice and Congressman Sulzer of New York as second choice, nevertheless the organization stood ready to bow to the majority.

FAVOR MAYOR GAYNOR.

States Chairman Dix of the Democratic party, received reports today from leaders all over the State which indicated strongly that Mayor Gaynor's name would be put before the convention.

Tammany delegates will go to the Rochester convention on Wednesday, travelling in six special trains.

Four will go over the New York Central and two over the Erie. The reservations show that Tammany will have the largest representation in its history at a State convention.

From the indications today it looked like an even break among the various candidates who have appeared. In the face of the uncertainty it was impossible to predict definitely who would get the guberatorial nomination.

WILL HE WIN?

Can Mr. Ball's Horse Do the Mile in 2.40.

Some excitement is current among local horsemen as the time approaches when Mr. J. Ball of Douro, will win or lose his race bet. The bet referred to was made some three months ago between Mr. Ball and a well known local sportsman over a horse owned by the former. The conditions as expressed in a written agreement, now held by Mr. A. T. Johnston of the Windsor Hotel, are that Mr. Ball shall train personally and drive personally his horse over a mile course at the Driving Park in 2.40 or better. The race must be run off on or before Oct. 1st. The terms of the bet are $50 aside. The money has been banked, and Mr. Ball has a very limited time in which to win or lose the $100. The betting is 10—6 that Mr. Ball's horse will not do the mile in the time specified, as required by the agreement.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

CHARGE NOT SUSTAINED.

Cobourg, Sept. 24.—Judge Hayes presided in the County Judge's Criminal Court here in place of Judge Benson, when Charles Spiers, of Port Hope, came up for trial on a charge of bigamy. Mr. D. F. Kerr, County Crown Attorney, prosecuted and Col. H. A. Ward, Port Hope, defended the prisoner.

Three witnesses were examined — Mrs. Spiers, the alleged first wife, her son, Charles, and her brother, Abraham Jacobs. The witnesses id the prisoner. Mrs. Spiers stated that she was married to Spiers thirty-seven years ago at Brooklyn, N.Y.

A copy of the Hebrew marriage certificate was produced. She stated that Spiers deserted her several times, the last occasion being 23 years ago.

Spiers claimed that he did not know that his wife was living for seven years. The defence contended that it was impossible to convict any man of bigamy who had been absent from his wife for seven years, unless it was proven that he had knowledge that his wife was living.

The prisioner was discharged.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

OPPOSED TO SUCCESSION DUES.

For over sixty years Goldwin Smith has preached the gospel of laissez-faire. He was a consistent foe of paternalism in government. He was particularly opposed to succession dues. Yet the Whitney government will collect from his estate over $80,000. Fate is so often ironical. Although Dr. Smith was a master of nervous, straight-flung English, and fought with earnestness and enthusiasm, the principal of taxing great estates for the benefit of the many is spreading in spite of him, for at least, paternalism commends itself to the public mind.

Goldwin Smith was a prophet of the Manchester school of economists He hated protection with a deep and abiding hatred. Yet under protection the United States of America has grown to greatness. Under protection Germany has become a powerful empire. Under protection Canada is prosperous and happy. Great Britain's devotion to Cobden and to free trade as an economic policy is wavering. In spite of the life and work of Goldwin Smith the possibility of tariff reform in Great Britain is no longer remote. It seemed as if the great scholar was to stand as a defender of lost causes. His advocacy of Canada's annexation to the United States is another example. But he stood firm. His bequest of $700,000 to Cornell University was made as an example of his devotion to Anglo-Saxon unity. No one begrudges Cornell its good fortune. The gods have been good to that institution since its foundation forty years ago. Its endowment is figured now at nearly $6,000,000.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND

Trade is booming in Great Britain. Imports and exports show remarkable gains, and the situation would be full of encouragement were it not for the gigantic strikes and lockouts, which make the outlook the gloomiest in many years. We referred several days ago to the lockout of 30,000 boiler-makers that had been forced on the employers' federation in the shipbuilding industry by contract breaking on the part of small groups of recalcitrant employes, but that is not an isolated case. There is much unrest in other unions, accompanied by insubordination and defiance of leaders and officers, and in at least one instance a local union has refused flatly to arbitrate a dispute affecting working conditions. The boiler-makers have sullenly voted down a proposition to give anti-strike assurances to the employers.

In the British press this state of things is described as "industrial war," and the trades unions concerned are admonished that not only their particular organizations, but the very principles of unionism, are on trial. Certainly collective bargaining, the system of trade agreements and industrial conciliation and arbitration are receiving severe blows from those who have reaped the greatest advantages from these substitutes for strife and trials of endurance and strength. No wonder the sober-minded labor leaders are alarmed and amazed.

What is causing this repudiation of labor contracts and arbitration? There are commentators who put the blame at the door of socialism—of the propaganda of discontent and radical changes instead of gradual amelioration. Others advance different explanations, declining to believe that any mirage of socialism can mislead intensely practical toilers who face the solid realities of life.

Whatever the correct view may be, it is clear to sane observers that organized labor has nothing to gain and much to lose by such action as the defiant and rebellious groups have been taking. After a period of chaos and bitterness and loss even these extremists will be compelled to sue for peace on the basis of faithful observance of contracts and responsible outgoings. To common sense they must revert at last, and it is deplorable that reckless advice should prevail over reason and fair play for the time being.

A Trip to Canada.

The London Teachers' Association, with a membership of 16,500, arranged for a trip to Canada during the summer vacation this year. The party visited Quebec, Montreal, McDonald College, St. Annes de Bellevue, Ottawa, Algonquin National Park, Muskoka Lakes, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and returned through the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence Rapids to Montreal. In the September number of the "London Teacher" an account of the trip is given, and it shows how thoroughly the party enjoyed their trip. The originator, Mr. Thos. Gautrey, has written to the European Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk System through whom the trip was arranged expressing gratification at the admirable way in which all the arrangements were carried out and intimating that the party was most enthusiastic, and that the trip, which covered the most attractive portions of Quebec and Ontario, will certainly be repeated next year.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel stock, now selling under $10 a share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

ONTARIO PEACHES IN LONDON.

Cablegram Announces Arrival of First Consignment in Splendid Condition—5,000 More to Go.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—The first Ontario peaches that were shipped over to England for sale have reached there in excellent condition.

A cablegram received by Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, this morning, from Mr. N. B. Colcock, the Ontario Government agents in London, announced this and adds that the fruit is being eagerly sampled by dealers. It is on sale at Convent Garden market. The London newspapers comment very favorably on the enterprise of the department and the excellence of the fruit.

The fruit was grown near the experimental farm at Jordan Harbor and was selected and shipped from the farm by Mr. P. W. Hodgetts, director of the fruit branch of the Department of Agriculture.

Consignments of peaches have been made from South Africa to London with considerable success, and Mr. James states that there will be at least 5,000 baskets shipped from Ontario to London this season.

The interest in Ontario's fruit has spread in England and a representative of a leading commission firm of London is at Jordan Harbor getting information. He states that the tomatoes grown in the Niagara district were a revelation to him, and believes that if they can reach England in as good condition as they are sold on the local markets there will be a great demand for them.

A West End Thief Reformed.

It seems that some gentleman, who has not thoroughly learned the difference, in signification, between meum and tuum (mine and thine), has been at work, by night in the western portion of this city. He has carried off chains, wheel barrows, and other articles. A westender of the city, candied to a Times representative last night that he had seen this thief at work. The thief had tried to take away the reputation of a certain west end citizen. Caught in the act, he declared the job too big for him and quit operations. He said he might, if hard pressed, take away a red hot stove or a ten ton safe, but what he had tried to carry away was beyond his powers. He, it is said, has signed the pledge and will, hereafter teach an infant class in Sunday school.

All Saints' Harvest Festival.

The last harvest festival to be celebrated in the present All Saints' church building, will be held on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The ladies of the congregation have arranged to have the church beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Armitage, the former rector, will deliver a special sermon. Mr. Armitage is now vicar of Picton, and has always been a favorite in Peterborough, and no doubt his address will attract a large audience at the festival.

The Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1910.

Opening of All Saints.'

The opening of the new All Saints' church will (D.V.) be held Sunday, October 23rd. The special services will, it is expected, extend over four Sundays. Two bishops have already promised to come, and arrangements are being made to get also two leading clergymen of the Church. A men's mass meeting will probably be held on one of the opening Sundays.

W.M.S. Meet on Thursday.

The district convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will hold their session in Mark street Methodist church next Thursday. There will be three meetings. In the evening they will be addressed by Rev. J. Couch and Judge Huycke. Mrs. J. K. Moore is organizer of the society. Solos will also be given by Mrs. (Dr.) Middleton and others. The morning session will commence at 10 o'clock.

Campaign Rolls on Merrily.

Notwithstanding the fact that there has not been absolute co-operation amongst those expected to do the hardest work in the present Y.M.C.A. campaign to raise 500 new members, the good work is going on splendidly. As the committee men brought in their returns, it kept the office staff busy making out receipts for new membership fees. The enthusiasm of the old members seems to actuate those just joined, as many of them are working to bring in still more members.

AT THE ARMORY.

57th Band to Give First Concert on Friday Night.

As noted in a former issue of The Times the 57th Regiment Band is to give a series of concerts in the armories. The first of these popular concerts will be given there on Friday night next. There will be seating capacity for at least a great part of the crowd which will undoubtedly attend.

A remarkably good program will be presented, including vocal selections by Miss Lavinia Hallihan, who will sing "The Holy City" and "Killarney." The band will play several new numbers, among them a grand pastoral hunting scene, "Le Freemersberg." A new descriptive selection, "The Mill in the Black Forest," by Eilenberg, will also be offered for the first time and another number that should be popular will be a medley of Harry Lauder's song hits. Among the songs included in the medley are these well known Lauder melodies: "I Love a Lassie," "She's Wa Daisy," "The Saftest of the Family," "Foo the Noo," "The Wedding O'Sandy McNabb," "When I Get Back Again to Bonnie Scotland," and "She Was Very Good to Me."

The difference between some few of the young men of Peterborough and the freshmen at Guelph Agricultural College, is that whilst the former "painted the town red," the freshmen were painted red and dragged through the town.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The measureless supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

LITTLE BOY SHOT BY HIS BROTHER

THEY WERE HUNTING SQUIRRELS WHEN SAD ACCIDENT OCCURRED.

Bullet in Spinal Cord—Recovery Depends on Operation—Sister Died Two Weeks Ago.

Cornwall, Sept. 26.—An eight-year-old son of Donald Roach, Beaconsfield, near Cornwall, was accidentally shot yesterday by his brother, and now lies in a precarious condition in the Hotel Dieu.

The two Roach boys, with some other lads were hunting squirrels with a 22-calibre rifle, and in some way it was accidentally discharged, and the bullet lodged in the young lad's back. He was taken home and thence to the Hotel Dieu, where Dr. Nichol located the bullet in the spinal cord.

An operation will be performed today, and the lad's chances of recovery depends largely upon the result of the operation.

The boy's little sister died suddenly two weeks ago.

ITALIANS KILLED A B. C. PIONEER

LURED HIM INTO THE BUSHLAND AND MURDERED HIM WITH AN AXE.

Revenge for Conviction—Julien Had Been Instrumental in Prosecuting Several Sons of Italy.

Revelstoke, B.C., Sept. 26.—Frank Julien, a pioneer resident, was approached by three Italians on Tuesday, who, stated that they were about to settle nearby, offered to help him clear his land for a few days, in return for axes and implements. He apparently accepted and on Wednesday morning left for bushland with them.

Not returning a search party was organized, and after a three days' hunt found Julien's mangled remains covered under brush, the head fearfully mangled and nearly severed. An axe near by indicated the hasty flight of the murderers.

Julien was instrumental in the prosecution of several Italians for assaulting his son-in-law, Orsini, practicularly of one named Shildo, at Calgary, the latter being subsequently given a jail sentence

FRENCH MONEY FOR CANADA IF ADVERTISED

Montreal, Sept. 26.M Canada only needs to be brought to the immediate attention of France and French capital will flow into investments here, is the prediction of Senator Dandurand, returned after a summer in France. The greater Canadian enterprises, the C.P.R., G.T.P., and C.N.R., are already known, but no others. The senator advocates a stronger tie through some possible new press agency.

Former Local Man in Great Experiments

Mr. Archie McDonald, an old Peterborough boy, who left here for Boston, Mass., twenty-one years ago, is spending a few week in the city with his sister, Mrs. John Hammond Our older citizens will remember Mr. McDonald as one of Canada's leading tenor singers. After leaving Peterborough he took lessons in harmony and various branches of vocal music at the Boston Conservatory and, for some years held classes in singing which were attended by the elite of "the Hub of America's culture." Some years ago Mr. McDonald met and became intimate with Dr. Strong of Boston, the celebrated litterateur and writer on electrical matters. Our former local citizen became greatly interested in the high voltage system or, as it is called, in one sense of such application; "Electro-theropeutics, whereby electricity carrying millions of volts, under proper and scientific control is conveyed through the human body. The intense current of the "juice" thus passing through a man both destroys and upbuilds the tissues. The result, however resolves itself into a general upbuilding of the human frame. In reply put by The Times, "Would these millions of volts mend a broken bone?" Archie, with his hearty laugh that has cheered many of our older citizens, in days gone by, replied "No, it would not join the bones or set them. It would, however, result in them setting and healing much more quickly."

As Mr. McDonald is not here as chief scientist for Dr. Strong, in the interests of the doctors or his own discoveries in electrical science, it might be noted that Mr. McDonald for the past four years, with Dr. Strong, has been living at Petersburg, Fla., right on the Mexican gulf. As most of our readers are aware the palmetto, or scrub palm, whilst one of the emblems, is one of the curses of Florida. The latter statement is made from the standpoint of the orange, lemon, pineapple and early vegetable grower. Florida, whilst regarding the palmetto with loving eyes, from an artistic or esthetic point of view, would sooner see its elimination than its cultivation. Mr. McDonald, aided by the scientific assistance of Dr. Strong and others has been making a deep study and profund test of the palmetto with a view to turning its tough, pliable leaves into paper. At the present writing Mr. McDonald has made paper from the palmetto fibre, but not, as yet, to commercial use. This former local citizen, however, is not in the least discouraged. He assured a Times representative yesterday that he has confident hopes of turning the palmetto of Florida into paper of all kinds, within the next few months. Should Mr. McDonald succeed in his experiments he will have cut the gordian knot tying up the loss of forests of a continent. It is well known that our poplar and other trees, cut down by the thousands of acres daily, to feed the greedy presses of North America are becoming an international loss of no mean significance. Should paper, for every commercial demand, be made from palmetto, the Southern States will hail Mr. McDonald with acclaim whilst our rapidly diminishing forests will have a respite.

Coal Found on a Local Man's Property

Concerning a despatch taken from the Toronto Star of last night, concerning a rich find of lignite coal found at Cochrane, Ont., it can only be said, that Mr. Dave Porter, of Porter's Delicatessen, George street, seems to have been born under a lucky (not star but) constellation. It will be remembered by our readers that Mr. Porter, a few months ago, sold out his hotel in Cochrane, but it is understood retained a $4,000 equity. Now Mr. Porter owns, absolutely, 33 feet immediately adjoining the hotel property on which is situated a drug store. The Star says, in part:

"Cochrane, Ont., Sept. 26.—There is great excitement here over the discovery of lignite coal during the boring of an artesian well on the property of the Cochrane Hotel.

"The operater of the boring machine, has noticed small pieces of black substance coming up the pipe for some time, but it was not until Saturday, when Mayor McManus happened to be passing the machine, and some of this stuff was coming up the pipe, that the operator asked the mayor if he could tell him what it was. Mayor McManus had taken some interest in the Mattagrami discoveries, and at once spotted the coal.

There is Trouble Brewing Over Peterborough's New Library

The Architects will be Invited to Explain to Property Committee who is at Fault for the Unsightly Appearance of the Two Pillars at Entrance of Building

The City Property Committee are determined that the unsymetrical pilasters at the entrance to the new library shall be rebuilt or fixed over in some way so as not to remain an eye-sore to all who look at the building.

But who is to pay the piper? The committee will request Architects Belcher and Blackwell to appear before them and explain who is at fault in this matter.

The committee are a unit in looking to their architects to have this faulty work remedied.

The City Property Committee met last night. There were present, Chairman Ald. Duncas, and Aldermen Morgan, Graham, Bradburn and Bates.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Graham.—That the insurance on the ambulance be cancelled, and a new one taken out.—Carried.

A much needed new pole will be secured for the Dan Spence ambulance.

Mr. Vance will be asked to figure on the cost of fitting the windows and doors of the Public Library with weather stripping.

PUBLIB LIBRARY FIXTURES.

Mr. Clapp, representing the Macdonald Wilson Company of Toronto, submitted prices for electrical fixtures for the public library, accompanied by photographs of varied designs of standard and drop fixtures. It should be understood that this tender comes through Alexander & Miller, who will do the installing of all electric fixtures connected with the library.

The committee thought it advisable to inspect the fixtures before placing any order therefore, and two or three members, including the chair man, will visit Toronto one day this week for that purpose.

The medical health officer, Dr. McPherson, will also make one of the party, with a view to visiting some of Toronto's isolations hospitals on business connected with fittings for Peterborough's isolation hospital.

Regarding the tables, book stacks, etc., needed for the library. Ald. Bradburn offered that our local people should be given an opportunity to tender on this matter. Such in the course being pursued in the case of electrical fixtures, for which Alexander & Miller are tendering through the Macdobald Wilson firm.

The committee will invite local dealers to tender on these book fixtures, tables, etc.

It will be in the neighborhood of eight weeks from date of placing contract before they can be installed.

AN ISOLATION HOSPITAL MATTER.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn, the chairman was authorized to have the sewage cesspool to connect with the isolation hospital located at the west end if possible, if not the chairman to have it constructed at the most advantageous point.

Goderich Stunned by Killing of Anderson Girl

Goderich, Sept. 26.—The foulest and most brutual crime that has ever been perpetrated in this district came to light on Sunday morning just as the people of the town were on their way to church. The dead body of Lizzie Anderson, who had been missing since last Tuesday evening, when she was seen at the fall fair here, was found in a vacant house back of the exhibition grounds with a deep gash in the throat.

A COMPLETE MYSTERY.

The crime so far is a complete mystery. Crown Attorney Seager stated this morning that there was no real evidence to connect any person with the crime. The girl's throat had evidently been cut with an ordinary jack knife. The wound was not wide, but the knife had severed the windpipe and gone right to the bone.

BODY DRAGGED IN CELLAR.

It is believed that the deed was committed outside the house and the body afterwards dragged into the cellar. The body, when found, was entirely nude, except for the shoes and stockings, and part of one glove. The clothes which had been torn off the body was found piled in a heap. There was no blood on the body or on the gravel floor of the cellar, but there was blood on the clothes. The drawers had evidently been cut with a knife.

BELIEVE ITALIANS INNOCENT.

The authorities feel satisfied that the Italians, three or four of whom boarded in another part of the old Lashum Hotel in Salford, where the Andersons live, had nothing to do with the crime.

The Italian foreman, Mamie, says the men were all home early and Wesley Anderson, father of the dead girl, also states that the Italians had nothing to do with the crime.

Mamie, while driving through the Fair grounds on Thursday evening spoke to the girl and she was also seen talking to a young fellow, Fred Jardine, who lives in town.

He is about 20 years of age, but told the police that he went home that night about eight o'clock and knew nothing about the affair. There were several sideshows and attractions at the fair, but nothing has been found to connect anybody connected with them with the crime.

ONE MAN DISAPPEARED.

No one has disappeared from town so far as known except a man named Frank Smith, who came here two weeks ago from Toronto and had been living at a boarding house. He had been despondent and some feared that he might have done injury to himself.

He said he was going to the fair, but nobody seems to have seen him there. The dead girl's only brother, aged 15 years, waited for her till nearly 10 o'clock, and when she did not come out the gate after all the people had gone, he went in again and looked for her, but could find no trace of her. The coroner's jury, of which Charles Nairn, a prominent citizen, is foreman, met this morning, but decided to wait till Detective Greer arrives. They will likely view the house and the body this afternoon and begin the inquest this evening.

A DEMENTED BRAIN.

Dr. Holmes, the coroner, said, "It beats me to find a motive for the murder, and hence I think it is the work of a demented brain."

"In all my 45 years' experience I have held no investigation of such an atrocious crime as this appears to be."

Dr. Gallow was appointed to make the post mortem examination, and Dr. Macklin was appointed to assist him.

"The girl did not go to the house with a stranger," said Crown Attorney Seager. "She was a girl that would repulse a stranger."

ANOTHER POPULAR CLASS.

In First Aid at Young Women's Association.

The importance and usefulness of having a knowledge of first aid work has become so popular, that the Young Women's Association has this year made arrangements for the organization of a class to be under the direction of Dr. Malcolm McCulloch. This class is to be organized at the Young Women's Christian Association this evening (September 27th), at 8.30 o'clock. The class will be organized strictly under the St. John's Ambulance Association regulations, and certificates will be awarded at the end of the six lectures, to the successful members passing the examinations. The full arrangement of the class will be dealt with at the above association at time stated, and it is urged and hoped that a large class will be enrolled. The first lecture will not be given until a week hence, but it is necessary to enroll at the earliest possible moment that all preliminary details may be completed before the first lecture.

There are only six lectures, and attendance at four is necessary to enable one to take the examinations. The class will be followed by the Home Nursing Class, upon completion of the six lectures in First Aid work. Those not able to attend the meeting this evening can send their names to Miss C. B. Morse, or Miss Calla, care Y.W.C.A.

BODY BURIED NEAR SEWER.

Woman's Remains Wrapped in Sheet and Sprinkled With Acid—Another Crippen Case?

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—The body of Miss Eva Swan, 26 years of age, a stenographer, formerly a school teacher of Paso Robles, Cal., was found last night buried in a lot in the rear of a vacant house on Eureka street. The girl had been missing since April 20. From information which came to the police today it is thought that she met her death shortly after that time in the office of a doctor.

Dr. James Grant is in the city prison today and the police are looking for William Sachs, his assistant. Miss Mary Messersmith, a nurse employed by Dr. Grant, is also detained. Neither will make any statement.

Three days ago, Frank Gordon, Dr. Grant's new assistant, informed the police that a body was buried in the yard of the Eureka street house. Detectives last night discovered the body of Miss Swan wrapped in a sheet sprinkled with acid, buried under a cement flooring near a sewer.

The police have sent for a Paso Robles ranchman, who is said to have called for the girl on the day she disappeared.

Miss Rena Shearer of Otonabee, is the guest of Miss Florence Hunter, 548 George street.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than vultures. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got Free New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was money but disappointed. However I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a months time before treatment, now I can earn $30 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

WHERE WOMEN ARE KIND TO HORSES.

The Female Cab Drivers of Paris More Considerate Than Men, and Get the Trade.

Paris, Sept. 24.—Paris suffragettes are taking particular pleasure in the announcement of the Society for the Protection of Animals that it is considering the question of offering a medal to the public coachwomen of Paris who show the greatest kindness to and consideration for their horses. The suffragettes point to this fact as proof that women can meet men on the same plane in many fields of labor which men have occupied exclusively until comparatively recently, and be as successful as men have been. for the argue, if women were not regarded as having established their competency as drivers the society would not now be taking official notice of their existence.

Truly, those who witnessed the trials and sufferings of body and soul endured by the first woman public cab driver in Paris and who saw how she was jeered at and humiliated on all sides by those who should have known better and shown more consideration for a woman who was merely trying to make an honest living, would never have believed it possible that the number of women engaged in such work would have increased to hundreds. Thousands of persons engage cabs driven by women rather than men, for they realize they will escape the unpleasantness of a possible drunken driver, or of one who will use rough language if their "tip" is not sufficiently large, and at the same time receive quite as good service. With the kindness of heart which is innate in woman, these female drivers give their horses far better care than do men drivers.

SENDING SPECIAL INVESTIGATORS

NATIONS ON THE CONTINENT TO ADOPT THE INDUSTRIAL DISPUTE ACT AND OTHERS.

Mr. King Has Received Many Enquiries From Public Men for Information re Working of the Act.

London, Sept. 26.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of Labor for Canada, interviewed at Paris, said that during his stay on the Continent he found that the different countries of Europe are following with close attention Canada's Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. Mr. King has received many enquiries from public men re the working of the Act, and measures drafted along similar lines will be introduced in France and Sweden, Mr. King added that the legislation in Canada to curb trusts had also created considerable interest. One or two ministers having expressed the intention of sending special investigators to Canada to report to their governments on the working of the Canadian law.

ADMITS IDENTITY.

Local Police Arrest a Self-Confessed Philadelphia Embezzler.

Acting on a telgram received Sunday from Philadelphia, that night Chief of Police Thompson arrested Harry M. Neilson, alias Harry Nestor, at a Murray street boarding house. The charge on which the prisoner was arrested was embezzling $2,000, and "jumping" $5 bail at Philadelphia.

On receipt of the telegram Chief Thompson had a search made for the man, whose description was given in the message. Suspicion fell upon a man who has passed under the name of Nestor since coming to Peterborough. He was arrested by two officers at 11 o'clock and lodged in the police cells, where he admitted that he was Neilson and the man wanted in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia authorities were notified at once and an officer arrived from the Quaker city last night to take his prisoner back with him.

Neilson has been in the city for four or five weeks and has been selling real estate in the city. Neilson is about thirty-seven years of age, and speaks with a slight accent.

Local view post cards, all the principal parks, buildings, etc. Only ten cents per dozen. Times Bookstore.

UNLAWFUL COMBINATION.

An Evil That Has Grown to Tremendous Proportions.

Toronto, Sept. 26. — The recent indictment by the U. S. Federal grand jury in Chicago of several prominent meat packers on the count of unlawful combination in restraint of trade should have a salutory effect in suppressing an evil which has grown to tremendous proportions in the United States. Where large amounts of capital are involved in business the human tendency seems to be combination, but as surely as this exists the results are injurious to general business and should be prevented. The law which was passed by the United States Congress, making such combinations unlawful was not hurried through. It was long and fully discussed. The representatives of the people believed that the best interests of the State were being seriously affected by the manipulations of united interests. The prominent packers of Chicago were fully acquainted with the provisions of the law but rather violate them than observe they preferred to openly violate them. Indictment and perhaps imprisonment is the penalty they have to accept.

It is an ill day for any country when a few men controlling millions of money and vast industrial concerns combine to crush out their smaller competitors. America is large enough for all men to make an honest living and those who try to kill others simply by means of united capitalistic forces should be penalized to the full extent of the law.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter

Mr. and Miss Rahill were in Lindsay on Saturday.

NO ATTACHE SENT TO WASHINGTON

AMERICAN SYNDICATE SAYS G. H. GALL HAS ALREADY BEEN APPOINTED.

An Amusing Mistake Made — Gall is Simply to Counteract Campaign of Slander Against the West.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The State Department officials believe that the appointment of a representative of Canada at Washington, to which post George H. Gall has just been appointed will materially expedite negotiations between the Washington and Ottawa governments.

While the State department has not yet been officially advised of Mr. Gall's appointment, the creation of such an office was determined upon with the knowledge of the United States Government.

The title which such a representative will have has not been made known to the department, but he will be a mouthpiece of the Canadian Government, with wide discretion in his intercourse with the State department, but, of course, any such things as treaties can only be signed by the usual diplomatic officers.

The substitution of direct arrangements through a permanent representative here instead of the present roundabout method through the British Embassy is expected to save a great deal of time in the handling of important business.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The announcement made in some United States newspapers today to the effect that one, C. H. Gall, has been appointed "Canadian attache at Washington," is given an official denial in government circles. No such appointment has been made.

The truth is probably that Mr. Gall has arrived in Washington to take up his duties as head of the Publicity Bureau created by the Western governments, board of trade, and real estate men, the objects of which is to counteract the "Don't go to Canada" campaign, which has been so vigorously waged in the United States during the past year.

Mr. Gall's duties will be to get into touch with American newspapers, and give the lie to the slanders upon Canada. It is purely a private business arrangement between Mr. Gall and his western employers, and has no political significanse.

OFFICIALS AND RELIGION.

There has been a great deal of adverse comment on the excessive zeal displayed in extending a welcome to the distinguished prelates who took part in the Eucharistic Congress. There is a feeling that some one has blundered; that Mr. Justice Girouard in conveying the welcome of the people of Canada, blundered in using the word homage; that Speaker Marcil and Mr. Justice Anglin ought not to have worn the robes of office in the procession; and that the presence of the 65th Regiment in fighting trim, was a breach of discipline.

The Ottawa Journal explains that the French word "hommages," used by Mr. Justice Girouard, does not mean quite the same as our word "homage." No excuse has been offered in the other cases. The judicial robes of office are intended to preserve the dignity of the court, and for no other purpose. The Speaker's official garb is a mark of respect to the House of Commons, and to the people of Canada, who are there represented. These uniforms were as much out of place in the demonstration at Montreal as they would have been in an Orange procession. If the precedent is to hold good, some strange results will ensue. The fortunes of war may place the Conservatives in power, and Dr. Sproule in the Speaker's chair. Who could complain if he followed Mr. Marcil's example, and appeared on the 12th of July in the full uniform of the First Commoner of Canada?

It would be better, however, to regard the incident as a warning rather than an example. Public officials in Canada have a right to show their zeal for their religion in any manner that is purely personal, but they have no right to use their insignia of office for any denominational purpose, nor to commit the people of Canada to sentiments which are peculiar to any religious body. Such conduct if persisted in, would show unfitness for public duty; a lack of sense of proportion; a failure to understand the obligations imposed by the holding of public office and trust. Whether the Speaker of the House of Commons, or the judge on the bench, is a Protestant or a Catholic, is a matter of no consequence, so long as he does not use his office or its insignia for any denominational purpose. But agitation for discrimination against Roman Catholics would be the natural result of persistence in the errors that were committed by public officials in connection with the Eucharistic Congress.

OPPOSED TO SUCCESSION DUES.

For over sixty years Goldwin Smith has preached the gospel of laissez-faire. He was a consistent foe of paternalism in government. He was particularly opposed to succession dues. Yet the Whitney government will collect from his estate over $80,000. Fate is so often ironical. Although Dr. Smith was a master of nervous, straight-flung English, and fought with earnestness and enthusiasm, the principal of taxing great estates for the benefit of the many is spreading in spite of him, for at least, paternalism commends itself to the public mind.

Goldwin Smith was a prophet of the Manchester school of economists He hated protection with a deep and abiding hatred. Yet under protection the United States of America has grown to greatness. Under protection Germany has become a powerful empire. Under protection Canada is prosperous and happy. Great Britain's devotion to Cobden and to free trade as an economic policy is wavering. In spite of the life and work of Goldwin Smith the possibility of tariff reform in Great Britain is no longer remote. It seemed as if the great scholar was to stand as a defender of lost causes. His advocacy of Canada's annexation to the United States is another example. But he stood firm. His bequest of $700,000 to Cornell University was made as an example of his devotion to Anglo-Saxon unity. No one begrudges Cornell its good fortune. The gods have been good to that institution since its foundation forty years ago. Its endowment is figured now at nearly $8,000,000.

WOOD IS $10 A CORD.

Famine Prices Rule in Winnipeg—New Railways May Give Relief.

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—The price of wood, like everything else in Winnipeg, at the present day, is soaring heavenward. At present, cut and split, it is $10 a cord, which is the highest for years. Local dealers claim that there is no combine to affect prices, and that the present high figure is due solely to the scarcity of the article. The trouble is laid to the fact that the lumbermen could not get sufficient men last winter, while the snow went off the ground early in the spring, so that the wood could not be got out. An early snow would help matters.

What is wanted in the case is the opening of the National Transcontinental to the east and the operation of the line by the Grand Trunk Pacific. There are, it is claimed, thousands of cords of wood, hundreds of thousands, some people say, available right at the tracks of the National Transcontinental. In two weeks time the Winnipeg market would be glutted, and prices would go down with a bang, if enough freight trains could be operated to get the deal in. Whether this service can be given this fall and the public relieved of the necessity of paying through the nose for all fuel of this kind cannot at present be ascertained.

The many friends of Miss Noble, will be pleased to learn of her return to the city to reside. Miss Noble returns to take charge of Elliott's new millinery department.

The Canadian freighter "Coruna," which was damaged through a collision with the barge Smeaton in Lake St. Clair last week, is the boat on which Mr. Jack Laing, of this city is purser. The Coruna narrowly escaped sinking, as when she reached her port she had settled so far, that the ten foot hole, torn in her port bow side was but a few inches above water.

Another Local Hockeyist Gone.

Peterborough's Junior O. H. A. team seems to be getting weaker by loss of some of its best blood. First, Burritt of the Strathcona, leaves, then Ken Crane and, now, yesterday Fred Denison has gone to resume his studies at Trinity College School, Port Hope. Mr. Denison made a most capable captain of the Collegiate Institute O.H.A. team last winter. It looks as though the Juniors will have to get out and hustle after some fresh blood to replace that gone.

About one hundred and sixty will be present all told.

KING GEORGE LOVES THE IRISH

Will Spend Busy Week Among Them After Coronation Next Year.

London, Sept. 26.—King George George seems determined to win the love of his Irish subjects. There have been various rumors as to the King's attitude towards Home Rule, but he has never expressed himself publicly on the question. He has made it known, however, that immediately after the coronation next year he will, at the end of the London season, pay an official State visit to Ireland, accompanied by the Queen, the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary.

This visit is expected to extend over a week, and a round of festivities will take place at Dublin Castle, including a court, a State ball, a levee, and probably a review of the troops in Phoenix Park. It is too early yet, of course, for any definite arrangements to be made, but the King has discussed the matter in an informal matter with those about him, and he is said to be looking forward to a visit to the sister isle with keen anticipation.

The King has a considerable acquaintance in Ireland, and has many pleasant recollections of his visit. It is to be hoped that he may be able to find time to visit Belfast and one or two other towns before he re-embarks upon his royal yacht, but how far this will be possible, remains to be seen.

NEARLY BOUGHT RESIDENCE.

It is not generally known that King George almost purchased a residence in the north of Ireland a few years ago, and the true story why he did not do so has never been previously told. The residence in question was one that particularly appealed to him. The estate was extensive and possessed excellent fishing and shooting rights, while the scenery in the neighborhood was among the most picturesque it would be possible to imagine. Both the Prince and Princess of Wales (as their majesties then were) fell in love with the place and negotiations for its purchase were well under way when the matter came to the ears of the leaders of the Irish party. A protest was at once entered with the prime minister of the day, and a significant hint was given that if the heir-apparent took up his residence in Ireland, matters would be made pretty awkward for the government in the House of Commons. The premier was consequently in somewhat of a dilemma, and sought an audience of the late King.

King Edward listened to what his chief political adviser had to say, and then consulted the Prince of Wales, and pointed out the objections that had been raised and the awkward position in which the viceroy would be placed every time the Prince or Princess appeared in Dublin. King Edward further added reasons of his own for opposing this plan, chiefly on account of the distance from London that his heir would be when residing upon his Irish estate. King George at last agreed to forego his project, and to accept Frogmore as his country home.

The King, however, is by no means the only member of the royal family who has a desire to own a house in Ireland, since the Duke of Connaught had a similar idea several years ago, while the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale also expressed a desire on more than one occasion to reside in Ireland for a portion of the year.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE VILE MURDER OF 17-YEAR-OLD LIZZIE ANDERSON

To Stop Locomotives Whistling in Town

The Legal Committee will Recommend That a By-law to This Effect be Passed by the Council

The Legal Committee of the city met last night. Alderman Duffus in the chair. There were also present: Aldermen Buller and Gillespie, and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall.

Tenants of Fleming Terrace complained of the whistling of trains on the Grand Trunk, and asked that something be done to abate this nuisance.

Ald. Duffus moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie,—That a bylaw be prepared to prohibit locomotives frrom whistling within the city limits. —Carried.

Mrs. Warner, a widow, entirely dependent on her own exertions for a livelihood, and who had tripped over a loose plank on the sidewalk on Smith street, August 14th last, sustaining injuries to her side and one limb, is asking the city to pay her medical expenses and grant her such aid as will support her until she is sufficiently recovered to resume her work.

The city solicitor—"I went over that sidewalk last Sunday, and it's simply rotten; at one spot boards are out for a distance of ten feet."

The committee will arrange for Mrs. Warner, getting the assistance asked for.

A petition from Mr. F. R. J. Mitchell and others complaining of a nuisance from the smoke stack of a saw mill on Donegal street was not acted upon. The solicitor advises that the city is powerless in this matter.

GET MARRIED OR ELSE RETURN HOME

SUCH WERE THE ALTERNATIVES ETHEL THOMAS OF LONDON, ENG., HAD TO FACE.

She Chose the First—Joined Hands With Western Lover, While Another Lover Went Back Home.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—A strenuous Atlantic romance ended in the marriage of young and pretty Ethel Gertrude Thomas, of London, England, and George Stuart Richards of Winnipeg. The attractive young English girl, who came to Canada on the last trip of the Allan liner Sardinian, was detained three days by the immigration department in this city to await possible deportation—and all because of a love born on the ocean, which would cast off the old and on with the new. It was the Winnipeg man who complained. He had been nearly stung by a gallant young journalist Victor Turner, of London.

The first love grew up between Richards and Miss Thomas until she finally agreed to come to Canada to wed him. Cupid, however, stepped in, on the way across the Atlantic, and badly upset plans.

Miss Thomas made a profound impression upon the heart of a young Englishman, Mr. Victor Turner, who was also travelling to Canada. When they landed she had consented to throw up the gentleman in Winnipeg and join her fortunes with those of her later love. She therefore sought employment in Montreal, and she was comfortably settled here when young man No. 1 heard of it. Young man No. 2 also stayed here having found employment as reporter on the Montreal Gazette.

Mr. Richards, who had come from Winnipeg, to meet his bride-to-be at once laid information with the immigration authorities. The immigration authorities took charge of Miss Thomas and asked her to decide whether she would marry Richards or go back to England at the cost of the immigration department. She decided to marry her Winnipeg lover. Rev. Dr. Gordon of the First Baptist church, was called in, and a pretty little wedding ceremony, with out, however, the usual ringing of bells, took place on the spot, some of the officials attached to the Immigration Bureau, serving in lieu of bridesmaids, best man, and witnesses all at the same time.

And Mr. Victor Turner now has a story to write which the morning newspaper will probably miss because its city editor unfeelingly accepted Victor's resignation on Saturday.

WHOLE CORPS UNDER ARREST

WEST POINT STARTLED THE UNITED STATES BY SENDING AN OFFICER TO COVENTRY.

May Court-Martial All — But That Would Disgrace the Whole Country—A Perplexing Situation.

West Point, N.Y., Sept. 26.—With the entire cadet corps of the United States Military Academy under close arrest for administering the "silent" affront to Capt. Rufus E. Longan, instructor in tactics, a military board of inquiry is today investigating the mystery surrounding the cadets' action.

No report of the finding of the board will be made public until the return to West Point of Major-General Thomas H. Barry, the new superintendent of the academy, who is expected tomorrow. Lieut.-Col. Frederick W. Sibley, commandant of cadets, who is in charge during Gen. Barry's absence, declared today he would keep the corps under arrest until the findings of the board had been delivered to him and then passed upon by General Barry.

Col. Sibley declined to admit or deny that the military authorities at the academy had discovered the cause of the cadets' banishment toward Capt. Longan. It is expected, however, that the cadets are sticking to their original statement that they had "formed a dislike for this officer," and had gone no further in disclosing their real reason.

Until the board of inquiry discloses its findings and General Barry prescribes the punishment to be meted out, the cadets will remain under arrest in quarters.

KNIVES AND FORKS DROPPED.

The cadets marched into the mess hall Saturday night and took their accustomed places. Discipline is lax in the dining room, though the etiquette is severe. The cadets were laughing and talking until Captain Longan, as the officer of the day, entered the hall. Instantly knives and forks were dropped, and the hum of conversation ceased. Cadets sat as silent as wooden Indians, with arms folded, and refused either to speak or to eat.

Part Street Harvest Festival.

The)Park street Baptist church harvest home concert and supper was an fminent success. Rev. Mr. Riddiford very effectively filled the position of chairman. Mr. Riddiford made a short but interesting address as an introduction to the program. Mr. D. Gibb sang a song which was much appreciated. Rev. Mr. Trumpour, rector of All Saints' church, was then called on to address the audience and he did so in a manner which won the appreciation and applause of all present. After Fire Chief Howard had made a short address, replete with good wishes, Mr. A. Lee gave a solo. This was followed by an excellent address by Rev. J. R. Bonner. Rev. J.R. Webb, also gave an instructive speech. Messrs. L. Barrett and Barnes also contributed to the evening's entertainment by musical selections.

Goderich Citizens Heard Screams of Murdered Girl in Dead of Night

IMPRESSIVE "UNSOLVED" LIST

Another shocking murder has ben added to the disgraceful record of violent crimes in this Province.

It is a long list of unsolved mysteries that includes such well-remembered names as Barton Township, Glory Whalen and Ethel Kinrade.

The record is already sufficiently impressive for those who respect the law but are losing faith in its potency as an agency for the protection of human life in Ontario.

SCREAMS OF GIRL IN NIGHT TWICE HEARD NEAR THE SCENE OF THE MURDER.

No Blood Found on the Cellar Floor—Murder May Have Had Light—Authorities Working Hard on the Case, But are Still in the Dark.

Goderich, Sept. 27.—The mystery surrounding the vile murder of 17-year-old Lizzie Anderson, one week ago tonight, remains as dark as ever The authorities wh le they have some slight suspicions, have absolutely nothing to help them unravel the case. There is the most intense interest all over this district in the effort of the police to bring to justice the vicious inhuman brute, who perpetrated the crime. It is the sole subject of discussion on the street and in the stores and there is constant speculation as to whether it was the work of a man living in the town or district or a stranger, whether more than one man is involved in the crime and whether the girl was actually killed in the cellar or not.

NO STAINS ON CLOTHES.

Two men, who were known to have spoken to the girl that day at the Fair grounds, named Spatore, the Italian foreman, living in the old hotel where the Andersons live, and Ed. Cardine, who lives near the house wheard the crime was committed, were both examined and the clothes which they had worn at the fair that day were found to show absolutely no signs of blood stains. The girl was one who would make a hard struggle, and it seems impossible that the perpetrators of the deed could have avoided the staining of their clothes with blood. There was a report last night that the body of a man had been found at Port Albert, nine miles north of here, and it was thought that this might be Frank Smith, who disappeared so suddenly the night of the crime, but this morning it was found that no body had been found at all.

It was learned this morning that Frank Smith got $3.00 from the Salvation Army to come up here to work at the organ factory some three weeks ago.

CRIME COMMITTED OUTSIDE?

The committing of the crime in the cellar of the vacant house is a mystery itself. The body was found some distance from the door and, although it was a bright moonlight night, that part of the cellar must have been quite dark. The murderer cut the girl:s throat, however in such a way that showed that he could plainly see what he was doing. It was not a wide gash, but a deep cut right through the throat itself. This would seem to indicate that the crime was committed outside or at the door, but this could scarcely have been the case, for while there was an immense clot of blood near the body, there was not the least sign of any dripping of blood on the stone floor from the doorway over to that part of the cellar where the body was found, and the blood dripping would have shown very plainly on the stone floor. This suggests that the murderer or murderers had a light of some kind. This does not seem probable, but if it were so, it would show that the crime was all the more deliberate and premeditated.

INTERVIEW THE CONSTABLES.

Detective Greer and Chief Postelthwaite drove out into the country this morning to interview some of the special constables who were on duty at the fair grounds on the day of the murder. They want to know if they saw the girl or anybody with her, or any of the parties whose names have been mentioned in connection with the affair. The last that was seen of the dead girl was about 9.30 or 10 o'clock on the night of the murder.

Not a minute should be lost when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

BIG RETURNS SURE,

What Seems to Be a Safe and Lucrative Mining Investment.

In another column of this issue appears the advertisement of the Black Hills Anaconda Mining and Milling Co., of South Dakota. To a man contemplating investing in mining stocks these days there are three main points to study, viz., (1) Where and what the mine is? (2) Whom are the directors and officers of the mine, and (3), and most important. What are the products and assured prospects of that mine from the stockholder's point of view? Now the Black Hills Anaconda Mining Co. has a proven mine located in the richest mining district of America: The directors and officers of this mine are all citizens of State and national reputation, as can be assured by corresponding with Messrs. Donaldson & Co., 84 Adams street, Chicago, Ills. The third and most important item for consideration is answered by the fact that the company's mine has well developed veins of free milling gold throughout the whole length of their property. The prospects of stock holders can easily be imagined from the foregoing information. The most important point is to secure stock whilst possible at 25 cents per share.

Issues in the Fight as Put by Ex-President

Saratoga, N.Y., Sept. 27.—Stirred by the action of the Republican State Committee, which last night resolved by a vote of 22 to 15 that no deceit or fraud had been practised in the selection of Mr. Sherman as temporary presiding officer of today's convention, Col. Roosevelt early today authorized the following statement:

"The conduct of a majority of the State Committee last evening put into the clearest light what this contest really is. The statements of Messrs. Grimsom, Krulewitch, Wanamaker, Kracke and Henkel, prove conclusively the trickery that was used in the effort to win a majority and keep the management of the party under the control of the men who have discredited it by their actions.

"There has never born a State convention to which it was better worth going than to this; for never in another has the issue been so clearly drawn between cleanliness and honesty in public life, and that peculiar baseness in political management which has made the very word politician obnoxious to the people.

"Our fight is squarely against corruption and the unclean bossism which has bred corruptian. The men who by trickery kept control of the State Committee, and who now come here in the effort to dominate the convention, are the very men who are responsible for the corruption which produced Alids, and for all that has been discreditable in the party management; and now these deeply discredited bosses resent the effort of the people; the effort of the plain people who make up the great bulk of the Republican party is to rescue that party from the factions which have used it only to further their own base and selfish purposes."

The Prelates will Not Sit with Col. Roosevelt

Chicago, Sept. 27.—As the result of Theodore Roosevelt's embroglio with the vatican during his visit in Rome last spring, three Catholic prelates—an archbishp and two bishops—have refused to sit at the table with the former president when he is guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Knights of Columbus, in Peoria, October 2.

More than two hundred priests of the church, it is said, also will find it convenient not to attend the banquet for the same reason.

The incident at Rome is somewhat paralleled in Peoria. The colonel finds himself in the bad graces of the Methodists because he had refused to attend their ceremonies incidental to the laying of the corner stone of a deaconess home.

THIRTY LASHES AND SEVEN YEARS IN THE "PEN."

In these columns a short time ago a brief and guarded report was given of the arrest of Samuel Oliver, charged with incest. The details of his crime are unfit for publication, it is sufficient to say that this parody on humanity was yesterday tried before County Magistrate Edmison and found guilty. The evidence clearly and fully convicted the prisoner. His worship in soothing terms, denounced Oliver's crime, and sentenced him to seven years' imprisonment with hard labor in Kingston Penitentiary. The sentence included, what mathematicans would call a "rider," viz., that the convicted man will get 30 lashes of the cat-of-nine-tails. He well deserves the sentence.

HANDSOME SURPLUS.

Peterborough Fall Fair Directors Wind Up the Year's Business.

Now that the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is over, and proved an unqualified success, the directors have met to compare notes and lay plans for next year's fall fair in Peterborough. At the meeting of the directors nearly all the members were present, with President R. H. Leary in the chair. Accounts were passed and cheques for the same will be issued immediately.

It was decided to hold the fair next year on the same days as it was held this year, and the question of holding it for a longer period was discussed. This, however, was left over for further consideration. In any event, however, the fair will be held next year at the end of the week following the Toronto Exhibition. The Board of Trade will be asked to co-operate in the matter of buying the Exhibition grounds.

A vote of thanks was passed to Hon. J. R. Stratton for bringing his string of thoroughbred horses to the Fair. Mr. H. E. Conway was also thanked for his work in checking over the gate and grand stand receipts.

The total receipts amounted to about $5,600, leaving a handsome balance.

MURDER VERDICT AGAINST CRIPPEN

CORONER'S JURY RETURNED ONE AGAINST THE DOCTOR YESTERDAY.

Favorable Summing Up.—The Coroner Dwelt on All the Points Favorable to the Accused.

London, Sept. 26.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the alleged murder of Belle Elmore, the actress, today returned a verdict declaring that Mrs. Crippen came to her death at the hands of her husband, Dr. H. H. Crippen, the American doctor-dentist.

The jury fixed the degree of the crime as murder.

The jury, which retired at 4.40, reached its verdict, desuite a summing up by Coroner Schroeder that was unusually favorable to the accused. Schroder reminded the jury that the evidence as to the identity and sex of the body supposed to be that of Mrs. Crippen was not at all conclusive, and that no satisfactory evidence had been given to show even the cause of death.

He reviewed Dr. Pepper's testimony that he was unable to determine the sex of the body, and that of Dr. Wilcox who declared he found hyoscin in the body.

FLIGHT TO CANADA.

"It does not follow," Schroeder said, "that because Crippen lied regarding his wife's death and fled to Canada, that he killed her. Nor must we consider Miss Leneve's connection with the case after her flight."

The action of the jury occasioned no surprise.

No evidence beyond that given at the Bow street police court was produced at the resumed enquiry today. The police made the announcement that they had nothing further to submit.

William Long, who was formerly connected with the accused, and who purchased the boy's suit which Miss Lenevre wore when arrested on board the steamer Montrose, off Quebec, was asked by the coroner whether he had ever bought lime. He answered in the negative.

The chemist from whom Dr. Crippen purchased hyoscin, traces of which compound Dr. William H. Wilcox, the scientific analyst of the Home Office, previously testified he had found in the buried mass of flesh said that the order for the medicine was given several days before the drug was taken away. He also declared that Crippen never previously had purchased hyoscin at his pharmacy.

Fixed Assessment for Peterboro' Lock Co.

$25,000 the Amount, and Ten Years the Term ---Such will be Recommended to the Council by its Mfg. Committee

The Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council met last night. There were present, Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Gillespie, Aldermen Duffus and Bradburn.

B. F. Ackerman & Sons, submitted a blue print of the proposed C.P.R. siding to their factory showing where they need to cross Dalhousie street. They asked that the plans be approved and submitted to the Railway Commissioners at an early date. The usual legal course will be taken in this matter at once.

The Committee took up the question of the Peterborough Lock Company's fixed assessment applied for.

Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. Fortye were present in the interests of the company. The former gentleman explained that the company will this year, with improvements already added to the factory and in progress, invest $40,000 in expanding their operations. Considerable more capital will also be expended next spring in improving and readjusting the plant. This year the company has engaged between 40 and 50 additional hands, and hope to further increase their staff early in 1911 by another forty mechanics. Their yearly pay roll now amounts to some $90,000. The hon. gentleman estimated that the Lock Company with a reasonable fixed assessment to warrant their continued expansion in Peterborough, and a much needed rearrangement of the plant, will shortly be in a position to treble their output..

This company's assessment is $25,840, including adjoining buildings, which Mr. Reesor will in the near future vacate for new premises of his own.

The committee felt it their duty to foster desirable local industries, and especially one like the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company, a large and old established institution here, and one in keen competition with the States, and with Canadian lock industries enjoying assessment privileges. They therefore decided to recommend that council fix the assessment of the Peterborough manufacturing company at $25,000 for a period of ten years.

AN IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE DEAL.

The Times had it yesterday in seemingly good authority that Messrs. Coleman Bros., the George St. confectioners, have purchased that block on the north-west corner of George and Brock streets, including the premises occupied for many years by Messrs. Craig & Mooney, and later on by Mr. J. D. Craig. It is understood that the purchase also includes the store now occupied by Mr. T. H. Redner, the look expert. We understand that Messrs. Coleman Bros. intend to occupy the corner store for their retail confectionery business, and the remainder of the building as a high grade bakery.

Messrs. Coleman Bros. are among those in the front rank of Englishmen who arrive in Canada, with a limited capital, but by perseverance, industry, honesty and ability "make good." Messrs. Coleman Bros. in their present stand, have "put up the goods," and worked up a trade that in the few years that they have been in Peterborough enables them to purchase one of the best business sites in this city.

A Pretty Ennismore Wedding.

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Martin's church, Ennismore, on Sept. 20th, when Miss M. Lorretto Young became the bride of Mr. J. H. Crowe. The organ sent forth the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march under the skilful playing of Mrs. Flood, who was assisted on the violin. The bride was attired in satin presto with a handsome panel of ecru guipure lace and gracefully folded bodice caught with a buckle of own material. She wore a veil of the Marie Antoinette type, and wreath of lily-of-the-valley, and carried a bouquet of cypsophilas. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Agnes Young. Mr. S. Moher of Ottawa, acted as best man. The young couple on returning from an extended honeymoon, will settle on Elmvale Farm, Ennismore.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28, 1910.

THE MIGHTY ARE TUMBLING.

Marked encouragement is being given in the United States to the movement for celebrating the hundred years of peace. James L. Tryon assistant secretary of the International Peace Society, has received many letters from public men approving of the project. Professor Hart, of Harvard University, says that no two nations in the world have ever harmonized so many apparently insoluble difficulties by arbitration or by mutual concessions and agreements than have Great Britain and the United States. The recent decision of The Hague Tribunal gives emphasis to this statement. Another correspondent says that to arrange on the eve of the third Hague Conference an impressive celebration of this historical event is a splendid idea, because it will carry the lesson that peace between all of the other nations could be safeguarded in exactly the same manner.

The Ottawa Journal urges that the celebration should be taken up in Canada with enthusiasm. It is doubtful whether the magnitude of the opportunity has been as yet recognized. War has many monuments, and to add to the number is merely to follow the beaten path of tradition. But an adequate celebration of the hundred years of peace would mark the beginning of a new era in civilization. It would afford to Canada a unique opportunity of drawing attention to the real lessons of Canadian history, and the real sources of the strength and prosperity of the country. It would enable both countries to draw attention to an example that would promote the cause of world-wide peace.

Canada is in a position to play a really great part in this celebration. Canada represents the British Empire on this continent, while she has close relations of neighborhood, trade, language, and social intercourse with the United States. British relations with the United States have reference almost entirely to Canada. Interest in the coming celebration will, therefore, center largely upon this country. The event will be one of world-wide importance, and the celebration ought to be worthy of the event. It is not too soon to make necessary preparation and to co-operate heartily with those who are engaged in the work in the United States.

OFFICIALS AND RELIGION.

There has been a great deal of adverse comment on the excessive zeal displayed in extending a welcome to the distinguished prelates who took part in the Eucharistic Congress. There is a feeling that some one has blundered; that Mr. Justice Girouard in conveying the welcome of the people of Canada, blundered in using the word homage; that Speaker Marcil and Mr. Justice Anglin ought not to have worn the robes of office in the procession: and that the presence of the 65th Regiment in fighting trim, was a breach of discipline.

The Ottawa Journal explains that the French word "hommages," used by Mr. Justice Girouard, does not mean quite the same as our word "homage." No excuse has been offered in the other cases. The judicial robes of office are intended to preserve the dignity of the court, and for no other purpose. The Speaker's official garb is a mark of respect to the House of Commons, and to the people of Canada, who are there represented. These uniforms were as much out of place in the demonstration at Montreal as they would have been in an Orange procession. If the precedent is to hold good, some strange results will ensue. The fortunes of war may place the Conservatives in power, and Dr. Sproule in the Speaker's chair. Who could complain if he followed Mr. Marcil's example, and appeared on the 12th of July in the full uniform of the First Commoner of Canada?

It would be better, however, to regard the incident as a warning rather than an example. Public officials in Canada have a right to show their zeal for their religion in any manner that is purely personal, but they have no right to use their insignia of office for any denominational purpose, nor to commit the people of Canada to sentiments which are peculiar to any religious body. Such conduct if persisted in, would show unfitness for public duty; a lack of sense of proportion; a failure to understand the obligations imposed by the holding of public office and trust. Whether the Speaker of the House of Commons, or the Judge on the bench, is a Protestant or a Catholic, is a matter of no consequence, so long as he does not use his office or its insignia for any denominational purpose. But agitation for discrimination against Roman Catholics would be the natural result of perdistence in the errors that were committed by public officials in connection with the Eucharistic Congress.

GAVE MASSAGE TREATMENT.

Lindsay, Sept. 22.—Prof. John L. West was this morning charged with practising medicine without a license and judgment was reserved by Police Magistrate Jackson. Mr. P. Rose, of Toronto, appeared for the Ontario Medical Council. Prof. West who is a physical instructor, claims he was simply giving a patient massage treatment.

Mrs. Geenway, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hickey, Ashburnham, has returned to Port Dalhousie, where she will join her husband for a trip down the St. Lawrence to Montreal.

186 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HAMB OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently moved its 30th rig, and Purity Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of Mid Producing Companies, such as Oil Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Consol. Coast Crude Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY PROPERTY. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's next well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Gould, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, permits advice our test, and get confidential OIL MAN and the standard opinion of the property. He is considered the premier VENTURA CO. OIL operator in the stream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL runs 36 to a barrel as well. Costs from 3c to 4c to produce it. THE GREAT HEMME OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. The GREAT SUNSET had a small beginning in the WILD ROSE, CYMRIC, which gushed 30 BARRELS OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The rapid filling of PAN HANDLE'S TANK SURPLUS. The 3 companies in California are eating for the oil. The farmers with property here are dissatisfied. The OHIO FIELDS FOR DEVELOPMENT have fallen off 50-60-70 per cent. The demand is increasing. Automobiles answer our question. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Western operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive deposits. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor stock offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase—over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Barbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Randall, M.E.; T. P. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

A Trip to Canada.

The London Teachers' Association, with a membership of 16,500, arranged for a trip to Canada during the summer vacation this year. The party visited Quebec, Montreal, McDonald College, St. Annes de Bellevue, Ottawa, Algonquin National Park, Muskoka Lakes, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and returned through the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence Rapids to Montreal. In the September number of the "London Teacher" an account of the trip is given, and it shows how thoroughly the party enjoyed their trip. The originator, Mr. Thos. Gautrey, has written to the European Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk System through whom the trip was arranged expressing gratification at the admirable way in which all the arrangements were carried out and intimating that the party was most enthusiastic, and that the trip, which covered the most attractive portions of Quebec and Ontario, will certainly be repeated next year.

Another distinguished visitor who is coming to view the cataract is Mohammed Jamalul Kiram, Sultan of Sulu, and the Dalie Dianag Lord of Dulman, who will arrive here on Sunday, Sept. 25.

FRESHMEN WON IN TANK FIGHT.

One Student Dying and Over a Score Injured as Result of Lively Melee.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 24.—C. C. Gillian, of Kendallville, Ind., is dying, and more than a score of other students at Perdue University are seriously injured, and in hospital today as the result of the annual tank fight which took place last night.

One thousand members of the freshman and sophoomore classes took part in the scrap, and after an hour the freshmen had the second year men defeated and bound with chains. Then they took them to the Athletic field, where the vanquished were painted many colors and forced to go through all the antics that the fertile brains of the students could evolve.

This is the first time in seventeen years that the freshmen have won the contest.

NEW OFFICES.

In keeping with the railway itself and all that pertains to it the new city offices just opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific in Granville Street, Vancouver, is new, smart and altogether attractive. The counters, desks and every bit of furniture and all the fixtures are new and of the latest type. The large room is divided into three sections—in front, the passenger office; in the center, the freight office; and at the rear the Canadian Express office. The woodwork is of quartered oak, handsomely finished tured, appropriately framed, showing the wonderful new scenery along this newest transcontinental line.

Jokes Result From Times' Report.

Yesterday a couple of local jokers got busy after they had read in The Morning Times that Mr. Dave Porter, George street, owned property on which lignite coal had been found. The telephone in Mr. Porter's store rang constantly as speakers at the other ends placed orders for unlimited numbers of tons of coal. Some would enquire as to price and quality. Others would have pertinent and impertinent questions to ask. Mr. Porter, however, took the enquiries with equable mood, in the knowledge that, later on, such questions may mean business.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Last night the St. John's Ambulance class at the Y.W.C.A. rooms was organized under very promising conditions for the future.

Chief Howard, known generally as an efficient fire fighter, at the Park street Baptist church harvest festival, demonstrated his ability as an orator and extemporaneous speaker.

The fire brigade at 8.10 yesterday morning responded with their proverbial alacrity to an alarm of fire. The blaze was at the Peterborough Mattress Co., next Hunter street bridge. Little damage was done, the Babcocks extinguishing the flames.

Few tears will be shed by those hearing the evidence in the case against Sam Oliver, who was yesterday sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary and thirty lashes. If the sentence erred in any respect, it was in not giving him thirteen hundred lashes and a hundred years in jail.

LITTLE HOPE OF EVER SOLVING THE GODERICH MURDER--STUNNED BY BLOW

M'NULTY TOLD HER TO KILL CHILD

"I WOULD NOT HAVE DONE IT IF HE HAD NOT INSTRUCTED ME TO."

Mary Dolan's Evidence—Witness Again Broke Down When on Stand in Murder Charge Against Thomas McNulty.

Barrie, Sept. 28.—Following upon the conviction of Mary Dolan for the murder of her child, she was called to the stand this morning when Thomas McNulty was placed on trial for complicity in the crime.

In reply to questions put by, Mr. G. T. Blackstock, the witness told of her relations with the prisoner covering the many months she stayed at home until last October when she went to Orillia, there to meet McNulty. Acting on his advice she went to Toronto about the end of October.

SHE WAS AFRAID.

"You did not get rid of the child there?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"No; I was afraid." Following her return her mother came to know of her condition and then she went to Orillia, where McNulty secreted her in a hay loft for several weeks, providing her in the meantime with meals. "McNulty told me several times that he was sorry to see me there, but he could not stay there himself; it was too cold."

The latter part of February she again went to Toronto, where her child was born on March 10, a male child. McNulty paid her expenses during this trip.

PRODUCED HIS LETTERS.

Mr. Blackstock produced a bundle of letters which Miss Dolan identified as from McNulty at various times. Miss Dolan went on to say that she had written to McNulty asking him to provide money to place the child in a home. "McNulty wrote back telling me to take a car out to Sunnyside," said Miss Dolan, "and to leave it there. I told him I could not do this, that I was afraid some one might see me do it. He, therefore, wrote again, enclosing five dollars, telling me to take the child and when between Hawkestone and Orillia to strangle it. I telephoned to him from Toronto to the Grand Central in Orillia, telling him that I was returning the next day. The following day I left Toronto on the 1 o'clock train, and got out at Hawkestone. I commenced the walk toward Orillia."

WITNESS BREAKS DOWN.

When the witness came to the point where she had strangled her infant she broke down completely. Medical attendance was necessary before she could proceed.

After she had committed the crime Miss Dolan went on to Orillia where she communicated with McNulty. She asked him to meet her and a meeting was finally arranged. "I met him on the railroad track," said Miss Dolan.

HE KISSED HER.

"McNulty said that he was glad to see her and kissed her. She told him that the baby was in the suit case, and he told her to tie a stone to the handle so that it would sink and throw it into the Narrows. She followed his instructions.

"When we met again he asked me if I had done as he had told me, and I said yes. He told me that if it was ever discovered not to say anything about him, because nothing could be done to him for the reason that he had never seen the child."

SHE WAS BROKEN HEARTED.

"Did he ask you how you were feeling?" asked Mr Blackstock.

"Yes; and I told him that I was broken-hearted. He told me not to worry, for there was no good in doing that.

When the infant was found McNulty again warned her against doing anything that might direct suspicion toward them.

"Why did you do away with this baby as you have told us?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Because I could not take it home, and because McNulty had told me to do so."

"Had you ever thought of doing that before?"

"No."

"Would you have done it if you had not been instructed to do so by McNulty?"

"No."

WROTE ANONYMOUS LETTER.

Mr. Blackstock produced a letter, written anonymously by Miss Dolan to Mrs. Lavois, the woman in Toronto with whom the former lived when the baby was born. Miss Dolan explained that she had written this letter indicating that the baby was with an aunt of hers in Chicago who has no children, at the instance of McNulty, who sought thus to direct suspicion in other channels.

Some discussion then arose between Judge Britton and Mr. Blackstock respecting the letters from McNulty to Miss Dolan that should be admitted in evidence, and these, as a result, were greatly narrowed down.

"I ALWAYS LOVED YOU."

One of July 25th, 1910, was then read, in which McNulty said, "I always loved you and I always will. I will never give up as long as you use me on the square." On August 23rd, 1909, he wrote that he was as true to her as God was in his heaven. Again he wrote that he was tired of the set in his neighborhood, that he only wanted to go with Miss Dolan, and that, so restless had he become, that he frequently felt like getting out."

FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING BABE

MARY DOLAN CONVICTED OF DROWNING HER CHILD IN THE NARROWS, ORILLIA.

McNulty Now on Trial—Evidence Put in of Cruel Treatment — Has Wanted Girl to Shield Him.

Barrie, Sept. 28. — Mary Dolan was yesterday found guilty of the murder of her child by drowning at the Narrows, Orillia, and Thomas McNulty, keeper of a poolroom at Orillia, a married man with two children is now being tried as an accessory.

Placed in the witness box by her counsel, Mr. T. C. Robinette, K.C., Mary Doland told a pitiful story. She told of the birth of a former child, of which McNulty was the father. It had been left in Buffalo.

The child she drowned had been born in Toronto. She then returned with it to Orillia. McNulty told her to strangle it and put a stone in with the body. She had followed his instructions, being afraid of him.

Last fall before the birth of the dead child, from about the 17th day of October until about Feb. 8, McNultykept her locked up in a barn at the rear of his pool room. The snow blew in the wide cracks and her only covering was a horse blanket. She had only the food McNulty gave her, and this was very little. No warm meals ever came her way. She admitted being under the influence of McNulty, and obeying his every command and suggestion. She had to stay in the barn, because being in a delicate condition she had nomoney and did not want to go with friends.

Policeman Wright of Orillia, fainted in the box while giving his evidence.

In addressing the jury Mr. Robinette laid great stress upon the absolute dominance of McNulty over the girl. It was the impulse of the moment, when her brain weakened by long months of pain by day and sleepless nights, suddenly gave way and she committed the crime of which she was instantly sorry. He urged the frankness of the girl's confession as evidence of her remorse.

BUNCOED OUT OF $900 IN GOLD CASH

SALOONKEEPER INDUCED TO GO TO "BANK" TO CHANGE ROLL FOR NEW $1 BILLS.

Got Sealed Packages—When He Opened Them Later He Found That They Contained Nothing But Paper.

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.— Dominick Seavocki, a Polish saloonkeeper, from Gilberton, Schuylkill County, was buncoed out of $900 by an old scheme, worked in a new and clever way here, according to a police report today. Seavocki came here to collect a bill of $300 which was owed to him by a fellow countryman in this city. He collected the money which, together with $600 he already had with him, made a roll composed chiefly of old and dirty $20 bills.

An acquaintance suggested that he go to a bank and get the money changed into new $1 bills to take home with him. Seavocki thought well of the suggestion, and accompanied by his acquaintance, he went yesterday to a prominent trust company that is housed in an impressive looking building on Broad street.

WANTED NEW BILLS.

At the door they were met by a stranger who asked Seavocki what he could do for him.

The saloonkeeper said he wished 900 $1 bills.

"Certainly," said the stranger, "just sit down and I will bring them to you."

A few minutes later, according to the story told to the chief of police, the man returned with three neatly wrapped packages, covered with red seals.

PACKAGES CONTAINED PAPERS

Seavocki put the packages in a grip and never suspected that he did not have $900 until running out of change he opened one of the packages to get money, with which to pay for his supper.

Horrified to find that it contained nothing but paper, he hastened back to the trust company to report that a mistake had been made, but the bank had closed. He was looking for the banker, when a sympathetic tic onlooker directed him to the detective bureau.

SCOUT MASTER LEAVING.

Mr. Oscar Waring Gets Good Position at Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Oscar Waring, the capable scout-master of the Peterborough Boy Scouts, we are sorry to say, will soon sever his connection with the local Boy Scouts. He will soon leave to accept a lucrative position with the "Great Western Supply Co., at Louisville, Ky. Mr. Waring, who has been in full care and command of the local Boy Scouts, has made good, both by his powers of organization and personality. He started with a command of four Peterborough boys and has now worked up the local command to that proud position, that when General Baden-Powell, reviewed the Boy Scouts of Canada, at the Totonto Exhibition., the general, specially signalized the good work done by the Peterborough corps, by calling special attention to them. The people of Peterborough, whilst regretting the loss of Mr. Waring will commend him to the people of Louisville, Ky., and trust he will make a similar success there.

DID NOT ATTEMPT TO SHOOT JACK JOHNSON.

Revolver Shot Outside Theater Was Due to Weapon Falling Accidentally.

Boston, Sept. 28.—The discharge of a revolver on the sidewalk just outside the lobby of the Columbia Theatre yesterday caused great excitement and led to the report that a crank had attempted to shoot champion Jack Johnson, who was in the theater at the time of the shooting. The weapon was discharged accidentally. It fell from the pocket of Harry St. Clair, of Weymouth. The bullet lodged in one of the theater doors. St. Clair was arrested and locked up on the charge of carrying a dangerous weapon. When he was arrested extra exploded cartridges were found in his pockets. He denied that he was trying to get at Johnson to shoot him.

IMPORTANT POINTS IN MEDICAL EXAMINATION BROUGHT OUT AT INQUEST.

Murder of Lizzie Anderson Bids Fair to Go Down as One of the Unsolved Mysteries in the Criminal Annals of Ontario.

Goderich, Sept. 28.—The murder of Lizzie Anderson bids fair to go down as one of the unsolved mysteries in the criminal annals of Ontario, and the regret that is felt is all the greater now the unspeakable horrible character of the crime.

The authorities have gone into the bottom of the incidents of the buggy that was taken out of a local livery stable at 10.30 o'clock on the night of the crime and returned at 5.30 o'clock the following morning with one of the wool lap robes covered with blood, but they say that this has no connection, whatever with the murder.

The medical examination, however, has brought out some interesting facts. Dr. Gallow and Dr. Macklin, of Goderich, and Dr. Guss of Clinton, began the post mortem at 5 o'clock yesterday, and worked until 10 o'clock, when they got supper and went immediately to the vacant house on the International road back of the Fair Grounds, in the cellar of which the body of the murdered girl was found. They spent an hour there and returned to Brophy's undertaking rooms where they continued their study of the case until two o'clock in the morning.

STUNNED BY BLOW.

Detective Greer was present after the conclusion of the inquest at midnight. Three facts they were agreed upon, first, that the girl was stunned by a blow from - heavy stick or club or a heavy fist on the forehead before the throat was cut. This was probably done outside; second, the throat was cut before the clothing was torn off, this was shown by the fact that the four upper garments showed plain lying on the same side of each and in the same place where the blood had floweddown on the shoulder and breast from the wound in the throat

ONE IMPORTANT FACT.

This was clear beyond a doubt. Among the clothing in the heap on the floor of the cellar was one cotton underwaist, on which there was no blood at all. This puzzled the doctors but was explained this morning when Detective Greer saw Mrs. Anderson and learned that it had been folded up and used as padding on the breast.

The other fact was that the villian or villians had not accomplished their primary purpose in assaulting the girl. They were not absolutely certain of this, they stated that there was little room for doubt. The garments were everyone of them cut off with a knife, but it was not a bloody knife.

This however, could easily have been wiped clean after cutting the throat.

The blow on the forehead had caused three separate clots of blood close together, and hence may have been the result of a blow from a heavy fist. The bruise went through to the skull but did not affect the brain to any greay extent and did not likely cause death. All the theories that have looked like the possible solution of the mystery, have gone up in the air when thoroughly investigated.

PUZZLED.

Hard Work, Sometimes, to Raise Children.

Children's taste is ofttimes more accurate, in selecting the right kind of food to fit the body, than that of adults. Nature works more accurately through the children.

A Brooklyn lady says: "Our little boy had long been troubled with weak digestion. We could never persuade him to take more than one taste of any kind of cereal food. He was a weak little chap and we were puzzled to know what to feed him on.

"One lucky day we tried Grape-Nuts. Well, you never saw a child eat with such relish, and it did me good to see him. From that day on it seemed as though we could almost see him grow. He would eat Grape-Nuts for breakfast and supper, and I think he would have liked the food for dinner.

"The difference in his appearance something wonderful.

"My husband had never fancied cereal foods of any kind, but he became very fond of Grape-Nuts and has been much improved in health since using it.

"We are now a healthy family and naturally believe in Grape-Nuts.

"A friend has two children who were formerly afflicted with rickets. I was satisfied that the disease was caused by lack of proper nourishment. They showed it. So I urged her to use Grape-Nuts as an experiment and the result was almost magical.

"They continued the food and today both children are well and strong as any children in the city, and, of course, my friend is a firm believer in Grape-Nuts for she has the evidence before her every day."

Goderich Murder a Complete Mystery

Goderich, Ont., Sept. 28.—The finding last night of a linen duster badly stained with blood in a two-seated rig in Swarts's livery barn kept Detective Greer busy today until he satisfied himself that it had nothing to do with the murder of Lizzie Anderson.

On Tuesday evening, September 20, the night on which the murder was committed, one of the acrobats' troupe giving performances at the exhibition, ordered a horse and surrey at this livery. About midnight a rig similar to the one hired by this man was seen on South street, near the southern boundary of the town, and the figure of a woman was noticed in the rig. South street is connected with Elgon street by the south boundary road, and the fact that screams were heard about midnight on Elgon street near the house where the body was found, naturally led the authorities to follow this possible clue.

At midnight Detective Greer and Chief Postlewaite paid a visit to Brophy's undertaking establishment after a visit last night to Swarts's livery.

Willie Anderson says he remembered seeing a light in the tent occupied by the troupe, some time between 1 and 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. There were six in the troupe on Thursday morning, two of them were ticketed by the G.T.R. agent to Brockport, and four to New Jersey.

THE AUTHORITIES BAFFLED.

Crown Attorney Seager was interviewed by a press representative this morning.

"Is the case as mystifying as ever?" he was asked.

"Yes, it's a complete mystery."

"Is anyone under surveillance or suspicion?"

"No," rather hesitatingly. "No, no one in particular."

"How about that blood stained duster in the rig?"

"There's nothing in it."

The explanation given to Detective Greer is completely satisfying. It has nothing whatever to do with the tragedy.

THE LAWYER'S STORY.

M. O. Johnson, the barrister, who was reported to be the person who returned the rig to the livery barn, was seen by a reporter this morning, and told the following story:

"Nelson, the manager of the troupe of six comedians, who put on a flat comedy at the exhibition grounds, accompanied by myself, was walking across the square Tuesday night when we ran across two young ladies of my acquaintance, who suggested that we go for a drive. Nelson agreed and at once entered Swart's livery barn and engaged the outfit. We drove about town until 12.30 when I left Nelson and one of the ladies at the British Exchange Hotel. I then prepared to take the other one home, but she induced me to prolong the drive, and it was nearly four o'clock when I returned to the livery barn with the rig. They tell me that blood was found on the duster and on the seat, but there was no bloodshed in that rig that night.

"Nelson hails from some place in the Eastern States. I first met him in London the week previous to the Goderich exhibition, and arranged for him to bring his troupe of five to Goderich."

LONDON'S LORD MAYOR.

Sir Thomas V. Strong Elected is to Be Selected.

London, Sept. 29.—In accordance with time-honored precedent the Livery Companies of the City of London, will meet in convention in Common Hall at Guildhall today for the election of a Lord Mayor of the city for the coming civic year. Sir John S. Knill's term expires on November 9. In the ordinary course, the election will fall on Sir Thomas Vesey Strong, a wealthy paper manufacturer who has been an alderman of the City of London for thirteen years and who served as senior sheriff in 1904.

Unlike all other great municipalities, London's Lord Mayor is not the choice of the common council or a political clique. He must needs have been elected an alderman of his ward by the ratepayers many years before being eligible for the mayoralty. He must have served as sheriff by the election of eight thousand liverymen, representing the wealthiest and most influential citizens. As sheriff he must have had the approval of the King, and to become Lord Mayor he has to appear again before the liverymen and the King, and on Lord Mayor's Day he must visit the Law Courts and before the judges the recorder of the city recites his past history.

The jurisdiction of the Lord Mayor is of course confined to the comparatively narrow limits of the ancient city, whose population nowadays hardly amounts to 50,000, the other 6,000,000 or more citizens of the metropolis are governed by London County Council which being a modern institution has acquired none of the pomp and pageantry of the ancient city.

Many of the prominent delegates will attend the gathering.

DISHONESTY IN PUBLIC LIFE CONDEMNED— GUILTY MUST BE PUNISHED.

Primary Elections Should Be Surrounded By Such Safeguards as are Effective in Regular Elections—Republican State Platform

Saratoga, N.Y., Sept. 28.—War on graft was made the key-note of the Republican platform. Following an all night session and a second session later today, the following was agreed upon as the party's pledge to the people in the coming campaign.

We declare relentless warfare upon official and legislative wrongdoing in this State.

A Republican Legislature ordered an immediate and searching inquiry into all corrupt practices and their inquiry is now going forward vigorously.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

We pledge its continuance with the additional authority required of such wrongdoing capable of exposure has been brought to light, to the end that the guilty shall be punished and the innocent relieved of unjust suspicion. Dishonesty in public service is next to treason, the most flagrant of crimes. In ridding our institutions of this dangerous growth we know no party distinction.

The crimes which have been committed have involved men of both parties.

IMPRESSED WITH CANADA.

Mr. Just Speaks of Enormous Possibilities of the Dominion.

London, Sept. 27.—H. W. Just, secretary of the Imperial Conference, has returned from Canada, where during his stay of eight weeks he traversed the continent from Montreal to Victoria, and from Montreal to Halifax, thus, as he said, speaking to the Canadian Associated press gaining a birdseye view of the Dominion as a whole. He was much impressed with the vastness, the resources, the enormous possibilities of the country, the buoyancy and the alertness of the population everywhere, and the great variety and picturesqueness of the scenery. Everywhere he noticed the greatest keenness to exploit rapidly the national wealth of the Dominion, whether agricultural or mineral, and to link together its various parts by improved means of communication in the west. He was greatly struck with the progress, settlement, activity in trade, and the rapidity with which provision is made in towns, regarding public utilities, now largely owned and operated by the municipalities.

WANTED TO JUMP INTO THE NIAGARA RIVER.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 28.—Otto Williams, who essayed to slide across the river on a tight wire during the carnival here in June, landed in the police court over the river yesterday, because he declared he would leap from the upper bridge into the river. "just to show that I can go Larsen and Leach one better." He was fined $5, and told to go back to Toronto where he might be appreciatedmore.

Williams is a former Toronto steeplejack, who spent the latter part of the summer in a Toronto amusement place under the name of the great Houdin. When the police interferred with Williams he was dressed in tights ready for the leap.

THE "MAIN" AND HISTORY.

Now that steps are at last being taken to raise the U.S. battleship "Maine" from the mud of Havana harbor which, for thirteen years has hidden the cause of her destruction, it is noticeable that vital interest in the subject has ceased to exist. There are many people who will be curious to know whether the explosion which caused the Spanish-American war and started the United States on its active career as a world-power was from without or from within, the act of an enemy or the accident of circumstances, but no strain of the imagination can convert this curiosity back again into the insistent desire for information which preceded the war with Spain and even, for a time, survived its conclusion.

As a matter of fact, it does not mave very much difference at this late date what discoveries the board of experts who are to study the hull of the battleship make public or suppress. We are in a position today to see that, if the incident of the "Maine" had not occurred, something else would have been made do duty in its place. When war becomes inevitable, the technical excuse for making it is of no more importance than the specific cause assigned for the sentiment which lies behind it. If it were discovered—and announced—that the "Maine" had been destroyed by an internal explosion for which no enemy could be held responsible, it would not wipe out the developments of the last decade which were consequent on the Spanish-American war nor restore the ideals of the world-mission of the United States which have been supplanted by those born in the enthusiasm and excitement of the first foreign war in half a century. Possibly it is just as well that the developments and ideals remain as they are rather than as they were. It is even conceivable that placing the responsibility for the change would be better left to the coming rather than to the present generation.

CIVIC EXPENSES.

Controller Foster of Toronto, who has taken a strong hand on the subject of expenditure of civic money on civic "jaunts," is paying his own expenses of a trip to Montreal with the Toronto City Council to inspect the harbor works there. Controller Foster should receive credit for his consistence. It is to be feared, however, that he is not setting a good precedent. It is right that there should be an outcry against so-called "jaunts" on which the jaunters spend a great deal more civic money than is necessary. But on the other hand it is equally right that if a civic representative is sent away to secure information which may be of value to the community, that his actual expenses should be paid.

If the principle that civic representatives should pay their own expenses when out of town on council business were excepted, the principle would react injuriously to the community's best interests against the poorer members of the council, thinks the Ottawa Journal. Wealth and brains are not always hand in hand. A poor man very often has brains and integrity, and these brains and integrity might be lost to the community were such a rule to be enforced.

The trouble is that a good principle has been spoiled by a bad practice. That is no reason, however, why an honest representative should refuse to accept payment of his legitimate expenses.

160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the RARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of 240 PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ohio Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Consolidated Coast, Central Crude, Rural Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Gaylord, a well known oil man, owns every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, at his command OIL MAY BE struck at any reasonable moment in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represented the center of the industry. Oil is the basis of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means HIGH GRAVITY OIL. Costs from 25 to 45c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO., and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. This GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT. GUESSING is OUT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 acre tract is the most valuable property in the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The GOOD FIELDS FOR DEVELOPMENT have been all secured. The demand is coming by the increased market for gasoline. The increase of the use of automobiles and internal combustion engines is forcing up the price of high gravity gasoline, and the present prices mean that we are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which can hold to be the most productive area. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor stock of ATLANTA OIL CO., and those who secure stock at par may sell at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The number for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is concluded. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 10th, 1911.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventally much higher.

A Trip to Canada.

The London Teachers' Association, with a membership of 16,500, arranged for a trip to Canada during the summer vacation this year. The party visited Quebec, Montreal, Macdonald College, St. Annes de Bellevue, Ottawa, Algonquin National Park, Muskoka Lakes, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and returned through the Thousand Islands and the St. Lawrence Rapids to Montreal. In the September number of the "London Teacher" an account of the trip is given, and it shows how thoroughly the party enjoyed their trip. The originator, Mr. Thos. Gautrey, has written to the European Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk System through whom the trip was arranged expressing gratification at the admirable way in which all the arrangements were carried out and intimating that the party was most enthusiastic, and that the trip, which covered the most attractive portions of Quebec and Ontario, will certainly be repeated next year.

Friday Night's Big Concert.

The concert of the 57th Regimental Band to be held in the armories on Friday night will undoubtedly attract a big crowd, and arrangements have been made to have 500 or 600 chairs placed for the big crowd that is expected. Miss Lavina Halihan and a male quartette are among the attractions. Miss Halihan will sing "The Holy City," and "Killarney," with obligato by the band. The numbers by the band will include two magnificent descriptive numbers: "Le Fre ereberg," and "The Mill in the Black Forest," by Eilenberg, as well as a medley of Harry Lauder song hits, and other new selections. The concert will be one of the big musical events of the season.

PRACTICAL TEMPERANCE.

Gives His Views on Proposed Reduction of Hotels.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

I see by an evening paper that the Temperance and Moral Reform League at their meeting Friday night, maintained that eight hotels would amply meet the city's requirements. Now Sir, I give these gentlemen credit for acting honestly, as far as they know, in the promotion of temperance. In my humble opinion they are advocating a state of affairs in local temperance conditions strongly adverse to temperance.

Let these gentlemen compare the present business done in the hotels of Peterborough with the total bar business done before the hotels were reduced in numbers this year. There is not a local hotel but what has doubled or trebled its staff of bartenders. A further reduction of local licenses would mean greater concentration of the men who drink; thirty men in one bar, owing to the treating system will drink more than sixty men scattered over several bars. It would simply mean the making of a few men rich in shorter time. With the local temperance (?) houses where "Blue Ribbon," "Scott Act," or what ever the two per cent. beer is sold, young boys, forbidden by the present strict regulations from entering the licensed bars, crowd at all hours Saturday nights and Sundays, thus learning part of the pernicious barroom habits. They are aping their elders in standing round a bar and swilling the two per cent. abomination.

PRACTICAL TEMPERANCE.

NEW OFFICES.

In keeping with the railway itself and all that pertains to it the new city offices just opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific in Granville Street, Vancouver, is new, smart and altogether attractive. The counters, desks and every bit of furniture and all the fixtures are new and of the latest type. The large room is divided into three sections—in front, the passenger office; in the center, the freight office; and at the rear the Canadian Express office. The woodwork is of quartered oak, handsomely finished tared, appropriately framed, showing the wonderful new scenery along this newest transcontinental line.

These Frenchmen in Quebec are "corkers." A case was brought up in Montreal against a certain man charged with robbing a lodge. By a technical error in the commitment, the case was thrown out. A Peterborough man, under the laws of Ontario, would probably today, be spending his time in a well aired cell, with a sturdy oak plank for his bed, had he been arrested on a similar charge.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion on this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Teddy Roosevelt has won out, as told in yesterday's Times, at the Albany, N.Y. convention. The "Teddy Bear" will thus draw many a reluctantly paid dollar from the pockets of Peterborough's paterfamilias.

News comes from Kamsack, Sask., that Elwer Olsen, has been buried there in a well 73 feet deep. The body was placed at the bottom of the shaft and sealed in. Many a Peterborough man has dug out the revered (by his forebears) bones of Indians, buried under sixteen inches of sand at Spoke Island, Rice Lake. It is all a matter of time, custom and environment.

Boy Scouts are requested to line up on the Market Square at 7.30 Friday evening when they will parade to the armories conducted by the bugle band, and there attend the band concert given by the 57th Regimental Band. As this will be the last appearance to be attended by Scoutmaster Oscar Waring, it is likely that every man of these young defenders of our country will be on hand.

As Peterborough is celebrated as a place, from which hundreds of deer hunters leave every fall, to kill the elusive deer, the protest made by hunters of Ontario against muzzling hounds will be of much local significance. It seems hard that local hunters should have their hounds muzzled when no hydrophobia has developed in this vicinity.

As an instance of the celerity with which a Times adv. brings results, it might be noted that in yesterday's issue appeared an advertisement headed "Dog Found." The dog advertised was claimed last night as a direct result of the adv.

Last night Messrs. Turner & Sons, owner of the Grand Opera House, with their proverbial enterprise, filled that popular place of amusement with hundreds anxious to hear the "Bohemian Girl."

Touched for $15 and Pinched.

Some men seem "easy." On Tuesday night Walter Bates met two men, perfect strangers to him, who seemed anxious to establish a personal acquaintance. The overtures towards friendship was stimulated and helped by the production by the twain of a bottle of the stuff that cheers, but later torments. The trio went, with the bottle to a spot quiet and secluded, near the street car barns. The men and the bottle got into close converse, and Bates succumbed. The two "friends" relieved him of $15, hard earned money and then, presumably, started out for the Antartic regions. Bates chased them. In the excitement of the hunt he broke one of the street car windows, and the caretaker at the barns, telephoned for a police man, who appeared a few minutes later and arrested Bates. Bates appeared, but was allowed to go.

BICYCLISTS FINED.

Eleven Riders on the City Pavements Pay for That Privilege.

On the conclusion of yesterday morning's session of the police court, the bicycle rider who was not fined might safely add "Noah" to his Christian name, as he, or those, escaped the deluge. It seems that "bikers" of late, seem to have forgotten that the city's pavements are for pedestrians not scorchers, or even moderate riding bicyclists. Yesterday when the police court opened eleven bicycle riders, as a result of the local police determining to keep the sidewalks for pedestrians, were haled before the cadi.

$2.00 and costs, amounting in all to $4.00, was the fine. One of the men did not appear and two paid their fines out of court, but eight had to dig down for the $4.00. The total proceeds of the summonses amounted to $40.90, and still there is one to come.

STILL ATTACK BISHOP FALLON | THEY WANT ROOSEVELT AND REVOLUTION?

BOYCOTT BANKS—THAT IS BOURASSA'S WAY FOR HELPING THE FRENCH CAUSE

Montreal, Sept. 29.—Le Devoir, Mr. Bourassa,s paper, still continues its attacks on Bishop Fallon of London, for his alleged anti-French attitude, and criticizes the appointment of Archbishop Gauthier. Last night it conceived the idea of avenging the French race for so many insults by withholding French money from English institutions, and confiding "our capital to French-Canadian banks."

"It is high time," says Le Devoir, to unite more closely in order to save more force to combat all these influences which seek to absorb and assimilate the people of this Province, and to rid the country, first of the French, and afterwards of the Catholic element in Canada."

BROOKINS BEATS A SPECIAL TRAIN

STARTED FROM CHICAGO IN AN ATTEMPT TO FLY 187 MILES TO SPRINGFIELD.

He Landed Near Gillman—Arrived There Half an Hour Before the Special Train—Was Up 2,000 Feet.

Chicago, Sept. 29.— Walter R. Brookins, driving a Wright biplane, started on his long flight from Chicago to Springfield, Ill., at 9.15 today. The start was made from Washington Park, and was witnessed by tens of thousands.

Brookins passed over Kensington, 13 miles from Chicago, at 9.36, and at 9.45 sped over the suburb of Harvey, 19 miles distant. He was flying about 2000 feet high and a speed of 50 miles an hour. The roads and fields were dotted everywhere with people witnessing their first aeroplane flight at about 40 miles an hour. The special train was about 18 miles behind him.

Brookins passed Gillman, eighty miles out of Chicago, at 11.25. He was 1,500 feet up.

Brookins will try to alight in the center of the race track directly in front of the Grand Stand at the State Fair at Springfield.

Wilbur Wright, tutor of Brooking, who watched his preliminaries, is to follow his pupil on the train, which was crowded with newspaper men and others.

The race against distance is under the direction of the Chicago Record-Herald, which offers a prize of $10,000 for a continuous flight to the State Fair, 187 miles away.

LANDED IN CORNFIELD.

Brookins landed in a cornfield just outside Gilman at 11.36, half an hour ahead of the train. He was in excellent shape and waited for the train and supplies.

UP IN THE AIR AGAIN.

Gilman, Ills. Sept. 29.—Brookins reascended at 12.45 p.m. on his way to Springfield, after taking on oil.

Large Crowd Attend All Saints' and Hear Rev. W. L. Armitage.

Last night All Saints' church was taxed to its utmost capacity to provide accommodation for the crowds that attended the harvest festival. This will probably be the last gathering of so large a number in the present church, as the congregation of this flourishing church expects soon to use the splendid new church they are erecting. All Saints' church was beautifully and appropriately decorated with emblems of the bountiful harvest that God has granted to the people of Canada. Rev. W. L. Armitage of Picton, whose efforts in past years have so materially contributed towards the upbuilding of All Saints' congregation, delivered a stirring address that cannot but be of great service to the parish.

THIS MAN MISSED HIS 56TH DRINK

Toronto, Sept. 29.—"I was just going to get my 56th drink when he clipped me behind the ear."

This was the mournful story told by H. A. Bell in the police court this morning, when he accused Ernest Eastern of assaulting him in the bar of the Eastern Hotel.

"But man, you are on your oath," gasped the Crown Attorney.

"Sure, 55 is my limit, but I was going one more," smiled the witness.

This completely overcame the court, and in a whisper the magistrate taxed Ernest $5 and costs for the inconvenience Mr. Bell was forced to undergo by missing his 56th.

JOBE, ARRESTED, ADMITS, AT LEAST, ONE THEFT.

A series of thefts committed in this city will probably be fresh in the memory of our readers. Hickey's shoe store was robbed, as well as grocery stores and others. Edward Jobe, arrived in Peterborough again on Tuesday and has since been there in company with a relative of his. He had arranged to meet his brother on Stewart street on Wednesday. The local police learned of his coming meeting, and Officers Meagher and Newhall in plain clothes, were sent down to the south end of the city a little after 7 o'clock. They waited until 9 o'clock, and then Newhall returned to the station. Shortly after P. C. Meagher was on his way to the station. On Stewart street he met and arrested Jobe, who was brought before the cadi yesterday morning. The charge was breaking into the store of Patrick J. Hickey, on Charlotte street, and stealing three pairs of boots last July. He pleaded guilty to the charge, at the same time electing to be tried by a jury. His reason for wanting to be tried by a jury after pleading guilty, is not quite understood, but he was remanded for a week, when he will again appear. It is supposed that more charges will be brought against him.

Ex-President Roosevelt Will Stump the State

100 SPEECHES BY ROOSEVELT—COUNT THEM AGAIN—ONE HUNDRED.

Will Stump the State—Ex-President Bubbling Over With Good Humor and Thinks Party Will Win at Polls.

Saratoga, N.Y., Sept. 29. — Col. Roosevelt will make more than one hundred speeches in the attempt to elect the Republican state ticket which was nominated under the colonel's dominating influence at the state convention here yesterday. The remaining delegates and the colonel left here today.

Before leaving Col. Roosevelt said he would stump the state during the campaign, touring every county in an automobile, delivering speeches in cities, towns and villages.

There was a feeling of apprehension that the disgruntled members of the Old Guard would carry their animosity into the campaign and work against the Roosevelt ticket. Colonel Roosevelt did not anticipate this, or if he did he did not fear it. He was bubbling over with good humor today and predicted victory at the polls.

Vice-President Sherman left somewhat mollified by the complimentary references made to him during the course of the session yesterday afternoon.

FULL STATE TICKET.

The following is the full state ticket which was nominated and which the colonel will make his whirlwind stumping tour.

For Governor—Henry L. Stimson, of New York.

For Lieutenant-Governor —Edward Schoenseck, of Syracuse.

For Comptroller — James Thompson, of Valley Falls.

For State Treasurer—Thos. F. Fennel, of Elmira.

For Attorney General—Edward R. O'Malley of Buffalo.

For Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals—Irving G. Vann of Syracuse.

In order to be first upon the ground and get in the first wallop in the campaign, Colonel Roosevelt practically opened the fight for his state ticket today at Poughkeepsie. The Colonel accepted an invitation to stop off and make a speech at the Dutchess County Fair on his way home, and it was a foregone conclusion that it would be a local political talk, urging the voters to return a Republican administration in New York State.

14-YEAR-OLD GIRL HOUSE-BREAKER

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD EDNA MUTTON WORE FOUR OF THEM AND WAS ARRESTED.

Six More in Her School Desk—Police Believe They are the Ones Taken From House in North-East End.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The seemingly gorgeous display of four rings on the finger of a fourteen-year-old girl in only ordinary circumstances, aroused the suspicion of Detective Miller yesterday afternoon, when he met Edna Mutton of 9 Frizell street, on Gerrard street, and led to her arrest. The rings, it is alleged, are part of the booty, which for two weeks past has been disappearing from houses in the north-east section of the city. Charges of burglary have been preferred from five different residents, and Detective Miller, believing from circumstances told by the complainants, that the person committing the thefts was youthful, was on his way to watch children leaving the schools when he caught sight of this unusual assortment of ornaments. Taking the girl back to Bolton avenue school, six more ornaments were found concealed in her desk.

Two weeks ago the house of Dr. Keaney at Gerrard and Jones avenue was entered, and at the time, missing only three umbrellas and a purse with a small amount of money, no report was made to the police. Yesterday upon enquiry, it was noticed that a valuable pair of opera glasses were also taken. On Sunday, 29 Sword street, occupied by Mrs. Muriel Jennings, and 1 Sword street, occupied by Mrs. A. Black, were entered. Four rings were taken from the former place, and four others were taken from 599 Pape the day following. All are valued from ten to twenty dollars.

When Edna Mutton appeared before Magistrate Kingsford, charged with being responsible for these thefts, she was not asked to make plea or election, being merely remanded to the Children's Shelter for a week to make inquiries.

Owners of the premises state that in two instances entrances was made through rear windows and in others cases the burglar had entered by means of keys found under door mats or behind screen doors, where the owners had concealed them before leaving their homes.

ROOSEVELT AND REVOLUTION?

(From the New York Herald.)

The spectacle of one man dictating to a thousand delegates in a convention presumably called for conference and consultation, and insisting that he shall have a position already given to another, and that other the vice-president of the United States, is unprecedented and extraordinary. Pointing out that the principles of New Nationalism preached by Col. Roosevelt on his recent Western tour are taken from former platforms of the Socialist party, the World thus presents the issue to the people: "Do they want democracy, or do they want a socialist dictatorship? Do they want the Republic, or do they want Roosevelt and Revolution."

GODERICH MURDER STILL A MYSTERY

LIZZIE ANDERSON'S BODY WAS TAKEN TO DUNGANNON, TEN MILES FROM SALTFORD.

Service at Home Yesterday— Frank Smith is Found to Have come to Seaforth and Disappeared Again.

Goderich, Sept. 29.—The victim of last week's atrocious murder in a vacant house near the Fair Grounds, seventeen-year-old Lizzie Anderson, was this morning buried in the Dungannon cemetery ten miles away.

The body of the girl was removed last night from Brophy's undertaking establishment to the home of her parents at Salford, a mile and a half away, and people stood by respectfully and expressed their commiseration as the remains were turned over to the bereaved parents.

The funeral service at the house took place at 9 o'clock this morning A large number of neighbors were present. The service was in charge of Rev. Mark Turnbull, who was brief in his remarks, and in about half an hour the sad little procession to Dungannon started. The remains were laid away besides the graves of several of the deceased's brothers and sisters.

Albert Jardine and his brother Tom, were the only Jardines at the funeral.

The Andersons were all dressed in black.

STILL MYSTIFIED.

Greer returned at noon from a long drive into the surrounding country. When asked if they had gained any light, he replied, "we are still mystified."

Frank Smith, who disappeared in the day of the crime, is found to have left Goderich early in the evening, and gone direct to Seaforth, where he worked three days for the Canada Furniture Company, and then dropped out of sight again.

Inspector Greer spent several hours yesterday interviewing residents in the vicinity of the vacant house where the body was found. The two women previously mentioned, were absolutely sure that they heard the screams after midnight.

Detective Greer still holds the view that local parties committed the crime. Outsides, he said, would not find it necessary to kill to escape possible accusation, because they would not be known to the girl.

A CRANK'S LETTER.

The inspector yesterday received the following note from Seaforth: "Honorable finder—I don't want to go to jail myself. I am the murderer of the Goderich crime. Please send some one to arrest me. I live at 10 Wilson avenue. (Signed) Patrick Lipton."

The writing, which was very crude was on a piece of ruled notepaper, apparently torn from an account book. It was picked up on the street at Seaforth, and forwarded. Inspector Greer attaches no importance to the note.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Kindly References to Late Mrs. Keaner and Mrs. Kilgour.

Last night, his Honor Judge Hoyles, delivered a most interesting address before the annual convention of the W.M.S. At the morning session there were about 50 delegates present. The chair was taken by the district organizer, Mrs. J. K. Moore, who gave a very interesting Bible reading after the opening hymn of consecration. Rev. C. H. Coon led in prayer.

After the appointing of a secretary the reports were read from the different branches.

From 11.50 to 12 a very impressive memorial service was led by Mrs. Allum of Charlotte Street Auxiliary.

After the singing of a hymn, followed by prayer, the names of those members who had died during the year were read. At the name of Mrs. (Rev.) Keaner, Mrs. Campbell spoke at some length of the sweet disposition possessed by the departed sister. Another departed sister was Mrs. (Rev.) Kilgour, who for some nine or ten years labored in the Charlotte Street Auxiliary. Mrs. Allum spoke lovingly of her.

After this service it was moved by Mrs. Campbell, and seconded by Mrs. Kelly, that a letter of remembrance be sent to Mrs. Jas. Kendry and Mrs. Turner, who were unable to attend the convention.

SIR THOMAS VEZEY STRONG THE FIRST TEETOTALER MAYOR OF LONDON

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Thomas Vezey Strong today was elected Lord Mayor of London, without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaler as chief magistrate of the metropolis. He was born in 1857, and in 1900 married Lillie, the eldest daughter of the late James Hortnoll.

A BUSINESS MAN.

Sir Thomas was educated privately. In business he has been successful at the head of a paper supply firm. He was knited while occupying the office of the sheriff of the city of London. He is a director of the United Kingdom Temperance and General Provident Institution and a commander of the Order of Isabella the Catholic of Spain and of the Order of Our Lady of Villa Vicosa, of Portugal.

The mayor will figure prominently in the entertainments and ceremonies connected with the coronation of King George.

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Harry Edmondson, 560 Weller street, on Wednesday evening, when his daughter Ethel, became the charming bride of Mr. H. Woods. Rev. I. Coush, pastor of George street Methodist church tied the nuptial knot. The bride was given away by her father. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by the sister of the bride. Miss Grace Edmondson. Both bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony the party, including guests to the number of about thirty enjoyed a dainty supper, after which the young couple drove to their future home, at 3.10 Margaret avenue.

SAYS ONE WIFE IS ENOUGH FOR HIM

New York, Sept. 29.—Accompanied by a small suite, his highness Hadji Hohammed Umaiul Horam, Sultan of Sulu, arrived on the American Line Steamer, St. Louis. He is not here to sell pearls, although he sold almost $200,000 worth between Singapore and Cherbourg. He wants to spend the money thus raised in hiring American school teachers for his smiling little isle of Sulu. He indignantly denied that he has more than one wife. He did have four, he admitted, but he observed sagely that it was easier to support one wife than four.

Says She Was Infatuated With McNulty

HE TOLD MISS MARY DOLAN THAT HE WAT GOING TO MARRY HER.

Girl Again on the Stand—Twice She Showed Signs of Breaking Down During Cross-Examination Yesterday Morning.

Barrie, Sept. 29.—The hearing of the charge against Thomas McNulty for being accessory before the fact in connection with the death of an unnamed infant near Orillia in March last, was resumed this morning.

Miss Dolan, who collapsed yesterday when giving evidence, was able to take the stand again this morning Mr. Cheswicke resumed his cross-examination of Miss Dolan.

"When we were talking yesterday," said he, "I asked you whether it was through fear or love for McNulty that you acted as you had done."

HAD LOVE AND FEAR.

"I do not know," answered Miss Dolan, "and I cannot answer."

"Did you have a love for him?"

"Yes."

"And any fear?"

"Yes."

"But you could scarcely have the two at the same time. I do not wish to harrass you, but I want you to let us know the state of your mind.

"I loved him from the time I met him."

"You mean since the time you became intimate with him, within the four years?"

"Yes."

"And when did you cease to love him?"

"After the last child was born."

"And when did you cease to fear him?"

"After I was arrested."

WITNESS GREW NERVOUS.

The witness again showed signs of a break-up, but did not give way.

Mr. Cheswicke went on to question the witness what was the nature of her fear. Did she fear that McNulty would assault or beat her, but she said she did not know.

"It is not the fact that you were infatuated with him?"

"Yes."

"But you knew that you could not marry him?"

"He told me that he was going to marry me, that his wife was not going to live."

"And so on that account you kept up your relations with him?"

"Yes."

ALLEGED DISCREPANCIES.

Mr. Creswicke went on to show that there were discrepancies between the story Miss Dolan told at the preliminary inquiry in Orillia and the one she told yesterday.

She had said at that time that during several months she had only met him by chance twice on the street and at the railway station. But now she is reported to say that she met him frequently in the stable. Before the magistrate there was no reference to the four months spent in the stable."

"At the preliminary inquiry," interrupted Mr. Blackstock, "there was no reference to the stable."

"Well," explained Mr. Creswicke, "there practically was, because she said she only met him twice, whereas, if her present story is true, she met him at least three times a day."

"She is probably drawing a distinction," remarked Judge Britton, "between going to meet a person and having them come to meet her."

ONCE MORE IN DISTRESS.

Once more the witness appeared to be in distress, but she was calmed by her mother and the doctor.

"Yes."

MADE A RECORD.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—Ralph De Palma in a Fiat car Saturday lowered the world's automobile record for ten mile on a circular track, held by himself, on the track of the Belmont Driving Club at Narbeth, near here He covered the distance in 8.31 1-5. The former record was 8.46, made some time ago at St. Paul.

The track was in fine condition for the trial, and when the daring driver had covered half the distance it was seen that, barring an accident, he would set up new figures. When it was announced that he had clipped 16 4-5 seconds from the world's figures he was given an ovation as he drove around the track after the exhibition.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

EUCHRED THE CLERGYMAN OUT OF WEDDING FEE.

Prescott, Sept. 29.—Rev. A. E. Runnels, B.D., of the Prescott Methodist Church, was neatly bunco'ed out of his fee by a newly-married couple last evening.

After the ceremony, which took place at the parsonage, the bride, who had been sparkling all through the ordeal, probably at the thought of the way they were about to fool the reverend gentleman, immediately walked into the hall and out into the street.

After conversing with the minister for a few moments, the groom suddenly pretended to recollect that he had handed all his cash over to the lady of his choice, and asked to be excused a moment when he went out side to obtain the customery fee from her.

The reverend gentleman is waiting yet, but consoles himself with the thought that he is not out anything as it is his custom to hand over all wedding fees to his wife. The bride and groom were from Ogdensburg, N. Y.

DEATH AFTER A SCRATCH.

Morris Quatram, an eleven-year-old Windsor boy, fell off his bicycle and scratched his wrist. He thought nothing of the injury, but blood poison set in and he is dead.

Such incidents as these—by no means infrequent—ought to make people realize the danger that may lie even in the smallest flesh wound.

Take a simple illustration. When a knife, a rusty needle, a splinter of dirty wood, a barbed wire fence, or a thorn, scratches the hand, the latter is inoculated with germs, of which the air about us is full. Directly these germs are introduced through the breach in the skin, a battle royal ensues between them, and certain organisms in our blood.

The way to avoid serious results is to cleanse the wound and apply Zam Buk. Zam-Buk is a powerful, yet painless germ-killer, and when applied to the broken skin is absorbed into the tissue, instantly destroying the germs that spread disease and inflammation.

As soon as applied to a sore or a cut Zam-Buk stops the pain and smarting. That is why it is so popular with the children.

The flesh thus soothed and purified, the wound is made perfectly healthy, and all poison and cause of festering removed. Having done this, Zam-Buk then proceeds to heal the wound or sore, and new healthy tissue is built up in a quick, painless and perfect manner.

Zam-Buk must not be confused with ordinary ointments. Zam-Buk is a unique preparation, possessing antiseptic, soothing and healing qualities that are not to be found together in any other preparation. It is not only a unique healing balm, but it is also a skin food. For all skin diseases and injuries—cuts, bruises, burns, eczema, chafing, ulcers, ringworm, etc., it is without equal. It is also used widely for piles, for which it may be regarded as a specific. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Harmful imitations should be always refused.

BURNED TO DEATH AS SHE PRAYED

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—Kneeling in the midst of a bonfire which she had made of pages of religious books and magazines and saturated with coal oil by her own hands, Mamie McCarthy, 16 years old, slowly burned to death yesterday in the rear of her home yesterday, while she prayed.

The girl's action was not a sudden inspiration. She apparently had waited until an unguarded moment to destroy herself.

The Bible, magazines and papers with which she made the bonfire, were taken from a table in the living room where she had been sewing.

DOG RETURNED WANDERS BACK

Yesterday some fun was made by merchants and their respective staffs along George street, as a resident who had, in the columns of The Times, advertised "A dog found," and who during the early hours of the afternoon led the canine, attached by a piece of wire, back to its owner in a George street saddlery store. As noted in yesterday's issue, The Times' adv. connected the dog and its owner, who got back his pet Wednesday night. On Thursday, at noon, this fox terrier, with more vitality than respect for household utilities, strayed back to the advertiser, and ,before her, or his family knew of its return, jumped into one of the family beds. Mud bedaubed feet generously painted pillow covers and sheets with the refuse of the streets. The householder, returning to his home found the dog on one of the beds. He again led it to its owner. Peterborough could well dispense with about 99-100 per cent. of the dogs that make the whole city streets unsafe and brimful of trouble for the human beings who pay for the upkeep of the city.

Local view post cards, all the principal parks, buildings, etc. Only ten cents per dozen Times Bookstore.

EVOLUTION IN JAPAN.

One of the unmistakable signs of evolution in Japan is found in the [illegible] the Mikado. It is a recent innovation of royal custom and habit for the Emperor to come out of the seclusion and protection which surrounded him into closer contact with his subjects. That he has chosen to adopt the latter policy proves that western civilization has entered the most inner door of the almost sacred Japanese Court. It is unfortunate, however, that what has been imported has taken with it that form of crime and degraded citizenship which grows out of a disturbed social and political condition. There must be in Japan as there is in the United States and Europe, a rebellion against the old order of things and a desire to disrupt the state by assassinating its rulers.

This is the part of modern life which the Occidental races would do well to refuse. Their old fidelity to religion and awe of majesty was a better trait, even in its blindness, than the thirst for human blood.

PROTECT THE BOY.

The Protestant School Commissioners of Montreal have decided to expel every boy who is caught smoking cigarettes. The Montreal Herald while willing to admit the evils that result to boys from the cigarette habit is disposed to question the action of the governors on the ground first that it is too drastic, and secondly, that it will weaken the power of the school authorities.

The Herald advises less severe measures than expulsion, which, it says, is an admission of failure in disciplinary power and should only be resorted to as a last resort. The Kingston Standard is disposed to agree with the Herald. Cigarette smoking is most certainly injurious to a boy but lying and thieving are worse offences and show a depravity of character which is not indicated by cigarette smoking. Most boys look upon cigarette smoking as a venial offence and the Standard imagines that both they and their parents would most strongly resent as an extreme measure the expulsion of the offenders.

The Herald also points out that it may be a question how far the commissioners have the right to expel pupils for cigarette smoking, since the schools are supported by the taxation of the parents of these boys. In this regard the Herald says:

"In all seriousness, however, this decision of the commissioners raises other large questions. What is the actual function of expulsion in the tax-supported Protestant schools of this province? It is easy enough to understand it in the case of a great public school in England or indeed of any institution in any country which depends for its financial support upon private endowment or the fees of students. But the schools controlled by the Protestant Commissioners in this city are the taxpayers, for the purpose of affording education to the youth of all classes of taxpayers who do not elect to support the Catholic panel; and the right of the Commissioners to refuse education to the son of a taxpayer for no greater criminality than that of smoking a single cigarette, is, to say the least, of it dubious."

The powers granted the Commissioners by the legislature would undoubtedly be ample enough to clothe them with the right to expel in such a case, but admitting this, is it well to exercise these powers in the case of what after all, is neither a sin nor a crime? Milder measures ought certainly first to be adopted. Incorrigible cases might be treated with this extreme punishment, but only after every other plan had been tried to stamp out the practice.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

SELL
stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY
Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Dowse, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventally much higher.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

Should Ontario Have More Agricultargi and Technical Schools.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—The following on agricultural schools is taken from the Canadian Courier:

Norman Patterson, in the Canadian Courier, contends that some of the high schools should be made agricultural schools and other technical schools. The same reform has been advocated by the Kingston Whig, and the Whig asks how so many writers in different places hit upon the same idea at the same time. Several things have combined to attract attention to this matter. About a month ago Principal Embree of Toronto, submitted a report to the Board of Education in that city in which he referred to the lack of facilities for technical education and advocated the establishment of technical classes in the Toronto High Schools. He pointed out that for want of such provision large sums of money were sent out of Canada for courses in correspondence schools. He thought also that there should be night continuation classes for those who are obliged to work at a trade or other employment during the day. About the same time a plan was adopted in the United States, through which a boy may spend half a day at his trade and the other half in atechnicalschool or class.

For many years complaints have been made that our system of education was too professional, and made too little provision for the needs of farmers and mechanics. Great progress has been made, especially in agricultural education, but much still remains to be done. The new feature of the present discussion is the attention that is being centered on secondary education. Hitherto criticism has been directed against the Public schools. It is now recognized that the Public school course does not permit of a great deal of differentiation; nor can it impart an education which is sufficient for the mechanic or farmer, any more than for the doctor or lawyer. The State does not do its duty by a boy when it leaves him to his own devices at fourteen years of age, often a very critical and trying time. The years between fourteen and eighteen are full of opportunity and temptation. For a boy who is earning his living the manner of spending the evening is of the utmost importance. And while something is done by the free libraries, the Y.M.C.A. and other organizations, the State is not involved from its duty of making such provision as will raise the standard of usefulness and good citizenship.

DEW AND THE PRESS.

He Tried to Outwit the Canadian Reporters.

London, Sept. 27.—The Gazette, an old country publication was pleased that Inspector Dew, who visited this country in connection with the Crippen case, "has not endeared himself to the transatlantic journalist." It remarks sarcastically that "At any rate he carried out his job, and will have to manage as best he can without the applause of those in Canada who would have liked to have done it for them."

To Canadians, this appears a somewhat peculiar attitude. It is probably due—no pun intended—to a difference between the British and Canadian conception of the proper relation of reporter and detectives. The old land idea, as embodied in Inspector Dew, seems to be that the press and the criminal have alike to be outwitted; that it is as smart to deceive the reporter as it is to outwit the lawbreaker. On this continent a different plan has been tried. The police, instead of attempting to mislead the press, have enlisted its aid, and they have found that aid invaluable. They have also found that newspaper representatives are men to be trusted, and that confidence reposed in them is very seldom violated.

Inspector Dew should not forget that it was not Scotland Yard, but the press, which caught Dr. Crippen. It was by reason of newspaper pictures that he was identified by the captain of the Montrose. Nearly every big murder nowadays is a "paper chase." Rapid transit has made the flight of the criminal so easy that the assistance of the international press with all its ramifications, is the surest guarantee of his final discovery.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

VOL XXXIII NO. 221 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY OCTOBER 1 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

MARY DOLAN AND THOS. M'NULTY SENTENCED TO HANG ON DECEMBER 14

YOUNG FARMER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE WAS FOUND HANGING IN BARN

Teeswater, Ont., Sept. 30.—Donald Ross, a farmer, 34 years of age, living near the little church of Whitechurch, a few miles from here, committed suicide yesterday by hanging.

Ross lived with his mother and two sisters on the farm and yesterday morning left the house with the evident intention of attending a neighbor's threshing. A few hours later it was found that he was not there, and on a search being instituted his dead body was found hanging by the neck from a beam in the roothouse under the barn. He appeared to have been dead several hours.

Coroner Dr. Gordon of Lucknow, who was called, pronounced it a case of deliberate suicide. Judging by the surroundings, it appears that the deceased had fastened the rope to a couple of hooks in the beam, mounted an upturned pail, placed a noose in the rope, wound the end of the rope around his arms so that they could not be raised, and then kicked the pail away.

There appears no assignable motive for the terrible deed, as Ross was in comfortable circumstances, and apparently in the enjoyment of good health. He had, however, on several recent occasions complained of disagreeable sensations in his head.

FORCE PEOPLE TO GIVE UP THEIR DEAD

(Special to The Times.)

Naples, Sept. 30.—Twenty-five deaths from cholera and forty new cases is the toll for the last twenty-four hours in this plague-riddden city. Ships are forbidden to leave their piers and hotels are deserted and the Lazarettos are overcrowded.

Soldiers are now sent into the market district with doctors to force the people to give up their dead and dying. Many people have been constantly denying information to the authorities to prevent being isolated.

NEEDED HIM WORSE THAN THE JUDGE

(Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, Sept.30.—A funny case came before Judge Campagne in the Hull superior court yesterday when a witness wrote that he could not attend because he was being married. In his letter he says he laid the case before his fiance, but she only smiled and said: "I need you more than the judge does." With the consent of counsel on both sides of the civil action the excuse of the witness was accepted, and he will not be made liable for contempt of court.

TYPHOON WIPES OUT FOUR TOWNS

(Special to The Times.)

Manila, Sept. 30. — A typhoon of unusual severity swept over the valley of Cayagan River, in the Province of Cayagan and Isabella, Northern Luzon, on Sept. 24. Four towns, including Ilagan, the capital of Isabella Province, were practically demolished.

A thousand persons are still homeless and destitute, but the despatches so far received indicate that there were no casualities. The tobacco crop was seriously damaged. The government is making relief plans.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING OF A YOUNG MAN IN A NEW YORK SUBWAY CAR

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Sept. 30.—An express train in the subway was the scene of a mysterious murder at 1 o'clock this morning.

A well-dressed young man apparently returning from the theater, was the victim. There was nothing on his person to identify him.

His assailant, according to the police, was Chas. Wright, of Elizabeth, N.J., who was arrested.

According to bystanders, the two men stood near each other in a crowded car. They did not appear to be acquainted, but suddenly it was noticed that they were having a violent quarrel about something. Then came a pistol shot, and the young man fell to the floor, mortally wounded.

There was a panic in the crowded car. Women in gay theater attire, made for the doors. Several men grabbed Wright, who struggled with them. By that time the train had begun to slow down at the Fourteenth street station.

A subway watchman took charge of Wright, as the doors swung open. He denied all knowledge of the crime.

SUICIDE WAS A TORONTO MAN

MAN WHO WENT OVER THE FALLS WAS W. H. MAGILL OF BATHURST ST.

Had Come From Ireland—Had Been Employed at Eaton's—No Cause Known for Rash Act.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 30.—The identity of the man found in the Niagara River, just below the American Falls on Thursday of last week has been established as that of W. M. G. Magill of Belfast, Ireland, who had been residing in Toronto of late.

Coroner W. A. Scott this morning received word from John Greer, Howland avenue, Toronto, declaring that the description of the body compared identically with that of Magill. He also enclosed a collar belonging to Magill, which was like that worn by the body and bore the name, "W. A. Magill," in the same handwriting.

Greer claims to know Magill's relatives, and will notify them of his death. He asks the coroner for further particulars of the case.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—"There is no doubt that the body was that of Mr Magill," said Mr. Greer to a reporter this morning. "Although I cannot understand why he should have taken his life. He was anything but a morose and melancholy man."

Magill, whose age was 26, came to Toronto from Ireland in April, and boarded at 452 Bathurst street, up to the time of his death. He was employed until about a month ago as a clerk in the linen department of Eaton's store, but had been out of work since that time.

The man was unmarried. His parents and other relatives are all in Ireland, and will be notified of the death by Mr. Greer.

In the Football World.

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Oct. 1.—Nearly all of the leading Eastern colleges have football competitions scheduled for to-day, but, as is customary in the early games of the season, the big teams meet weaker opponents, the matches being virtually practice games for the heavier contests later in the year. Among the contests scheduled are Pennsylvania and Gettysburg at Philadelphia, Harvard and Bowdoin at Cambridge, Dartmouth and Massachusetts State at Hanover, Rensselaer Polytechnic and Cornell at Ithaca, Brown and Norwich University at Providence, Vermont and the Army at West Point, and Syracuse and Yale at New Haven.

DELINE REMANDED.

Alleged Belmont Murderer Will Get Preliminary Hearing Thursday Next.

An important case was up yesterday morning for trial before his Worship County Magistrate Edmison, when Hugh Deline was charged with having murdered his wife in Belmont township.

Mr. G. N. Gordon, who is conducting the case in the interests of the accused, was present, and Mr. R. E. Wood for the Crown.

The report of the expert analyst, Dr. Amyott of Toronto, on the stains found on the garments of Deline and the dead woman, has not been received, but it is expected that this report will be ready for submission before the court next Thursday morning at ten o'clock, when the preliminary hearing of the prisoner will be proceeded with.

The hospitality and board of Castle Nesbitt seem to have agreed with Deline since his imprisonment.

Circleville, O., Oct. 1.—The centennial of Pickaway County is to be celebrated here by a gala week beginning tomorrow, on much the general plan for an old home week, but with more elaborateness. For many months the citizens have been preparing for the event, and their efforts promise now to result in one of the most successful celebrations of its kind ever held in this part of the state. Wednesday will be the biggest day of the week, when Governor Harmon and Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for governor, are scheduled to speak.

Judge Holds Out Hope For Girl But Very Little for the Man

GIRL DECLARED SHE TOLD THE TRUTH ABOUT M'NULTY, AND IS CARRIED OUT AFTER SENTENCE.

McNulty Says She Swore Falsely — Both Sentenced to Be Hanged on December 14th.—A Sobbing Procession.

Barrie, Ont., Sept. 30.—Mary Dolan and Thomas McNulty were sentenced this morning to be hanged on December 14th.

Thus ended the court proceedings in one of the simplest and yet most terrible cases in Ontario's criminal annals. The trial lasted less than four days. The girl was found guilty and confessed. On her evidence that she murdered her two weeks' old infant on the advice and fear of its father, McNulty. McNulty was found guilty of "procuring" the murder.

A remarkable feature of the case is the fact that the man never saw the infant for the murder of which he is now under death sentence, together with the unfortunate girl, who actually strangled the infant before [illegible] into Lake Couchiching.

A SOBBING PROCESSION.

The girl was the first to be sentenced. At eleven o'clock the door beside the judge's dias was opened and a strange procession filed into court and stopped at the prisoner's dock. The girl was doubled over with her hands to her face, sobbing quietly while the sheriff officers supported her. Behind her came her mother and sister and father. They were all sobbing.

"I move that the sentence of the court be passed," said Mr. Blackstock, the crown prosecutor.

"Mary Dolan," commanded the kindly judge, white-haired, gentle-voiced, "Mary Dolan, stand up."

She stood up, trembling, sobbing.

"Have you anything to say why the sentence of this court should not be passed upon you?"

There was a silence before the court room was quivering with her voice.

SHE TOLD THE TRUTH.

"I want to say," she began looking around frightenedly, "I want to say that all I have said in this court room, is true. I got a letter on Friday telling me to struggle the baby."

"I——, I——, want you to be as light as you can on McNulty." Then she collapsed. She sank in a heap in the dock. The attendant doctor revived her and the judge commenced.

"You have had a fair trail, Mary Dolan," began his lordship. "It is one of the most pitiful trials I have ever had before me, but the fact remains that you have had a very fair trial. The jury could make no other finding than they did. They saw fit to add to their verdict a recommendation of mercy, and in that recommendation I may say I agree, and shall forward it to the proper authorities.

CARRIED GIRL OUT.

"I shall not make use of any words that shall be to any extent a reproach or a reminder of your past life. It is a very sad past life, for you were a loved child of a kind mother, who did all a mother could to keep you in the path. There is only one sentence which I may pass upon you, and it is a very trying ordeal for a judge. It is even so for to pass sentence upon a male prisoner, but I have never before been called upon to do such a thing in the case of a woman.

"The sentence of this court then is that you shall be taken hence on the 14th day of December, 1910 ——————"

There was no black cap, no erotistic speech by a grandiloquent representative of the King, no long-winded high-sounding cruelties such as some condemned prisoners have been forced to undergo in Ontario. The judge spoke kindly as an old man to a young woman. He pronounced the words with evident difficulty. When he came to the part "AND SHALL BE HANGED BY THE NECK TILL YOU ARE DEAD," the prisoner shrieked and fell in the dock in a faint. Her relatives wept. She was carried out of court.

M'NULTY DENIES GUILT.

McNulty was then brought in. He looked haggard. His wife and her sister followed crying. Asked if he had anything to say the man stood up, "All I've got to say," he said, "Is that I never wrote such a letter in my life That is all I've got to say."

PRISONER WILL APPEAL.

His lordship nodded and replied that Mary Dolan's evidence had been given with an appearance of perfect veracity.

"I advise you," said his lordship "Not to rely too much on the recommendation of mercy which the jury added to its verdict. I shall forward it to the executive, but in the meantime I must pass the sentence imposed by law upon you."

McNulty swayed from side to side and moaned as the words fell upon him. At the conclusion of the sentence he was led out stumbling; his wife following.

Mr. Creswicke, his lawyer, intends to appeal.

WILL THEY PAY THE DEATH PENALTY?

"The jury could make no other finding that it did. They saw fit to add to their verdict a recommendation for mercy, and in that recommendation I may say I agree and shall forward it to the proper authorities."—Judge Britton to Mary Dolan, in sentencing her to death.

"I advise you not to rely too much on the recommendation of mercy, which the jury added to its verdict. I shall forward it to the executive, but in the meantime I must impose the sentence passed by law upon you."—Judge Britton to Thos McNulty, in sentencing him to death. The absence of any approval of the recommendation to mercy is noticeable.

The Royal Commission on industrial training and technical education will meet in this city on Monday next. The object of the visit of the commission is embodied in the following letter to Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., and afterwards turned over to Industrial Commissioner Dugan:

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to intimate to you that the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education, proposes to visit places according to the itinerary outlined in the sheet which is enclosed herewith. On behalf of the commission I am to express our earnest desire and hope that the work of the commission may be fruitful of benefit to each of the localities which it is able to visit, as well as to the Dominion of Canada as a whole.

Our commission will give particular attention to the manufacturing industries, to agriculture, to domestic occupations, to mining, to the fisheries, to the lumber interests, to the building trades, to the transportation services, as well as to the technical training required for commercial operations.

I should be grateful for any information or suggestions, or lists of names of institutions, or establishments which you may kindly cause to be furnished for the use of the commission, and which would doubtless assist it to ascertain the needs and present equipment of your locality respecting industrial training and technical education.

The commission will also make inquiry into, (a) the needs of existing industries in respect of labor, (b) the quality of labor which is available, and (c) the needs of such labor for industrial training and technical education. The commission will appreciate your co-operation in any manner which you may consider appropriate regarding any or all of these matters.

A reply to this might be addressed to me at Ottawa.

I have the honor to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

J. W. ROBERTSON,
Chairman.

FOR YOUNG MEN.

New Curate of St. John's to Hold a Sunday Meeting in Princess.

Rev. Charles Carpenter, the recently appointed assistant at St. John's church has inaugurated a new movement that will, in all probability become popular among the young men of Peterborough. He has organized the "St. John's Guild of Goodfellowship." The object is to interest the young men in matters not appertaining altogether to church doctrine or prayer, but in addition, to awaken in them an interest in social matters and a desire for purity of life. The new assistant at St. John's is a young man who understands young men and does not expect to find wings growing on the average young man's back. He does, however, intend, per medium of the guild of good fellowship to rouse the young men of Peterborough to a sense of the duty they owe to themselves both in the present as well as in the future. Mr. M. Pappas, proprietor of the Princess theater, has very kindly given that place of amusement gratis, every Sunday afternoon to the Guild. From 3 to 4 in the afternoon a bright meeting will be held, with short addresses. Mr. Carpenter hopes in the near future to have an orchestra at these meetings, and welcomes any young men who can play musical instruments to be present and help the cause.

Big Socialistic Rally.

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Oct. 1.—Socialist candidates for office on the State tickets in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey addressed a monster Socialist mass meeting in the Union Square plaza this afternoon. The rally was preceded by a 15-mile parade of the Socialist organizations of Greater New York.

PERFECTLY MOULDED FIGURES.

Another Medical Discovery.

To get out of condition is detrimental to beauty of form as well as to health. There is a certain flabbiness which robs a good figure of charm and grace. Those who are beginning to grow fat rapidly are never in the pink of condition.

But here medical science has slipped in with a very wonderful remedy —one which not only restores a perfectly moulded form but renews health and strength. We give the recipe in full for the benefit of our stoutish friends; ½ oz. Marmolu, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 4½ oz. Peppermint Water.

Any druggist will make up this prescription, or supply you with the ingredients which you can mix yourself. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

The great virtue of this harmless remedy is that whilst the excess fat is being expelled, the person under treatment has a healthy appetite and does not need to study dieties or go in for tiresome exercises. The whole system is "refreshed" and reinvigorated, the blood renewed and muscular development restored.

Pennsylvania City 100 Years Old.

(Special to The Times.)

Washington, Pa., Oct. 1.—Elaborate preparations for Washington's centennial celebration were completed today. The celebration will begin tomorrow with anniversary services in all the churches. Parades, historical exercises and other interesting features will carry the program through the entire week.

Miss Denison's Class Wins Out.

Miss Denison's Bible Class at St. John's church yesterday afternoon did good work for the chimes fund. By the sale of the various commodities offered more than $25 was raised by 6 p.m., and probably as much more in the evening.

WORLD'S SERIES MAY START OCT. 15

MEETING OF NATIONAL COMMISSION NEXT MONDAY, WHEN THIS MATTER WILL BE SETTLED.

All Star Team Selected—Will Play Athletics a Series of Five Games While Waiting for the Cubs to Get Through.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—The world's series between the Cubs and the Athletics may start on October 15, according to an announcement made by Secretary Robert McRoy of the American League. That is, however, of President Murphy of the Chicago Cubs, will wind up the season with St. Louis on October 13, as he stated yesterday was possible. Otherwise the series will not start until October 17. A meeting of the National Commission will probably be held Monday, when the matter will be settled.

Mr. McRoy's visit here was to sign up Outfielder Speaker and First Baseman Stahl, of Boston, as members of the All-Star American League team, which will meet the Athletics in a five-game series, starting Oct. 10.

This series will be played, providing the world's series does not start until the 17th. McRoy announced the full line-up of the team as follows: Ainsmith and Street of Washington, catcher; Stahl, Boston, first base; Elberfeld, Washington, second base; McBride, Washington, shortstop; Lord, Chicago, third base; Speaker, Boston, Milan, Washington, and Cobb, Detroit, outfielders; and Johnston, Washington, White and Walsh, Chicago, pitchers. All of these players have now been signed up but Walsh and Cobb, and these are expected to sign tomorrow. No Cleveland or New York players were selected, as those two teams will participate in post season games.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used, except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Halls Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the nerves headache—"I took your New Nervous Treatment for a serious blood disease with which, I had consulted other treating years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood purifiers, visited Hot Springs and other noted resorts, but my remedy, the Nervous Treatment, was the only thing that did me any good. I had given up, by advice of physicians, all hope of ever being cured, and was taking the Nervous Treatment simply to relieve the pain. I had already taken 3 bottles when I noticed a change for the better. I continued the treatment and after taking 6 bottles I was entirely cured. I have gained in weight, and now feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am a married man, and have a family of children, and I feel that I owe my present health and happiness entirely to your New Nervous Treatment. FOOTBALL SEASON.

Almost as instinctively as the rook flies to the cedars in autumn the mind of youth turns to football when the first frost appears and the leaves begin to curl in the hollows. There are certain old familiar phases of life that accompany the season's and the husking bee, corn roast, pumpkin pie eating, and football are among those that attach themselves to October.

One of the fascinations of life at such seats of learning as Columbia, Harvard, Yale, and at our own large universities such as McGill, Toronto and Queen's is the color that comes with the chill day and the tinted tree. The crispness of the air, the tone of the colored suits on players the resonnance of the voice and the exhilaration of a smart game all lend a strongly inviting aspect to campers and college hall.

To the young boy also who has learned at eight years to kick boxes, tin cans and croquet balls till the toes are out of his shoes, the opportunity of lifting a football high into the air is beyond resistance. Already on the outskirts of our own city, where vacant lots lie, boys are gathering "after four" and engaging in exciting games. On the school lawns also they are enjoying themselves with a zest that gives them a stronger physique and a clearer mind when they return to their studies.

Football is an old and honored sport. It is one of Canada's cleanest and best games, except where Rugby is engaged in to an unlicensed degree. The youth who plays it is better prepared to battle with the world's problems when he meets them than as though he were never to win a victory on the field. A good time to all the boys who play it and if we happen along when there is a game on we too may try to "kick a goal."

THE FINGER PRINT SYSTEM.

The Yellow Plague Must Be Kept Out at Any Cost.

We are indebted the manager of the Algoma Steam Laundry Company of Fort William, Ont., for a copy of the Morning Herald, containing a despatch from Vancouver, B.C. stating that difficulties in connection with regulating Chinese immigration into Canada via Vancouver as evidenced by the holding of 35 immigrants who recently came on the Empress of China on the charge that they were using fraudulent passports are not beyond solution. It is proposed that by the introduction of the fingerprint system of identification the problem of identifying immigrants, persons for whom passports were originally issued in China, will be made easy.

Whether or not the department has any intention of adopting this principle is not stated but Edward Foster, the Dominion Police Officer, who is in Vancouver working on the case, is himself a fingerprint expert, and this gives some force to the report that he is developing a plan to make the work of the department easier. The fingerprint system of identification of Orientals is used successfully in South Africa and other countries to which East Indians and Chinese immigrate. At the present when suspicion of fraud arises it is practically impossible to get at the facts of the case as witnesses would have to be brought from China at great expense. The only reason ascribed for the suspicion of the Controller of Chinese immigration is that he understood the instructions of the department at Ottawa. It was owing to this misunderstanding that he reinstated Yip On, the Customs Chinese interpreter."

The Laundryman is pleased to note that the authorities are at last becoming wise to the yellow plague danger and are taking steps to protect the people. The head tax will no doubt be increased to $1000 at this will be a body blow to Chinese immigration.

Band Concert at Armory.

The first concert given by the 57th Regiment Band in the armories last night was an unqualified success in every way. Several thousand citizens were in attendance. Seating capacity had been provided for an immense crowd but was inadequate for the number who were present. Miss Lavina Hallihan gave a number of vocal selections that were received with great applause. The program given by the band, especially the medley, described in Thursday's issue of The Times was well received. A silver collection taken at the door must have realized a good sum.

Miss Hallihan is Honored.

That Miss Lavica Hallihan is held in high esteem throughout the city is known. That she is equally esteemed by the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, was evidenced when the members of that organization met in the rooms of St. Peter's T.A.S. and honored the talented local vocalist, Miss Josephine Delaire, on behalf of the choir and friends, read an address, and Miss Maggie Doherty made the presentation of a purse of gold, the amount of which was one hundred dollars. Miss Hallihan leaves shortly for New York, where she will take up vocal studies, with a view of attaining that high position, which her host of Peterborough friends wish for, and feel that she will meet with success.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

He quite anticipated it so he told the Witness man as he sat in one of the boxes talking to Senator Beith of Bowmanville.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable.

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

CANADA'S TRADE RAPIDLY GROWING

INCREASE OF 46 MILLION DOLLARS RECORDED FOR THE LAST FIVE MONTHS.

Imports are Very Heavy—The Exports Only Went Up by Six Millions—A Decrease Last Month.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Canada's trade is increasing at the rate of over one hundred million dollars per year, or nearly twenty per cent. in advance of last year's record.

The figures of the Dominion trade for the first five months of the current fiscal year, issued yesterday, show a total trade of $395,817,781, an increase of $46,629,446 over the corresponding period of last year. For the month of August the trade totalled $63,167,521, an increase of $7,310,490.

Imports for the five months totalled $184,662,965, a comparative increase of $41,644,972. August imports totalled $36,601,690, an increase of $6,066,335 over August of last year.

Exports of domestic products for the five months totalled $163,414,496, an increase of $6,478,571. Domestic exports for the last month totalled $28,661,918, which is a falling off of a little over a million as compared with last year.

NEARLY A HUNDRED.

Death of Mrs. John Finlay at Venerable Age.

At the venerable age of ninety-five years, on Saturday morning Mrs Letitia Finlay, relict of the late John Finlay, passed away at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Malcolm Kidd. Death was due to a paralytic stroke sustained about a week ago. The late Mrs. Finlay was born in County Ulster, Ireland, and came to Peterborough in 1833. Later on she moved to Dummer township, returning to Peterborough where she has lived continuously for the past thirty-six years. In 1846 she was married to the late Mr. John Finlay, whose first wife died some years previous. She proved to be a kind and affectionate mother of the six children of Mr. Finlay. Their names are; William, of Rapid City, Man.; John, ex-M.P., of Norwood; Thomas E., of Lucknow, Ont.; Mrs. J. Clysdale, of Lakefield; Mrs. Robert Harrison, Water street, city, and Mrs. George Elliott, Norwood.

There were three children by her marriage. They are Mrs. James A. Bell, Smith Township; the late Mrs. J. C. Turnbull, and Mrs. Malcolm Kidd, with whom she was residing at the time of her death.

The deceased was a Baptist in religion, and the funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Service will be conducted at the house by Rev. J. R. Webb, before proceeding to Little Lake cemetery for interment.

New Guild Does Good Work.

Great interest seems to have been created by Rev. Mr. Carpenter's new guild, in connection with St. John's Church, whereby the recently appointed Curate, not only hopes, but we might say, intends to get young men interested in moral and religious ideas. The attendance at the Princess Theatre yesterday afternoon is a sufficient proof that the Rev. Mr. Carpenter's ideas are going to bear good fruit.

ELECTRIC ROAD FROM PORT HOPE TO HERE.

(Lindsay Warder.)

Mayor Jas. B. Begg has received a communication from Mr. A. E. Honeywell of Ottawa, re the Toronto and Eastern Railway, a branch of which will enter the town of Lindsay from Oshawa. A map of the proposed route for the main line from Toronto to Cobourg, which follows the lake shore, is enclosed. It also shows branch lines running northerly from Port Hope to Peterborough, and from Oshawa to Lindsay. The first-mentioned branch line will pass through the township of Hope northeasterly to Northumberland township and South Monaghan, crossing the Otonabee river and passing on through Otonabee township to Peterborough.

The branch line from Oshawa to Lindsay traverses northeasterly through the township of Darlington, Cartwright and Ops, and enters the town of Lindsay along the Scugog river, Lindsay being the end of the branch.

Application has been made to the minister of railways and canals for the approval of this route and the matter will come up at Ottawa on Tuesday, October 4.

This is a very important matter for Lindsay, and the council will no doubt discuss the matter at the meeting on Monday night. It deserves careful attention and much thought.

Don't trifle with a cold is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in case of a child. There is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds in children. For sale by all dealers.

MURDER OF FIVE

MAN CHARGED WITH KILLING WHOLE FAMILY.

One of the Most Mysterious Cases on Record—Is Attracting Wide Attention.

(Special to The Times.)

Decatur, Ala., Oct. 3.—The case of Bob Clemmons, who is charged with the murder of the Edmondson family will come up for its second trial today in the Morgan county court. The case is one of the most mysterious with which the courts of this county have ever had to deal with and the crime itself one of the most horrible in the criminal annals of Alabama.

The victims of the tragedy, which occurred more than a year ago, were Tom Edmondson, his aged mother, his wife and two children. The scene of the crime was the home of the Edmondson's at Woodland Mills, this county. The home and barn were burned and in their ruins were found parts of the remains of Edmondson's wife and two children, but not the slightest trace of Edmondson or his mother have ever been found, which fact has led to a supposition that Edmondson himself might have been the murderer and that he and his mother escaped alive.

On the other hand, strong circumstantial evidence pointed to Bob Clemons as the murderer. Immediately after the discovery of the crimes Clemmons was taken into custody and has been confined in jail ever since. At his first trial he was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for life. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court and that tribunal reversed the verdict and remanded the case for another trial.

Only one case was before the cadi at Saturday's police court. A drunk, $6.50.

Don't Think Coffee The Cause?

"There's a Reason" for

POSTUM

Made at the Pure Food Factories of Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ontario

THIRTY YEARS.
A Slave to Coffee.

Many persons do not realize that coffee drinking may become a powerful, enslaving habit.

They are not all aware that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which ought never be taken into the system except when prescribed by the doctor.

The coffee habit grows on most users and is more harmful to some than others. But a drug that acts upon the heart and nerves in the way caffeine does, is not without greater or less harm to all who drink coffee.

"For thirty years," writes a Washington housewife, "I have been a steady coffee drinker. I wasted it at every meal.

"But I would have sick headache most of the day, and often throw up my food. I really suffered awfully from coffee yet thought I never could stop it.

"Then I heard how good Postum was for such cases, and I began to use it. At first I did not care for Postum, I felt sleepy and had headache. I soon found that this was because of the hold coffee had on me, for in about three days after I quit coffee and began to use Postum the headache left me, had no more nervousness and palpitation. In about a week I felt like a new woman.

"I have used Postum three years, and when it is made according to directions (boiled 15 minutes) it is as pleasant as coffee and don't hurt anyone. I ought to know for I was bad off. Now I am well."

Three killed and thirteen injured, several fatally.
Thirty-one starters.

New York, Oct. 1.—With three dead almost a score injured, several mortally, the sixth Vanderbilt Cup race, that was run on Long Island today, piled up the most appalling list of casualities that has attended any similar event in the history of motor car racing in this country.

Belching fumes of gasoline, roaring like myriad rapid fire batteries, and primed by the most expert mechanicians, the greatest field of automobiles that ever started in a Vanderbilt Cup race catapulted away from the starting line at daybreak under the direction of Fred Wagner.

Early starts, made just as the sun begins to peep over the rim of the ocean, seem to be popular with motor racegoers, for long before there was a ray of light in the east, the big grandstand had begun to fill. It was unusual, too, for usually most of the grandstand contingent rumbles majestically upon the scene just as the first car comes snorting to the line. Not so this year.

THE CHORUS GIRL WAS THERE

Because there was no daylight start in 1909, society, the drama, the musical opera, and the myriad of chorus girls and friends seemed to think they owed it to the motor car as an institution to be on hand beforedawn, and celebrate with the chauffeur.

W. K. Vanderbilt, jr., was on hand early, receiving reports from his manager and staff, and kept moving around in front of the grandstand, alert and with a serious face. Spectral figures flitted around in the grandstand in the early uncertain light, while from every direction motor cars arrived.

An air of suppressed dread hovered over the great assemblage, with which the entire course was lined, two hundred thousand persons being on hand, as it was understood by those conversant with racing that the extraordinary large entry list was potent with possible accidents.

The police arrangements to guard the course proved inadequate after all, and driver after driver complained on stopping at the pits for repairs or supplies that at various points the crowd had overflowed into the road and could not be kept back. Joe. Dawson, driver of No. 25 Marmon, stopped on his fourteenth round, his nerves utterly unstrung, and tears coursing down his cheeks. At the time he was under the impression that he had struck one of the spectators at the Westbury turn. Later he was told that he had merely grazed a boy, inflicting no hurt if consequence, and resumed the contest in a more cheerful frame of mind.

There was not a cheer from the grand stand when the race finished, or while the three leaders were tearing around the course in the final dash. From every side there came reports of dead and dying, and for two hours the air had rung with the clang of ambulance bells.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP GUILD.

Rev. Charles Carpenter Opens First of Series of Meetings in Princess Theater.

Yesterday from three to four o'clock in the afternoon, the Guild of Good Fellowship was launched in Peterborough at the Princess Theater. Rev. Charles Carpenter, the new assistant at St. John's church, takes a great interest in young men and believes in bringing them into the church by common sense methods and arguments that appeals to youth. To get into touch with the young men, Mr. Carpenter formed a local branch of the guild of St. John's church and invited all young men to meet him at the Princess which was kindly placed at his disposal by the proprietor, Mr. M. Pappas. The first meeting held yesterday was addressed in a short speech by Mr. Carpenter, who took as his subject, "The Making of the Man." Judging by the very evident interest in the opening proceedings of the opening meeting, there is not only a wide field but a bright future for the Guild of Good Fellowship. The meeting was enlivened by music and well known hymns. It is Mr. Carpenter's intention to get some of the young men of musical ability to form an orchestra, so that the meetings of the guild will always be assured of good music.

Mr. Alexander Bertram, a former resident of Peterborough, was in the city yesterday on business.

THE C.P.R. WILL BUILD RIGHT AWAY

(Special to The Times.)

Orillia, Oct. 1.—It is understood that the C.P.R. will begin with the construction of the line from there to Lindsay at once, and that the Toronto Construction Company is likely to have the contract.

Over on the Hernitage property a 40-ton steam shovel is at work eating into the bank, while two "dinky" engines haul away train loads of earth in small dump cars and use it for filling in the right of way through the swamp. The work of making the cutting and filling in the right of way to Elgin street is expected to occupy about four weeks.

CELEBRATE JEWISH NEW YEAR 5671

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Oct. 3.—At sunset this evening the Jewish people of the United States, whose number is estimated at 2,000,000 and one-half of whom reside within the confines of Greater New York began the celebration of the Jewish New Year, known as Rosh Hashona, is most strictly observed of any in the Jewish calendar. The day is observed by reformed and orthodox alike, excepting that the former observe one and the latter two days. It is a season of rejoicing and many families become reunited during its celebration.

The Suppression Of Lord Kitchener

London Daily Mail: We must indeed be a fortunate people if we can dispense with the services of a man like Lord Kitchener.

Cincinnatus was ploughing his lonely furrow when a deputation from the senate informed him that he had been chosen dictator. We are told that he left the plough with regret and repaired to the battlefield where his countrymen were hard pressed. I wonder when the British nation will send a deputation to Lord Kitchener on the golf links. Hamburg.

Gorporations Loot Montreal While Her Press Sleeps

Montreal, Oct. 1.—The press of Montreal is only half aroused against the merger of the street railway and the electric interests, involving forty millions of water being added to an existing combined capital of thirty millions, and all this load is to be put on the public at eight per cent., more than these millions a year. The star is cynical and perhaps prepared to let the deal through if some minor concession is given the city. It was the acquiescence of the Star and the indifference of the French press that has allowed all the exploitation of the city up-to-date. The Patrie is making some fight this time, but all would hold up their hands for a compromise.

Premier Gouin's public utilities commission has done nothing so far though it could prevent the deal. The French press are strong on their rights of their people in the matter of race and religion, but as to their public rights they never fight to a finish. A city that showed so much religious fervor before all the world a month ago, is unable to make a big, clear protest against one of the worst cases of loot known to Canada. Where is Bourassa? Up in Essex Ontario, looking after the compatriots.

If Premier Gouin does not interfere in this deal it is good-bye to any restraint hereafter in the wholesale looting of the community.

The French press shout every day about the creed and race being invaded, when, as a matter of fact, there's nothing doing when the municipality is being held up by public highwaymen and a grievous tax is forever put on the necks of those same people, the press is weak and often compliant.

A RUSH FOR LAND.

Preparations are Being Made at Edson, Alta.—Will Not Begin Until Early in January, But It Will Be a Great One—Vanguard of a Host is Already well Prepared.

Edson, Alta., Sept. 11.—What gives indications of being one of the most hostorie land rushes in the annals of Canadian colonization is scheduled to start from early in January, when the new fifteen-foot wagon road to Sturgeon Lake, the gateway of the Grand Prairie and the Peace River country will be open for traffic. Already forty families comprising over a hundred men, women and children, the vanguard of a host that is hourly increasing and will probably reach several thousand souls before the great trek begins, are camped on the outskirts of Edson waiting the word to start.

A heterogeneous mass of household and farming utensils as varied as their make and marks as in the nationality of their owners, strew the roadside. Dakotans and Minnesotans, giving the lie to recent reports that Americans are returning to their old farms in the States; Manitobans and Albertans, hardly able to restrain themselves until the few remaining months go by; Russians and Germans have pitched their tents by the side of the road for the last rest before the landof promise is made.

Whole households are being moved. Women and children form no small part of the advancing army of colonists. Eight infants in arms are among the number. Horses, oxen and dogs are being taken along, and most of the settlers will be ready for work within a fortnight after they have selected their homesteads and made proper entry of them.

P. P. Home.

The annual meeting of the Board of Management of the Peterborough Protestant Home will be held on Tuesday, October 4th, at 3.30 p.m. The public are cordially invited to attend.

DELAYED NOT LOST.

Campaign at Y.M.C.A. Falls in Getting Five Hundred.

The long talked of campaign so well fought by the Peterborough Y. M.C.A. ended Saturday night, not in failure but in delay in securing the hoped for five hundred new members. The Y.M.C.A. secretary and members of the various committees worked like beavers trying to add the half thousand names, but at the close of the campaign Saturday night had only succeeded in adding three hundred and nine new members. The officers and members, judging by the general tone of conversation at the Saturday night meeting, although a little disappointed are by no means discouraged. It seemed to be the prevalent idea that the active interest awakened by the campaign will result in the full five hundred names being added within the next few weeks. There were quite a number of cases where men and boys, in good faith, and in all sincerity, expressed their intention of joining, but delayed doing so until the campaign had closed.

New York, Oct. 1.—Socialist candidates for office on the State tickets in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey addressed a monster Socialist mass meeting in the Union Square plaza this afternoon. The rally was preceded by a big parade of the Socialist organizations of Greater New York.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

32 Dead or Missing in Destruction of Los Angeles Times' Plant

SCORE OF LIVES LOST IN THE BIG FIRE—MANY INJURED WERE EMPLOYEES.

Manager Says It Was the Work of Enemies, While Police and Employees, say a Gas Explosion Was the Cause.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—Between fifteen and twenty-five men are believed to have been killed outright and more than a score are seriously injured in an explosion which wrecked the plant of the Los Angeles Times shortly after 1.30 a.m. today, and while the big edition of the paper was being run off.

The cause of the explosion, which was followed by a fire that completely destroyed the building and plant, is a mystery that will probably only be settled by a coroner's investigation. As a result of the desperate warfare which has for years been carried on between union labor and General Harrison Gray Otis, owner of the Times, friends of the latter are openly charging today that the building was dynamited by enemies of the paper.

Owing to the fact that twenty-five extra printers and several other extra men employed in the mechanical department were at work Friday night on the Sunday paper, considerable difficult was at first experienced in getting accurate figures as to the number of dead and injured.

The property loss is estimated at upwards of half a million dollars, but the publication of the Times will not be suspended. So bitter has been the feeling against the paper that the management, it developed today, has for many months kept a duplicate plant in a warehouse here to be used in just such an emergency.

A large part of the editorial force had knocked off work at the time the explosion occurred. Most of the dead were employed in the composing, stereotyping, and mailing rooms.

Immediately after the first explosion a sheet of flame seemed to envelop the entire building, sweeping upward through the four-storey structure. Before an alarm could bring the fire apparatus a series of sharp detonations shook the neighborhood for blocks.

PLACE FILLED WITH GAS.

Employes who had just left the building when the explosion occurred say that gas had been leaking somewhere in the building all evening, and that the smell of gas pervaded the whole structure. This had led the police to believe that gas caused the explosion.

Harry E. Andrews, managing editor of the Times gave out the following statement:

"The Times building was destroyed by dynamite this morning by the enemies of industrial freedom. The Times itself cannot be destroyed. It will soon be re-issued from its auxiliary plant, and will fight its battles to the last."

The horror of the loss of life and maiming of men precluded a further statement at this hour.

COMMISSIONERS HERE.

Royal Commission on Technical Education Met By Civic Officials.

The members of the Royal Commission on Technical Education arrived in the city Saturday night, and were met by Mayor Morrow, Messrs. L. M. Hayes, chairman of the local Board of Education, and Dr. McNulty, chairman of the Board of Health, who escorted them to the Oriental Hotel. The visit of the commission will include inspection of some of the more important schools and local industries, with a view to enquiring into the methods of work pursued in the various places. Enquiries are made of superintendents of the different industries as to how they respectively qualified for their positions.

FAILED TO RACE.

Mr. John Ball Forfeits in Proposed Race Against Time.

Quite a number of local sportsmen gathered at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon to settle the bet made on the 10th of last June between Mr. John Ball of Douro, and Mr. Timley, the well-known local horseman. It will be remembered on that day Mr. Ball bet $50 against $50 of Mr. Timley's, that the former would personally train and personally drive his own horse on the Driving Park track on or before October 1st, and do a mile in 2.41 or better. The money has since been banked awaiting the result of the wager, whilst the written agreement covering the conditions of the bet has been in the possession of Mr. A. T. Johnston, proprietor of the Windsor. Early Saturday afternoon many faces familiar at the race tracks of Ontario as well as others interested in sport began to arrive at the Driving Park. Eyes were eagerly turned to the large gate watching for Mr. Ball and his horse. As the hours sped by bets were offered at long odds that Mr. Ball would not show up with his steed, and some at larger odds, that if he did, he would not do the mile in .41. Those present waited until the sun began to sink behind the western horizon and then left for the city. The $100 was paid over to Mr. Timley.

Mr. Davey of Sydenham, Ont. has joined the local staff of the Bank of Commerce.

TO JAIL WITH THE COUNTY FATHERS

Constable William Bolton of Wentworth County is moving to commit the warden and county councillors for refusing to obey the court and build a house of refuge, but the hearing was postponed until October 7.

The court order was granted on March 16 last, but of fourteen councillors, only five have shown an inclination to comply, according to Bolton's material.

Constable Bolton would jail Warden French and Councillors Vance, Nicholson, Jones, Sparks, Gage, Pickard, Dyment and De Grow.

VANISHED ON MORN OF WEDDING DAY

GEORGE EDGAR CLARKE OF TORONTO, WAS TO HAVE BEEN MARRIED IN GUELPH.

Walked From His Hotel—And Dropped Completely From Sight—Left Overcoat and Grip in His Room.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—George Edgar Clarke, a wallpaper salesman at the T. Eaton Company, and until a few weeks ago manager of the wallpaper department of a Montreal store, left the Iroquois Hotel on Wednesday morning, and has not been seen since that time by family or friends.

Wednesday was to be his wedding day, and when he did not appear at the prospective bride's home in Guelph, his mother, whose home is also in Guelph, telephoned to a connection of Clarke's in Toronto.

"Edgar was to have been married here this morning, and he has not arrived," was the mother's message. Mrs. Clarke gave a Church street address, where she thought her son might be, but this house was found to be vacant.

GATHERING THE RICE.

Indians Around Rice Lake Make Good Money at This Season.

Keene, Oct. 1.—To the uninitiated the gathering of the rice harvest by the Indians from the Alderville reserve at Rice Lake cannot but prove most interesting. The rice area is small this year, but the crop is very good, and there is a great demand for seed. During the rice-harvesting season, nearly all the Indians, from the reserve camp on Sugar Island. Two Indians go in each canoe, and thresh the grain into their boats. Some of them claim to make from three to six dollars a day, working only the usual labor hours. Service on the Sabbath is conducted by the missionary, Rev. M. Jobkin in the open, with the Indian brass band taking part in the service. Then there is another big event, the annual rice harvest picnic, the menu consisting of wild duck, maskinonge and parched rice. A platform provides scope for dancing, and there is also an interesting program of athletic and water sports.

RIOTS IN GERMANY.

Furious fighting between police and strikers is reported from Berlin. Revolver shots were exchanged, and the police used their sabres recklessly, cutting down all who made the slightest remonstrance. The correspondent of the London Globe and others were attacked by the police while returning from the riot region. Hatter's agent had his finger laid bare to the bone. The police seemed to have lost their heads, and their violence looks like evidence of weakness and frenzy rather than of strength. Had such an exhibition taken place in the streets of London, it would surely have been heralded as an evidence of the decadence of the nation.

The military and feudal elements are strong in Germany, and account both largely for many unusual and impolitic acts that the people are suffering for. Military glory, ships of blood & navy as great as best of Great Britain demand and willing to pay out their hard earned money for that purpose. The riots show the people in a somewhat different light. The nation is weighed crushed under the weight of the expenditure for the great armaments, and there is growing discontent with the high taxation. Some months ago it was discovered that public opinion strongly favored the making of an arrangement with Great Britain to check the ruinous competition in shipbuilding.

There is a growing disposition on the part of workers in all countries to get together to combine for common interests, and to refuse to be used as food for powder in international wars, the chief gainers in which are army contractors and feudal leaders eager for military careers. The growth of the sentiment of common brotherhood in France and Germany has seriously alarmed those whose interest lies in perpetuating barbarism.

A DEAD ISSUE.

Reciprocity Thought to Have Been a Dead Issue Is Revived.

Toronto, Sept. 30. — Reciprocity thought to be dead has experienced a revival. The form has changed. Twenty years ago Canada was in a depressed condition, and reciprocity was put forward as a remedy, especially as a means of enlarging the market for Canadian farm products. The people of the United States were indifferent. Today the agitation is stronger in the United States than in Canada, and where it is favored in Canada it is quite as much with a view to freer buying as to freer selling. The opponents of free trade are alarmed, and are repeating some of the objections which did duty twenty years ago. The World bids us beware of a movement for annexation.

If we get involved with the United States and political trouble comes then some one will start up a movement to sidetrack their own disturbances by unifying the continent. There's a lot of stuff over there that could be set on fire by such an appeal if opportunity is presented. Mayor Gaynor knows in what condition New York City is in today.

We now purchase from the United States goods to the value of $180,000,000, more than half of our total imports of $300,000,000, while from Great Britain, our next largest source of supply, our imports are only $89,000,000. We have more than trebled our imports from the United States since 1896, yet there has been no decrease in annexation sentiment, but rather a decline. In American imports therefore there seems to lurk no political danger.

It may be contended that there would be a greater danger in increased exports to the United States — that we might feel somewhat more kindly towards our neighbors if they purchased more liberally in this market. But that is a matter beyond our control. Our neighbors can turn more of the trade southward by simply reducing their own tariff. In all probability their tariff will be reduced by legislation if not by treaty. And therefore instead of fighting against enlarged trade which the ground that our political

The Mail and Empire also regards the movement with a suspicious eye. It is not improbable that we shall awaken some morning to discover that the commercial unionists, although defeated when fighting in the open, have scored a victory at last and that a good slice of Canadian business has been handed over to our neighbors. Here we have the old protectionist idea that there is something dangerous and unpatriotic in trade with a foreign country. "A good slice of Canadian business," in our eyes as it were a slice of Canadian territory which our neighbor is anxious ready to devour.

The American movement for reciprocity is not the result of a sinister plot. It is easily explained. Our neighbors are feeling the pinch of high prices, and both parties recognize that the tariff must come down. But the restrictionist idea still lingers, that tariff reduction is a sacrifice or surrender, and that some concession must be obtained. It would be folly to give away "a good slice of American business" for nothing. Hence those who are afraid of unconditional tariff reduction advocate reciprocity as a compromise.

Capital Stock $600.000---Par Value $1.00

No Preferred Stock. Lease Runs 40 Years One-Sixth Royalty. No Bonus or Free Stock. All Stock in Treasury for Benefit of Holders. No Bonded Indebtedness Incorporated Under Laws of State of California.

166 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 20th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojo Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Comet, Central Crude, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Carroll, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and oil operator control ourselves in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.60 a barrel at well. Costs from 20c to 60c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUESSER, within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be withdrawn at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

SELL

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE."

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $30 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

The Rendall Steel Company's handsome 32 page catalogue giving full information mailed free on request.

Essex Falls, N.J., Oct. 1.—The wedding of Miss May A. Morgan, a popular society belle of New York, and Ensign Dallas C. Lazaire, U.S.N., will take place today in quaint St. Peter's Church here and will be followed by a reception at the country home of the bride's parents. Ensign Lazaire, whose home is in Fargo, N.D., is at present stationed on the battleship Michigan.

New York, Oct. 1.—Nearly all of the leading Eastern colleges have football competitions scheduled for to-day, but, as is customary in the early games of the season, the big teams meet weaker opponents, the matches being virtually practice games for the heavier contests later in the year. Among the contests scheduled are Pennsylvania and Gettysburg at Philadelphia, Harvard and Bowdoin at Cambridge, Dartmouth and Massachusetts State at Hanover, Rensselaer Polytechnic and Cornell at Ithaca, Brown and Norwich University at Providence, Vermont and the Army at West Point, and Syracuse and Yale at New Haven.

To Celebrate Centennial.

Circleville, O., Oct. 1.—The centennial of Pickaway County is to be celebrated here by a gala week beginning tomorrow, on much the general plan for an old home week, but with more elaborateness. For many months the citizens have been preparing for the event, and their efforts promise now to result in one of the most successful celebrations of its kind ever held in this part of the state. Wednesday will be the biggest day of the week, when Governor Harmon and Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for governor, are scheduled to speak.

Fall Racing at Churchill Downs.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1.—With the stables filled to overflowing and all signs pointing to a successful meeting, the new Louisville Jockey Club will open its autumn racing season at Churchill Downs today. The meeting will last nineteen days, during which time ten stakes will be decided. The pari-mutuel system of betting is to be used.

Pennsylvania City 100 Years Old.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 1.—Elaborate preparations for Washington's centennial celebration were completed today. The celebration will begin tomorrow with anniversary services in all the churches. Parades, historical exercises and other interesting features will carry the program through the entire week.

Bryan to Speak at Illinois Fair.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—The gates of the Illinois State Fair will be opened tomorrow to permit the visitors to listen to an address by William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Bryan will speak on a religious topic.

Public Cups Under the Ban.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 1.—The common drinking cup, which has held its position in all public places in Massachusetts for many years, is prohibited henceforth in this State in accordance with an act of the Legislature which became effective today.

A PECULIAR STORY.

Prisoner and Deputy Sheriff Both Ill used and the Latter Stripped.

St. Stephen, N.B., Sept. 30.—Deputy Sheriff S. B. Mills of this city arrested Roland Connick for debt. He started for the jail at St. Andrew's with his prisoner laste Tuesday night. Connick reached Oak Bay in a terribly dazed condition, showing signs of rough treatment and handcuffed. He could not tell where the deputy was nor what had happened.

Last night the deputy was found in a box car at a lonely point on the Shore Line Railway, minus all his clothing, and only partially conscious. He remembers nothing, but it is evident that he was also roughly handled.

Woodmen at Warsaw.

Yesterday evening three buslonds of the local Woodmen of the World returned from Warsaw. They had driven out to that village to unveil a monument they had erected there to the memory of a departed brother. The very impressive ceremony used in connection with the dedication of the monument was watched by nearly every resident of Warsaw, and will doubtless give the Woodmen a boost in the village and vicinity.

Game Laws are Broken.

A local fruit and fish dealer, speaking with a Times representative on Saturday morning, remarked in reply to a question. "Have you any fresh fish, "No, we can't sell fish in Peterborough. The Indians bring in so many bass and maskinonge that are sold at any old price that we can't afford to import and sell outside caught fish. Now this informant was in dead earnest, and his reply simply shows that the fish and game laws are being broken wholesale.

Fire From Spontaneous Combustion.

Yesterday a fire occurred on Dublin street, near the corner of Aylmer, that whilst doing no serious damage was extraordinary as regards its cause. It seems that the people at the house where the fire broke out had done their family washing on Saturday. On the kitchen floor yesterday sat a big basket full of clothes, brought in dry from the lines, but dampened ready for this morning's ironing. Smoke was seen arising from the basket and suddenly the contens broke into a blaze. The brigade was telephoned for. They responded promptly, and extinguished the flames with a Babcock. No damage, further than some badly scorched articles of apparel was done.

This is the Jewish New Year.

This is the Jewish New Year, a feast carefully celebrated by Hebrews in all parts of the world. The local Jewish community will observe the day by holding a meeting for prayer today in the Christian Science Hall on Aylmer street. These meetings have heretofore been held at the home of Mr. Bernard Lastar, Simcoe street, but the number of Jews here now has become so large that it necessitates the hiring of a hall. A rabbi from one of the Toronto synagogues will be present and conduct the service. On Thursday week the Jews will observe their day of atonement.

SAVE THE OLD HYMN.

Want to Do Away With "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

From Greenland's icy mountains,
From India's coral strand,
Where Africa's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand;
From many an ancient river,
From many a palmy plain,
They call us to deliver
Their land from error's chain.

New York, Sept. 29.—Protests from every section of the country against the recent action of the Mission Hymnal Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which ordered that the famous missionary hymn "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" be eliminated from the revised hymnal, will be presented before the Episcopal General Convention, which convenes at Cincinnati, Ohio, on October 5th next. The fight to save the hymn which has been sung for ninety-one years by missionaries in all parts of the world promises to be a stubborn and bitter one.

It is on the ground that the hymn tends to inspire the Christian sentiment with the beauties of nature rather than the allness of God that the Hymnal Commission recommends that it be removed from the revised song book.

Among the other hymns that the commission reported have outlived their usefulness are: "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord," "O Love Divine That Stooped to Share," "Our Blest Redeemer, E'er He Breathed," "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," and "Thou Hidden Love of God."

Within the ranks of the Episcopal Church the action of the Hymnal Commission has met with protest that has found its way into the columns of the Churchman, one of the church periodicals. The following letter, characteristic of others that have been printed, is from the current number:

"Sir,—It is reported that there has been a rejection of the dear old hymn "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" by a committee on a new Episcopal Missionary Hymnal, because of its personifications of nature. The hymn which has been wafted over the earth, was written for a missionary service before Bishop Heber went to India, at the request of his father-in-law, Dean Shirley, of St. Asaph's, on a Saturday before the service mentioned.

"If appeals to nature to worship God are improper, what of the glad Benedicite, where the Lord's works, waters, sun, moon, winds, winter and summer, mountains and hills, seas and floods, fowls and cattle, are appealed to bless the Lord?

"The thirteenth verse of the sixty-fifth Psalm represents the valleys, covered with grains, as shouting and singing, and the twelfth verse the hills are rejoicing. In the sixty-ninth Psalm the seas and the moving things in them are adjured to praise the Lord.

"Good Bishop Heber had divine precedent for his sacred imagery."

Canada's Boundless Resources.

A party of agricultural editors who recently made a trip through Western Canada, were so impressed with what they saw that they are writing columns of favorable articles in connection with the resources of that part of the country.

The American Agriculturist of New York, under date Sept. 3rd, 1910, has the following to say:—

Great is Canada West; great are the actualities of that vast stretch of prairie provinces in grain production, and great the possibilities in animal husbandry. Well may the United States look with wholesome respect upon the rapid development of that new country which is only in the beginning of its realization of strength and innate forcefulness, in production, in manufacturing, in commerce.

Well may the farmers of our own country note the taking form of a competition in grain growing right now, that is of no mean proportions. Yet there is nothing new in all this, if one goes back in history but a scant half dozen years. Then, no cereal production worth considering; now a hundred million dollars worth now a hundred million bushels of wheat a year, and this capable of untold expansion—for scarcely 5 per cent. of Western Canada is yet under the plow. These are the impelling thoughts occasioned by an editorial journey in August, covering some 3000 miles over the three great railway systems of Canada. These are stretching their longer fingers of steel through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The high lights are many. Space forbids at the moment, touching but a few, and these the merest mention. The crops are not as large as last year, owing to some unexpected drouth, yet generous, in wheat, oats, barley and flax. Railway expansion is rapid, and of the very best possible character, looking toward a further vigorous campaign of developing the land. Homesteads, the gift of the Dominion Government, are now very largely exhausted, unless one goes back into the country many miles from a railroad. Canadians want lower tariff on farm machinery. Incoming settlers include thousands of our own best men from Wisconsin and Iowa westward. The recent report of large numbers of dissatisfied American farmers leaving Canada and returning to "the States" is a canard, according to United States Consul Jones, stationed at Winnipeg. On the contrary the many erstwhile Americans met by American Agriculturist's editorial representatives were enthusiastic boosters for their new home.

These are absolute facts. It is just as well for our people to know them. Western Canada is developing along the very best of lines. The pity is, that these two grand countries should be forever politically divided by the 49th parallel of latitude. One lesson for our farmers is to practice better agriculture and get more bushels of wheat from an acre; and in some of the states in our own northwest to further develop the life stock end of farming. Great is Canada; great also is Uncle Sam.

Forty-One Sailors Drowned While Returning to Their Ship

New York, Oct. 3.—The death list in the battleship New Hampshire disaster, when a boatload of sailors, returning to the ship from shore leave, foundered off One Hundred and Fifty-seventh streets, in the North River Saturday night, was swelled today by a report that seven bodies had been picked up and taken aboard the U.S. hospital ship, Solace, making thirty-six known dead and five still missing.

All night long and throughout the morning fleet and police patrol boats used every method in the attempt to locate other dead bodies in the Hudson River. Twenty-nine bodies were recovered and it was ascertained by checking off the names of the sailors on the battleship New Hampshire that twelve were still missing.

SEARCH FOR THE MISSING.

In hope that the twelve had overstayed their shore leave, detachments of sailors went ashore in the attempt to round up some of themissing men Early reports were that the searchers' efforts had been futile and the gloom deepened on the fleet.

The searchlights of the battleships in the river flashed through the hours of the night, marking the path for police and battleship patrols in their quest for the dead. Heavy nets and grappling hooks were used and other boats were stationed off the Statue of Liberty and Governor's Island in case the tide carried the bodies out of the river and into the of theriver and into the bay.

MANY WEEPING MOTHERS.

Friends and relatives of the dead and missing, whose place of residence was near enough to New York to enable them to arrive here since Saturday night, thronged the New Hampshire today. Captain T. S. Rodgers, commandant of the battleship, was bombarded with pleas from weeping mothers, sisters and sweethearts.

The board of inquiry appointed by the second division of the Atlantic Rear Admiral Vreeland, commanding fleet, to which the New Hampshire was attached, continued its work of probing the disaster today.

Autrocious Black Hand Outrage at Pellaro

Rome, Oct. 1.—What is apparently an atrocious "Black Hand" outrage has been committed at Pellaro, a town of the Italian Province of Calabria. In the early hours of the morning, recently the inhabitants were aroused by the piercing shrieks of a child. Many people rushed out of their houses half-dressed, and found a girl, aged five, lying on the ground near a hut bleeding freely from a deep wound in the neck, inflicted with a hatchet, and such violence had been used that the head was almost severed.

The girl was recognized as the daughter of a forest keeper named Rovolino, who lived in a hut near by The door of the hut was opened, and Rovolino, his wife and five other children were all found murdered. Their bodies were covered with wounds inflicted with a hatchet. The youngest child, a baby of four months, had its head cut in two. Rovolino was fully dressed, with the exception of one boot, which he had evidently just taken off. His loaded rifle was placed across a chair beside him.

The police have ascertained that Rovolino returned home at 2 o'clock in the morning and found the murderers hidden in the house. He was struck down from behind while undressing. The surviving child was taken to a hospital, where she died without recovering consciousness.

This appalling crime is attributed to a "Black Hand" vendetta, as similar murderers quite unprecedented in Pellaro, where the inhabitants, though poor, are peaceful.

The police have ascertained that the murder was committed by four masked men, who, at midnight, were seen prowling around Rovolino's hut. Two of the assassins were armed with daggers. The crime has thus been reconstructed: The murderers entered the hut and hid behind the door. They awaited Rovolino's return home, and fell upon him and killed him while he was undressing. They then killed his wife and five children, who were asleep. The carnage was probably swift, and it is likely that the victims did not awake. The sixth child woke up, jumped out of bed, and finding the door open, escaped, but was followed by one of the murderers, who struck her with which awakened the neighbors. a hatchet. It was her death shriek Rovolino was a peaceful, law-abiding man and, as far as is known, had no enemies. He had spent some time in America, where he saved money, and returned to his native village a couple of years ago.

COMMISSIONERS BUSY.

Royal Commission on Technical Education Take in the Local Sights.

The Royal Commission on Technical Education, whose arrival in Peterborough was described in yesterday's issue of The Times, spent yesterday morning in visiting the Canadian General Electric Works, the Quaker Oats Company and other factories, and also some of the schools. During the afternoon a session was held in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute for the purpose of hearing evidence in regard to the requirements of Peterborough from the standpoint of technical education. For this purpose the leading manufacturers of the city as well as the educational authorities were present to present their opinions.

The taking of evidence was continued during the evening when another session was held in the Assembly Hall, commencing at eight o'clock. Representatives of the labor men were given a careful hearing. The meetings, open to the public, were fairly well attended.

MRS. (DR.) O'SULLIVAN DEAD.

Death of Well-Known Local and Philanthropic Lady.

The many friends of Mrs. (Dr.) O'Sullivan, will regret, with utmost sincerity to learn of this universally esteemed lady's death last night. The late Mrs. O'Sullivan, whose residence on George street, between London and McDonnell streets, was a Peterborough landmark for many years, was a daughter of the late Mr. M. F. Flannigan, city clerk of Kingston. The death of Mrs. O'Sullivan, whilst bringing grief to her many friends, was not altogether er unexpected, as she has suffered for some time from carcinoma. Mrs. O'Sullivan was always noted for her Christian philanthropy and charity. She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Miss Marion, her husband having predeceased her by some years.

The funeral arrangements were not available at time of going to press.

A STRIKING INCIDENT.

Showing How Bitter Enmity Aroused by German-France War Still Remains.

Paris, Oct. 3.—A striking incident showing how the bitter enmity aroused by the Franco-German war still remains, occurred at Metz recently while the annual ceremonial was being held in honor of the French soldiers who were killed there in 1870.

Afternoon in the cathedral an immense procession made its way to the cemetery to place flowers on the graves of the French soldiers. The crowd marched to the graves in perfect silence, and a number of bouquets and wreaths tied with colors of the town of Metz and with the colors of Lorraine, were laid at the foot of the mounment.

A group of ladies carried an immense wreath with a large bow of red, white and blue ribbon, and Mlle. Aubertine, an old woman of eighty-four, who was a nurse in Metz during the siege, laid the wreath at the foot of the monument with the other flowers.

At this moment the captain of the 8th Regiment of Bavarian Infantry, who represented the German military authorities, interfered and insisted on the removal of the French colors. The bearer of the wreath being obliged to comply, untied the bow and removed the blue ribbon, leaving the flowers tied with white and red only, the colors of Lorraine.

No such incident has ever occurred before, and great indignation was felt and expressed in Paris when the news became known.

St. Paving Again Agitates City Council

A Public Meeting to Discuss This Question will be Called within Two Week's Time Ald. Bradburn Has the Courage of His Convictions

At last night's council meeting his worship again raised the question of street paving, which he asked his colleagues to definitely pronounce He offered that a resolution might be passed to the effect that any street petitioned for will be paved on a 60 and 40 per cent. basis, the principle upon which sidewalks are paid for. This basis was the committee's recommendation based on a priming, as Ald. Turner puts it, acquired by them in other cities.

Many resolutions and amendments, and amendments to the amendments, were here the order of the night, until everyone concerned grew quite bewildered. However, out of the haze of conflicting opinions and suggestions there finally emerged the following tanbible offerings:

Ald. Buller thought a public meeting should be called to discuss this question—any old time next year would do. The public had petitioned against the measure.

Ald. Phelan favored the public meeting suggested, but let it be soon.

Ald. Turner thought the right policy to pursue would be to clear the poles off the streets first, have all connections made and the streets double tracked — then talk about street paving.

Ald. Bradburn believed in street paving as an economic measure; he would not object to a straight front age tax, providing those paying the same were relieved of street maintenance amusement.—"Pave Lewis street and I'll pay the whole cost—extended over 50 years,——" he urged.

Ald. Morgan would vote for street paving on a straight frontage tax.

Ald. Hicks thought a 60 and 40 per cent. basis the most equable manner of paying for such work.

Ald. Bradburn said, "Pave Lewis street and I'll pay for it either on a straight frontage tax, or on a 60 and 40 per cent. basis."

Ald. Duffus wanted the council to get busy and push this matter through on business principles—Don't be catering to every individual opinion you hear.

Most of the aldermen agreed that the work once undertaken would be approved of by the ratepayers.

Ald. Buller moved, seconded by Ald. Pheland.—That a public meeting be called by the mayor within two weeks to discuss this question with the ratepayers.—Carried.

Ald. Turner suggested that the committee attend fully primed with data collected by them while on their tour of inspection of street pavements.

Important Issues to Be Decided.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 4.—An unusually large number of appeals are on the docket of the Supreme Court for hearing at the autumn session which begins today. Involved in the various cases appealed from Provincial courts are a number of important questions, such as the jurisdict on over the fisheries, the right of the Dominion to legislate upon insurance and the dispute as to the Federal and Provincial rights regarding company incorporations.

To Drill in Peterboro' for Natural Gas

The Lundy Shovel and Tool Company Seek Street Franchise—City Council Wade Through Considerable Business.

The city fathers met in regular monthly session last night. There were present: Mayor Morrow, and Aldermen Hicks, Duncan, Morgan, Buller, Bradburn, Gillespie, Metheral, Graham, Batten, Phelan and Duffus.

The Peterborough Poultry Association asked for a grant in aid of their poultry show next January. —Referred to the Finance Committee.

NATURAL GAS.

The Lundy Shovel and Tool Company asked for a franchise of the streets, on which to lay piping for the transmission of natural gas for domestic and manufacturing purposes —Referred to the Manufacturers' Committee.

Subsequently Ald. Gillespie introduced a proposed agreement with an American syndicate who are seeking street privileges for the conveyance of natural gas.

Ald. Buller—"We have a local syndicate in the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company, about to drill for natural gas, then why consider entering into an agreement for a street franchise with an American firm? Patronize local industry."

The American people's proposed agreement was referred back to the Manufacturers' Committee, and it is safe to say the franchise will go to the Shovel and Tool syndicate.

OTHER COMMUNICATIONS.

The Board of Health recommended a sewer from Smith street to Benson street.—Referred to the Board of Works.

Mary McFadden's application for the position of assistant in the Public Library, was referred to the Property Committee.

Wm. Scott and others petitioned that the two lots at the corner of Hunter and Mark streets be purchased for Park purposes for Ashburnham.—Referred to the Special Park Committee.

R. N. Scott of Smith, claims $25 damages accruing from his threshing engine breaking through the bridge over the creek in Ashburnham a month ago.—Referred to the Legal Committee.

THE ROLL.

The following is the statement of the assessment roll, ending September 30th, 1910, as submitted by Tax Collector W. J. Green:—

To total amt. of roll		$210,191.28
By total amt. deposited	156,316.04
		53,875.24
Less 2 p.c. discount on first instgallment		3,158.62
... ...		51,763.52
Amt. rec'd and deposited in September		1,046.90

ARREARS OF TAXES.

Mr. Kidd of the Customs House, complained that he is threatened by the solicitor with suit for arrears of taxes—1907x1908—on a lane in rear of his premises on Wescott street. He has yet to learn for what thislane is assessed, not having received an assessment schedule for the same.—This was referred to the Finance Committee.

BRAUND'S NEW STORE.

R. C. Braund asked that the building bylaw be so amended as to permit of his building across theereek on Charlotte street. Mr. Braund explained that it would be impossible for him to erect a solid rear and front brick walls across the street without obstructing the flow of water. He also asked concessions regard ing the regulation brick partition walls.

The bylaw was amended to permit of Mr. Braund's new store being erected as follows: The east and west walls to be of brick 14 inches thick, the center walls of lath andplaster only; the concrete superstructure to be spanned by steel girders. The frontage will be mainly of plate glass, while the rear wall is to be covered by asbestos and sheet steel. Metal lath is to be used.

Themayor thought it a mistake that Mr. Braund should be permitted to erect this building of a width of 54 feet, with but the two extreme side walls of brick. This store will span the creek a distance of 30 feet, and his worship conceded that it would be impossible to erect any solid brick partition wall there from the ground up. But within the remaining 24 feet, which are to be divided into two stores, he submitted thath brick partition wall should be enforced. It was a mistake, he urged that a building 54 feet wide, with no brick partitions between the three stores included, should be erected within the fire limits. Afire in one store will gut the whole building, which is not fair, to say the least, to tenants. Besides an undesirable precédent is being established.

However, the building bylaw was amended to meet Mr. Braund's requirements, as specified above, although the metal lathing provision was added after his worship's objection had been recorded.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Ald. Bradburn submitted the finance report as follows:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That $20 be paid to Mrs. J. H. Gardiner on account oftheauctioneer's license fee paid by the late J. H. Gardiner, upon the license being returned at once for cancellation.

2. That the salary of W. J. Green, collector of taxes, be increased by $100, todate from October 1st, 1910.

3. Recommending payment of a number of accounts.

4. That the annual grant of $150 to the Salvation Army Band be paid.

The report was adopted.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Hicks submitted the report of this committee, the full text of which hasalready been published.

MANUFACTURERS' REPORT.

Ald. Gillespie submitted the report of the Manufacturers' Committee, the month's work of which has already become public property through these columns.

Clause 3, however, was held in abeyance, pending a settlement between B. F. Ackerman and Dr. Morrow. This clause reads as follows:

That the city solicitor be authorized to consent to an order from the Board of Railway Commissioners permitting a siding to be constructed by the Canadian Pacific Railway across Dalhousie street to the factory of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co., on the usual terms.

When the committee acquiesced in the construction of this siding it was understood that B. F. Ackerman & Co., were to arrange for purchasing Dr. Morrow's property, which may be considerably damaged by the siding. This has apparently not been done yet, hence the side-tracking of the clause in question for the time being in justice to Dr. Morrow.

WHISTLING OF LOCOMOTIVES.

The Legal Committee's recommendation that a bylaw to prohibit the whistling of locomotives within the city limits be prepared, raised considerable discussion. The majority if the aldermen favored a reasonable amount of whistling in protection of the public; and on motion of Aldermen Buller and Batten, the Grand Trunk's general superintendent will be asked to have the whistling of his line's locomotives within Peterborough's city limits modified as much as possible.

BYLAWS.

Bylaws to authorize the construction of sewers and concrete walks passed its several readings.

A bylaw increasing the salary of Tax Collector Green by $100 a year, passed its several readings.

The increased salary to start from October 10th.

Aldermen Duncan and Buller thought it time to call a halt in the way of increasing salaries.

Ald. Bradburn explained that after paying his help, Mr. Green has but $850 left, which he did not consider sufficient for a man who collects $202,000 of the city's revenue.

Ald. Phelan supported Ald. Bradburn, and offered an eulogy of Mr. Green, who had collected $50,000 more taxes this year than was customary.

LIBRARY BOARD.

A bylaw appointing Messrs E. H. D. Hall, H.K.H. Kenner and David Spence, the council's members of the new public library board, passed muster. One to retire each year. These gentlemen's term of office will expire as follows: Mr. Hall on February, 1911; Mr. Kenner, February, 1912, and Mr. Spence on February, 1913. The council intend that Mr. E. H. D. Hall shall be reappointed next February, when his short term will expire.

The Public and Separate school boards will be asked to appoint their members to the new library board.

LIBRARY OFFICIALS.

Ald. Duncan moved,—That the applications received for janitor and librarian be handed over to the new board at its first regular meeting.

ASSESSORS' PAY.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan,—That the city treasurer be instructed to issue to each of the assessors a cheque for $200. —Carried.

FIXED ASSESSMENT.

A bylaw granting the Peterborough Look Manufacturing Company fixed assessment of $25,000 for ten years, was passed. The company are to employ an average of 100 hands the year round.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the Manufacturers' Committee take up with Mr. Larmonth, the matter of street railway extension.—Carried.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie,—That Ald. Turner be granted two months' leave of absence.—Carried.

DR. FRED COOK FLED TO TORONTO

ARCTIC EXPLORER SAYS HE CAME HERE WHEN HE DISAPPEARED FROM NEW YORK.

Has Been in London, England—Heard Peary Lecture There, and Was in Proximity to His Rival.

London, Oct. 3.—If Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, is in London, as recent cables to the United States declare him to be, he is doing an admirable job of self-effacement. All London has been on the lookout for Cook since the announcement of his hiding in this city has been made, but his retreat has not yet been penetrated.

Every man with a Vandyke beard, flowing moustache, and low-brushed hair, the make-up now affected by Dr. Cook, is being stopped by amateur and professional Sherlock Holmes and questioned as to whether he is the man who said he found the NorthPole. But all to no avail.

No attic has been too squalid nor cellar nor sub-cellar too dark and dank for the investigators, but the quarry is still undisclosed.

A report that Cook has slipped away to Copenhagen to spend a few days with his old friend, the King of Denmark, is unconfirmed.

Dr. Cook, in an alleged interview, said he left New York, Nov. 25th, 1909, the time of his disappearance, for Toronto, thence to Halifax, thence to Liverpool, thence to Gibraltar, then to Tangier, Morocco, then to Portugal, and from Lisbon to Buenos Ayres; then around the Horn to Valparaiso, Chili; then across the South American continent by horseback and stage over the lordly Andes mountains and back to Buenos Ayres, and from there to Liverpool and London. He has made his headquarters in the English capital since last May, taking occasional jaunts to the continent. Most of the time he has had his wife for companion. His children are in European schools.

$8,000 STOLEN FROM VANCOUVER BANK

WARRANT OUT FOR THE ARREST OF T. C. LUCKHURST, AN EMPLOYE OF THE BANK.

Bills, $50 and $100 Sizes—None of Them Have Been Passed Yet — Not Known How the Money Was Taken Away.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—The sum of $8,000 is missing from the Bank of Vancouver, and a warrant for the arrest of T. C. Luckhurst of that city has been sworn out.

All of theloral banks were notified of the affair today, and are keeping a look-out for any of the missing bills.

Just how the money was taken is a mystery. Whether the thief entered the premises at night or took it during the day has not yet been made certain.

Luckhurst, the alleged thief, was employed as a clerk in the bank, and had access to the teller's wicket during the day. He had been connected with different banks for a number of years, and held a responsible position. At the time he was taken into the employ of the bank, he was well recommended by his former employers.

The bills taken were all $50. and $100 ones. The bank, having only opened about six weeks ago, has a very limited number of their large bills in circulation. So far as is known none have yet been passed.

CABLES VS. DREADNOUGHTS.

When a meeting of the British Institute of Journalists was recently held in London, England, at which newspaper men and women from overseas were present, several subjects were discussed and among them that of the reduction of cable rates. In connection with the speeches on this topic Mr. Robert McMillan, of Sydney, said that if the British people, who spent £60,000,000 a year for defence were to put a few millions into the cable system they would be binding the Empire into one great united body. Then they would be one people in deed and in truth. But they left the cables to private enterprise and users had been charged 3s a word. If only someone would rise up and say that instead of Dreadnoughts next year they would give them a better cable service, it would be a magnificent thing. What they wanted was that the whole Empire would be bound round with electric cables that would make them one people with one flag and one theme.

Dreadnoughts at the present time are necessary. Britain must protect her territories, but so far as promoting imperial unity is concerned there is no more effective way than by developing the intercourse between Motherland and colonies, by letting the outposts of the Empire know what is going on at home.

Sentiment is stronger than the largest and most powerful battleship ever built.

LOSS OF REPRESENTATION.

Causing Uneasiness in the Maritime Provinces.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 3.—The great prospective loss of representation is causing uneasiness in the Maritime Provinces, and the three Provinces have decided to ask for such an amendment to the constitution as will secure them against further diminution. Some of the newspapers in the other provinces take the ground that there can be no departure from the principle of representation by population.

There is a possible mode of satisfying the Maritime Provinces without departing from that principle. This would be by changing the method by which the unit of representation is formed. At present it it is formed by dividing the number 65, the fixed representation of Quebec, into the population of that Province. Suppose, for example, the population of Quebec is 2,210,000, the unit is 34,000, and every other Province has as many members as it has units of 34,000; thus, if it had 340,000 people, it would be entitled to ten members. The consequence of this arrangement is that a Province may lose one or more members, not because it has fallen behind, but because it has not increased its population as rapidly as Quebec.

It would be possible to devise a plan under which no Province would lose representation unless it lost population. But in that case the representation of Quebec, instead of being fixed at 65, would increase to 70, 80, or whatever other figure corresponded to the increase in its population. In other words, instead of being fixed at 65, would increase to 70, 80, or whatever other figure corresponded to the increase of its population. In other words, instead of the Maritime Provinces going ahead the Maritime Provinces going behind, Quebec would go ahead.

Every great cause has its martyrs. Abraham Greenberg was fined $2 in New York the other day for thrashing his employer, Reuben Wisserman. Abraham's defence was: "First I'm a union man. The boss was working in the shop and he ain't a union man. He has no right to make pants." "But he's the boss," said the astonished magistrate: "he surely has a right to do work in his own shop." "No he hasn't," persisted Reuben—"not unless he belongs to the union." On this point the law sided with capital and Rube was fined for affirming too emphatically a principle in which he evidently believed steadfastly.

Spring Bugs.

Most of our readers are aware that "when the robins nest again" and "the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," or, in other words, the spring-time, toss, or any other city bordering on a river is invaded in the evenings, especially under the electric or gas lamps, by a kind of big flying water bug. The bug or beetle referred to is about two inches long by an inch wide, with long tentacted legs. The bug referred to looks somewhat like a cross between those unwelcome inhabitants of some family beds and a centipede born of a marriage between a saw-log and an elephant. Well, these spring visitors appeared at Central Park in large numbers at the band concert. One lady making towards the entrance to the armories saw one of these bugs lying upside down on the walkway and gathering her skirts in one hand, shoveyed onto the grass. Apart from all or any attempt at joking, this is possibly the first time in half a century that these water beetles have been seen in Peterboro during the Fall months.

MADE A RECORD

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—Ralph De Palma in a Fiat car Saturday lowered the world's automobile record for ten miles on a circular track, held by himself on the track of the Belmont Driving Club at Narbeth, near here. He covered the distance in 8.21 1-5. The former record was 8.48, made some time ago at St. Paul.

The track was in fine condition for the trial, and when the daring driver had covered half the distance it was seen that, barring an accident, he would set up new figures. When it was announced that he had clipped 16 4-5 seconds from the world's figures he was given an ovation as he drove around the track after the exhibition.

LEOFRIC.

A Love Match That Was Broken Off and Happily Renewed.

By MARTHA McC.-WILLIAMS.

Janey Gates was the beauty of the Cane Creek neighborhood. Even Sister Meakins admitted as much in spite of robust prejudice. Janey would have been likewise the belle if it had not been accepted as a fact ever since she put up her hair and let down her frocks that she was, in neighborhood phrase, "mortgaged property." Phil Mayben had laid claim to her when she came hardly to his elbow. He had, further, let nobody dispute the claim even after she came back from boarding school, tearfully and wonderfully accomplished. He was a big fellow, square jawed and square headed, who cared nothing for books unless they dealt with figures. At figures he was marvelously quick and clever—so clever it was nothing for him to stump successive schoolmasters even though they were college bred, while he knew nothing higher than the neighborhood academy.

Possibly it was a triumph of this sort which had first incited the present schoolmaster, Leonard Trabue, Esq., to try conclusions with him in the field of Miss Janey's favor. Janey loved books in the freshest, most whole hearted fashion. Trabue could talk books by the hour and talk very well. Naturally he found himself welcome at the Gates homestead. Quite as naturally Phil Mayben resented his presence there and showed it outright, after the manner of a masterful man cruelly in love. Thus by fate and free will and the obligation of hospitality Janey was in a manner forced to take Trabue's part. The result was a very pretty quarrel and the transfer of Phil's attentions to Miss Dora Meakins.

There had been no set engagement to break. That made Phil's attitude all the more aggravating. Janey was for months bitterly unhappy over the rupture, although she let nobody see it, not even her mother. Outwardly she was gayer than ever and so charming Leonard Trabue quite lost his head. He had meant at first only to punish that pestilent fellow, Mayben—deliberately, of course, to divert himself and pass time otherwise heavy on his hands. Teaching was merely a step gap. Literature was his chosen vocation. He meant to enter upon it through the gate of newspaper work as soon as he could scrape together a few hundred dollars.

The Gateses were not rich folk, but still comfortably off, and Janey an only child. It is not just to say the first bad little to do with Trabue's falling in love. That came upon him unawares. But once he had realized his frame of affections he took full cognizance of it. Might it not be easier to make himself immortal even here in the deep country, with a charming wife and assured comfort, than out in the hustle and hurly burly of a city? To settle it out of hand he proposed promptly to Janey. He was dazed to get a refusal, distressed, almost startled.

That week the county paper printed, with flattering comments, a love rhyme signed "Leofric." Cane Creek read it heathen reading the paper thoroughly was certainly the part of thrift. If not of Christian duty. Still, it left no certainty as to the authorship until the rural press quite generally copied and praised the rhyme. A second bit of verse got reprinted in three city papers, so upon the appearance of the third Leofric's identity became a burning question, one that the editor himself could not answer. All he knew was that the copy came to him by the hand of Mr. Murdock, a leading lawyer.

All winter long Leofric wrote intermittently, becoming more and more a riddle and a personage. All winter long, too, Phil Mayben ate Sunday dinner at the Meakins' table, and Leonard Trabue talked books and the world to Janey Gates. He was playing a waiting game, resolved to win her in spite of herself and Phil Mayben.

Janey's heart was singularly steadfast. Still, there were times when she thought Trabue would succeed. Phil's going had left her desolate indeed. He could never have cared as he pretended or he would not be able to stay away. Of course she could not make the first move to reconciliation, especially since he was so taken up with the Meakins generation. Since he was forever lost to her it was far from unpleasant to own herself in Trabue's devotion.

Spring came with such a rush that year the picnic season opened in mid-May. Sister Meakins and Sister Hodgin, self elected social autocrats, got up the first one and set the place for N. Clear Spring, just a little way off the Gates' pasture. The spring was, in fact, Gates' property, so Sister Meakin let the owner know she thought it would be no more than neighborly of him to put up tables, seats and stakes for the gypsy kettles, to say nothing of the swings. There Phil Mayben interfered. "You don't play a lone hand at this game with me around, squire," he said to Janey's father. Then it fell out that for two days before the picnic he was nearly as much in Janey's eyes as he had been all winter in her mind.

It amazed and somewhat frightened her to find how capably she regarded him. Squire Gates brought him to dinner, whether or no, and Janey shook hands with him and chatted gayly throughout the meal without the least flutter of the heart. She even watched him go away with no access of satisfaction.

If only Trabue had spoken there and then! But he was invisible until next day. Two picnic crowd gathered early. Phil was the life of it, though Dora Meakins stuck to him like a limpet. He'd been bested civilly by Trabue, who, being about Janey, his eyes downcast, his look preoccupied. The end of the school term was just three weeks ahead. Before to come to that parting of the ways he felt that he must know definitely where he stood. Janey had grown distinctly kinder. Still, there was something in her kindness that put him further off. She would be an ideal wife for him. A bold stroke would do it now. A year hence would be quite too late.

While the laughter and chatter were out to her his hopes, aspirations, plans. Love he barely named. Might they not, he pleaded, be intellectual comrades? Sustained by her companionship he felt himself capable of great things. He had already made a beginning, and she was all unwittingly the inspiration of what he had done.

Then he tried to take her hand. Janey withdrew it gently. "Tell me all about it," she whispered, a hovering smile about her lips. Trabue bent to her ear and said hurriedly, "You must not mention it, sweetheart, but I am Leofric—Leofric, who wrote desolate and despairing things because you refused him."

"Indeed!" Janey said, getting up from her mossy rock to slip past him. Then, over her shoulder, she added: "You will please wait until afternoon for your answer. I must go help about the dinner."

Dinner was no fine a feast Lawyer Murdock declared he felt more than paid for his long drive out from town. He was Squire Gates' man of business and Janey's sworn friend. Therefore nobody wondered at their confidential talk aside, and even Phil Mayben smiled approval when the lawyer kissed Janey in greeting. But be sure there was a stir as Lawyer Murdock pulled Janey to the middle of the crowd, raised his voice and said, with twinkling eyes: "Ladies and gentlemen, I the unmasking humbugs, so permit me to present to you Leofric, the poetess of Cane Creek. Don't remember it against her that she is a poetess—it's all the fault of that scoundrel, Phil Mayben"—

"It won't be any longer, Mr. Murdock," Phil said, bursting through the crowd to catch Janey in his arms and hide her blushes in his breast. "I know I've been seven kinds of a fool," he went on. "I don't deserve Janey—nobody does, for that matter—but I'm going to have her or die trying."

"You've got her," Lawyer Murdock said, wringing Phil's hand. Dora Meakins turned her back and went off with her head high, but Mr. Leonard Trabue stayed not on the order of his going. Nobody in Cane Creek neighborhood ever saw him again.

Ancient Egyptian Mortgage.

Of all the numerous Egyptian papyri dating from the Greco-Roman period and preserved in the British museum none can be said to be of greater interest than those throwing light on the social conditions and manners and customs of the period. Many of these documents are mortgages bills of sale and marriage contracts. Of the first named class a very interesting one is dated in the twentieth year of Cleopatra and Ptolemy. It appears that a shepherd named Meanthe and his mother, Tausir, finding themselves in difficulties, mortgaged their field to a woman named Ilie for the sum of 630 pieces of silver, which they promised to repay in eight months' time with interest. In case of failure of this condition they were willing to forfeit the field without further trouble or litigation. After giving the measurements of the land and particulars of its boundaries the document is attested by Hore-se-ent, scribe of Usir-er, alias Amenhetep.—London Globe.

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

Naturalists employ an interesting method to preserve all kinds of spiders' webs. The webs are first sprayed with an atomizer with artist's shellac, and then, should they be of the ordinary geometric form, they are pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting strands being at the same time severed. After the shellac has dried the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet. Even dome shaped webs may be preserved in their original form by spraying them with shellac and then allowing them to dry before removal from their supports. Many spiders' webs are very beautiful, and all are characteristic of the species to which they belong, so that, from a scientific standpoint, their permanent preservation is very desirable.—Harper's Weekly.

A Country Doctor's Record.

Dr. James Morris, who was one of the oldest medical practitioners in Scotland, has just died at Dunkeld. When he celebrated his jubilee as a doctor some ten years ago he made this statement: "During my 65 years in practice I have attended 50,000 patients, administered chloroform 10,000 times with absolute immunity from fatal results, had 5,000 births (1,000 consecutive cases without a death), made about 1,000,000 visits and traveled about 500,000 miles." Not a bad record for a country medical man.—Westminster Gazette.

Glyptotopera.

The second generation of skyscrapers in lower Manhattan has appeared. The twenty story building at the corner of Wall and Nassau streets is now being torn down as obsolete in order to make way for a new and much higher thirty-two story structure. New York skyscrapers may soon be classified like battleships—at the end of ten years "obsolescent," at the end of twenty "obsolete" and then the scrap heap.—Springfield Republican.

The Music of Thunder.

The bass of thunder is considerably lower than the lowest sound produced in an orchestra — below the zero of music, we call it, at which all positive apprehension of musical sound ceases and our senses are merely conscious of a roar. In observing the music of thunder our attention, however, may be most profitably directed to the expression rather than to the notes. The musical diminuendo is more perfectly represented by thunder than by any other form of sound in nature. After the first clap is over the ear will pursue with pleasure the rolling away and gradual fainting of the peal until at an immeasurable distance it sinks into silence.

Look Prosperous.

Even though you may not be prosperous, adopt as far as possible the appearance of prosperity. It is sound capital and will bring good interest in the long run. Shabby-looking people, you may have noticed, always appear apologetic and can easily be turned down when they are most in need of a helping hand. Do not confess apparent prosperity with extravagance. Small but telling home economies can be practiced in order to hide from the public the fact that the wolf is at the door. Keep a brave front. Dame Fortune likes to throw her magic cloak about the shoulders of the man or woman who looks capable of making the best of it.

"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"

If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Alberta has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, which same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your application by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

A Clever Ruse

But It Was Very Unexpectedly Thwarted.

By WILLARD BLAKEMAN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

On coming home from business I found my wife in the dumps.

"What's the matter, dear?" I asked.

"It's all up with us."

"Bottom dropped out of the universe?"

"Worse. Aunt Abigail will have to live with us. She's written that her friend with whom she has had a home is to give up her house the 1st of May, and that throws her out. I am her only relative, and of course she expects me to take her in."

"She's a bit cranky, isn't she?"

"Cranky is no name for it."

"Well, we'll have to make the best of it."

Aunt Abigail arrived. We had previously considered our home entirely our own. With the coming of our relative we saw at once that all this was changed. She settled herself down with an appearance of permanency that made my blood run cold.

"Well," she exclaimed, looking about her, "how did you ever come to build this house down in a hollow—it must have been a swamp once—when you could as well have put it up on that hill, where you could see something?"

"We live here winter and summer, Aunt Abigail. Up there we would freeze in cold weather."

"Freeze! Nonsense! Some people are always afraid they'll breathe a little fresh air. I'm not. I sleep with my window open, and I like to have a gale blowing in right on me. You should have fronted your house to the south.

"I can't stand this. We must get rid of her, I said to my wife."

"To turn her out would be awful."

"We needn't do that. We can fix it so that she will go of her own accord."

"For heaven's sake explain."

"You know the homeopathic principle—like cures like. Well, my Uncle Robert is more disagreeable, if that is possible, than your Aunt Abigail. He is a dictatorial old curmudgeon, with no respect for any one's opinion but his own. He is as poor as a church mouse, living in a miserable room in a rookery by himself. He amuses himself abusing his neighbors from his window and shying anything he can get his hands on at the cats. Now, it has occurred to me to bring him here as a foil for your aunt. She can't possibly endure to stay in the house with such a man, and when she's gone I'll find a way to get rid of Uncle Robert. Perhaps they may both go to get rid of each other."

"Your plan seems rather impracticable to me, Billy, but I have a good deal of confidence in those roundabout ways of yours. Suppose we try it?"

So I wrote Uncle Robert offering a home temporarily and, if he liked it, as long as he lived. He accepted eagerly, and it was not long before he was down upon us bag and baggage.

"My dear boy," he exclaimed, patting me on the back, "how you do remind me of your father! He and I were inseparable as boys, and I've carried you on my shoulder often. And to think that I'm to have a home with you. Put me anywhere. A garret is good enough for a broken down old codger like me. Phew! Somebody's been smoking here. Do you smoke? How I hate tobacco! It makes me sick."

"I won't smoke any more in the house since you've come, uncle," I said.

"Oh, don't mind me. I can stand anything; got to stand it. I've made a dead failure of life and don't deserve anything else. You don't mind my opening the window, do you—just to let the odor out?"

"Fanny has a bad cold, you know."

"Just the thing to cure her. Let her breathe the cool air of heaven."

Up went the window and out of the room went Fanny. Half an hour after my uncle arrived dinner was announced. I was watching our guests when they entered the dining room. It was like a dog and a cat at first catching sight of each other. Both seemed to crouch for an encounter. Neither spoke to the other for some time after taking seats at table. Then a remark of Uncle Robert's ruffled Aunt Abigail.

"This women's voting craze"— he was beginning.

"Voting what, sir?"

"Craze, madam," raising his voice.

"I'm not deaf. I heard you well enough. I object to you calling woman's suffrage a craze."

"Are you an advocate of woman's suffrage, madam?"

"I most assuredly am."

"I believe in any one who advocates a principle standing by that principle and not attempting to straddle"—

"Sir!"

"That is, to equivocate or knuckle down, defending the cause with all his or her strength. Per contra, I reserve the same privilege for myself. Woman's suffrage I consider the most abominable, diabolical, illogical rot that was ever sprung on a Christian people."

"And I consider it one of the holiest causes"—

"Aunt Abigail," interposed my wife, "do let me help you to this little bit of wing. You're not eating enough to feed a sparrow."

"I'm inclined to think," remarked Uncle Robert, "that there's a good deal in this new idea of diet. This man what's-his-name who is proving that the less we eat the more work we can do is going to create a revolution."

"Have you adopted his idea?" asked Aunt Abigail spitefully.

Considering that I had just filled Uncle Robert's plate for the second time this was unkind.

"I have not, madam, for the reason that I am not yet satisfied that his views are correct. I'm nothing if not scientific. I must see a thing proved before I adopt it."

"Would you prove woman's suffrage before adopting it?"

This was quite bright of Aunt Abigail.

"I admit," replied Uncle Robert, "that to prove it before adopting it would be impossible. It isn't necessary to prove it. Any fool can see that the idea is ridiculous."

"Uncle," I interrupted for the purpose of calling a truce and preventing Aunt Abigail from firing a return shot, "let me fill your glass."

"No, sir," putting his hand over it—"not at all, sir. I drink just one glass of wine with my dinner. And that's enough for any man."

"Quite right," I replied and filled my own for the third time.

"One is too much for any man, especially an old man," snapped the aunt. "Nothing is so disgusting to me as an old toper."

The shot, while it applied partly to me, was fired at Uncle Robert.

"Not at all," he replied. "One glass is good for the system. You know what St. Paul says, 'Take a little wine for the stomach's sake.'"

"Yes," retorted Aunt Abigail, "and I know that the devil can quote Scripture."

This was so well turned that I felt like patting the old lady on the back. But it did not squelch Uncle Robert for the simple reason that he was unsqueichable. The skirmishing went on, getting hotter and hotter, till at last, to prevent an open rupture, my wife arose from the table. She, poor woman, was dreading a fracas, and I was not anxious to have a break occur so early in the game.

As soon as Fanny and I were alone together we sat down and laughed.

"Did you ever see anything work more beautifully?" I said, clapping my leg.

"Never."

"Let them go their own gait. My opinion is, that one or the other will get ode within a week."

Every day my uncle came to me and said that he couldn't live in the same house with a cat and was going to-morrow. Every day Aunt Abigail went to Fanny and said she could not possibly endure that opinionated old heathen and she was casting about for another home, but it was dreadful that she should be alone in the world, with no one to love but Fanny, and Fanny must needs be incumbered by all her husband's relatives. I told my uncle that if I were deprived of the comfort of caring for my father's brother in his old age it would break my heart. Fanny made faint hearted attempts to quiet her aunt and agreed with her that my uncle was a trifle hard to get on with, regretting at the same time that he had the same claim on me that her aunt had on her. It is true that occasionally there would be a lull in the hostilities and we would find the two chatting quite amicably. But this was when they happened to strike some subject which was a pet with both. As soon as they drifted into topics on which they disagreed the roar of battle recommenced.

Several weeks passed in this way, and Fanny and I were getting impatient for the denouement; when one day uncle came to me and said that he would like to have a few words with me and Fanny alone. He looked very serious, and I felt quite sure he would announce his departure. He was a born gentleman, and nothing would be further from his nature than to hurt one's feelings, and to appear ungrateful would break his heart. I called Fanny into the library, shut the door and waited for the old man to speak.

"My dear boy," he began, taking my hand, "and my dear little girl," taking Fanny's hand, "I have something to announce which will surprise you. I am going to leave you!"

"Oh, uncle!" we both exclaimed, trying hard to appear much disappointed, even shocked.

"Yes, I am going away, and your aunt is also going."

This was indeed a surprise.

"Your kindness has brought about a great change in two lonely lives. For a time it seemed to both of us that we must thwart your plans for the happiness of both of us. It has not seemed that we can live under the same roof together."

He paused, and I thought he was going to shed tears. Then he added abruptly:

"We are both going to leave you to-morrow."

"Both?"

"Yes, both. We are to be quietly married at 9 o'clock and leave on a short wedding trip on the 10 o'clock train."

"Goodness gracious!" from Fanny.

"Great Scott!" from me.

"But we shall be gone only a few days."

"And then!" exclaimed Fanny and I breathlessly.

"And then," resumed the old man, putting a hand on each of our heads, "we return to spend the rest of our lives with our dear niece and nephew."

Heaven helps those who help themselves. At any rate, heaven came to our relief. I inherited $30,000 from a maternal uncle. Of this I put $5,000 in a house for the old couple and invested the rest in an annuity for them. Strangely enough, they are quite contented together.

A DEAD ISSUE.

Reciprocity Thought to Have Been a Dead Issue Is Revived.

Toronto, Sept. 30. — Reciprocity thought to be dead has experienced a revival. The form has changed. Twenty years ago Canada was in a depressed condition, and reciprocity was put forward as a remedy, especially as a means of enlarging the market for Canadian farm products. The people of the United States were indifferent. Today the agitation is stronger in the United States than in Canada, and where it is favored in Canada it is quite as much with a view to freer buying as to freer selling. The opponents of free trade are alarmed, and are repeating some of the objections which did duty twenty years ago. The World bids us beware of a movement for annexation.

If we get involved with the United States and political trouble comes, then some one will start up a movement to sidetrack their own disturbances by unifying the continent. There's a lot of stuff over there that could be set on fire by such an appeal if opportunity is presented. Mayor Gaynor knows in what condition New York City is in today.

We now purchase from the United States goods to the value of $180,000,000, more than half of our total imports of $300 000,000; while from Great Britain, our next largest source of supply, our imports are only $70,663,944. We have more than trebled our imports from the United States since 1896, yet there has been no increase in annexation sentiment, but rather a decline. In American imports therefore there seems to lurk no political danger.

It may be contended that there would be a greater danger in increased exports to the United States — something dangerous and uncanny in that we might feel somewhat more kindly towards our neighbors if they purchased more liberally in this market. But that is a matter beyond our control. Our neighbors can turn more of the trade southward by simply reducing their own tariff. In all probability their tariff will be reduced by legislation if not by treaty. And therefore, instead of fighting against enlarged trade which the ground that our politicl

The Mail and Empire also regards the movement with a suspicious eye. "It is not improbable that we shall awaken some morning to discover that the commercial unionists, although defeated when fighting in the open, have scored a victory at last and that a good slice of Canadian business has been handed over to our neighbors." Here we have the old restrictionist idea that there is good slice of Canadian business," is spoken of as if it were a slice of Canadian territory which our neighbor is making ready to devour.

The American movement for reciprocity is not the result of a sinister plot. It is easily explained. Our neighbors are feeling the pinch of high prices, and both parties recognize that the tariff must come down. But the restrictionist idea still lingers, that tariff reduction is a sacrifice or surrender, and that compensation must be obtained. It would be folly to give away "a good slice of American business" for nothing. Hence those who are afraid of unconditional tariff reduction advocate reciprocity as a compromise.

The Royal Front Decorated.

Mr. M. Pappas, proprietor of the Royal and Princess theaters, yesterday had a staff of expert painters from Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' establishment busily engaged in painting and lettering the recently placed metal front of the Royal. "He who runs may read," is an old saying, but it applies to the signs placed in front of the Royal yesterday, calling attention to the vaudeville and prices.

Improvements at Juniper Island.

Those who spend the summer months at Stony Lake, will be surprised on their return to that gem of summer resorts, to see that commodious boat and apartment house combined at Juniper Island, which has just been completed. The building was commenced at the close of the summer season, and is another evidence of the enterprise of the proprietor of Juniper Island store, Mr. Harry Stock. The building is 40 x24 feet in size and two stories high, with a verandah at front and ends of upper story.

Noted Preacher at All Saints.

On October 30th, Rev. Dr. Griffith Thomas, the new professor of Ecclesiology and Old Testament in Wycliffe College, will be the special preacher at the new All Saints' church. Dr. Griffith Thomas was presented with 1,500 guineas on the occasion of his leaving England. He is the author of several books, "The Catholic Faith," "Christianity is Christ," etc., etc. He was also editor of the Church Family Newspaper, and left the position of principal of Wycliffe Hall, Oxford University, to come to Canada.

Do Not Favor Local Option.

The Haliburton correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent, in that breezy little sheet, says:—There is talk of Mr. Lucas getting a tenant for the Grand Central. This popular house continues to cater to the travelling community, but being unlicensed, the local residents and surrounding farmers have no right whatever to make use of the waiting rooms or sheds. The local option people want Haliburton to be without a public house, and they have their wish, but it is a great inconvenience to the locality, makes the village dull, and those who were so keen to interfere with the rights of others, make no effort to replace the conveniences they have wrongfully taken from their fellows.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R.R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S.C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

Seven cattle belonging to Mr. John Burnett of Ops township were killed by lightning last Friday night. The cattle killed were very valuable.

Much evident interest was evidently taken in the visit yesterday, of the Royal Commission on Technical Education. The Commissioners in their cabs drove about the city seeing the sights that appertained to their business.

It seems that Lindsay, as well as Peterborough felt severely the electric storm of last Friday night. The electric lights in the Scugog town went out at midnight.

Stanley Massey, 17 years old, of 468 Gilmour street, was nearly asphyxiated by gas whilst taking a bath Sunday morning. The gas pipe leaked and the young man became unconscious. He has fully recovered.

The children who yesterday attended the Princess Theater, were much amused by that old time children's favorite fairy story, "Alice in Wonderland." Jack the Hugger is Again Busy.

"Jack the Hugger," known only too well to Peterborough citizens some months ago by the ill repute, or an ambitious (?) disciple of his, is again busy. Two young ladies who board at the Y.W.C.A. had occasion to be in the west end of the city on Saturday night, and this parody on manhood, followed them. They quickened their pace, but the pursuer did likewise, and to make the story of a long chase short, he followed them right to the place of their abode. Here he tried to seize one of the ladies, but she got into the building in time to escape him. One of the girls fainted after entering the sheltering portals of this great local institution. Chief Thompson and his staff are bound to stop any such freak as this frightening girls.

MORE BOY SCOUTS.

Lindsay Forms a Branch of 'Young Canada's Future Defenders.

Lindsay Post: A detachment of the Baden-Powell boy scouts will be organized in the Y.M.C.A. next Saturday evening. The spirit of the movement has taken hold of the boys in Lindsay, and Mr. Robertson, scout master, and Sergt-Major Brittain, of Q.O.R., Toronto, will be here on Saturday to address the boys.

They will give the boys a comprehensive talk, impressing them with the laws of the movement and the numerous benefits derived therefrom.

It is purely a non-military organization. It is to train the boys to rely on themselves, not on others. To learn how to think and act, by which they would be fitting themselves for the time when they leave their boyhood days.

To belong to the boy scouts means that the boy will acquire a knowledge of nature study, woodcraft, of tracking, technical and physical training, first aid to the injured, and besides it will afford many a pleasant hour for the boy.

Provincial Assoc. of Fire Chiefs to Meet in Toronto Oct. 31st

CHIEF HOWARD ISSUES INVITATIONS TO MEETING.

Director of Peterborough's Fire Brigade to Deliver an Address in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. W. A. Howard, chief of the Peterborough Fire Brigade, who, by reason of his recognized ability as a fire fighter and his personal popularity, was recently elected to the honorable but onerous position of secretary of the Provincial Association of Fire Chiefs, under direction of Chief A. B. Ten Eyck of Hamilton, president of the association, has issued a circular letter to the various fire chiefs of Ontario, regarding the annual meeting of the association to be held in the Lombard street fire station, Toronto, on Thanksgiving Day. Chief Howard in his circular letter tells the various provincial fire chiefs that important papers on the subject of fire fighting, etc, will be read.

The following subjects will be dealt with at the meeting of Ontario's fire chiefs on Oct. 31st and Nov. 1st, viz.:

One—Best way of equipping a Fire Department in Villages and Towns of different sizes up to 10,000. By Chief John E. Keyes of Galt.

Two.—The advantages of a clean Town or City from a Fire Standpoint, and how to accomplish the same. By Chief Howard, Peterborough.

Three—Private Fire Protection in Factories. By Chief James Corbett of the Massey-Harris Corporation, Toronto.

Four—The ways and means of reorganizing a Fire Department from the Volunteer to the Paid Department. By Chief Alexander Boteland, of Woodstock.

Five.—Water Works and Water Mains in Towns and Cities. By a practical Hydraulic Engineer, whose services have been secured for this convention.

Six.—The advisability of asking the Provincial Government to appoint a Fire Marshall for the Province of Ontario, by Chief Ten Eyck, of Hamilton.

Seven.—The right-of-way for Fire Departments in public streets, and the advisability of asking the Ontario Legislature to enact suitable legislation for this purpose. By Chief John Thompson, Toronto.

Awful Scenes on Board Doomed Vessel

(Special to The Times.)

Solon, Panama, Oct. 4.—Seventy persons perished in the sinking of the Pacific Navigation Company's steamer Chirique, following a boiler explosion aboard, according to information received here today from Jaraehine. The explosion occurred late in the afternoon of September 27, when the vessel was 90 miles off Panama.

The stern of the vessel listed, and as the water swept across the decks a lifeboat was manned and lowered. A desperate struggle among 90 passengers and crew for admission to a lifeboat caused a large number of persons to be crowded overboard. As far as known, there was only about a dozen saved.

WILL DEVELOP ELECTRIC POWER

A party of electrical power magnates arrived in the city last night via automobiles from Port Hope. They were on their way to Burleigh Falls and Beckhorn to make surveys. Power will be developed at once and transmission from the above places to Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville, and other places, will be made. The party was composed of the following gentlemen: Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of Central Ontario Power Company; Mr. R. J. McLaughlin, K.C., of Toronto; Col. H. A. Ward, Port Hope; F. D. Boggs, K.C., Cobourg, and Mr. McAllister, C.E., Toronto.

COMMISSIONERS OFF.

Experts on Technical Education Finish Their Work in Peterborough.

Well! The Scientists comprising the Royal Commission on Technical Education, have been here and gone, and, still cigars sell at four for a quarter. However, the commissioners made a careful survey of conditions in educational matters and manufacturing life in Peterborough. The scientists left for Toronto yesterday morning. Two sessions were held for a total of five and one-half hours. During this time sixteen citizens gave evidence.

All expressed themselves in favor of technical education, and every mechanic before the commission received instruction other than what he had learned while fulfilling his apprenticeship course.

The object of the commission is to find out the equipment and needs of Canada in regard to industrial training and technical education.

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Sommers relates his experience:
"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

The Splend Standing of Our Schools, Both the Public and Collegiate

SPECIAL COMMITTEE WHICH CONFERRED WITH PRINCIPAL KENNER REPORT TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Recent Examinations Give Cause for Congratulations on the Part of Teachers and Pupils, and Peterborough City in General.

At the meeting of the Board of Education held last night, the Special Committee appointed to confer with Principal H. R. H. Kenner on the results of the late examinations reported through Mr. D. W. Dumble.

The committee had done their work in a highly commendable and thorough manner, and the result of their research into educational data in order to arrive at this city's actual standing in comparison with other localities in the Province, shows quite conclusively that Peterborough's educational policy of unstinted provision in the way of schools and teaching staffs is bearing good fruit.

Peterborough, as a whole, might well be reasonably proud of its high rating in Ontario's educational field, far the report following demonstrates that we have a capable Board of Education, with a talented staff of teachers training an intelligent and ambitious army of little folk, many of whom are destined to win front places in the rising generation of a nation that fully recognizes the value of education in the many and varied walks of life.

Mr. W. H. Hill remarked that the board should congratulate itself, Principal Kenner, and the whole teaching staff, together with their pupils, upon Peterborough's brilliant educational standing. Many of the pupils who failed even, did so with but few marks below the percentage required. And it should further be borne in mind that Peterborough students are working on a three years' course, whereas all over the Province a four years' term is the rule.

Mr. Dumble drew attention to the fact that those brilliant scholars who won so many scholarships are only permitted to take one university scholarship, together perhaps with a college scholarship if so desired.

THE REPORT.

The Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

Gentlemen,—Your Special Committee appointed to report on the results of the Collegiate Institute mid summer examinations, beg to report as follows:

The latest report of the minister of education gives figures which clearly show two things—first, that the percentage of successful students at the faculty entrance and the Normal entrance examinations is very low, and secondly, that the percentage of successful students at the High School entrance examinations is 50 per cent. higher than the percentage of successful students at the faculty entrance and Normal entrance examinations. In 1909 at the faculty entrance part I. 742 candidates wrote, and only 196 passed, or 25 per cent.

At the faculty entrance part II, 487 wrote, and only 149 passed, or 30 per cent.

At the Normal entrance 3401 wrote and 1325 passed, or 38 per cent.

At the High School entrance 23878 wrote and 14790 passed, or 62 per cent.

The figures for the pass and the honor matriculation examinations are not given.

At the last departmental examinations 7 students of the P.C.I. tried the faculty entrance part I. examination, and 5 were successful or 71 per cent. Six tried the faculty entrance part II., and three were successful, or 50 per cent.

The average on the two in Peterborough was 61 per cent. for 1910.

The average on the two in the Province was 28 per cent. for 1909.

HONOR MATRICULATION.

Seven candidates wrote on the honor matriculation examination and all were successful.

Five first class honors were won—75 per cent. 1st class.

Four second class honors were won—66 per cent. 2nd class.

Twelve third class honors were won—60 per cent. 3rd class.

SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATION.

This is the highest examination held in the Province outside of the universities.

Four candidates competed for scholarships, and each of the four won one or more scholarships, a record unsurpassed in the Province.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS.

1.—K. Burnett.
2.—A. Rosboro.
3.—W. Adamson.
4.—G. Yenny.
100 per cent.

Miss Burnett won the Wellington scholarship at Trinity College in mathematics.—$224.

A. Rosboro won the First Edward Blake scholarship in mathematics and science at Toronto University.—$204.

A. Rosboro ranked second for the Second Edward Blake scholarship in mathematics at Toronto University.—$138.

W. Adamson won the Prince of Wales scholarship at Queen's University for proficiency in mathematics, chemistry and physics.—$160.

G. Yenney won the eighth Edward Blake scholarship for general proficiency.

NORMAL ENTRANCE.

Fifteen were sent up for this examination and six passed, or 40 per cent. In considering the results of the Normal entrance examinations the following facts should be taken into consideration.

Most of the schools in the Province have a four years' course for this examination, one year in Form I, one year in Form II., and two years in Form III. In our Collegiate Institute it is a three years' course, one years each in Forms I., II., and III. This means that Peterborough students try to do in three years what the majority of students take four years to accomplish.

Of the nine who failed, six had spent only one year in Form III.

City schools send up comparatively few students for this examination. The $20 non resident fee, which is almost prohibitive, keeps out a very desirable class, namely the students from the country districts.

There are eight compulsory subjects for this examination. The local students did not confine their attention to these eight subjects, as most of them took in addition, two foreign languages, which will be required for the fourth form, and what is more, during the fall term, they also took the art, biology, grammar and arithmetic of the lower school course, and in consequence did not have to write on the nine lower school subjects at the Normal school in September, at which examination a large number of those who tried were plucked.

Again two of the nine who failed obtained junior matriculation standing on their Normal entrance papers.

The cases of at least two others who failed on the Normal entrance examination would appear to merit reconsideration by the Education Department.

One of these secured 62 marks over the 60 per cent. aggregate required, but failed by five marks in one subject, the other obtained 52 marks over the required aggregate and failed by only four marks in one subject.

Both of these were recommended by their teachers in their confidential report.

We would recommend that the attention of the Education Department be drawn to these two cases and and would urge that their certificates be granted them since they each attained a high aggregate and failed by only a few marks on one subject. We understand that the regulations of the Education Department cover such special cases.

Taking everything into consideration the Normal entrance results were much better than would at first view appear.

JUNIOR MATRICULATION.

Twenty-one passed this examination.

There are eleven papers to be passed on this examination.

Pupils who pass in at least eight of these are credited with partial matriculation standing. The one, two or three papers as the case may be, in which they fail, may be written off at any one subsequent examination. These pupils are allowed their year, they may enter Form IV., and should not be considered as failures.

Sixteen passed the partial matriculation examination.

Thus of the 39 who wrote for junior matriculation 37 are allowed their year, or 95 per cent.

SUMMARY.

Form IV.—23 tried, 19 were successful.

Form 3A.—15 tried, 6 were successful.

Form 3B.—39 tried, 37 were successful.

Total—77 tried, 62 were successful, 81 per cent.

Only 15 out of 77 will have to take their year's work over again, very creditable record indeed.

It is only fair to state that seven candidates who wrote at Peterborough, have not been taken into account in the above report. Three of those attended the Collegiate only during a part of the spring term and were not in attendance from September to December. The other four were so hopelessly behind in their work that they were refused application forms, but secured them elsewhere, and wrote and made total failures.

Your committee congratulate the board on the splendid standing of our schools, both Public and Collegiate, in the recent examinations. The results show faithful and gble labors of the staff and assidous efforts of the pupils, and we recommend that this report be published that the people may realize their good fortune in having such splendid schools.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE.
DR. M. A. MORRISON.
W. H. HILL.

The report was adopted unanimously.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION IN MONTHLY SESSION LAST NIGHT

The School Board met last night with Trustee B. F. Ackerman presiding in the absence of Chairman L. M. Hayes. There were also present Trustees Crane, Dr. Morrison, W.H. Hill, D. W. Dumble, Col. Miller, T. H. Adams and Dr. Burnham.

Miss Elliott applied for position on the Public school staff, highly recommended by Inspector Mowatt as qualified for handling primary classes.—Appointed.

Mr. Eastwood, secretary treasurer of the Collegiate Athletic Association, wrote asking that the annual grant for "field day," be increased to $30.—Granted.

The Collegiate Institute scholars will be given a half holiday Friday afternoon to attend and take part in their annual field day sports.

W. J. Dunlop, principal of Queen Alexandria School, tendered his resignation, he having been appointed instructor in University schools of Toronto.—Received and the appointment of his successor referred to the Committee on Appointments, with power to act. The chairman and secretary were authorized to write a letter, appreciative of Mr. Dunlop's services. He is recognized as the best man ever engaged by the board.

PUBLIC LIBRARY BOARD.

The board appointed its representatives on the new public library board as follows.—Mr. Hazel Ritchie, of the C.G.E., Mr. Duncan Walker, and Inspector Mowatt. The appointment dates from now, and one representative retires each year—one February, 1911; February, 1912, on February, 1913, in the order in which they are named.

Mr. Dumble explained that the board has not the powers to appoint its own members on the library board, but they have highly desirable representatives in the foregoing gentlemen.

NOTICES OF RESIGNATION.

Mr. Dumble introduced a resolution to amend the board's bylaws so that teachers may resign on giving two months' notice instead of three, providing such notice expires at a date that will not handicap the board in replacing them. Notice of resignations to take effect on the last days of March, June and December will be accepted, but at no other period during the year.

ELECTIONS AHEAD.

Dr. Morrison enquired if the ward system of elections, to come into force next January, will affect the school trustees. He was assured that it would not. However, the city solicitor's advice on this question will be invited.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg to report and recommend as follows:

This appointment is made subject to the approval of the Education Department, which has already been obtained. HOUSE BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Last night the residence of Mr. Saddler, on Sherbrooke street, just west of Park, was badly gutted by fire which was caused by defective wiring. About 11.55 the alarm was sounded from box 31, although the fire had then got considerable headway owing to the fact that Mr. Saddler was unfamiliar with the working of the fire alarm box and about ten minutes elapsed before neighbors came to his assistance and sent in the alarm. The brigade responded promptly, and on arrival found the interior of the house from cellar to garret in flames. The chief had two lines of hose playing on the fire in short order. The chimney fell in carrying a portion of the roof with it. Capt. Thomas had a narrow escape from death, but escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

The house was damaged to the amount of about $800 or $700.

Mr. McWilliams owned the house and Mr. Saddler is tenant.

PROTESTANTISM LEADS TO PAGANISM, SAYS FATHER BERNARD VAUGHAN

New York, Oct. 4.—The public declaration by Father Bernard Vaughan, the noted British priest, that Protestantism leads to Paganism, and that the hope of the future of the United States rests entirely with the Roman Catholics, was bitterly resented by Rev. 10. S. Woods, pastor of the Bedford Presbyterian church in Brooklyn today. He stated that Father Vaughan was mistaken in his conclusions, and made the "usual mistake" of foreigners visiting this country, of making up his mind regarding existing conditions without careful investigation."

"That the Presbyterians of Greater New York are unanimous in condemning the attitude of Father Vaughan, is shown by their adoption of the following resolutions," said Rev. Mr. Young today. "They were adopted at the regular meeting of the association, and state explicitly the attitude of the Church.

"Resolved, that this association repudiates the statement quoted by the Rev. Father Vaughan in this city, to the effect that Protestantism in America is dying, and combats his assertion that Catholicism is the only hope of the American republic. In an hour when we desire the fullest cordiality of Catholics and Protestants toward each other, we would merely mention Father Vaughan's utter unfamiliarity toward American conditions being foreigner and having arrived here but two days ago and we would cite as samples of Roman Catholic influence in elevating countries where that Church has long had absolute control, the conditions in Spain and France, and South American nations and in Italy, until Mazzini and Victor Immanuel secured civil liberty and ushered in the modern and better Italy by fighting and triumphing over the papal power.

"Our nation was born a Protestant nation, several of the original thirteen colonies being exclusively Protestant, and has attained its present and until the Roman Church can high place as a Protestant nation, cite some nation that has arisen under Catholicism as rapidly and as gloriously as ours Father's Vaughan's pronunciamento needs no refutation."

FOUND TRUE BILL AGAINST PARKER

Belleville, Oct. 4.—At 11.30 this morning the grand jury after deliberating for some hours on the case of Robert Parker, the old trapper who, 78 five years beyond the allotted span of life, charged with murdering Wm. Masters, returned a true bill.

The accused was immediately arraigned and pleaded not guilty to the indictment read against him charging him with the awful crime.

Mr. Peter White, K.C., of Pembroke, is Crown prosecutor, and Mr. E. A. Porter, K.C., M.P., is defending the accused.

The case was then proceeded with, considerable time being spent in the selection of a jury. There is considerable interest in the case.

The Crown witnesses are forty in number, and the defence will also call many witnesses.

The story is that on Friday, April 8, Masters, who lived near Chapman's Corners, Hungerford township, Hastings county, left his house to proceed to a swamp for the purpose of drawing wood. Some time after his team returned home without a driver. Members of the family surmising that something was wrong instituted a search with the result that Master's body was found lying on the ground. He had been shot. The ball had entered beneath one arm and emerged near the hip on the opposite side. That it was not a case of suicide was certain as the wound coul dnat have been self-inflicted. An inquest was held with the result that Parker was suspected of having committed the deed and the coroner's jury brought in a verdict to that effect. It is alleged that some sort of feud existed between Parker and the dead man.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

The commission on industrial training and technical education which is now in session in Peterborough has been conducting an enquiry in the Eastern Provinces, and already good results have followed. The business of the commission is not executive. It is to enquire and hear and report but not to take any definite action. The needs and present equipment of Canada respecting technical training and industrial education, and also the systems and methods obtaining in other countries are the subjects of investigation. Conditions of the day such as keen competition in all departments of human endeavor, the necessity of making every man's labor as effective and profitable as possible, have actuated the government to make this enquiry into the relations of education to labor.

So far the outcome of the commission's work has been most interesting. A significant feature of industrial life which has been brought out, and one that interests Peterboro is that industries can be made equally if not more successful in small localities than in large centres. Factories have been found flourishing in comparatively small places, off the main line, without possessing any special facilities for shipping their products. They are doing a splendid business. Professor Robertson is reported to have declared that small communities possess some advantages over large ones. The employees and their families have more of the benefits of rural life.

Peterborough has no superior as an attractive city, and offers excellent opportunities for industries and the enquiry of the commission will bring out several salient facts that should prove of value to employer and employee.

CATECHISM IN THE SCHOOLS.

A write has been issued by a private citizen to prevent the teaching of the Catholic Catechism in the public school which jointly educates the children of Section No. 11 Russell.

The Ottawa Journal pertinently asks, why should a private citizen be put to the inconvenience and expense of initiating an action of this kind?

The rule with governs the subjects to be taught in the public schools of Ontario is plain, and catechisms does not appear on the list. Ontario is supposed to have a systemof school inspection whose purpose, among other things, is to prevent unauthorized teaching of this nature. Only after it is represented to the Ontario Minister of Education that the school in questions, in its teaching, going entirely outside its proper sphere and only when it is found that he refuses to take action in the matter, should there be any necessity for an appeal to the courts.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE HONOR.

Socialism of the Toronto Brand will never become a force and need not, therefore, be the bogey if is to some good people, says the Ottawa Journal. Mr. James Simpson, head of the Toronto School Board, and a leading socialist man of measured words, is one who by his reasonableness has attracted many to the cult. And, because Mr. Simpson refuses to reveal a confidential government report to the brethren, he is forthwith expelled from any membership with Toronto Socialists. So body that demands a faithfulness whose fulfillment places a man's personal honor at its mercy can amount to a hill of beans as a worldmover. Public and private honor are the same thing the world over.

EVOLUTION IN JAPAN.

One of the unmistakable signs of evolution in Japan is found in the po ent efforts put forth to please the Mikado. It is a recent innovation of royal custom and habit for the Emperor to come out of the seclusion and protection which surrounded him into closer contact with his subjects. That he has chosen to adopt the latter policy proves that western civilization has entered the most inner door of the almost sacred Japanese Court. It is unfortunate, however, that what has been imported has taken with it that form of crime and degraded citizenship which grows out of a disturbed social and political condition. There must be in Japan as there is in the United States and Europe a rebellion against the old order of things and a desire to disrupt the state by assassinating its rulers.

This is the part of modern life which the Occidental races would do well to refuse. Their old fidelity to religion and awe of majesty was a better trait; even in its blindness, than the thirst for human blood.

PROTECT THE BOY.

The Protestant School Commissioners of Montreal have decided to expel every boy who is caught smoking cigarettes. The Montreal Herald while willing to admit the evils that result to boys from the cigarette habit is disposed to question the action of the governors on the ground first that it is too drastic, and secondly, that it will weaken the power of the school authorities.

The Herald advises less severe measures than expulsion, which it says, is an admission of failure in disciplinary power and should only be resorted to as a last resort. The Kingston Standard is disposed to agree with the Herald. Cigarette smoking is most certainly injurious to a boy but lying and thieving are worse offences and show a depravity of character which is not indicated by cigarette smoking. Most boys look upon cigarette smoking as a venial offence and the Standard imagines that both they and their parents would most strongly resent as an extreme measure the expulsion of the offenders.

The Herald also points out that it may be a question how far the commissioners have the right to expel pupils for cigarette smoking, since the schools are supported by the taxation of the parents of these boys. In this regard the Herald says:

"In all seriousness, however, this decision of the commissioners raises other large questions. What is the actual function of expulsion in the tax-supported Protestant schools of this province? It is easy enough to understand it in the case of a great public school in England or indeed of any institution in any country which depends for its financial support upon private endowment or the fees of students. But the schools controlled by the Protestant Commissioners in this city are the taxpayers, for the purpose of affording education to the youth of all classes of taxpayers who do not elect to support the Catholic panel; and the right of the Commissioners to refuse education to the son of a taxpayer for no greater criminality than that of smoking a single cigarette, is, to say the least, of it dubious.

The powers granted the Commissioners by the legislature would undoubtedly be ample enough to clothe them with the right to expel in such a case, but admitting this, is it well to exercise these powers in the case of what after all, is neither a sin nor a crime? Milder measures ought certainly first to be adopted. Incorrigible cases might be treated with this extreme punishment, but only after every other plan had been tried to stamp out the practice.

CIVIC EXPENSES.

Controller Foster of Toronto, who has taken a strong hand on the subject of expenditure of civic money on civic "jaunts," is paying his own expenses of a trip to Montreal with the Toronto City Council to inspect the harbor works there. Controller Foster should receive credit for his consistence. It is to be feared, however, that he is not setting a good precedent. It is right that there should be an outcry against so-called "jaunts" on which the jaunters spend a great deal more civic money than is necessary. But on the other hand it is equally right that if a civic representative is sent away to secure information which may be of value to the community, that his actual expenses should be paid.

If the principle that civic representatives should pay their own expenses when out of town on council business were excepted, the principle would react injuriously to the community's best interests against the poorer members of the council, thinks the Ottawa Journal. Wealth and brains are not always hand in hand. A poor man very often has brains and integrity, and these brains and integrity might be lost to the community were such a rule to be enforced.

The trouble is that a good principle has been spoiled by a bad practice. That is no reason, however, why an honest representative should refuse to accept payment of his legitimate expenses.

THE "MAINE" AND HISTORY.

Now that steps are at last being taken to raise the U.S. battleship "Maine" from the mud of Havana harbor which, for thirteen years has hidden the cause of her destruction, it is noticeable that vital interest in the subject has ceased to exist. There are many people who will be curious to know whether the explosion which caused the Spanish-American war and started the United States on its active career as a world-power was from without or from within the act of an enemy or the accident of circumstances, but no strain of the imagination can convert this curiosity back again into the insistent desire for information which preceded the war with Spain and event for a time, survived its conclusion.

As a matter of fact, it does not mave very much difference at this late date what discoveries the board of experts who are to study the hull of the battleship make public or suppress. We are in a position today to see that, if the incident of the "Maine" had not occurred, something else would have been made do duty in its place. When war becomes inevitable, the technical excuse for making it is of no more importance than the specific cause assigned for the sentiment which lies behind it. If it were discovered and announced —that the "Maine" had been destroyed by an internal explosion for which no enemy could be held responsible, it would not wipe out the developments of the last decade which were consequent on the Spanish-American war nor restore the ideals of the world-mission of the United States which have been supplanted by those born in the enthusiasm and excitement of the first foreign war in half a century. Possibly it is just as well that the developments and ideals remain as they are rather than as they were. It is even conceivable that placing the responsibility for the change would be better left to the coming rather than to the present generation.

FOOTBALL SEASON.

Almost as instinctively as the rook flies to the cedars in autumn the mind of youth turns to football when the first frost appears and the leaves begin to curl in the hollows. There are certain old familiar phases of life that accompany the season's and the husking bee, corn roast, pumpkin pie eating, and football are among those that attach themselves to October.

One of the fascinations of life at such seats of learning as Columbia, Harvard, Yale, and at our own large universities such as McGill, Toronto and Queen's is the color that comes with the chill day and the tinted tree. The crispness of the air, the tone of the colored suits on players, the resonance of the voice and the exhilaration of a smart game all lend a strongly inviting aspect to campers and college hall.

To the young boy also who has learned at eight years to kick boxes, tin cans and crochet balls till the toes are out of his shoes, the opportunity of lifting a football high into the air is beyond resistance. Already in city where vacant lots, lanes and gathering "gate fund" and engaging in exciting games. On the school dea lawns also they are enjoying themselves with a zest that gives them a stronger ph ique and a clearer mind when they return to their studies.

Football is an old and honored sport. It is one of Canada's cleanest and best games, except where Rugby is engaged in to an unlicensed degree. The youth who plays it is better prepared to battle with the world's problems when he meets them than as though he were never to win a victory on the field. A good time for to all the boys who play it and if we happen along when there is a game on we too may try to "kick a goal."

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 36th. rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Green, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL OUTSIDER, within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should cost take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced, must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

A STRIKING INCIDENT.

Showing How Bitter Enmity Aroused by German-Franco War Still Remains.

Paris, Oct. 3.—A striking incident showing how the bitter enmity aroused by the Franco-German war still remains, occurred at Metz recently while the annual ceremonial was being held in honor of the French soldiers who were killed there in 1870.

Aftermass in the cathedral an immense procession made its way to the cemetery to place flowers on the graves of the French soldiers. The crowd marched to the graves in perfect silence, and a number of bouquets and wreaths tied with colors of the town of Metz and with the colors of Lorraine, were laid at the foot of the monument.

A group of ladies carried an immense wreath with a large bow of red, white and blue ribbon, and Mlle. Aubertine, an old woman of eighty-four, who was a nurse in Metz during the siege, laid the wreath at the foot of the monument with the other flowers.

At this moment the captain of the 8th Regiment of Bavarian Infantry, who represented the German military authorities, interfered and insisted on the removal of the French colors.

LOSS OF REPRESENTATION.

Causing Uneasiness in the Maritime Provinces.

Toronto, Ont. Oct. 3.—The great prospective loss of representation is causing uneasiness in the Maritime Provinces, and the three Provinces have decided to ask for such an amendment to the constitution as will secure them against further diminution. Some of the newspapers in the other provinces take the ground that there can be no departure from the principle of representation by population.

There is a possible mode of satisfying the Maritime Provinces without departing from that principle. This would be by changing the method by which the unit of representation is formed. At present it it is formed by dividing the number 65, the fixed representation of Quebec, into the population of that Province. Suppose, for example, the population of Quebec is 2,210,000, the unit is 34,000, and every other Province has as many members as it has units of 34,000; thus, if it had 340,000 people, it would be entitled to ten members. The consequence of this arrangement is that a Province may lose one or more members, not because it has fallen behind, but because it has not increased its population as rapidly as Quebec.

It would be possible to devise a plan under which no Province would lose representation unless it lost population. But in that case the representation of Quebec, instead of being fixed at 65, would increase to 70, 80, or whatever other figure corresponded to the increase in its population. In other words, instead of being fixed at 65, would increased to 70, 80, or whatever other figure corresponded to the increase of ots population. In other words, instead of the Maritime Provinces going ahead the Maritime Provinces going behind, Quebec would go ahead.

Every great cause has its martyrs. Abraham Greenbeg was fined $2 in New York the other day for thrashing his employer, Reuben Wisserman. Abraham's defence was: "But I'm a union man. The boss was working in the shop and he ain't a union man. He has no right to make pants." "But he's the boss," said the astonished magistrate: "he surely has a right to do work in his own shop!" "No he hasn't," persisted Reuben—"not unless he belongs to the union." On this point the law sided with capital and Rube was fined for affirming too emphatically a principle in which he evidently believed steadfastly.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.

Was Proclaimed on May 31st, 1910.

Toronto, Ont., October 5.—The union of British South Africa was proclaimed on May 31st last, and General Botha was made premier, head of a coalition cabinet. That cabinet had no parliament to work with, however, and general elections were provided for.

They have recently been held, winding up a stormy and rather bitter political campaign. There were no great national election issues before United South Africa. The time is not ripe for them. The native franchise, prohibition of the sale of liquor to the blacks, the regulation of coolie labor, are among the ripening questions; but thay have hardly been discussed on the stump. The absence of real issues has given an undue prominence to false or personal issues.

Theold quarrels between Dutch and British were revived. Orators indulged in wholesale denunciations and accusations. Some of the Boer leaders were accused of disloyalty to the empire, of conspiring to oust the English language from the schools, of cherishing narrow nationalist ambitions. In rural constituencies certain of the Boer politicians, in the heat of the campaigning, used words which reminded the former "outlanders" of the unhappy events which followed the Jameson raid and led to the war.

However, these violent recriminations have not been taken too seriously. The Union is permanent, and the past is buried. The parliament just elected will have a Dutch majority, but that majority will not be "disloyal." It will work with the British for a more consolidated and progressive South Africa. The defeat of Botha by a British candidate at Pretoria by Swange and remarkable, for Botha is a moderate, sane statesman who has the confidence of all reasonable men. Perhaps he has not pleased the extremists of his own race and party. At any rate, the cabinet will have to be reconstructed and when the first parliament meets it will face a strong opposition ably led.

A FALSE IMPRESSION.

Says That Canadians are Apt to Be Misled.

Mr. G. Wallace Carter, secretary of the Free Trade Union, in giving an account of his visit to Canada, pointed out that Canadians were apt to obtain a false impression of the tariff controversy in England, because they saw a dozen tariff reformers from Great Britain to one free trader. The Brockville Times thinks it has an easy explanation of this fact "Because there are now a dozen tariff reformers in Great Britain to one free trader."

Upon reflection the Times must see that its claim is not well founded. If there were twelve protectionists to one free trader in England, there would be a protectionist government with an overwhelming majority. On the contrary, the free trade government was sustained, and while its majority was greatly reduced, the reduction was due largely to the influence of the peers in the counties. The protectionists were deeply disappointed with the results of the voting in the industrial centers.

Of course no one could deny that protection has made headway in Great Britain in the last few years. It scored an undoubted advantage when it was adopted as a policy by the Conservative party. But its victories have been exaggerated—though it is left to the Brockville Times to make the amazing claim that the protectionists in England are twelve times as numerous as the free traders.

Mr. Carter's reference was to the activity of the protectionists in spreading through the colonies the glad news that they were carrying everything before them in Great Britain. As the colonies have been hearing comparatively little from the free traders they have obtained a somewhat lopsided view of the struggle. Mr. Carter points out that the advocates of free trade in England are neither dead nor asleep, but are carrying on quite a vigorous campaign as their opponents. During the summer they have held some fifty meetings a day. We do not pretend to prophesy how the struggle will end, but anyone who imagines that the protectionists are marching on to an easy victory are misled.

Election Day in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 5.—The State election in Georgia today is for governor and other state officials, supreme court judges and solicitors and county officers. Little interest is manifested, as the success of the full Democratic ticket headed by Hoke Smith for governor, is assured.

Miss Carnegie's Funeral Today.

Word was received here yesterday by Mr. C. J. Snyder, that Miss Catherine Carnegie, eldest daughter of the late Mr. John Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., died on Monday in a private hospital in Toronto. The late Miss Carnegie had been visiting her sister Mrs. George Orde, in Minneapolis, Minn., and returning to Toronto was taken ill. The funeral, which will be private, will be held from the C.P.R. station today on the arrival of the noon train, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Chimes Fund Progressing.

At noon yesterday the chimes subscription list stood at $4,597.47. Several contributions have been received during the past few days, as well as that of $50 from the St. John's Girls' Bible Class. One donation comes from a resident of the country. A number of subscriptions have been paid, and the total cash receipts are now $3,095.52. It might not be out of place to say that a promise from John Rockefeller, to pay, is as good as gold, but the gold in hand, will buy more bread than a promisssory note.

A Charming Lakefield Marriage.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's church, Lakefield, yesterday morning, when Miss Alice Kennedy, daughter of Mr. Patrick Kennedy, became the bride of Mr. Michael Quigley, formerly of Douro, now of Toronto. The nuptial mass was sung and the marriage ceremony performed by Rev. Father Phelan. Mr. Jos. Quigley, brother of the groom, was best man, and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emma Kennedy. During the mass Cherubini's Ave Maria was sung by Mr. Jos. Cornier. For the past six years Miss Kennedy has been the efficient organist of St. Paul's church.

Might Defeat a Navy.

There seems to be some discussion in the current press as to whether the U.S. ship Nashville, now on the inland lakes, is justified under the treaty forbidding warships on those waters. If the pretty black and white striped animal whose fur is labelled "Alaska sable," by the furriers, that made things malodorous to residents living near Victoria Park last night, gets its work in regularly, no American ship could survive long in the Canadian inland waters. The dollar may be all powerful, but the scent of that skunk in Victoria Park last night would keep the British Grenadiers on their mettle should it approach them. "Vi Et Armis."

Chief Howard in New Role.

Chief Howard of the local fire brigade, is known by every citizen of Peterborough, London, and other places, where he has conducted the destiny of their fire departments, as a distinguished fire fighter, and, consequently, a friend of the insurance companies doing buisiness in such places. Now, yesterday, Chief Howard demonstrated that there is another side to his line of thought and action. His brother-in-law, Mr. Geo. Clampett, a well-known conductor on the C.P.R. at London, Ont., is the guest of Chief Howard. Mr. Clampett is accompanied by his little son, a boy of possibly ten years. Chief Howard took his little nephew Harold out yesterday to show him the sights of Peterborough. During their perigrenation, the chief took his nephew into Lewis barber shop, in the Oriental building, to get the child's hair cut. Arrived in the shop, Chief Howard, instead of being commander of men, became a tender nurse. Those in the shop sympathetically smiled at the big fire fighter, carefully lifted the child into a chair, put a board across the arms of it, and told the barber if he did not want to die a sudden death, to pay full attention to that particular customer.

BANISHED.

Coffee Finally Had to Go.

The way some persons cling to coffee even after they know it is doing them harm is a puzzler. But it is an easy matter to give it up for good when Postum—properly made—is used instead.

A girl writes: "Mother had been suffering with nervous headaches for seven weary years, but kept drinking coffee.

"One day I asked why she did not give up coffee as a cousin of mine had none who had taken to Postum. But mother was such a slave to coffee she thought it would be terrible to give it up.

"Finally, one day she made the change to Postum, and soon her headaches disappeared. One morning, while she was drinking Postum so freely and with such relish I asked for a taste.

"That started me on Postum, and I now drink it more freely than I did coffee, which never comes into our house now.

"A girl friend of mine, one day, saw me drinking Postum, and asked me if it was coffee. I told her it take home, but forgot to tell her was Postum and gave her some to how to make it.

"The next day she said she did not see how I could drink Postum I found that she had made it like ordinary coffee. So I told her how to make it right and gave her a cupful I made. Boiling it fifteen minutes. She said she never drank any coffee that tasted so good, and now coffee is banished from both our homes."

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

All the police court news of yesterday is, one drunk, $2, paid.

Before the Royal Commission on Technical Education, Mayor Morrow said that Peterborough is a good place for the working man to live in. The mayor knows a good thing when he sees it!

At the annual meeting of the Fire Chiefs of Ontario, to be held in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day, Chief Howard will speak on the "Advantages of a Clean City from a Fire Standpoint, and How to Accomplish the Same."

Ald. Gillespie is going to bring the subject of technical education up before the Peterborough Board of Trade. There is no fear that the city father will be told to "cheese it!" as he will give the board the cream of the Royal Commission's arguments.

The local Ministerial Association seem to have something up their sleeve," as yesterday morning they asked the press to leave whilst they held their meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Whilst it is their privilege to hold secret meetings, there is an old saying that "Salvation's free for all."

THE FINGER PRINT SYSTEM.

The Yellow Plague Must Be Kept Out at Any Cost.

We are indebted the manager of the Algoma Steam Laundry Company of Fort William, Ont., for a copy of the Morning Herald, containing a despatch from Vancouver, B.C. stating that difficulties in connection with regulating Chinese immigration into Canada via Vancouver as evidenced by the holding of 38 immigrants who recently came on the Empress of China on the charge that they were using fraudulent passports are not beyond solution. It is proposed that by the introduction of the fingerprint system of identification the problem of identifying immigrants, persons for whom passports were originally issued in China, will be made easy.

Whether or not the department has any intention of adopting this principle is not stated but Edward Foster, the Dominion Police Officer, who is in Vancouver working on the case, is himself a fingerprint expert, and this gives some force to the report that he is developing a plan to make the work of the department easier. The fingerprint system of identification of Orientals is used successfully in South Africa and other countries to which East Indians and Chinese immigrate. At the present when suspicion of fraud arises it is practically impossible to get at the facts of the case as witnesses would have to be brought from China at great expense. The only reason ascribed for the suspicion of the Controller of Chinese immigration is that he understood the instructions of the department at Ottawa. It was owing to this misunderstandnig that he reinstated Yip On, the Customs Chinese interpreter."

The Laundryman is pleased to note that the authorities are at last becoming wise to the yellow plague danger and are taking steps to protect the people. The head tax will no doubt be increased to $1000 at this will be a body blow to Chinese the next session of Parliament, and emigration.

FIRST GAMES TO BE PLAYED AT PHILADELPHIA.

It Was Decided on By the Toss of a Coin.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The first two games in the series for the world's baseball championship will be played at Philadelphia, according to a decision of the National Commission announced today. The flip of a coin between Ben Shibe, president of the Athletics, winner of the American League championship, and Charles Murphy, head of the Chicago National League Club settled the matter.

Murphy felt like protesting when the coin rolled from a table to the floor. He called out that the toss was "dead," before anyone could see whether heads or tails faced up. Murphy called "Tails" and Shibe "Heads."

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was the first to see the coinafter it lit on the floor.

"It's heads, Ben," he announced, turning to Shibe, "and you win."

The series consists of seven games and after the first two games in Philadelphia the teams go to Chicago. No date for the opening was fixed.

HEARST WILL ENDORSE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Political Situation in New York Complicated By the Announcement Made.

New York, Oct. 4.—That the political situation in New York is to be complicated by William R. Hearst endorsing the Republican ticket in order to aid Col. Roosevelt, or else placing an entire independent ticket in the field to attract votes from the Democratic candidates, was made certain today. In leading first page editorials, the Hearst organs bitterly assail the ticket nominated at Rochester, label it as of "Murphy's making," and insist that it was nominated as part of a plan of Tammany Hall to secure control of all the cities of the State.

The general opinion of the politicians is that Hearst will endorse Stimson and the remainder of the Republican ticket. They reason that when Hearst said on September 7: "We do not care who leads if only he leads right; we do not care who gains the glory as long as the people gain the victory," he paved the way for a declaration for the Republican ticket, no matter who Roosevelt might name.

Hearst's Independence League will hold its State convention here Wednesday afternoon. By that time, Hearst, who is a passenger on the Mauretania, en route to this city, will be in touch with his organization by wireless, and will be able to dictate its action as was Roosevelt at Saratoga or Charles Murphy at Rochester.

That the Democratic leaders realize that they will have to fight Hearst is shown by a call for a conference here next Wednesay night. The ostensible purpose is a meeting of the State Committee to select a successor to Candidate Dix, but this meeting is to be held on Thursday, and all of the county chairmen, State committeemen, candidates, and their friends are urged to come here a day ahead of time so that the situation may be thoroughly canvassed.

The Republicans will open their campaign tomorrow. In the morning the State Committee will meet and elect Col. Roosevelt's new choice its chairman. In the afternoon Stimson and the other candidates will be notified and accept the Republican club.

Madrid, Oct. 5.—The whole Iberian Peninsula, comprised of Spain and Portugal is seething with the revolution spirit today. The latest reports from Lisbon are to the effect that the rebels hold practically all of the capital and that the monarcy is doomed.

Spain, already torn by internal warfare, and rioting, is today making desperate preparations for a final stand against the ownership of Republicanism.

Troops are being hurried to every strategic point; garrisons are being strengthened and double guards of cavalry and artillery are patrolling the frontier. Advices of rebel successes in Portugal are suppressed as far as possible.

The bitter strife in Spain, dating back two years, culminated in the recent religious rioting, which in turn had led to the direct promise of civil war unless King Alfonso promises to abdicate and throw the government of Spain into the hands of the Republicans.

PRISONERS FOR ROAD AND BRIDGE MAKING.

Splendid Work Being Done in Northern Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Oct.6.—A good deal of criticism has been heard in some quarters over the use of prisoners for road and bridge making in Northern Ontario. While at Matheson Hon. Mr. Cochrane and Hon. Dr. Reaume took occasion personally to examine one of the roads, and also to enquire how the people regarded the new departure. Those spoken to were enthusiastic in their praise of the work done by the unfortunates who otherwise would be languishing in the jails farther south. The officer who gathers the prisoners and conducts them to the scene of their labors says that the men are relieved at the prospect of open-air employment in new surroundings. Many have been so benefitted mentally and physically by the change that they have joined the free labor gang at the expiration of their terms rather than return to their old haunts. This notwithstanding the fact that free transportation is supplied to those wishing to go back home.

Some people would deny the prisoners the privilege of road making, on the ground that it takes away work from the settlers. This objection is entirely theoretical, and is not justified by facts. At the present time forty-eight prisoners are working on the eighteen miles of road from Matheson to Night Hawk Lake, and forty-six on the nine miles of road between the latter place and Porcupine, a total of ninety-four. On these same roads there is a free labor gang of one hundred men, consisting of settlers, discharged prisoners and others to whom the dollar and a half a day "and found" is an inducement. As a rule the prison gangs do better work than the free labor gangs, possibly because among the latter are settlers to whom work in the Canadian bush is both new and trying.

The work on these highways which are mining rather than colonization roads, though both settlers and miners will use them, will conclude by the end of October. By that time plans will likely be made for the winter employment af the prisoners. Mr. Cochrane has determined upon a policy of "roads in advance of the settler." Heretofore the settler has preceded the roads. This winter may witness the inauguration of the new program.

The winter is really the best season for work in the northern bush, and no reason exists why these prisoners should not build roads through townships that are to be opened to settlement later. In this way any objection to competition with free labor would be eliminated.

THE ROYAL FLAG TORN DOWN AT LISBON

(Special to The Times.)

Lisbon, Oct. 5.—At eight o'clock this morning troops faithful to the government, who had been assembled in the Place Dom Pedro, made common cause with the revolutionists and returned to their barracks.

A multitude in the streets applauded the desertion, crying, "Long live the Republic."

(Special to The Times.)

Paris, Oct. 5.—The foreign office has received unofficial information that the palace at Lisbon was still holding out at midnight against the revolutionists. This is in conflict with other advices which say the place was quickly captured yesterday.

BLAME MOTORMAN FOR 36 DEATHS

Man's Arrest Ordered—He Has Been Missing Since Accident—Overran His Orders.

Staunton, Ill., Oct. 5.—In a signed statement issued here early today by Vice President and General Manager H. E. Chubbuck of the Illinois Traction System, John Lierman of Staunton, a motorman, who is missing, is held wholly responsable for the collision between two cars near here late yesterday and the death of 36 persons.

Chubbuck's account of the wreck is that Lierman, motorman of a northbound local, over-ran an order instructing him to wait at Staunton for the second section of a southbound limited interurban. After the first section of the limited had passed from Springfield towards St. Louis, Lierman proceeded to Springfield. The collision at full speed occurred one mile north of this place and on a curve at the foot of a ravine. The arrest of Lierman has been ordered by the officials.

Lundy Shovel and Tool Company About to Drill for Natural Gas

Was the American Concern's Application for a Franchise the Result of Our Local People's Operations?—Who Will Get the Franchise if Gas is Found?

It seems that the probabilities of natural gas being within or around Peterborough is attracting considerable attention from more than one quarter.

About a week ago, as Mr. Carew, representing an American syndicate, waited upon two or three of the City's Manufacturers Committee and agreed to the terms of an agreement under which his people could have a ten years' exclusive franchise of our streets for laying pipes for conveying natural gas to consumers. Mr. Carew said his company were prepared to spend $6000 in two years in drilling for gas, and agreed to pay for a bylaw being submitted to the ratepayers. Mr. Carew agreed to start drilling on or before March first next years.

At Monday a council meeting the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company had a letter before the city fathers, also asking an exclusive street franchise for the conveyance of natural gas. Both applications were then referred to the Manufacturers' Committee, which met last night.

There were present at this meeting, Mr. T. P. Clarkson, manager of the Lundy Tool and Shovel Company, and Messrs. Davidson and Rudkins, also members of the company. Mr. Clarkson explained that a drilling plant is already on the Shovel and Tool Company's property with which to bore for gas to supply their own factory. If the results are favorable, they would be prepared to go into the natural gas business in as large a scale as conditions warranted, hence their application for an exclusive franchise. They propose to commence drilling this week or next.

In reply to questions submitted by the aldermen present, Mr. Clarkson said we will drill on our own property, but as to guaranteeing to drill elsewhere, that would depend upon indications. He certainly could not guarantee to spend $6000 in drilling for gas in order to get a franchise, and it looks as though Mr. Carew's application for a franchise has resulted from our operations. Mr. Carew's proposition seems to justify our conclusion that we are to do the drilling and the American people reap the benefit in the way of a franchise should our enterprise prove successful.

The mayor thought a franchise should be given to all comers who are prepared to put up sufficient guaranteeof good faith. Peterborough wants natural gas.

When Mr. Carew was in town last week a Manufacturers' Committee meeting was called, but not enough members turned up to form a quorum With those present, however, Mr. Carew accepted the same agreement drawn up for Mr. Dittman in Mayor Rush's period of office, and which will be forfeited unless drilling is resumed, and the terms of the agreement complied with by the end of 1910.

Ald. Bradburn offered that good faith should be kept with Mr. Carew, who had offered to spend $6000 drilling for gas in return for a street franchise. But the Lundy people are not prepared to guarantee any such expenditure on such a venture.

The committee were anxious, as a whole, to act fairly in the interests of both parties, and the city generally, and to offer no impediment to any effort proposed to secure natural gas. With these ends in view they somewhat amendmended the proposed agreement with Mr. Carew as follows:

No franchise is to be given till after January 1st, when a bylaw will be submitted to the ratepayers Whoever holds such franchise must, if gas is found on one year, have a plant in operation for consumers' benefit the second year. Should boring for gas be stopped for two consecutive months, then the francise is to be forfeited. The cost of submitting a bylaw is to be borne by the holder of franchise.

A copy of the amendment will be forwarded to Mr. Carew for approval. If satisfactory to his people they will commence drilling for gas about next March. In the meantime the Lundy Shovel and Tool company will at once start boring on their property for their own purposes, and if the results are sufficient ly encouraging, Mr. Clarkson said his people will be satisfied to enter into a similar agreement for a franchise as that to be submitted to Mr. Carew should his syndicate decline operations.

The natural gas situation has resolved itself into this shape:— No franchise can be given until January next. The Lundy Company are going to commence drilling anyway this week, and the results of their early operations may POSSIBLY deter the American people from entering the field, in which event our local people may take up the franchise. Or, both concerns may find gas in quantities sufficient to justify operations under two franchises. Then again one concern might absorb any natural gas rights the other may acquire. And last, but not least, natural gas this time may prove as elusive as to other attempts at its discovery.

It is unofficially reported that M. Soveral, Portuguese minister to Great Britain, has appealed to the foreign office to intervene in Portugal in behalf of the King.

A wireless despatch to the admiralty states that the British cruisers Newcastle arrived at Lisbon this afternoon.

HAS BATTLE TAKEN PLACE?

London, Oct. 5.—The Central News Bureau says: "There has been continual fighting in Lisbon since the initial shot of the revolution was fired. Bloody conflicts are now raging throughout the capital, and hundreds have fallen in the struggle for liberty. Although the latest despatches from the clearance points of the fragmentary news that filters from the capital, say that the revolutionists are in control, the fact that the fighting continues indicates that a large part of the population and possibly of the soldiery, remained loyal to the government.

KILLED COUSIN WITH AN AXE

ALBERT HOLMES IS ON TRIAL FOR THE MURDER OF NATHAN BOLTON.

His Daughter Testifies—Found the Dying Man—Her Father Worried Over Son and Business Deal.

Brockville, Oct. 5.—The trial of Albert Holmes, accused of murdering Nathan Bolton, his cousin, on April 21 last, in the Township of Edwardsburg, opened yesterday afternoon before Chancellor Boyd.

There is no dispute as to the crime having been committed by Holmes. This is admitted by the defence, which will attempt to set up that the prisoner was not mentally responsible.

The murder was perpetrated, it will be remebered, while the two men were engaged carving the carcass of a hog on the premises of Holmes. Seizing an axe Holmes struck Bolton on the head, death ensuing short ly afterwards.

Miss Ethel Holmes, daughter of the accused, was on the stand nearly two hours. She discovered Bolton in a dying condition and told of her father's flight to the woods. The Crown elicited the fact that the two men were alone in the shed, adjoining the house. There was no apparent dispute, and her attention was directed to the tragedy by the groans of Bolton.

HIS STRANGE ACTIONS.

The defence attorney, J. A. Hutcheson, K.C., spent much time getting from the witness a mass of details of the strange actions of her father for many months preceding the crime. He was greatly worried over a wayward son, to whom Mrs. Holmes induced the accused to make over the homestead on the fourth concession in the Township of Edwardsburg much against his will He brooded over the transaction, and, after removing to a new home purchased from Bolton, was more dissatisfied than ever, and on many occasions threatened to take his life.

Once he drank poison, and the night before the murder searched the house for a revolver, which Mrs. Holmes had hidden in a trunk. Miss Holmes testified that the prisoner and Holmes were on the best of terms.

Holmes when brought into court presented a so . He wept bitterly throughout the session often sobbing aloud, burying his head in his hands. It is feared that he will completely collapse under the strain.

Brockville, Oct. 4. The assizes were opened here today by Chancellor Boyd. Two seduction cases, one involving a breach of promise of marriage, make up the civil list with an equal number of the criminal variety.

William Kerr stands charged with participating in the riot which took place at the Grand Trunk Railway depot on the night of July 22nd, during the troublesome times of the trainmen's strikes.

The other is the case of Albert Holmes, who is to be tried for the murder of Nathan Bolton in the township of Edwardsburb, near Cardinal. Holmes, who is past middle age, has been in jail since he gave himself up after the crime was committed. Widespread interest centers in the investigation of this crime to be conducted by George T. Blackstock, the eminent criminal lawyer, who has been detailed to act as Crown prosecutor.

AN ELDER IN CHURCH.

The community of the township of Edwardsburg was shocked beyond measure when the word went forth on April 21st that Holmes had slain his cousin and neighbor, Nathan Bolton, while the man was engaged cutting up a pig on the farm of the homicide. Both men were respected farmers, in easy circumstances, particularly Holmes, who is reported to be quite wealthy. He occupied a high place in the estimation of everybody who knew him; a man of sterling integrity and kindly manner, whose Christian profession no person questioned, it being in keeping with the office of elder which he held with honor for so many years in the Presbyterian church. He offers no excuse beyond the fact of being suddenly seized with an uncontrollable impulse to kill. Like a flash of lightning the thought came to his mind to ply the axe on the head of Bolton, who stood beside him in a stooping position. The defence will plead insanity to save Holmes from the gallows. In this connection several Provincial alienists will take the stand, including Dr. Ryan, superintendent of Rockwood Asylum, Kingston; Dr. Mitchell, assistant superintendent of the Eastern Hospital for the Insane, Brockville, and Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons and public charities.

The members of the Holmes family had been impressed by his strange actions, and at one stage the advisability of committing him to the asylum was under consideration, the man expressing a wish himself that he be sent there for treatment. The preliminary hearing after his arrest disclosed the fact that he had attempted suicide by drinking a quantity of horse liniment.

GOT WORST OF DEAL.

Holmes originally possessed a fine farm, known as the homestead, some concessions back in the rear of the township. He made the property over to his son for a comparatively small consideration, and moved to another farm on the river front which he purchased from the murdered man, paying $7000. Of this amount $4,000 was in cash, and the release of a mortgage by Holmes made up the balance. It was common report after the murder that Holmes had regretted the deal by listening to country gossip of having got the warst end of it at the hands of his cousin. This may be a point large and possibly lay the foundation upon which the prosecution will enfor a motive.

To Discuss Forms of Government.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 6.—The commission form of government and the general managership plan being tried out in the city of Staunton are the chief subjects to be discussed by the mayors and other officials who are gathered here to-day for the annual convention of the Virginia League of Municipalities. The convention will continue its sessions through the remainder of the week.

Mr. T. Callaghan of Campbellford, was in the city yesterday.

More Arrests Made in Dynamiting Outrage

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—The net thrown out by the authorities appears to be closing in rapidly on the dynamitersof the Los Angeles Times.

"It is certain that the dynamite, which we know was secured at Giant was taken to Los Angeles, and that it was the same dynamite used in the destruction of the "Times" building and in the bombs found at the Zeehandelaar and Otis residences."

This statement was made by Attorney Earl Rogers, of Los Angeles, who is in charge of the man hunt.

"We have ordered arrests," said Mr. Rogers, and we now have five men in jail at different points between here and Los Angeles and east of San Francisco.

He refused to divulge the names of the prisoners or the places where they are held.

It is estimated that only 200 pounds of the total amount has been accounted for.

Witnesses Saw Robt. Parker with a Rifle

ON THE MORNING WILLIAM MASTERS WAS MURDERED—TRIAL OF THE AGED MAN.

Others Tell of Threats—Footmarks Found Near the Body Described By the Associate Coroner.

Belleville, Oct. 5.—The trial of Robt. Parker, charging with murdering Wm. Masters was resumed this morning.

Dr. Farrell, associate coroner, described minutely the scene of the murder, and his examination of footmarks near where the body lay and in the direction from which the shot is supposed to have been fired.

Frank Countryman, a neighbor, testified that he had heard Parker threaten to shoot Masters for interfering with his traps. Mrs. Clara Marsh in her evidence stated that about two weeks before the shooting of Masters she heard Parker say it would not be well for the Masters if he caught them meddling with his traps.

Mrs. Maggie Caull testified that in driving to Tweed on the morning Masters was killed, at Chapman's Corners bridge, she met Mr. Parker. He was carrying a shotgun over left right shoulder. Parker then crossed over the road and climbed over a fence, which was the last she saw of him.

Charles Holden, a yeoman, was sure he met Parker the morning Masters was killed, and he was carrying a gun. He was near the Chapman's Corners brodge.

The court at this stage adjourned until two p.m. The crown has still a number of witnesses to examine.

CANADA FRENCH OR ENGLISH?

The St. Thomas Times says that the question of whether Canada is to be French or English was decided in Canadian history, decided on the Plains of Abraham generations ago, but recent events would indicate that the question is a live issue today. Bishop Fallon of London, though a Roman Catholic, sees in bilingualism a menace to national welfare on the other hand. Archbishop Bourne of Westminster thinks "it would be a calamity if the French language should lose any part of the position it now holds."

"We might ask the question, a calamity for whom?" adds the Times. "Certainly not for the unity and stability of the nation. To our national motto, "One Flag, one King, one Empire," should be added, "and one language." Canada is distinctly English speaking nation. The French, so far as Canada is concerned are a conquered people, and as such should conform to the language, laws and customs of their rulers. Had Britain been less lenient in her dealings with conquered people, much strife and discord would have been eliminated from the heritage of Britishers. The time to have begun the making of Canada an English speaking people was when the tricolor was lowered in Canada forever on the Plains of Abraham. That was not done, a generous but unfortunate concession to a defeated foe, and today we are reaping the result. We have a dual language with all its inconvenience and expense, and nursing of feelings of loyalty towards a tricolor flag. So long as the French language is spoken in Parliamentary halls in the deliberations of the nation, so long as a whole province is dominated by interests essentially French, and so long as the French language is taught and spoken in Canadian schools to the exclusion of our national tongue, so long will there be a dividing line between two great sections of the Canadian people. The English language and the French flag should have no more right and importance in Canada than the flag and languages of a dozen other nationalities represented in this rapidly growing Dominion, and the sooner and the more emphatically this fact is made plain, the sooner will Canada become consolidated into a great, united, harmonious English-speaking daughter of the Empire."

RIOTS IN GERMANY.

Furious fighting between police and strikers is reported from Berlin. Revolver shots were exchanged, and the police used their sabres recklessly, cutting down all who made the slightest remonstrance. The correspondent of the London Globe and others were attacked by the police while returning from the riot region. Reuter's agent had his finger laid bare to the bone. The police seemed to have lost their heads, and their violence looks like evidence of weakness and frenzy rather than of strength. Had such an exhibition taken place in the streets of London it would surely have been heralded as an evidence of the decadence of the nation.

The military and feudal elements are strong in Germany, and through their organs we may obtain the impression that the people are thirsting for military glory, eager to build a navy as great as that of Great Britain and willing to pay out their hard-earned money for that that purpose. The riots show the people in a somewhat different light. The nation is well-nigh crushed under the weight of the expenditure for the great armaments, and there is growing discontent with the high taxation. Some months ago it was discovered that public opinion strongly favored the making of an arrangement with Great Britain to check the ruinous competition in shipbuilding.

There is a growing disposition on the part of workers in all countries to get together to combine for common interests, and to refuse to be used as food for powder in international wars, the chief gainers in which are army contractors and feudal leaders eager for military careers. The growth of the sentiment of common brotherhood in France and Germany has seriously alarmed those whose interest lies in perpetuating barbarism.

EDWARD AS MOTORIST.

He Was an Enthusiast and a Patron of the Toot-Toot Art.

By the death of King Edward, motoring in common with many other forms of sport has lost a munificent patron. His Majesty was the proud possessor of a baker's dozen of motor-cars, most of which represent the last word in the automobile world.

The King was immune from the tyranny of the number-plate, and his cars were therefore innocent of the symbolism which appeals so strongly to the executive of the police-trap.

A detailed description of all the King's cars was issued to the police throughout the Kingdom together with instructions that "all facilities" were to be given for their progress on the road. But this concern at headquarters was not sufficient to prevent mistakes. More than once the royal cars were held up owing to the interference of some officious constable, who was disappointed in his search for a number, and a considerable amount of time and breath has been wasted before he has been convinced that "the King can do no wrong."

Unlike his brother, the Duke of Connaught, the King was remarkably free from anything in the nature of a serious accident. He had breakdowns in legion—no motorist is free from these little unpreventable inconveniences—but he always proved himself equal to the emergency by availing himself of the first handy vehicle and so avoiding becoming an object of interest to all and sundry.

A short while ago his car came to a sudden stop in Richmond Park. In a moment a vast crowd appeared, apparently from nowhere, and enjoyed the spectacle of the King of England instructing his chauffeur in the true inwardness of the breakdown, showing him the best method of remedying the fault, and exhibiting in a number of ways his intimate knowledge of motor-car mechanism. He owed this knowledge to Mr. Oliver Stanton, who, years ago, taught His Majesty cycling, and more recently made him a thorough master of the automobile.

King Edward's chauffeurs were all picked men. Most of them served in Scotland Yard, and have, at some time or other, driven the official motor-cars of the police. How this idea of the King's was carried out is interesting. One day a chauffeur in the employ of the Commissioner of Police was told off to perform some service for the King, and the fine physique and bearing of the man attracted His Majesty's attention. While this man was in attendance at Buckingham Palace something went wrong with a royal motor-car, which seemed to puzzle the King's own chauffeur, and resist all his attempts at remedy.

At last the man from Scotland Yard stepped forward, and in a few minutes found a remedy. The King was so pleased that he asked the man to take service with him, and, the permission of the Commissioner being secured, the corps of policemen-chauffeurs was inaugurated. As it was necessary for policemen to accompany the King almost everywhere he went, the men performed dual service.

Although the King was extremely free from accidents, he had foresight enough to know that he was not infallible, so he had a complete first-aid outfit attached to each of his cars. This miniature surgery weighs about six pounds, and includes an India rubber tourniquet to stop bleeding, several pairs of scissors and forceps, antiseptic swabs, gauze, bandages, a variety of unguents and dressings, a selection of stimulative drugs, and a bottle of brandy. These contents are arranged in the order of their use in the eight different compartments of a silver box which fits into a royal blue morocco case.

On the lid of each case are detailed instructions, whilst on the front of each silver box is the inscription: "A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed."

The Names of the Mighty.

Talking of family names, the new issue of the London directory provides some curiosities. Sebastian Bach is a horse dealer, Robert Bruce and John Bunyan are green grocers, John Milton is a chandler and James Boswell a mason.

William Shakespeare is the name of a barrister, tailor and a van builder. There is a Crusoe and also a Gulliver. Julius Caesar is a chemist; Livy keeps apartments. Homer is a lighterman, Pindar an electrical engineer, Mars, retails beer, and Venus, not inappropriately, sugars, candles. Frances Bacon is an architect and Bayard a dairyman. And what could be better for the name of a saddler than Whippy?

From Sailor to Royal Academician.

Mr. C. Napier Hemy, one of the newly-elected Royal Academicians, has had an extremely eventful career. Born at Newcastle-on-Tyne, he was taken by his parents to Australia, where in his early days he worked hard as a miner in the bush. The call of art was strong upon him, however, and he abandoned everything to study painting in Antwerp. Returning to England in 1870 his success with the brush was soon assured, and, elected an Associate in 1898, he has now deservedly achieved the highest honor the art world has to offer.

Healy on Redmond.

The Irish politician takes his business seriously and when he strikes an opponent he strikes to kill. The other day at a mass meeting in Cork, Mr. M. Healy, M.P., said that Mr. John Redmond and his party, in voting for the Budget, had committed the greatest act of betrayal of Irish interests since that memorable act of treachery in Ireland's history when, 110 years ago, other Irishmen put their hand and seal to the Act of Union.

Exporting Cabinet Ministers.

In proposing "Scotland and her Industries" at a Glasgow corporation dinner recently an Englishman remarked that the two chief industries of the northern land were the manufacture of marmalade and Cabinet Ministers. Sir Samuel Chisholm, who replied, suggested that they had a good-going business in the output of Prime Ministers—for export as well as for home consumption.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $2.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 5c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 36 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, exPresident of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

CABLES VS. DREADNOUGHTS.

When a meeting of the British Institute of Journalists was recently held in London, England, at which newspaper men and women from overseas were present, several subjects were discussed and among them that of the reduction of cable rates. In connection with the speeches on this topic Mr. Robert McMillan, of Sydney, said that if the British people, who spent £60,000,000 a year for defence were to put a few millions into the cable system they would be binding the Empire into one great united body. Then they would be one people in deed and in truth. But they left the cables to private enterprise and users had been charged 3s a word. If only someone would rise up and say that instead of Dreadnoughts next year they would give them a better cable service, it would be a magnificent thing. What they wanted was that the whole Empire would be bound round with electric cables that would make them one people with one flag and one theme.

Dreadnoughts at the present time are necessary. Britain must protect her territories, but so far as promoting imperial unity is concerned there is no more effective way than by developing the intercourse between Motherland and colonies, by letting the outposts of the Empire know what is going on at home.

Sentiment is stronger than the largest and most powerful battleship ever built.

To Celebrate Centennial.

Circleville, O., Oct. 1.—The centennial of Pickaway County is to be celebrated here by a gala week beginning tomorrow, on much the general plan for an old home week, but with more elaborateness. For many months the citizens have been preparing for the event, and their efforts promise now to result in one of the most successful celebrations of its kind ever held in this part of the state. Wednesday will be the biggest day of the week, when Governor Harmon and Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for governor, are scheduled to speak.

Mr. Hugh Cruickshank, assistant baggage agent at the G.T.R. station here, left Saturday for Waubaushene where he will spend a few days visiting his brother.

MOOSE HUNT TO ORDER

HOW VAN HORNE FURNISHED SPORT TO TWO WRITERS.

He Didn't Know Where to Find a Moose, But He Warned Them Not to Make a Slaughter — Turned Them Over to Pat Murphy and Patrick Did the Rest—Five Moose Just Off the Railway Track!

Sir William Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, once told Mr. J. R. Barrett how he furnished Julian Ralph and the late Frederick Remington a complete moose hunt, which was duly described and depicted in Harper's Magazine, a few years ago. True the moose were there, were shot, and photographed, but how they happened to be there is another story. Mr. Barrett quotes Sir William as follows in The Bellman, (Minneapolis):

I was sitting in my office one day when two cards were brought in bearing the names of Julian Ralph and Frederick Remington. I knew the names and told my secretary to show the gentlemen in. They came, and presented a letter from Harper's Magazine, from which it appeared that they had been sent, the one to write and the other to illustrate a Canadian moose hunt. The editor of Harper's Magazine asked me to show them any courtesies which would assist them in their object.

Now I hadn't a notion whether there was a single bleat moose along the whole line of the Canadian Pacific, but I wasn't going to say so to two men from New York. So——

"I understand, gentlemen," I said, "that you have come here to shoot moose." They said that was the case.

"Well, now," I continued, "I suppose that I can take it for granted that you are gentlemen and have the proper sporting instinct. If I turn you loose you are not going to go slaughtering our moose and filling the woods with blood?"

No, no, no; they wouldn't think of such a thing.

"You don't propose to decimate our herds of these noble animals?"

"Why, certainly not."

"I presume that one good bull moose apiece would satisfy you?" And their eyes glistened as they said that indeed it would. "On that understanding," I said, "I'll give you a letter to our agent at Mattawa."

The reason why I chose him was because if there was a moose to be found in Canada Pat Murphy was the man to find it when told to. If there wasn't a moose in the country, I knew he could take a joke. So I wrote:

Dear Murphy: This will introduce to you Frederick Remington, the well-known artist, and Julian Ralph, the equally well-known writer, who have come in the interest of Harper's Magazine to describe and illustrate a moose hunt. They have promised not to kill too many of the noble animals, but will be content with getting one good bull moose apiece. I trust to you to see that they get them. Yours, etc.

Now it was up to Murphy.

I had forgotten all about the matter in the press of business, when a couple of weeks or so later, the same two cards were brought to me again and once more I met Mr. Ralph and Mr. Remington. They were delighted. Had they got their moose, or moose, or whatever it is? Of course they had. They had had a simply glorious time, and couldn't say enough in thanks to me or in praise of Murphy. In due course, the article appeared in Harper's. One of them sent me a copy, and a rattling good article it was, pictures and all. But what puzzled me was how it had all happened. Murphy told me some time later.

When they arrived with my letter he didn't know whether there was a moose within five hundred miles. He hadn't heard of one for ten years, but he wasn't going to give us away to any New Yorkers any more than I was. Besides, I had said that he was to see that these men got their moose, and he proposed to do it.

He made excuse that his best hunters happened to be away for a few days and it would be necessary to wait till they came back. Then he sent out runners. He sent them to every point of the compass to start the Indians beating the woods towards Mattawa. I don't know how many Indians and others he got to work, but they beat for all that was in them. From somewhere up in the Arctic regions, from east to west, the entire population of the country came converging toward Mattawa, with a distinct understanding all along the line that any man who let a moose through would be shot out of hand.

It took six days, but they got 'em. By the evening of the sixth day, men came in and told Murphy that they had five moose, two bulls and three cows, safely cornered ten miles off in the woods. So Murphy announced that his hunters had come back, and would be ready to go out next day.

They went. The skill those men showed in reading the moose signs impressed Ralph and Remington as simply marvellous. Within a few hours they were on the track of a herd of five, and early next morning one of the ambitions of the lives of both was realized, for each had shot with his own rifle a good Canadian bull moose.

Within a few miles of the line of the railroad, to strike off at random into the woods and pick up moose as if they were prairie-chickens—what a paradise for hunters!

A Link of Empire.

Another link in the bonds of Empire was forged the other day when the Tasmanian Government presented a gold watch, suitably inscribed to Constable Walter Lygo, who, while on duty in London, some months ago found a young Tasmanian seaman named George Johansen in a starving condition and assisted him with both food and money. The people on the West Coast of Tasmania, where Johansen's parents lived, desired to make some recognition of Constable Lygo's kindness and opened a subscription for the purchase of a testimonial.

A Heated Argument.

A somewhat heated argument was held yesterday afternoon between three George street merchants regarding the legal right of a George street restaurant firm, recently entered into local business, to maintain, or rather, to erect a wooden kitchen to the rear of their premises, right in the center of the fire limits. The firm referred to, have certainly put up an open wooden kitchen in an alley right off the central part of George street's business section.

Local Man's Experiment Succeeding.

A few days ago The Times published a short sketch of the experiments being made by Mr. Archie McDonald, a former Peterborough citizen, with a view to manufacturing paper for commercial use out of palmetto, a scrub palm growing in that southern part of the United States. Yesterday Mr. McDonald had advice that the experiments are progressing favorably, and that, within a short time instead of thousands of acres of Canadian forests being destroyed to furnish paper for the world, the palmetto of the southern States, until now a nuisance, will furnish the raw material for paper. As an instance of the enormous demand for paper on this continent, it might be noted that yesterday Mr. McDonald remarked to The Times that the Boston Post, the leading journal of the city of culture and beans, uses $16,000 worth a week.

LABOR INSPECTOR.

Commends Postum Plant.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 21.—The pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., of Battle Creek, Mich., which are visited by from 15,000 to 18,000 tourists annually, entertained an unexpected visitor the other day in the person of Sylvester Greusel, Michigan State factory inspector.

With practical and unsparing eye this state official investigated the great group of factory buildings where Postum Cereal, Grape-Nuts Post Toasties are manufactured. The result of his visit was shown by the following special report which he made to the Michigan State Labor Commission.

Mr. Richard Fletcher, commissioner of Labor, and Statistics, Lansing, Mich.

Dear Sir.—I have this day, (Sept. 20, 1910), I carefully inspected every department of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., and I think they are entitled to an especially complimentary report for the following reasons:

First.—All the mechanical appliances of this splendid factory are in perfect condition—everything safeguarded.

Second.—The sanitary conditions are of the best. Everything is furnished employes—fresh water, washrooms, dressing and toilet rooms.

Third.—With the large number of persons employed in the breakfast food department, there have been no accidents.

Fourth.—I find the statistics of the wages paid men and women are the highest I have found in any factory I have inspected in Michigan.

Fifth.—They do not employ any child labor under 16 years of age.

It is a model institution in every respect.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) Sylvester Greusel, State Inspector.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

Miss Edith C. Aylmer Becomes the Charming Bride of Mr. L. F. Cross of Alberta.

Shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon the sweet and deep toned sound of St. John's church bell pealed out the merry tidings of a local and popular wedding. This was the marriage of one of Peterborough's most charming society belles, a girl loved by all who knew her, Miss Edith C. Aylmer, daughter of Mr. J. C. Aylmer, the well known Trent Valley canal contractor, of 362 Simcoe street, to Mr. Frank Lionel Cross, a bank manager at Pincher Creek, Alta.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davidson in the presence of a large circle of friends, including many from out of town. The church was decorated for the occasion with asters, chrysanthemums and yellow and gold autumn leaves. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mr. R. J. Devey, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away, entered the church. She was attired in a charming gown of ivory duchess satin, en traine with white lace over which fell a filmy bridal veil, and carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Arabella Porteous, of Quebec, and Miss Dorothy Aylmer, sister of the bride. Mrs. Aylmer, mother of the bride, was dressed in black crepe-de-chene relieved by blue, white and dull gold and wore a black velvet hat.

Mr. Harry Grubbe, Douglas Hammond and Gerald Rackham acted as ushers, while Mr. Francis Dean Kerr was best man. Miss Helen Davies in her usual charming style, sang "Love's Coronation."

After the ceremony in the church was over, a wedding dejeuner served by Messrs. Coleman Bros., was partaken of at the home of the bride's parents.

Among the guests present were:—Mr. and Miss Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Minty, Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Capreol, Mr. Rex Capreol, Mr. and Mrs. Lonsdale Capreol, Miss Fraser, Miss Lyons, Judge and Mrs. Angin, all of Toronto, Mrs. Powell of St. Catharines; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brown, of Campbellford, and Mrs. Corbett of Cornwall, Ont.

Mr. F. J. Might left last night for New York on a business trip.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

German Military Officer Murdered His Young Wife.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—Alexander Erdmann Jesnitzer, an ex-lieutenant of artillery and the son of a wealthy and prominent authoress, was yesterday sentenced to death for responsibility in the death of a London milliner, Miss May Byass, the daughter of a hotel keeper of Fairmont road, Brixton.

Jesnitzer made the acquaintance of Miss Byass when he was living in London two years ago. A love affair ensued, and the man persuaded his sweetheart to elope. They took an apartment in the Dessauer strasse, Berlin, representing themselves as man and wife. Miss Byass died there on June 29, from sudden heart failure resulting from the administration of drugs. Fraulein Finzenberg, a Potsdam milliner, who assisted the ex-officer in the administration of the drugs, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Jesnitzer pleaded in palliation of his conduct that he unsuccessfully implored the girl to marry him, and that he only brought Miss Byass to Germany and resorted to the drugs after she had repeatedly threatened to take strychnine. The crown prosecutor asked that the ex-lieutenant should be imprisoned for a year, but the court decreed that there was sufficiently extenuating circumstances to justify the milder sentence.

A Pretty Norwood Wedding.

A pretty wedding was consummated at Norwood, Wednesday, September 28th, when Mr. Patrick Collins, of Galway, married Miss Josey Logan of Norwood, an a former school teacher of Galway. Rev. Father Kelly, parish priest, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Patrick Logan, and looked charming in a princess gown of cream over taffeta with yoke and sleeve chiffon draped and wearing a picture hat. She was attended by Miss Collins of Galway. Mr. John Logan of Norwood, was best man.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An eminent scientist, the other day gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just Think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound, the wound is protected from poison. Not one species of microbe out of the thousands known has been found that can live in Zam-Buk! Its immediate application to a wound renders blood-poisoning impossible.

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or a scratch, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops the pain. Mothers should note this.

Again. As soon as this wonderful preparation is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the microscopic cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that they undergo rapid changes; and new healthy tissue is formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissues thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. It is just as if a mason called to repair a damaged wall, could begin to place good sound material at the foundation of the wall and the raise it up until the old damaged portion was no longer needed, and was thrown completely away. This is why the cures worked by Zam-Buk are permanent. They are real "foundation" cures.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh of 101 Dolorimer avenue, Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves for several years! Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him and in a few months it cured him. Today—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema! Zam-Buk cures. Is it in your home?

LONDON PAPERS HESITATE TO BELIEVE PORTUGUESE DYNASTY HAS FINALLY GONE.

The Treaty Alliance—Should the Monarch Apply to Britain for Protection He Would Be Received on Warship.

London, Oct. 6—The Portugal Legation is still without news of the situation in Lisbon, and no connected account of the fighting which led to the establishment of a republican government is yet available.

By an old treaty alliance, confirmed seven years ago, Great Britain is bound to come to the assistance of the King of Portugal should he be dispossessed by rebellion, but this succor must be "duly applied for." Therefore, in the opinion of British statesmen no difficulty is likely to arise in the present case, although should King Manual claim their protection he would be received upon a British warship as on British territory.

PAPERS ARE SYMPATHETIC.

The London morning newspapers express deep sympathy with the king and the queen mother, and while recognizing the strength of the republican movement in Lisbon and the enormous influence the brilliant success of the Republic of Brazil is likely to have on the course of events in Portugal, they hesitate to believe that the dynasty has disappeared for all time.

It is considered exceedingly doubtful whether the provinces are as republican in feeling as Lisbon, or whether the revolutionary parties are sufficiently united to form a stable and enduring government. At the same time it is admitted in government circles that it is much to be feared that Manuel has joined the ranks of the kings in exile.

EFFECT ON SPAIN.

The question that is deeply engaging public attention is the influence it is likely to have on Spain. It is thought the republican movement would gain successful revolution in Portugal is a great accession of strength in Spain, and though the power of the clergy in Spain is far greater than in Portugal, the forces of discontent are so extensive that a situation of great danger might develop.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

Will go to Crimminal Section of Asylum

JURY DID NOT LEAVE THEIR SEATS TO DECIDE CARDINAL MURDER CASE.

Holmes' Maniacal Frenzy—Even the Crown's Witnesses Agreed He Was Not Quite Responsible.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 6.— Albert Holmes, the Cardinal homicide, goes to the criminal section of the Hamilton Asylum as the result of the finding of the jury which has been sitting the past few days on the trial of his case. The prisoner was charged with the murder of his cousin, Nathan Bolton, while the men were cutting up a pig last April on the farm of the accused.

The defence established beyond all question of doubt the fact of Holmes being insane at the time he perpetrated the murder. This condition of mind was brought about by family troubles and ill health, producing a type of insanity known as depressed melancholia, during which the prisoner was seized with an uncontrollable impulse to kill.

The defence showed that Holmes' mother was affected with a mental disorder.

The final outcome, however, hinged on the medical testimony. Dr. Ryan of Rockwood Asylum; Dr. Mitchell, of the Eastern Hospital, Brockville, and Dr. Horton, surgeon of the Brockville Jail, established that he was not mentally resonsible. In rebuttal Dr. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons, and Dr. Moher of the Eastern hospital, practically agreed with the other members of the profession.

In reply to a question by Chancellor Boyd, Dr. Moher thought the prisoner should not be put to death for his act.

The evidence so conclusively established insanity, that, acting on his lordship's suggestion the jury returned the following verdict without leaving their seats "We find that the prisoner should be acquitted of the charge on the ground that he was insane at the time of the commission of the act, and we hereby acquit him on the ground of such insanity.

FIRE IN COAL MINE 150 MEN IN TRAP

(Special to The Times.)

Danville, Ill., Oct. 6.—Fire broke out in the Hartshorn coal mine near here today, and at noon it was feared that 150 men had been caught in the lower levels.

Rescuing parties entered the mine in an attempt to rescue the men believed to be imprisoned.

GUARDS FROM JAIL WITNESSED WEDDING

A MOST UNUSUAL CEREMONY PERFORMED IN KINGSTON CHURCH.

Man Convicted of Highway Robbery Marries Before Going to Prison for Five Years.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—A most unusual ceremony was performed here yesterday in St. Joseph's church, when Ozias Milliare of Hull, who, on Tuesday was sentenced to five years in penitentiary for highway robbery, was married to Josephine Servant, of Montreal.

Millaire, who has a record, protests his innocence, and the marriage which previously had been arranged, was performed by Father Carriere. The witnesses were guards from the jail. His bride will live with his people in Hull.

The Inquisition in Canada

Strong Language From a Toronto Newspaper.

The Orange Sentinel, which has become a great power in the land, says:

We get some idea of the way the Roman Church exercises civil supremacy in the Province of Quebec from the manner in which the Church is treating Dr. Laberge, Medical Health Officer at Montreal.

Because he joined the Freemasons an attempt is being made to drive him out of his public position. If he had done something discreditable, or violated the civil code in any way, there would be some reasons for asking his resignation. Evidently no such charge can be laid against him. His only offence was that he, in the exercise of his undoubted right, joined the Freemasons. While this did not constitute a sufficient reason for publicly demanding his removal as an officer of the corporation, he is attacked in an indirect way. His subordinate officials are denied access to the schools for the purpose of inspecting. This creates an issue which the City Council will have to deal with. If the exclusion of the health inspectors from the schools on account of their chief being a Freemason is upheld by the members of the Council, they will be forced to dismiss Dr. Laberge from his position.

However this may be explained, the fact remains that if he is forced out of the office it will be due not to disobedience to his civil superiors, but to disobedience to his ecclesiastical superiors. This constitutes, therefore, an admission of the supremacy of the spiritual power in Montreal. It is a form of ecclesiastical tyranny that is practiced in nearly every parish in the Province of Quebec. It is the kind of thing that has driven the people of France and Italy into open revolt against the Roman Church. It is an encroachment on the civil rights of the individual. It reveals Rome in one of its worst aspects, for in its treatment of Dr. Laberge the Church of Rome is setting up the Inquisitions in a more modern, though not less reprehensible form, than it existed in Spain in the seventeenth century.

It is impossible in these times to burn or torture a heretic, but evidently means are found in Montreal to deprive them of their livelihood and hold them up to public reprobation, which is persecution of the same type, but lesser in debree than that which was imposed upon the heretics of Spain by Philip II. And this happens in Canada, a new country where the broadest conception of freedom should prevail, and under the aegis of the British flag, which is supposed to protect every citizen who abeys the laws of the land.

Local Losers at Bucket Shops.

A seat on the Montreal Stock Exchange has been sold for $28,000. There are enough local citizens who have invested in Peterborough bucket shops in the past, "not wisely but too well" (for the bucket shop owners) to have readily and now willingly paid that sum to cut out all stock quotations and still be a good many dollars to the good. When you enter a game of poker or Loo, if the cards and players are honest, you stand some chance of winning, but, when you gamble in a bucket shop, as distinguished from a regular stock broker's office, you are gambling against men who play with marked cards. In plain English you are closely allied to that fish the small boys gaff at the locks in the spring, whose mouth, not supplied with teeth has a suction power that absorbs everything it comes in contact with except honesty.

A PROVISIONAL REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT HOLDS SWAY

THE REVOLUTIONISTS ARE SUBDUING THE ROYALISTS AT LISBON.

The New Ministry Holds Its First Session—King Manuel in Cintra—His Mother on Royal Yacht.

Gibraltar, Oct. 6—The first definite news of the whereabouts of King Manuel was received here today from a British warship at Lisbon, stating positively that the monarch is at Cintra and that the queen mother is aboard the Portugese royal yacht Amelie.

TROOPS AGAINST REBELS.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Instransigeant published a story this afternoon to the effect that the Portuguese legation in this city had received an Oporto despatch saying that it is believed royal troops in that city who remained loyal to the king's standard, are moving against the revolutionists' army in Lisbon. Two columns of troops are said to have left Oporto today for the south.

The troops left Fort Elvas, which at last reports was holding out against the rebels. According to the plan of the Oporto military the two columns were to join at Santiarem, at which point the railway tracks have been torn up. Progress south from Santiarem will be made on foot.

Paris, Oct. 6.—A provisional Republican Government today holds sway in Lisbon. Reports from the Portuguese provinces are to the effect that warfare is raging but that the revolutionists are steadily subduing the royalists.

The exact whereabouts of King Manuel is not known. London claims to have authentic advices to the effect that he is steaming there on the cruiser Newcastle. Madrid hears that the King and the Queen Mother Amelie passed through San Sebastian early today on a special train.

The general belief in Lisbon seems to be that the entire Royal Family the king, his mother, and his grandmother, Queen Maria Pia, have taken refuge at Mafra, a few miles from the Portuguese capital.

ALARM IN SPAIN.

The situation in Spain is reported to be growing more alarming hourly. Alfonso and his advisors are making desperate efforts to forestall revolutionary plans, and General Weyler, "the butcher" of Cuban fame, has been placed in absolute control of the soldiery. This means war without quarter should a reported concert between the other various revolutionary factions and the Carlists result in an open attack on the monarchy.

PATROLLING THE FRONTIER.

A cordon of Spanish cavalary is patrolling the Portuguese frontier, while heavy forces are being massed in the Carlist strongholds of the north at Barcelona, San Sebastian and other centers of unrest.

Councils of ministers are in session in practically every European capital today. Their primary purpose is to discuss the Portuguese situation, but in reality a graver subject in their deliberations is the imminence of revolution with Spain.

THE WAVE OF REVOLUTION.

Lisbon, Oct. 6.—The ministry of the infant republic of Portugal held its first session today in the capital to take steps for the establishment of a permanent government while its standard was being carried through the provinces upon the crest of a seething wave of revolution.

Reports were received that the revolutionary forces had planted the new red and green banner of liberty above the city of Oporto but that fragmentary detachments of the rebels had been routed near Monanto.

PEOPLE AND NAVY COOPERATE

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Portuguese Republican leader, Senhora Lima, received the following despatch today from Minister of Justice Costa, of the Portuguese Provisional Government: "A Republic has been proclaimed with the co-operation of the army, navy and the people. Provisional government has been established. Numerous messages have been received from the provinces in support of the Republic. The Royal family is in flight.

NEW RULERS OF PORTUGAL.

President—Theophile Braga.
Minister of Justice—Alfonso Costa
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Bernadino Machado.
Minister of Finance—Bazilo Telles.
Minister of Public Works—Antonio Luiz Gomes.
Minister of War—Col. Barreto.
Minister of Marine—Amaro Azovado Gomes.
Minister of the Interior—Antonio Almeida.
Civil Governor of Lisbon Eusebio Leao.

REPUBLIC WAS PROCLAIMED AMID FRANTIC ENTHUSIASM IN LISBON

Lisbon (Via Paris), Oct. 6.—The Republic was proclaimed amid frantic enthusiasm. Bands paraded the streets followed by columns of armed persons who sang songs of liberty. The discipline of the revolutionists was excellent. King Manuel, it is said, left the city probably aboard the yacht Queen Amelie, sailing for England.

Kidnapped Little Boy, Fled to Buffalo with Chinaman's Wife

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 5. August Mingeaud, aged 39, of 17 Gerrard street west, Toronto, was held for the grand jury today by United States Commissioner Robinson, on a charge of importing a woman for immoral purposes. Mrs. Charley Hing, a white girl, 24 years old, wife of Charley Hing, proprietor of a Chinese restaurant at 211 Queen street west, Toronto, is the woman in the case. She is held as a witness.

Mingeaud, the woman, and Roy Mingeaud, four-year-old son of the man, were apprehended at a rooming house here last week. He was then accused of kidnapping the boy by the sister of his dead wife.

"No one but myself has any claim on this child," he declared when arraigned.

TOOK CHILD IN TORONTO.

The police had received information from Mrs. O'Leary, a sister-in-law of Mingeaud, who resides at 1601 King street west, in the city of Toronto, that he was in this city, and that he obtained the child which she alleges had been left in her possession by the dying mother several months ago.

As the story of the sister-in-law goes, following his wife's death he turned the child over to her. Then he had to eat at restaurants, and drifting into a Chinese restaurant one afternoon, he became infatuated with the wife of the Chinaman, a rather pretty girl of the brunette type, weighing about 130 pounds.

While the Chinese husband proprietor was busy at the range making chop suey, so the story runs, the widower patron and the wife cashier admired each other and talked future plans over at the pay check window.

THE AUNT'S STORY.

According to the story that is told by Mrs. O'Leary, Mingeaud came to her apartments a week ago on Monday morning and rapped for admittance. She recognized his voice she says, but declined to admit him, whereupon he kicked in the door, attacked her and carried off the child.

The police say that a man named "Jack" aided in the kidnapping. They also say that Mingeaud was endeavoring to obtain a position as a furniture salesman in this city, which led to the arrest. They had been appraised of the fact that the man who was wanted was a furniture salesmen and were on the lookout at the different stores here.

Would Do Utmost to Undermine Protestantism

Toronto, Oct. 6.—"You are face to face with an organized, solid, determined force attacking divided Protestantism, and divided," we shall suffer," said the Venerable Archdeacon Madden in an address last evening in St. John's Presbyterian church. There would be in Canada a fight for the very foundation of truth, the Reformation, he declared. Rome was not only a religious but a political body and through the latter influence it would do its utmost to undermine Protestantism in Canada.

He remarked that he had traveled from Montreal to Winnipeg with a Roman Catholic Archbishop who had expressed the belief that his Church would sweep this country. A French Bishop had stated that the Church was concentrating in America and would take possession of the West for the "Church of God." The speaker regretted that the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba had entertained the papal legate when he visited Winnipeg.

"Are you going to let your petty divisions stand between you and the possessions of this and for the pure Gospel?" asked Archdeacon Madden. "Are you going to be traitors to the faith of our fathers for whom they fled and died."

"I do not believe that there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by all dealers.

HALL—SCOTT.

At 8.30 o'clock last night the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott, Cottingham street, was the scene of the marriage of their youngest daughter, Alice, to Mr. Fraland Pringle Hall, son of the late Frances Hall, of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. D. L. McKerroll, of West Toronto, in the dining room, which was decorated with autumn leaves. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a graceful gown of white satin with lace and pearls, and tulle veil arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of roses and lilies. Miss Pearson, in palest pink, and carrying pink roses, was bridesmaid, and little Miss Marion Scott was a dainty flower girl in white satin with basket of pink flowers. Mr. Lyall Scott, brother of the bride was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall left later to spend their honeymoon across the line, the bride travelling in a green cloth tailor made and black hat.—Toronto Star.

RAILWAY REGULATIONS.

Although there was little novelty in the railways' presentation of their case for the advance of their rates, there was much that was novel in the shippers' contentions. In Chicago it was testified by one railway that forty million dollars of earnings had been put back into the property. In this city it was testified that some thirty-five millions at most of earnings had been expended upon the new Pennsylvania tunnels. This was in accord with the formerly approved rule or practice by the best roads "a dollar for dividends and a dollar for betterments. It was this principle of plowing the earnings back into the property which has kept down the capitalization of American railways at the same time that their rates have not risen with other prices for services and goods.

On this formerly approved principle the shippers' counsel joined issue, taking their cue, it must be admitted, from certain rulings of the Interstate Commerce Commission. These improvements made from earnings were regarded as grievances, and in themselves a proof of extortion. It was asserted as a tight that the roads should reduce their rates by whatever sums of earnings they have been accustomed to devote to improvements. Even the misfortunes of the railways were imputed to them for a fault. For example, it was alleged that because one road [illegible] frauds, and had prospered nevertheless therefore it had overcharged by the amount it had lost by embezzlement, and should be held to reduce its rates by the amount of its losses. The broad position of those assuming to act for the general public is that the railways should be allowed to [illegible] more than would just prevent their setting up a defence of confiscation. And, in estimating the permissible income the railways are held by these spokesmen to be entitled to no more than a reasonable [illegible] which they have devoted to the [illegible]

The gentlemen [illegible] in some danger of winning a battle and losing a campaign. It is conceivable that they may prevent an advance in rates, and come to regret the consequent lack of vitality in the railways. American roads so far have having attained their growth. They are [illegible] not only of income on ought to sustain their life but to time late their growths. There is a certain justice in having the funds necessary for their growth contributed by those whose patronage of the railroads is a source of profit, rather than by the general public whose gain from the railways is less direct. If the railways are held to capitalize their betterments, and must borrow the money, interest must be paid on the money borrowed, and the rates must be adequate to pay the interest and providing a sinking fund for the establishment of the debt. As interest and sinking fund must come from earnings, it would seem to come to the same thing in the end.

Whatever the merit of this argument on either side, it is plain that a new light is thrown upon what is thought to be regulation of rates. Heretofore it has been thought that the function of government was merely to assure that rates were reasonable and just, that is, neither extortionate nor discriminatory, toward either persons or places. If the position assumed on behalf of shippers is sustained there is no detail of the management of the railroads too trivial for examination and control. It is not enough for the railways to sustain their claim that they need more money. They cannot justify on totals, but must prove in detail just how much they want for terminals, just how much they want for wages, how much for interest, and so on indefinitely.

The railroads plead that they cannot do it, and that nobody could. However that may be, it is evident that the success of the contention would establish a new definition of railway regulation, and one not in accord with the present law.—New York Times, Sept. 19th, 1910.

HUNTING RARE ORCHIDS

IT HAS LURED INNUMERABLE COLLECTORS TO DEATH.

Terrible Dangers Constantly Menace the Man Who Seeks the Beautiful Tropical Plants—It is a Task For the Dauntless and Only a Small Percentage of the Men Survive—Cruel Disappointments.

Orchid hunters continually face hard-ships and terrible dangers and many a collector has paid for his daring with his life. The rarer specimens of these plants are generally found in the wildest depths of tropic forests. They abound in the greatest profusion in the hot, damp parts of the West and East Indies, in Madagascar and other islands in the same region, in the most forests of Brazil, the warm parts of Central America and western Mexico. Not dependent on the soil for their nutriment, they are mostly found clinging to the trunks and branches of trees and to stones and crags where they vegetate among ferns and other shade-loving plants.

Warmth and moisture are essential to orchids, and warmth and moisture in tropical countries are synonymous with miasma and fever. Wild animals also, and poisonous serpents, abound in the [illegible] depths wherein the rarer varieties lie hidden.

One firm of orchid importers reported a year or two ago that they had five collectors killed in as many months by the wild tribesmen of the western Himalayan slopes; while three others, even more unfortunate, were made prisoners and carried off to undergo the nameless horrors which have from time immemorial been characteristic of Central Asian slavery. If the pay is big, the risks an orchid hunter runs are correspondingly great. Cutting his way through tangled forests, wading often up to the waist through stagnant swamps, always on his guard against beasts and still more savage men, the orchid hunter earns every penny of his money. Even the natives avoid the districts into which the intrepid collector penetrates.

A few years ago eight orchid hunters met at Tamatave, and then separated in search of specimens. Within a year only one of them survived and he had spent months in the most pestilential swamps, from which he emerged with his health impaired. One of the others had been captured by the native priests, who drenched him with oil and burned him to death on the altar.

M. Hameline, one of the most successful of all collectors, and the discoverer of many new orchids in the little-known island forests of Madagascar, tells how, in those regions, "not only was our party exposed to the risk of being strangled by hostile and ferocious tribesmen—a fate which befell many a poor fellow belonging to our expedition but we had to struggle almost night and day against the wild animals that haunt those primeval forests. He himself, in the same country, had to go through the ceremony of being made "brother-in-blood" to King Moyambasia in order to penetrate the interior of the island, an honor which nearly cost him his life.

Speaking of wild animals he says: "The most terrible of all is the fossa (a carnivorous beast related to the cat tribe), against which we had constantly to be on guard. One of these animals caused the death of the brother-in-law of the king, a fine, handsome, well-built man. It pounced upon his shoulder, rending the flesh from his back and breaking him in a frightful manner. Being 'brother-in-blood' to the king, and thus a relative of the deceased man, I had to take part in the funeral ceremony and worse than that I had to obey their laws, which command that if any one has the moral responsibility of an accident, and death is the result of it—especially of a relative—he has the choice of being greased and burned alive or of taking the whole family of the deceased and of marrying his wife.

When a hunter finds an orchid there are three ways of getting it. He may cut down the tree to which it clings, he may lasso the branch or limb on which it hangs and draw it to him, or he may cut a sapling, lean it against the tree and climb up and bring down the plant. As a precaution against snakes and scorpions, which are as often found in trees as anywhere else, cutting down the tree is with most orchid hunters the favorite method of securing the coveted plant.

In addition to the dangers and difficulties inseparable from the actual finding of the orchid, there are innumerable troubles ahead of the indefatigable collector before his work is done. The difficulties of getting it out of the country and safely on a home-going boat are almost insuperable and nothing but the most indomitable perseverance could overcome it. Occasionally an unforeseen circumstance robs a collector of the spoils for which he has so strenuously striven. The cruel luck of one unfortunate hunter would be hard to beat. After months of [illegible] toil, exposed to the usual risks and hardships of his profession—occasionally wading up to his waist in mud and at other times venturing into almost inaccessible places—he at last succeeded in collecting between 3,000 and 4,000 orchids of an exquisitely beautiful and rare species. His delight knew no bounds, and with all possible haste he commenced his tortuous journey back to the seaboard, where his precious and dearly-won floral treasures would be shipped to England.

His plants safely on board, that very night a fire broke out in the hold of the vessel and not a single plant was saved. The collector was nearly distracted when he realized what had happened. With a heavy heart he wired to his employers: "Collection destroyed by fire. What shall I do?" Back came the mandate from the disappointed orchid importers: "Go back at once!" And back he went, with the rainy season at hand, to perhaps the wettest country under the sun.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—The gates of the Illinois State Fair will be opened tomorrow to permit the visitors to listen to an address by William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Bryan will speak on a religious topic.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Paritas Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Paritas Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 5c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 26 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 10th, 1911.

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, exPresident of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventually much higher.

RIOTS IN GERMANY.

Furious fighting between police and strikers is reported from Berlin. Revolver shots were exchanged, and the police used their sabres recklessly, cutting down all who made the slightest remonstrance. The correspondent of the London Globe and others were attacked by the police while returning from the riot region. Reuter's agent had his finger laid bare to the bone. The police seemed to have lost their heads, and their violence looks like evidence of weakness and frenzy rather than of strength. Had such an exhibition taken place in the streets of London it would surely have been heralded as an evidence of the decadence of the nation.

The military and feudal elements are strong in Germany, and through their organs we may obtain the impression that the people are thirsting for military glory, eager to build a navy as great as that of Great Britain and willing to pay out their hard earned money for that that purpose. The riots show the people in a somewhat different light The nation is well-nigh crushed under the weight of the expenditure for the great armaments, and there is growing discontent with the high taxation. Some months ago it was discovered that public opinion strongly favored the making of an arrangement with Great Britain to check the ruinous competition in shipbuilding.

There is a growing disposition on the part of workers in all countries to get together to combine for common interests, and to refuse to be used as food for powder in international wars, the chief gainers in which are army contractors and feudal leaders eager for military careers. The growth of the sentiment of common brotherhood in France and Germany has seriously alarmed those whose interest lies in perpetuating barbarism.

THE PRINCESS ROYAL.

How Monster Warship Came to Bear That Name.

The Admiralty have paid a neat and appropriate compliment in naming the new Dreadnought, just begun at Barrow, Princess Royal, in honor of the Duchess of Fife. Whether it came by accident or design is another thing. According to one story it came about in this way: The Duchess of Fife was at Marseilles last autumn on her way to Egypt, and expected to find there a telegram from the king. She was told there was none, but had enquiries made, which resulted in the telegram being found, set aside. It was addressed "The Princess Royal," but some official taking the title to be the name of a vessel had noted on it in pencil "ship unknown," and put it by. The story reached the Admiralty just as Sir John Fisher was selecting the names for the four "contingent" Dreadnoughts now being laid down. He had chosen the four, but, on hearing the story, put his pen through the fourth name, Devastation, substituting that of the "ship unknown"—Princess Royal.

As it happens, the name is to the royal navy very far from being that of a "ship unknown." There have been four ladies to bear the style of Princess Royal in England, and each one in turn has had a British battleship named after her. The man-of-war name, indeed, is just as old as the title itself. It appeared first on the navy list in 1728, in honor of George the Second's strong-minded eldest daughter, the Princess Anne, married in 1734 to the Prince of Orange. A second man-of-war bore it in honor of George the Third's eldest daughter, the Princess Charlotte-Augusta-Matilda, "a chaste and gentle Princess," married in 1797 to the future King of Wurtemburg. The third was given the name in honor of Queen Victoria's eldest daughter, the late Empress Frederick; and a fourth ship now takes it in honor of King Edward's eldest daughter, the Duchess of Fife.

Rigid economy in naval matters and little shipbuilding marked the earlier days of George the Second, so that monarch had to content himself by taking away the name of an old ship and substituting Princess Royal for it. The man-of-war in question was an old three-decker of William the Third's navy, originally named the Triumph. H.M.S. Princess Royal the First lost the only chance she got of firing an angry gun. That was in 1741, when her admiral was Sir John Norris. "Foul Weather Jack"—the first of the two the navy has had. Just as Norris had caught up the French fleet he was chasing and a battle seemed inevitable, one of the admiral's storms burst, and the fleets were forced apart and never sighted one another again.

H.M.S. Princess Royal the Second was launched in 1773, by George the Third's brother, the Duke of Gloucester. The little girl Princess Royal of that day, a nine-year-old child, was sculptured as the figurehead. "The Princess Royal is seen seated on a chair supported on the shoulders of Neptune and Amphitrite, who ride on dolphins. Many Tritons are playing about them." So a newspaper reporter who witnessed the launched at Portsmouth described the figurehead.

"Foul Weather Jack" the second, Admiral John Byron, Lord Byron's grandfather, who "had no rest at sea," was her first admiral, and his ill-luck came on board with him.

Starting from England to take up the chief command off New York in the American war with a fleet of thirteen ships, storm after storm fell on him. Only two ships arrived at the rendezvous, the Princess Royal and another. A third crawled in later on, her masts gone, and leaking badly. Three more had to turn back; battered wrecks, for England. The remainder, with signals of distress flying, put into various American harbors. When Admiral Byron at length got them together and refitted, and was sailing for the West Indies, two of them were wrecked in another storm. He was reinforced and met the French off Grenada, made a blundering attack, and was badly mauled, being lucky to escape defeat and the loss of half his fleet. After that the Princess Royal fought in three battles under Rodney, and then went home to England to be present at the sinking of the Royal George, and to take part with Lord Howe in the final relief of Gibraltar, which closed the great siege. Then came the war with the French revolution, and we see the Princess Royal in the thick of the midnight horrors of the fighting in Toulon Harbor when an "unknown captain of artillery" Napoleon Bonaparte, drove the British fleet out headlong. Two fights with the French in 1795, one off Genoa, the other near Toulon, make up the Princess Royal's record of eight battles. For some years after that the Princess Royal had her place in the Channel Fleet, helping to hold in check Napoleon's intended invasion from Boulogne, one of "those far-distant storm-beaten ships upon which the Grand Army never looked, but which stood between it and the dominion of the world." Her end, to be taken to pieces at Chatham, came two years after Trafalgar.

The third Princess Royal bore the effigy of Queen Victoria's eldest daughter, the Empress Frederick, for her figurehead. A 91-gun screw-propelled wooden two-decker of the "fifties" of the last century, she made a name for herself as Captain Lord Clarence Paget's ship in the Crimean war, serving both in the Baltic campaign and before Sebastopol in the Black Sea.

So we come to the new Dreadnought, the Princess Royal of to-day, a tremendous cruiser-battleship of 26,500 tons, the biggest warship ever yet laid down in the world.

Scotland's Polar Quest.

Scotland refuses to be left behind, and has determined to take part in the international scramble for the South Pole with an expedition of her own. Dr. W. S. Bruce has been chosen to lead the expedition, and funds are being subscribed throughout the country, by rich and poor alike, for the fitting out of the Scottish National Antarctic expedition, as it is not unproudly termed.

T.C.S. Rooters Here Tomorrow.

The first Rugby team of Trinity College School, Port Hope, will be here tomorrow afternoon for the game with the Collegiates at Riverside Park at three o'clock. Word has been received that the College boys are practicing hard and are in the best of shape and hope to redeem themselves for the defeat here last season. Both teams are well known here and in their past performances have always put up an exceedingly interesting game of rugby.

A Correction.

In our article re "Natural Gas," which appeared in yesterday's issue, the wording of the same would lead one to infer that Messrs. Rudkins and Davidson are members of the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company. This is not correct; they have no connection with that concern, and we are informed, were members of the company that bored here for gas under the Dittman franchise.

Dan Whetung Wants a Fair.

At their last regular monthly council, the Indians of Chemong village, with their chief presiding, on motion of Mr. Dan Whetung, decided to hold a fall fair next year. If the genial "Dan" so well and favorably known to many of our citizens, advocated an Indian Fair, and interests himself in the matter, the Chemong Indians are dead certain to accomplish their object and have an exhibition that will attract people from all over the county, and in fact from several surrounding counties.

WILD SCENES IN CITY OF LISBON THE PRIESTS WERE JOSTLED

A GRAPHIC STORY OF THE START OF THE REVOLUTION IN PORTUGAL.

Radical Newspapers Called Upon People to Put an End to Monarchial Rule—Protests Were Swept Aside Unheeded- Artillery Mutinied.

London, Oct. 7.—A graphic account of the rising at Lisbon by an eye-witness who has just reached the border, says that the Republican newspaper Segule on Monday evening issued an inflammatory placard which stigmatized the murderer of Dr. Bombarda as political assassination, and called upon the people to rise and put an end to the monarchical regime which permitted such foul deeds.

PRIESTS WERE JOSTLED.

The placard was publicly denounced by two priests. This aroused the anger of the crowds. The priests were jostled and stoned. This incident started a riot. The police in trying to quell it were attacked by Republicans armed with revolvers. Shots were fired. In the skirmish many were wounded. The rioters dispersed but marched in a body later to the barracks of the First Artillery, known to be ardent partisans of the republican party.

THE ARTILLERY MUTINIED.

In response to the clamors of the mob the artillery men mutinied. They made their officers prisoners, trampled the royalist flag under foot and marched out under the republican standard with fourfield guns and all available arms and ammunition.

They entrenched themselves in a commanding position on the heights of the Park Praca De Marquez Pombal. They were supported by constantly assembling revolutionists in the Avenida Da Libertade.

The news of the rising was rapidly communicated to other disaffected centers of the city, and then, in accordance with a pre-arranged plan the communications of the capital with the outer world were cut.

INFANTRY SOON FOLLOWED.

The 16th Infantry, in barracks in the northeast of the city, soon followed the example of the Artillery. The colonel of the regiment and two of his officers while trying to rally the men to allegiance to the Crown were shot down in cold blood. The troops poured into the streets and were joined by civilians.

Meanwhile the government recovering from its stupefaction tried to suppress the revolt. The authorities placed the city under martial law and the troops of proved loyalty were ordered out. They took positions overlooking the insurgent camp.

A DISTRESSING STATE OF AFFAIRS

(Special to The Times.)

Lindsay, Oct. 7.—A distressing state of affairs was discovered by Chief Vincent of Lindsay, and Inspector W. A. Gunton, of the Children's Aid Society, at the dirty log hut of one Abraham Millar, of the village of Sadowa, 44 miles from here. They visited the place to investigate certain rumors that the father, Noah, a son, and Mary, a daughter, were not living morally. Another son, three years old, also lives in the hovel.

In the back garden buried in the soil, a fruit basket was unearthed which was found to contain the remains of a baby, the little body being wrapped in cloth.

The three were all arrested, and brought to Lindsay to stand trial, Noah and Mary being charged with the crime of incest, and the father with neglecting to register the death of the child.

The hut is a 12 by 13 log structure, with only one bed. This was in a filthy state, and utensils and other furnishings were found in a like condition.

An inquest will be held by Coroner Dr. Wood.

BOILER BLEW UP KILLING BREISE

TWO OTHER MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY WERE ALSO INJURED IN ACCIDENT.

Doctor Speeds to Scene—Victims of Tragedy Near Cochrane Had Come From Vicinity of Bracebridge.

Cochrane, Ont., Oct. 7.—One man was killed and two injured by an explosion of a saw mill boiler yesterday at Frederick House, seven miles west of here.

The dead man was Otto Briese, and the injured were William Briese and Fred Briese, all of the same family.

This summer as he and his sons had located farms in the immediate vicinity and were doing very nicely.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery as the boiler had been tested several days ago, and it is claimed there was plenty of water in it at the time of the blow up.

Mr. Otto Breise was a man about 46 years of age, and came to this country with the rest of his family from near Bracebridge, Muskoka district.

Success of Republic Hangs in Balance What Action will Britain Take?

FIRST COBURG DYNASTY TO LOSE THRONE

Previous to October 4th there were four reigning European Kings of the House of Coburg George of Great Britain, Albert of the Belgians, Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, and Manuel, of Portugal. Manuel is the first King of the House to go into exile. His granduncle, King Pedro V. (son of Ferdinand of Saxe-Coburg), was the first King of the dynasty, and he began to reign in 1853. Manuel was the fourth King of the line. The longest established Coburg Kingdom is that of Belgium, its first King having been Leopold I., uncle of Queen Victoria, who began to reign in 1831. King Albert is the third sovereign of the House. The first Coburg sovereign of Great Britain, was Edward VII., whose reign began in 1901. The first Coburg ruler of Bulgaria, was Ferdinand, who was elected Prince in 1887, and assumed the title of King in 1908. Like the King of the Belgians and the ex-King of Portugal, Ferdinand is a Roman Catholic, but his heir belongs to the Orthodox Greek Church. Ferdinand is a grandson, Albert a great grandson, and Manuel a great-great-grandson of King Louis Philippe of France, who died in exile.

BIG POWERS PLAY A WAITING GAME—TREMENDOUS INFLUENCE OF THE VATICAN TO THE FORE.

Only Spain and Brazil Have Yet Endorsed Republic, on Condition That It Is Made Permanent—The Provisional Army Temporarily Routed—The Diplomatic Corps in Revolt.

Paris, Oct. 7.—While reports come out of Portugal today that the provisional Republican Government's army has been temporarily routed in the northern provinces and that monarchists were being recruited for a proposed move on Lisbon, the great continent powers held aloof from Portuguese affairs, awaiting the action of England.

The ultimate success of the revolt and the establishment of the Republic of Portugal hung in the balance today with the influence of England counter-balancing the present success of the Republicans.

It was reported here that King Manuel indicted an appeal to Great Britain on board the Royal yacht, Amelie, and that this petition has been forwarded through the regular channel of the foreign department of the Empire, by Sir Frederick Forestier-Walter, Governor of Gibraltar.

SCOPE OF ROYAL PLEA.

The scope of the Royal plea is not definitely known. Hazards extend from the mere supplication for the protection of the Crown's property in Portugal, to the bold demand that England answer its treaty compact and restore the throne to the deposed King.

Although a circular note has been sent to the powers by Provisional President Braga, only two nations had pledged endorsement to the new Republic today and both of these were on the condition that the Republic is made permanent.

These two nations are Spain and Brazil.

INFLUENCE OF VATICAN

The tremendous influence of the Vatican has been brought to bear on friendly governments against recognition of the new Republic.

Aided by Count de Souza Rosa, Portuguese minister to France, the diplomatic corps of Portugal has started a revolt against the Republic. Count Rosa formally forwarded his resignation to Lisbon today, declaring that he would never have a Republic, and intimating that the foreign representatives of Portugal to other countries would adopt practically the same attitude as he.

ALL EYES ON SPAIN

Embolden by the success of the Portuguese, the Spanish Republicans are becoming more open in their demonstrations. The eyes of the continent are upon Spain. In every chancellory in Europe careful preparations have been made for a Spanish revolt. The Spanish ministry, admitting the intensity of the situation, explained today that troops had been massed upon the frontier, not in fear of an outbreak, but to prevent the influx of refugees of questionable character from Portugal.

The censored despatches, which came out of Lisbon today indicated that the peace which existed in the capital was more in the character of a truce. Eight regiments were said to be loyal to Manuel, and it was reported that the Monarchists in the interior provinces had rallied an army and were contesting every inch of the spread of Republicanism.

CAST INTO PRISON

(Special to The Times.)

Paris, Oct. 7.—Minister Lima this afternoon received an official despatch from Lisbon stating that Senor Orrelas, minister of marine in the cabinet of Premier France, under the monarchy, was arrested today and cast into prison. This is the first political arrest of importance made by the Republicans. Minister Lima did not divulge the nature of the charge against Orrelas.

WEEDMARK TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER

MAN WILL BE TRIED FOR HIS LIFE IN THE ASSIZES ON TUESDAY.

Choked Her to Death—E. A. Duvernet of Toronto Will Prosecute — Perth Lawyer to Defend Prisoner

Smith's Falls, Oct. 7.—The Assizes for the county of Lanark will open at Perth on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 11, before Sir John Alexander Boyd, chancellor for Ontario.

The chief item on the docket is the trial of Rufus Weedmark, of Smith's Falls, for the murder of his wife on April 30th, last.

Mr. C. J. Foy of Perth, has been retained for the defence, and Mr. E. E. A. DuVernet, K.C., of Toronto, will be the counsel for the Crown. What line the lawyer for the defence will take has not yet been made known.

A large number of witnesses have been summoned and the trial is likely to last several days.

Weedmark's behavior since he was taken to the county jail at Perth, has been excellent. He has given no trouble, whatever, is in the best of health, and seems to have no concern, whatever, as to the fate which may be in store for him.

It will be remembered that Weedmark choked his wife to death while drunk.

THE LOMAS FAMILY.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 4.—Descendants of Joseph Loomis, who immigrated from England in 1500, met in annual re-union at the old Loomis homestead near here today. Included among those who participated in the gathering were Charles Batell Loomis, the well-known author, and hit brother Harvey Worthington Loomis, the composer.

R. H. Cramer of North Towanda, a well known lumberman is in the city. He has been on a trip north in the interests of his business.

Robt. Parker Denies Shooting Masters

ONE OF THE JURORS IN MASTERS MURDER TRIAL IS A SICK MAN.

A $20 Fine for Doctor—He Absented Himself on Important Private Business and Was Censured by The Judge.

Belleville, Oct., 7.—When the trial of Robert Parker was resumed this afternoon the prisoner himself was placed in the box. In reply to Mr. Porter, he denied the shooting of Mr. William Masters.

In going to Tweed the only reason he had for leaving the road was to examine a trap that had been set for a skunk. The reason he took his money out of the bank was to purchase the Masters property which had been placed on sale, should opportunity offer. But the Masters advanced the price when they heard he wanted to buy.

The last time he had used his rifle was on the first of April. On that occasion he met Mrs. Call, who was watering her horse [illegible]. Witness had always manufactured his own ammunition ever since he got his rifle. It was fifteen or sixteen years ago since he had had any factory made bullets in his house.

Belleville, Oct. 6.— Another delay occurred in the Masters murder trial when, on the court resuming this morning, the announcement was made that one of the jurors, W. J. Robinson, was under the care of a physician, and would not be able to appear for some time. An adjournment was consequently made until one o'clock this afternoon.

Before doing so Dr. Bowlby was summoned before Sir William Mulock and fined $20 with the alternative of a month in jail for contempt of court. Dr. Bowlby is the reeve of Tweed, and a very busy man, but he made themistake of going off yesterday afternoon without first having obtained the consent of the court.

BENCH ANNOYED.

When the doctor was called last evening about six o'clock the judge was much annoyed, the action of the witness precluding the possibility of a night session.

Sir William when he took his place on the bench asked if Dr. Bowlby had appeared, and Sheriff Morrison said he had. "He had better show cause," pursued Sir William "why he should not be committed for contempt for disobedience to the orders of this court." Dr. Bowlby took the stand and the clerk was about to swear him.

"That is not what you are here for. You are subpoenaed to appear here as a witness were you not?" said the justice.

"Yes, sir."

"Your name was called last evening. You did not appear. What reason have you to give for disregarding the orders of the court?"

"I was called home on urgent private business," replied the doctor.

"And I did not consider my evidence of sufficient importance to keep me here."

"That is no excuse at all," retorted Sir William.

"An ignorant man might have had an idea of that kind in his head but an educated man, a professional man, should know better than to treat the court with disrespect. I shall fine you $20 or in default of its payment, commit you to jail for a month. I will give you fifteen minutes to decide which alternative you will accept."

"I will pay the fine," said Dr. Bowly, without hesitation.

"Very well," continued Sir William, "you may retire and remain with the other witnesses. You may have to stay there a week. We may have to swear in an entirely new jury."

Belleville, Oct. 7.—When the Parker trial was resumed this morning, Dr. Yeomans said that he had fired at Kingston, and am quite well acquainted with the penetrative powers of various rifles."

As regards Masters, the doctor thought there were three explanations of the position in which the principal actors were at the time. The one holding the gun may have been above the murdered man. He may have been at a considerable distance, and that the first velocity of the bullet would have been lost and its course already downward, or the murdered man may have been in some unusual position which the witness was inclined to doubt.

WHAT HE HAD DONE.

Dr. Yeomans said that he had shot a 22 calibre bullet through seven-eighth pine boards and three thickness of tapestry carpet. Two of the thicknesses of carpet were on one side and one on the other. The third piece of carpet retained the bullet.

"I have no doubt," said the doctor "that a 44 calibre bullet fired at a distance of fifty or sixty feet would go clean through a man and the bullet never be found.

Dr. Yeomans said that assuming the post-mortem examination to have been correct that death was instantaneous. Masters could not have been shot in view of the position in which his body was found, from the point described by witnesses for the prosecution.

QUESTION OF FOOTPRINTS.

The doctor asserted that no significance attached in medical law to a comparison of footprints unless a plaster cast were taken to indicate the peculiar manner in which almost every person puts his boots down. In these days when almost all boots were fact-[illegible] it was necessary to produce some distinctive feature produced by the wearer. Otherwise a comparison of boots with footprints would only yield information as to [illegible].

In reply to Mr. White Dr. Yeomans said that he had no experience with home-made bullets, so that he could not say whether those bullets would have less penetrative power than those made in a factory.

A SPORTSMAN'S VIEW.

Harry Day of this city, said that he had been shooting and experimenting with rifles for twenty years. Firing at an object between fifty and sixty feet away the course of the bullet should be on a dead level. If there were any variation it should be upward.

Mr. Day said a bullet discharged and striking the water might skip along the surface for half a mile. It

QUEBEC TO KEEP CLEAR OF CHOLERA

STEPS BEING TAKEN TO GUARD AGAINST INFECTION FROM EUROPE.

To Protect the Dominion—Medical Officials Should Have Power to Return Liners to Quarantine.

Quebec, Oct. 7.—The fact that cases of cholera have been discovered on board the steamers that reached the port of New York has caused somewhat of a sensation in Quebec, the first port on the Canadian route where steamers arriving from the Old Country call after their run across the ocean.

Quebec knows what it is to have an epidemic of cholera. At various epochs its population has been stricken with the terrible plague, and because of the peril that once more arises the civic health bureau held a meeting last night to discuss the measures to be taken in order to prevent the spreading in the Dominion of the deadly disease.

Quebec of course is more exposed to the germs of disease that might be brought by immigrants, but in protecting this city the authorities look to the protection of the country. The quarantine station at Grosse Ile, is of course a protecting shield, but to ensure amore energetic surveillance of incoming foreigners the Quebec Civic Health Bureau has thought it wise to ask the Federal Government to make certain changes in the immigration law.

According to the present law the Federal Health Physician at this port, Dr. Page, has no authority to order the return of a steamer to the Grosse Isle quarantine. It occasionally happens that immigrants suffering from contagious diseases pass quarantine and that the disease develops between the latter station and this port, but the federal medical officer has no authority to order the steamer back. The committee decided to send its president Dr. Jobin, and Dr. Catelher, city health officer, to Ottawa, next week, where they will request the government to amend the immigration law so as to give more power to the medical officials.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

Condition of Affairs in Spain are Serious

MOIR SAID TO BE PLANNING ESCAPE

(Special to The Times.)

London, Ont., Oct. 7.—That Moir is planning escape, and will get away again if not guarded closely, is the statement of Chief Williams, who will not disclose the facts he has learned.

Columbus Day.

(Special to The Times.)

New York, Oct. 8.—Columbus Day, the anniversary of the discovery of America, by Christopher Columbus, will be observed as a legal holiday on Wednesday by fourteen States, several of them observing the day for transcontinental road is still the coun the first time.

Electrical Show in Denver.

(Special to The Times.)

Denver, Colo., Oct. 8.—The myriad uses of electricity for power, lighting, transportation and as a labor saver in office, shop and house work are illustrated in a great exhibition which will open in the Auditorium today under the auspices of the Colorado Electric Club. The spectacular feature of the exhibition is an imitation of a mountain sunset provided by three thousand vari-colored electric lights.

A REVOLUTIONARY OUTBREAK IS HANGING IN THE BALANCE NOW.

Would Be Attended by Enormous Loss of Life—All Eyes are Now on Spain—Will the Church Fall.

Paris, Oct. 7.—A revolutionary outbreak in Spain that for magnitude and violence will dwarf the Portugal situation is hanging fire today, according to private advices to revolutionary leaders here which, on good authority are said to be borne out by semi-official reports to the French Government.

These advices say that at any hour the Spanish monarchial government may find itself with it's back to the wall fighting for life against a movement which today is declared to compromise more than 70 per cent. of the nation's people, with some of the foremost nobles, soldiers and publicists of the kingdom at their head.

AWFUL LOSS WOULD RESULT.

Owing to the widespread preparations by the government and the Spanish Republicans and their allies it is conceded that rebellion in Alfonso's nation would be attended by enormous loss of life and bitter war fare throughout the entire kingdom.

Troops are massed upon the Portuguese frontier and in all the centers of unrest today and warships are stationed at strategic points. All of the provincial governors have been instructed for emergencies and the iron hand of General Weyler is guiding the disposition of the King's military.

Separation of the Church and State

Lisbon, Oct. 7.—Minister Alfonso Costa, of the Department of Justice of the new Provisional Republican Government, outlined the ideals of the Republicans and the legislative program as has been outlined so far in conferences.

"We will ever strive for the public weal and to carry out the ideals of justice," said he.

JUSTICE AND PROSPERITY.

"It is our life aim to give the people justice, prosperity and happiness.

"We shall do away with needless expense and foolish extravagance which so exasperated the people under the reign of the monarchy. It will be our aim to place honest men in office and to eliminate the outrageous custom of dealing in favorities.

"But while we strengthen the bulwarks of the people's liberties, we shall strive to build up the nation's credit and commerce. Portugal has rich possessions abroad which shall be cared for. There will be no chaos; fair treaties with foreign powers will be held in all their integrity.

The program of the provisional government is only radical in so far as it is compared with the narrow policies of the prior regime.

"The extension of individual liberty and the curtailment of the police and military power.

WILL BUILD UP TRADE.

"We must protect our people, but we must build up trade and commerce in order to give the populace work. Our propaganda, in brief, consists of these principles:

"Extend education to all masses.

"Provide for the national defence in a rational manner by maintaining an army and navy of worth and not made up of figureheads and discontented soldiery.

"Place colonial administration upon a firm basis by giving the colonists themselves a voice in their government.

SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE.

"The complete separation of the Church and the State and the abolition of congregational schools.

"The registration of births, marriages and deaths so that the government may exercise paternal measures.

"The upbuilding of a moral judiciary and the broadening of the citizenry's conception of the obligations of liberty."

CRIME WAVE.

Becoming More Vicious as Well as More Frequent in Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The serious crime waves in Ontario are becoming more frequent as well as more violent. Outrages of a particularly revolting nature appear to be on the increase. Criminals escape altogether, or go unconvicted, or inadequately punished. Nor is any phase of the situation more peculiar than the tendency of the bench to meet this condition of affairs with leniency, and of juries to encourage it by almost invariable recommendations to mercy.

The Windsor Record points out that the perpetrators of the ghastly crime which resulted in the death and mutilation of a Goderich girl have probably escaped into the United States via that city. "Windsor is not guarded at present," it points out. "Officers Campeau and Mahaney of the provincial staff being suspended because they refused to wear brass buttons, and the local condition is a matter of public knowledge from end to end of the country." It continues its protest as follows:

While the western and particularly Windsor is without police protection crimes accumulate. The Fighting Island clubhouse was burned, and its owners made a vain appeal to the attorney-general; a burglary occurred at Leamington a few days ago, but there was no help for the sufferer; a theft of money occurred lately at Belle River, but nothing could be done to trace the criminal, and several local cases have arisen and passed into history in the last few weeks for want of police attention."

The government should lose no time in dealing with the situation at Windsor. Border towns are especially in need of police protection. But the problem is more than a local one. A growing disrespect for the law is manifested all over the Province, and the need of an adequate provincial force organized upon a proper basis is being demonstrated almost daily. The problem is one with which the Hon. Mr. Foy should cope without delay.

When you have a cold get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will soon fix you up all right and will ward off any tendency toward pneumonia. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as an adult. Sold by all dealers.

SALVATION ARMY.

A remarkable statement was made recently by General William Booth, the head of the Salvation Army. He declared that he had never taken a shilling from the army coffers for his own support. The army accounts he said, were absolutely in the hands of one of the first firms of accountants in the city of London. A balance sheet was issued annually and was freely circulated. The members of the army were becoming more and more the agents of governments and municipalities in social matters.

The general then gave some interesting statistics indicating the scope of the army's recent work. Only a fortnight ago, he said, its representatives went to Japan for the relief of sufferers by inundations. They had just entered Russia, and were to seek to start work in Manchuria. There were 9,000 separate societies conducting the work in 32 different languages. The paid officers numbered 16,000, the employees 5,000 and there are 8,000 officers who gave their spare time and efforts for no remuneration. The army had 25,000 musicians. In a single week 16,800 indoor and 30,000 outdoor meetings were conducted with attendances of 140,000 in the one case and 2,000,000 in the other; 20,000 patients were taken to the hospitals, 250,000 people were fed, 19,000 men were sheltered and 15,000 public houses were visited. Last year 60,000 situations were provided for men, and the army furnished employment to the best it could to 40,000 who would otherwise have been workless.

The extent and vigor of the Salvation Army are the more surprising when of the fact that the organization has been built up by one man who is still active and chief conductor of its affairs. One reason why it has flourished is undoubtedly the confidence which it had in its veteran leader, another important source of strength being the enthusiasm of the members for their cause, which in a very real sence is the cause of human brotherhood. The main part of their work consists in helping the brother or sister who has fallen by the wayside. They have done more to ameliorate the condition of London's "submerged tenth" than any other agency in Britain. And they have stretched out their lines and encircled the globe.

AN EMPIRE BUILDER.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is likely to indcrease its dividednd rate next year, it is to make the distribution quarterly instead of half yearly and it is to place faster and finer ships on the Atlantic route. These announcementsmade at the company's annual meeting, drive home the fact that in its 29th year the pioneer transcontinent road is still the country's greatest advertisement. The vast bulk of the corporation's securities being held in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, every fresh success achieved by this brilliantly managed enterprise, tends strongly to establish and reinforce Canada's credit abroad and to facilitate the successful flotation of other Canadian ventures in the old world. It must be said that by teaching home-keeping Britons the value of the outer dominions, the Canadian Pacific has been a powerful factor in the upbuilding and establishment of the Empire.

THE COCOANUT TREE.

It Has an Irresistible Craving For Salt Water.

In the tropics, where the cocoanut is wanted for planting, the nuts are picked up when they fall from the tree where they have hung for about fourteen months in ripening. It is a fact not generally known," says the Bakers' Weekly, "that a majority of the nuts drop at night, which probably accounts for the small loss of life by cocoanuts falling upon the head of the natives.

"The action of the heavy dew at night loosens the seal with which nature has provided the nut and allows it to fall. The nuts wanted for planting are either gathered into heaps or placed under sheds, where they are allowed to sprout before planting, in order that good, healthy sprout nuts may be selected, thus avoiding the possibility of planting 'blind' nuts that would not sprout, in which case much time would be lost in starting the cocoanut walks,' as the orchards are called. When holes are dug about three feet deep and twenty feet apart the nut is carefully placed in the hole and covered with about one foot of soil. The hole is filled as the sprout grows until it reaches the surface when it is left to itself, requiring no further attention. Should the place where the cocoanut is planted be any great distance from the seashore a quantity of salt is placed in the hole it will grow in luxuriance, however, at a short distance from the shore nearness to salt water being absolutely essential to its welfare.

"An interesting story is told by a gentleman who resided for some years in the tropics. He planted a cocoanut tree behind a board fence some distance from the sea. The tree grew perfectly straight until it reached the top of the fence, when it began to grow toward the ocean, leaning a foot or more. Then a shed was built near the fence, but several feet higher and the tree again grew straight until the roof of the shed was reached when it again leaned toward the sea making a very curious and odd looking tree.

"The irregular growth was wholly attributed to the influence of the sun.

"No magnet is truer to the pole than the root of the cocoanut tree is to the ocean, for when the root breaks through its husk it points directly to the sea, no matter what the position of the nut when placed in the ground."

PAID IN PELTS.

When Tennessee Was Known as the State of Franklin.

Probably few people know that the original name of the state of Tennessee was Franklin or that in 1788 the salaries of the officers of the "lost state" were paid in pelts, but the following is a correct copy of the law:

"Be it enacted by the state of Franklin and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that from and after the 1st day of January, 1788, the salaries of this commonwealth be as follows, to wit:

"His excellency the governor per annum 100 deerskins.

"His honor the chief justice, 5-4 ditto.

"The secretary to his excellency the governor, 300 raccoon skins.

"County clerk, 300 beaver skins.

"Clerk of the house of commons, 300 raccoon skins.

"Justice's fee for serving a warrant, one muskrat.

At that time the state of Franklin extended to the east bank of the Mississippi river, and on the west bank was that great unknown forest region of Louisiana. It was then a terra incognita, save a few canoe landings and Indian trading posts on the river banks. It was known as the district of Louisiana and in 1805 was made territory of Louisiana.

The state of Franklin, which became Tennessee in 1796, was almost as little known. The now great city of Memphis was a mere trading post and was not laid out as a village until 1820.

Pelts were as plentiful in those days as pennies and much better distributed for purposes of currency and barter.

The Doctrine of Election.

When the late Senator Vance was running for congress he called on an old colored man who had in early life served the Vance family. Asked after his health, the former servant replied, "Mighty po'ly in this world, but it's all right over yander."

"Do you believe in the doctrine of election?" asked Vance with great solemnity.

"It's the doctrine of the Bible," answered the old man.

"Uncle Ephraim, do you think I'm an elected?" asked Vance again.

"Marse Zeb, I'd a leetle rather you wouldn't draw that question. I'm tole dat de grabe to tell a pusson but de true I neber yet knowed nor hear tell of no man bein elected what wa'nt candidate."—Exchange.

His Profile.

Blank, a fat millionaire, was arranging to have his portrait painted. The length three-quarters — was settled, and then the painter said:

"And shall the view be profile or full face, Mr. Blank?"

"Profile, by all means," was the reply. "The curve of the stomach gives a dignity to the figure."

No Sale.

"I should like," said a book canvasser to a merchant whose sanctum he had invaded, "to call your attention to a little work which I have here."

"And I will call your attention to a mighty mass of work which I have here," replied the man at the desk.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations—that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations werecarried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreementhas been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 20th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT GUSHER, WITHIN SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The Refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

stocks and bonds of all iron, steel and smelting companies.

WHY? Because they are capitalized on the earnings of their blast furnaces now turning out base and precious metals. These blast furnaces are going to the scrap heap.

RENDALL FURNACES will supersede blast furnaces everywhere. They cost only one-fifth the price to build and produce pure metal from any kind of ore for one-half the cost of production by any other process now used.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland VAST DEPOSITS, containing BILLIONS OF TONS of low grade iron ore, now unworked and idle because the ores are below the present accepted standard required for Bessemer ores, will soon be turning out the FINEST IRON the world has ever seen from RENDALL FURNACES now being built.

Formerly New York State was the largest producer of iron. The industry moved west when the BESSEMER PROCESS and the high grade ores of Michigan and Minnesota forced Eastern producers out of business. Now the Western industry—capitalized at about $3,000,000,000 in bonds and stocks—MUST USE THE RENDALL PROCESS OR SHUT DOWN.

BUY

Rendall Steel Stock

WHY? Because all iron and steel makers must buy RENDALL FURNACES—and every mining camp, where copper, silver, lead and zinc are produced must add continually to the Rendall Steel Company's income which will amount to many millions a year in time from earnings and royalties. This means enormous dividends on Rendall Steel Stock.

Some years ago an eminent authority, Abram S. Hewitt, after a careful study made in the library of Sir Henry Bessemer, was able to demonstrate that the BESSEMER PROCESS of making iron and steel added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 YEARLY TO THE WORLD'S WEALTH.

Since then there has been steady increase over this two thousand million dollars a year.

HENRY BESSEMER'S INVENTION IS NOW SUPERSEDED BY GEORGE F. RENDALL'S INVENTION.

There will be no more BESSEMER STEEL. IT WILL BE ALL RENDALL STEEL. "Rendall Steel stock will go up to $500 a share and pay enormous dividends." Reliable, eminent authorities in mining and metallurgy predict this.

Jesse R. Grant, E.M., son of General U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States; Captain C. B. Dahlgren, E.M., U.S. Navy (retired); Captain S. L. Burbridge, E. M.; W. F. Downs, E.M., of Columbia University; James C. Bayles, M.E.; Ph.D., ex-editor Iron Age; G. F. Rendall, M.E.; T. F. Maher, U.S. Navy Yard; G. H. Moore, E.M., C.E., and other mining and metallurgical engineers say "A REVOLUTION OF THE WHOLE IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY AS GREAT AS THAT PRODUCED BY SIR HENRY BESSEMER IS EFFECTED BY THE RENDALL PROCESS. IT SUPERSEDES THE BLAST FURNACE.

Buy Rendall Steel Company's Treasury Stock now offered at $20 per share. It is the best investment in America to-day. I have sound reason to believe it is going up to $500 a share and eventally much higher.

REPUBLICANS DISMAYED.

At Candidature of Dr. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

New Jersey, N.J., Oct. 7.—The Republicans of New Jersey are wearing a look of dismay over the fact that Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, is a candidate for the office of governor of New Jersey. He accepted the Democratic nomination in a speech of such clearness and vigor that already he is a formidable figure. The leading men of his party are enthusiastic. The ruling group at Trenton is uneasy. For a time there was a tendency on the part of Republicans to smile at the spectacle of a theoretical politician casting his beaver into the ring. But, to continue the metaphor, Dr. Wilson "strips well" and seems to be in prime condition.

New Jersey has no debt of gratitude to the Republican party. Government in that state has been entangled with "the interests" for many years. The legislature has had rather more than the average number of bosses and lobbyists. Certain politicians have been the subject of court inquiry. Perhaps for these reasons Republican insurgency finds many followers in the state. The house is divided against itself. There is a general feeling that it cannot stand.

The policy of Dr. Woodrow Wilson is moderate, sane and strong. First of all, he recognizes the value of industrial combinations. He sees no evil in a corporation merely because it is a corporation. But he is sure that any evil attributed to a corporation is due to the man or to the board who may be in aposition to command. For this reason he objects to the plan of fining the company. Legally any incorporated company is a person, but not a person to be held responsible. If the law is broken by such a company the responsibility rests upon one or more men. To find these men and punish them as individuals is the policy of the Democratic candidate. To the argument that these men are often mere dummies, Dr. Wilson replies: "Put one or two conspicuous dummies in the penitentiary and there will be no more for hire." He does not agree with the Rooseveltian idea that to punish a company you must break it up. He says that it is not fair for the means of the stockholders to be jeopardized.

The president of Princeton is no tyro. He is a graduate in law from Johns Hopkins University. He did not practice because, according to the New York Evening Post, he discovered that law had ceased to be a profession and had become a trade. During all his terms at Princeton he has met difficulties squarely, has fought prejudice both amongst alumni and undergraduates and has labored to keep the spirit of the university democratic. He is a man of refinement and of vast knowledge, a student of the ways of men, a careful and ready speaker, a powerful and exact writer. His entry into politics is worth watching.

HOME OF THE SHETLAND.

Little Pony Comes From a Picturesque Country.

Away to the north of Scotland lies the group of islands in which the diminutive horses commonly called Shelties have their home. The Shetlands are not all inhabited, some of the smaller islands being used merely as pasturage for a few sheep. There is little to attract either the agriculturist or the merchant, so progress is slow; the islanders till their land by old-fashioned methods, and many of them still have recourse to barter as a means of obtaining necessaries.

To the lover of the beautiful and to the artist there is much to charm. Some perhaps would describe the islands as barren—but what barrenness! The country, though destitute of trees, is so varied in the nature of its scenery that their absence in no way detracts from the general beauty of the landscape.

Countless tarns, streams and lochs all serve to make the coloring of the heather covered hills and the gloomy tints of the moors stand out in pleasing contrasts, while near the sea bold cliffs tower over the blue waters, whose waves dash against their rocky sides. Overhead numerous sea birds circle on their way to their nests on the ledges.

The largest island is known as the mainland, with a length of fifty-four miles and a width of twenty-one. The islands have a singularly mild and equable climate considering their exposed situation, and compose one of the most healthful districts of Scotland; but even the most adventurous tourists seldom visit them, because a doubtful sea trip in a small steamer is necessary before they can be reached.

Of the entire area of 551 square miles scarcely one-tenth is under cultivation, yet the Shetlanders manage to maintain something like 100,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 5,000 of the famous ponies. The inhabitants are of Norse origin and in their speech and customs retain many of the characteristics of their forefathers. They support themselves chiefly by the herring and other fishing industries.

They cannot afford to give much feeding to their ponies, so these hardy little animals run wild in herds on the hills or seathods, picking up what food they can find. When the bleak wintry weather comes on they find their way down to the seashore, where they derive a scanty living from the seaweed which grows upon the rocks or has been left by the high autumn tides and freshened by melted snow or rain. At this time of year, too, they will gather in groups near the homesteads and are rewarded with an occasional truss of hay.

In spite of this precarious existence the Shelties seem happy enough and they are extremely hardy. They possess extraordinary strength for their size, being able to carry a man or woman with apparent ease for long distances.

The little ponies, with their rough, shaggy coats and flowing manes and tails, seem somehow to suit their wild rugged surroundings and the groups of them that are scattered about add the needed life to the landscape.

Perhaps it is a question of a survival of the fittest that makes these little creatures so very small, as horses of a larger type would be useless on the boggy moors or on the stony hillsides. They have been known to attain the age of thirty years and more, due probably to the healthful mode of life which they were forced to adopt, for they were born in the fields and lived and died in them.

Where Edwards Rest.

Here is a list showing where all the Royal Edwards have been laid at rest:—

Edward I., born 1239, died July 7, 1307, buried in Westminster Abbey.

Edward IV., born 1442, died April 9, 1483, buried at Windsor.

Edward VI., born 1537, died July 6, 1553, buried at Westminster.

Edward VII., born Nov. 9, 1841, died May 6, 1910, buried at Windsor Castle.

The Spinning Ant of Ceylon.

The spinning ant is found in India, in Ceylon, in the Islands of Malacca, and in Australia. This ant weaves its nest between two leaves of a tree, preferably the mango. It begins to build, or to weave, by drawing two leaves together. To do this it runs a line of its working material—material similar to the spider's thread — the length of the leaf and around it. While at work it clings to the leaf with its nails and, at the same time, draws on the leaf nearest to it with its mandibles. Sometimes the two leaves suitable for nest-building are too far apart. Then the builder calls on its fellow ants and they help it to form a chain. Each ant clings to the waist of its neighbor by its mandibles. Thus enchained, they work to build the nest of their comrade.

New Zealand's Wool Trade.

Sir Joseph Ward's the Prime Minister, speaking at Mangaweka, recently, said that New Zealand was to-day exporting more wool than any one of the Australian states. The total value of the exports had now reached twenty millions a year. Eighteen months ago people had predicted financial distress, but, happily, their fears had not been realized. The deposits in banking institutions had increased by more than four millions as compared with last year.

She Got Even.

A Lanarkshire postmistress explains how she got level with a customer who had paid for £2 18s of postal orders in threepenny pieces. First of all she kept him waiting while she counted over the coins three times, and then next day, when he came back to change some postal orders, she paid him out in the same threepenny pieces!

Boats Being Repainted.

Heretofore the Otanabee Navigation Company's steamers have been painted in the spring. This season however, general manager Pinchin is having this work done this fall so that there will be no delay in getting the boats out at the opening of navigation.

New Electric Road.

A map of the route of the proposed electric railway from Toronto to Cobourg, is fyled at Ottawa. It also shows branch lines running northerly from Port Hope to Peterborough, and from Oshawa to Lindsay. Application has been made to the Minister of Railways and Canals for the approval of this route.

To Sing in Norwood.

Miss Lavina Hallihan, Peterborough's well known vocalist, is billed to sing at the concert to be given in Norwood on Wednesday evening next, in connection with the fall fair.

A New Gatekeeper.

Mr. Robert Chambers, formerly night gateman at the Grand Trunk Charlotte street crossing, has taken the place formerly occupied by Thos. Bion at the diamond. Mr. Smith of the G.T.R. freight sheds is now gate man at night at the Charlotte street crossing.

On Sunday Afternoon.

The St. John's Guild of Good Fellowship will meet in the Princess Theatre tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. The title of the discussion is "My Troublesome Friend." All men will be cordially welcomed to these meetings, which aim at providing a pleasant and profitable hour's discussion on points of interest to men.

New Kind of Insurance.

Mr. J. W. Hunter was in the city yesterday, and gave The Times a call. Mr. Hunt is organizer for the Canadian Weather Insurance Company, the only weather insurance company in the Dominion. This institution insures against loss by wind, hail and frost. It has an authorized capital of $500,000 of which $116,000 is subscribed and $55,000 paid up. The company propose to organize a board for Peterborough county which will supervise the business done within this county. Mr. Hunt will make Peterborough his headquarters until this is accomplished.

Improving the Road.

Port Hope Guide: Indications are that work will be commenced this fall and continued during the winter in building or strengthening all bridges between Midland and Lindsay, also between Lindsay and Port Hope, via the Bethany line. As soon as the bridges are ready 100 pound rails will replace those now in use and large engines will be used to draw grain-trains from Midland to the main line at Port Hope. This has been under contemplation for some time, but present conditions are that the work will be proceeded with almost at once.

Stony Lake Improvements.

The Norwood Register says: Those who spend the summer months at Stoney Lake, will be surprised on their return to that gem of summer resorts, to see that commodious boat and apartment house combined at Juniper Island, which has just been completed. The building was commenced at the close of the summer season, and is another evidence of the enterprise of the proprietor of Juniper Island store, Mr. Harry Stock. The building is 40x24 feet in size, and two stories high, with a verandah at front and ends of upper story.

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goerts, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my housework alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

might glance upward or drive beneath the surface.

"Would it be possible," asked Mr. Porter, "for a bullet striking the water and glancing upward to carry a mile?"

"I think a 44 Winchester would carry that far," answered Mr. Day.

"What penetrative power would it have at that distance?"

"I could not say as to that: I have never experimented."

Replying to Mr. White, the witness said that his interest in firearms was principally as a sportsman. The rifle produced in court, the one with which the crime was committed, showed evidences of good care. The penetrating power of a bullet depended to some extent on the rifle. The rifle prodocued in court was longer than the one Dr. Youmans and he had used in their experiments, and it should have more penetrative power.

Mrs. Robert Parker, wife of the prisoner, said she was 66 years of age, and her husband was over 70. They had been married for over 40 years. They had had eleven children, of whomfour are living.

VOL XXXIII NO. 228 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 10 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

BIG BLAZE ON SATURDAY NIGHT

MANN'S PLANNING MILL THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION BY THE FIERCE FLAMES.

Fire Brigade Did Splendid Work and Saved the Factory From Being Destroyed by the Flames.

Fire alarm box No 42, at 8.35 Saturday evening, rang out an alarm that brought out Chief Howard and his gallant fire fighters. The factory of the Mann Lumber and cheese box company at 165 Dublin street, was merrily blazing during the very few minutes it took the brigade to arrive and get their hose coupled up. The fire started in the cheese box factory to the south of the mill, and owing to the dry and inflamable nature of its contents, the flames spread with lightning rapidity, and it seemed as though the whole factory was doomed. The brigade at last have had a good opportunity for the public to judge their ability as fire fighters. Chief Howard had fourteen men at work, and work they did like beavers, and with great skill and intelligence. It was only by intelligent methods, and perfect discipline that the whole factory, with its contents and nearby expensive lumber was saved. The fire was fortunately confined to the cheese box factory which is a complete wreck. It is hoped, however, that the machinery, even in this part of the building, will be fit for future use. The brigade succeeded in getting the fire under control by 11 p.m., but three members of the brigade remained on duty all night.

THE FIRE.

When the brigade left the station the whole sky was illuminated for hundreds of feet high. On arrival they found that the cheese box factory was a roaring fiery furnace. This is located to the south of the big planning mill. Chief Howard at once recognized that the box factory was gone beyond a hope. He ordered a line of hose into the main building and kept a stream of water on flames that were curling and roaring through a doorway of the main wall into the planing mill. Whilst a second line was being attached in support of the first, the chief had four men with "chemicals" fighting back the flames. After a time seven lines of hose were playing on the fire and the big mill was saved. The fire was watched by thousands of citizens who saw that the new brigade was on its mettle and practically on trial as to ability One bet of $10 was made and lost that the planning mill would go. People living as far as a block away had all their furniture on the street, thinking the whole block would be destroyed. One instance, worthy of record, in the very heart of the fiery mass in the box factory, was a dry-kiln filled with valuable lumber. A number of the factory owners begged that this be saved. Chief Howard at once put water, not on, but forming a watery umbrella over the kiln. The owner could not understand why the stream was not played direct on the kiln, until the chief explained that water, thrown on the hot lumber, would destroyed it as effectively as would the flames: as a result not $10 worth of damage was sustained by the contents of the kiln. The loss will probably amount to about $3,000, fully insured.

Owing to the unusual brilliancy and spectacular nature of this fire, fully four or five thousand people crowded about to get a good view Butcher carts, delivery wagons and excited citizens materially interfered with the firemen's work. In fact one horse, attached to a delivery wagon, got tangled up in the hose. The animal becoming frightened by the clinging hose, the roaring flames and the shouts of the people, made frantic efforts to run away through the dense throng. Had it once got a good start, it is a moral certainty that human life would have been lost or limbs fractured This crowding and crushing was a source of great trouble to Chief Howard and his men. Despite the annoyance caused as noted above, and considering the inflammable nature of the premises and contents, and noting that a stiff south-west wind was driving the roaring flames into the planning mill, the boys of the Peterborough fire brigade, did noble work, and did all possible for men to do, in carrying out the orders of their chief, and they desire the hearty commendation of the people of Peterborough.

Whilst the fire was at its height several bystanders attempted to give orders to the firemen, and notwithstanding one of these gentlemen occupies a leading position in the city, the firemen recommended him to go to a place several times hotter than the burning box factory.

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Thomas E. Williams, Middleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers.

FIFTY PER CENT. INCREASE IN HOMESTEAD ENTRIES IN WESTERN CANADA

Ottawa, Oct. 8. For the first eight months of the present calendar year, Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, the homestead entries in Western Canada number 36,916, as compared with the 24,330 entries for the corresponding period of 1909. In each of the prairie provinces there is an increase as compared with the corresponding months of last year Manitoba having 2042 entries, as against 1073 in 1909, Saskatchewan, 20,692 as against 12,587 in 1909 and Alberta 14,013, as against 9933 in 1909. For the month of August alone the entries numbered 3500, of which 1228 were made by Canadian born persons, some of which had just returned from the United States, 825 entries were made by United States citizens, 715 entries by English, Irish and Scotch 226 by Scandinavians, and the balance by French, Belgians, Germans and other immigrants from continental Europe.

One Half London School Children are Defective

London, Oct. 8.—More than half the children attending the London county council schools are in need of some form of medical treatment.

This alarming fact has come to light as the outcome of a scheme of medical inspection carried out by the London county council in twenty-eight schools.

The result of the inspection may be summarized as follows:

Children examined	23,253
Defective	12,937
Normal	10,346

Here is a list of defects which were recorded. Some children were found to be suffering from more than one defect:

Defective eye	3,156
Defective teeth	6,477
Defective throats and noses	6,164
Defective ears	1,582
Suffering from skin disease	348
Miscellaneous	1,911

Total number of defects ... 21,931

If the same proportion of defects exists among all the children attending the London elementary schools about 700,000 then more than 350,000 children are in need of medical treatment.

A GOOD RECORD.

Only Five More in Local Jail Than in Former Years.

Considering that Peterborough is a manufacturing center of rapid growth the statistics of the county jail, just issued by Sheriff Hall for the past year, show that the city and county are very law abiding.

Two hundred and forty-one prisoners were received at the jail during the year ending September 30th twenty of which were females. This is only five more than last year. The number of prisoners in the jail at the first of the month was nineteen, four of whom are awaiting trial and nineteen are serving short sentences. One is of unsound mind. During the year thirteen prisoners were sent to Central Prison and one was sent to the penitentiary. One hundred and ninety-four were maintained by the county, the balance by the government. The work of the prisoners was largely cleaning the building and keeping the park and grounds in repair. It cost 8 3-8 cents daily per prisoner. With 21 cells, the greatest number of prisoners at one time was 22.

PRISONERS' NATIONALITY.

DANCES WHILE THE KING FLIES

GIRL WHO IS BLAMED FOR OVERTHROW OF PORTUGUESE MONARCHY IS IN VIENNA

Was Love at First Sight She Gets $25,000 for Three Months' Engagement, and Is Proud of It.

Vienna, Oct. 8. Formerly "the crowned queen," Mlle Gaby Deslys, who's twinkling toes brought Manuel to his knees and is said by some to have caused the boy ruler his fortune and his throne, today gloried in her friendship for the youthful ex-monarch.

Mlle Deslys, who at Paris by the cars and created a furore in London is appearing at the Apollo Theater here, dancing light-heartedly before vast audiences, while each hour brings tidings of the ruin of her lover.

Last night great throngs packed the Music Hall to see the chic little French woman. At her throat there sparkled a magnificent sunburst of diamonds, wrung from bankrupt Portugal by Manuel that he might buy his way into her favor.

"Recently, in Paris, the Variete Theater offered me a high salary to appear, billed as Manuel's mistress," she declared. "I refused indignantly. The same theater then produced a sketch wherein the king and myself were the two chief figures. I cannot be blamed for that. I never asked the papers to call me the 'Uncrowned Queen of Portugal.'

"I first met the king fifteen months ago in Paris, where I was dancing. He was brought behind the scenes and introduced to me after the performance. It was love at first sight.

"After that first meeting, we met frequently. He came repeatedly to Paris to visit me. We were always happy together in those days.

INTRODUCED TO MOTHER.

"In February of this year, his highness summoned me to Lisbon, and at his request I danced at the great charity fair the king organized for the relief of the victims of the Oporto fire.

"I did not live in a suite in the royal palace, as was declared yesterday. I stayed in a suite in a hotel near the palace, but the king paid me marked attention and was in my company nearly all the time I was in the capital. He even presented me to his royal mother.

My contract for my next engagement is here. See for yourself that I am to get $25,000 for appearing three months here. I believe that my income is greater than the king.

"I last saw the king in August in Paris. I had a long letter from him but a few days ago wherein he wrote of his great joy over the prospect of seeing me again in Paris at the end of October.

BRITISH FLAG PROTECTS JESUITS FROM ATTACK BY REPUBLICANS

STRAIGHT WARNING ISSUED TO CHINA JAPAN SEES CERTAIN TROUBLE AHEAD

Tokio, Oct. 9.—The Japan Times in a long editorial yesterday comments on the report by the Chinese War Minister and Viceroy, Hsi Liang on Japan's influence in Eastern China. The report urges that in addition to fortifying and organizing a new army, China should avail itself of the United States offer of loans to build railways and perfect a colonial policy.

The Times regards the report as evidence of China's desire to align America, Germany, and China against England, Russia and Japan, and warns China against precipitating a conflict in which China would inevitably be the prize.

More Chimes Money Public Meeting Tonight

At yesterday morning's service in St. John's church, the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, spoke at some length regarding the chimes fund. He remarked that Mr. John Murphy of Smith street, a member of the Roman Catholic Church had handed in an envelope containing $38.50 that he had collected towards the chimes, in the factory where he is employed. Mr. Peat of the Quaker Oats Company, with a friend had collected and handed in $68 towards the same fund.

The rector remarked that a meeting would be held tonight, (Monday), to talk over installing the chimes and discuss the proposed sale of the present bell in St. John's tower. The rector also noted that the 57th Regiment, of which he is chaplain, had handed in $50 more, this being the third contribution from the regiment.

Vanderbilt Cup Killings

A Sporting Event Which is Almost Equal in Fatalities to a Day Spent in Battle

Three men dead in a mornings automobile racing, a dozen more injured, and the Vanderbilt Cup incidentally won!

Would that cup be so keenly sought after if it bore engraved upon it the names of those who have lost their lives in the contest for it? Would that grim list be shorter or longer than the one of the men who have succeeded in winning the trophy?

It is difficult to understand (says the New York Sun) why this year's cup race should be so much more terrible than those of other years. The value of life does not seem to be rising with that of other commodities. On the contrary life seems to be cheaper this year than it has for a long time in the chauffeur profession. No doubt it will presently appear whether the drivers held their own lives cheap, or a happy go lucky management helped in the cheapening process.

The dead and injured number many spectators, as well as some participants. For the racing madness that speeds men like bolts to their own destruction, responsibility can be laid on the racers themselves. But the injured spectators are a result of failure to keep the track properly cleared. No doubt one factor in the series of tragedies was the type of special guardians employed on the course. If they had been men of a stamp capable of enforcing the exclusion of trespassers, fewer accidents might have occurred.

Aviation is challenged. It will have to do its utmost to win back its reputation. Flying had come to be looked upon as a bit more perilous than aught else. But well has automobile road racing won back the old laurels, bound with crepe.

Japan's New Dreadnought.

Tokio, Oct. 10.—Something of a record for rapid naval construction has been established in the case of Japan's newest and most formidable battleship, the Kawachi, which was launched at the government yards at Yokosuka today, less than six months after the keel was laid down. The Kawachi has a displacement of 20,800 tons, and will carry a battery of ten 10-inch, ten 6-inch, twelve 4-inch guns and five torpedo tubes.

PARKER MUST PAY DEATH PENALTY

WHITENED HAIRS OF TRAPPER DO NOT SAVE HIM FROM DEATH.

Aged Murderer Hung Heavily on Railing as He Learned Fate from the Jury—Prisoner's Counsel Moved for Reserved Case.

Belleville, Ont. Oct 8.—The hands on the clock that hangs on the wall of the court house here was approaching four this morning when Chief Justice Mulock pronounced the words which sentenced Robert Parker to hang on Saturday, December 3rd, for the murder of William Masters.

The old man hung heavily upon the railing of the dock while Sir William was addressing him.

At no time throughout the trial did the weight of his advancing years appear so oppressive.

The final syllables of the judge's declaration found him stunned. Few of those in the court room had looked for the imposition of the extreme penalty of the law. Most of them appeared to think that in some way the whitened hairs of the prisoner would save him from the final degradation of the gallows.

The long hours of deliberation on the part of the jury stretched out and the fingers on the clock had made a circuit of the dial, almost four times, and many leaned to a belief that either a disagreement or an acquittal would be the ultimate outcome.

When the jury filed into their places at 1.35 a.m. few were prepared for the terse declaration of its foreman, J. T. Sargeant, "We find the prisoner guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy." It is evident, however, that the judge on the bench did not share in the popular surprise.

BEGINNING TO DRAW CLOSER THE REINS OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT IN LISBON.

Lisbon Oct. 9. Provisional President Theophile Braga and his associates, every day feeling more secure in their newly assumed authority, are drawing tighter the reins of government and began actively today to put into practice the principles for which they had stood, and which they have promised will be the bulwarks of the new republic. It is apparent that no time is to be lost not only because of the necessity of meeting popular expectations at home, but as well for the moral effect upon other nations, the recognition of which is anxiously sought.

The first step was the publication this morning of an official decree ordering all the religious bodies in Portugal to leave the country within 24 hours.

The government had promised the separation of state and church, and the suppression of the religious orders. Almost at the moment that the decree appeared, Marquis De Pombal was placed under arrest charged with having sheltered members of the religious bodies, and having concealed arms in his house. Troops were stationed in the vicinity of the religious establishments to prevent attacks upon them by mobs.

HOISTED BRITISH FLAG.

The hoisting of the British flag over the Jesuits' monastry in the Rue de Quethass, saved the occupants from the attacking Republican troops last night, one priest was killed and the others arrested.

The attack began during the night after republican troops had been fired upon from the windows of the monastery. It is believed that the attack upon the soldiers proceeded under the direction of the municipal guards.

The fighting was severe for a time, but when the Jesuits saw that they were getting the worst of it and in peril of their lives, they ran up the colors of Great Britain. The flag was respected by the troops who at once suspended operations. It was then found that one priest had been killed. Subsequently the other occupants of the monastery were placed under arrest.

JESUITS THREW BOMBS.

According today's papers, the fight at the Jesuit monastery last night started when the Jesuits threw bombs upon the heads of the parading pupils of the polytechnic school, killing three of the youths.

The troops hurried to the scene and fired a volley at the windows of the building. The Jesuits responded with more bombs. They were many victims on both sides.

It is estimated that today not more than 500 persons were killed in the revolution. Latest indications are that the republic will not meet with serious difficulties. The most marked feature is the resentment shown by a portion of the populace against the clergy. The churches remain closed.

The situation in Spain is reported to be growing more alarming hourly. Alfonso and his advisors are making desperate efforts to forestall revolutionary plans, and General Weyler, "the butcher" of Cuban fame, has been placed in absolute control of the soldiery. This means war without quarter should a reported concert between the other various revolutionary factions and the Carlists result in an open attack on the monarchy.

MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE HOME LESS AND DESTITUTE—MUCH SUFFERING.

Fort William, Oct. 8.—Over a thousand people are homeless as the result of the disastrous forest fire which completely destroyed the towns of Beaudette, and Spooner, Minn., about 200 miles west of here on the C.N.R. They have only what they had on their backs when the fire caught them.

It is feared that hundreds of settlers south of here have perished, as it is known yesterday that they were packing up to come to town but have not reached here yet. One man named Ramsay, ran with a child in his arms seven miles to town, and reported several families behind him, but they have not turned up yet.

FIRE SPREAD RAPIDLY.

The fire broke out about 6 o'clock northwest of the town of Beaudette, and half an hour later both that town and Spooner were enveloped in flames.

The C.N.R. sent an engine and fifty empty box cars to the relief of the stricken towns, and in fifteen minutes all who could reach the station were safe on the Canadian side, although it looked as if they were going out of the frying pan into the fire, as the town of Rainy River was on fire in several places, the Rat Portage Lumber Company at that point losing their entire plant and yards. The Selvin Lumber yards at Spooner, just across the Beadette River from Beandette, were entirely consumed, they losing over one hundred and fifty million feet of sawn lumber, and having great difficulty in saving the planing and sawmill.

The fire is regarded as the most disastrous in the history of Northern Minnesota and Western Ontario. A number of lives were lost and the damage to property will mount up into the millions.

TRACK STREWN WITH CORPSES

Down coming trains report the right of way strewn with corpses, five being found between here and five miles west. They were endeavoring to get away from the fire and got on the track, only to be burned to death between the rails. The bodies were destitute of clothing, everything being burned except the shoes, one mother being found with a six-months babe lashed to her breast, both so completely charred by flames as to be unrecognizable.

G. P. Hagen, a prominent merchants of Spooner, and his wife had a very narrow escape from the flames.

International Humane Congress.

(Special to The Times.)

Washington, D.C., Oct. 10.—Delegates from the principal countries of Europe and America are in Washington to take part in the International Humane Congress. The sessions were formerly opened today and will continue until the end of the week. The American Humane Association, of which President Taft is the honorary president, is the host of the congress. The proceedings of the first three days are to be devoted exclusively to subjects relating to children and the remaining three days days to animals. One of the interesting features of the gathering is an exhibition of many articles of interest in connection with the movement for the protection of children and animals.

Mr. A. Hanna, representative of the Reynolds Candy Co., of Toronto, and formerly of this city, registered at the White House today.

MUST INTERVENE

(Special to The Times.)

Paris, Oct. 8.—"Spain must either become a republic or intervene to restore the monarchy in Portugal. No alternative is open to her. The monarchy in Spain absolutely could not withstand the effect of a successful republic administration of her kinsfolk across the border."

This remarkable declaration made tonight by Count de Sousa Rosa, who has just been deposed as Portuguese Minister to France and today surrendered his official resignation to Senior Lima, his republican successor.

LABOR AND THE PAYMENT OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.

The British labor party, and the trade unions as well will press in the government the demand for legislation annulling the so-called Osborne judgment of the highest courts, the judgment which declared that trade unions had no right to the use of their funds for political purposes, not excepting the payment of the salaries of their representatives in the commons. Militant resolutions were adopted by the recent labor congress against that judgment, and some extremists even threaten disregard of the decision.

Some years ago the liberal government, at the demand of labor, passed a radical act legalizing peaceable picketing and boycotting after the courts had held such practices to be punishable under the conspiracy laws. The torrent of anger, and even the fords accepted that act in spite of much protest and criticism from employers and conservative thinkers, because, as was frankly admitted, they could not afford to offend organized labor. Now a parallel situation confronts both parties in the agitation against the Osborne judgment which threatens to weaken, if not to destroy, labor representation in parliament.

The government knows clearly it cannot comply with the demand, but Mr. Lemieux would receive it of labor's support, which it needs greatly. The house rejoice at the liberal dilemma, but they will face the same dilemma sooner or later. Some of their organs and leaders are advocating the application of the principle of payment of all members of the commons. That would put labor members on the same footing with the cabinet members and end the "crisis." For years the tories have denounced the payment-of-members policy as mischievous and dangerous, but "necessity knows no law."

It is not improbable that a payment of members bill will be passed "by common consent" as a noncontentious measure. Labor would accept that as a temporary solution while still urging legislation overthrowing the Osborne decision. Strange are the shifts and changes of practical politics! Tories outbid radicals, parties steal one another's "clothes," positions are reversed, consistency mocked—and yet few are consciously tricky in doing these things. "Circumstances alter cases," conditions and tendencies compel readjustment, and men see matters in a different light.

CHURCH OR STATE.

Mr. Henri Bourassa is reported to have said at Notre Dame Cathedral during the progress of the Eucharistic Congress that "Canadian statesmen have assured the representative of the head of the Catholic Church that here (in Canada) the State bows before the supreme authority of the Church." One would like to know if this is an authentic report and if Mr. Bourassa had authority to give such assurances on behalf of any Canadian statesman. Thirty or thirty five years ago the Hierarchy of Quebec claimed immunity from the civil laws of Canada and asserted the right to employ spiritual intimidation in political contests. The claim was resisted by the Liberal leaders, amongst whom was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and denied alike by French Canadian and English speaking judges. It is impossible to think that Mr. Bourassa speaks for the successors of these robust Liberal leaders when he asserts that that the State now bows before the supreme authority of the Church.

BIG FAKES.

Great Feats of Strong Men Seen From the Inside.

"The most showy feats in a strength display on the stage are usually the simplest," says a veteran showman. "In the majority of instances they are pure fakes. Real feats of strength are seldom picturesque enough to be relished by audiences. The touch of sensationalism is needed, and the presence of danger must be scented.

"When you see a strong man in evening dress, bending a horseshoe with his hands, watch him carefully and see how he uses his thigh as a lever. You may depend upon it that beneath his trousers or tights he has a metal plate on which to bend the horseshoe. If he tear a tennis ball with his fingers depend upon it the cloth on the ball has been interfered with and the ball punctured.

"When you see a strong man tearing packs of cards as you would a cigarette paper you may be sure the cards have been well baked before using. Sometimes the cards in the centre of the pack are specially prepared.

"The breaking of a champagne bottle on the biceps is a trick which never fails to rouse the enthusiasm of an audience. It is impossible for any man breathing to fracture a perfect champagne bottle on his biceps, yet many have claimed the feat as within their powers.

"The way it is managed is this: A small hole is scratched in the surface of the bottle, a sharp spike is worn on the biceps, and the spike is forced into the hole. The strength necessary to bring about a fracture of the glass with these aids is not great, but the audience believes that the apparently impossible has been accomplished.

"The feats which consist of bearing a dozen people on a platform hanging from the strong man's teeth, of allowing a motor car to cross the body, of holding two motor cars in check, and others of a similar nature are all "fakes" of an elaborate kind. That they are ingenious I will not deny, the majority of them have taken a deal of careful thinking out. Many are adaptations of engineering feats, in which seemingly eccentric effects of leverage are accomplished."

Nuremberg.

Nuremberg was once almost the richest and most famous town in Europe. The well-known saying of Pope Pius II. that a Nuremberg citizen was better off than a Scottish king was justified by the accounts that have been preserved of the town and its burghers. In the fifteenth century there came from Nuremberg the first watches, known as "Nuremberg eggs;" the first cannon, the first gun lock lock, the first wire drawing machine, the clarinet, certain descriptions of pottery and the art of painting on glass. For 800 years its walls defended the valley of the Pegnitz against all enemies. Four hundred towers once topped the walls, but only about a third of them now remain.

An Awful Jolt.

"I see you have a new automobile," said Wiggs enviously.

"Yes," responded Biggs as he slowed up the machine near the sidewalk. "And it's a beauty. Everything works like clockwork."

"That's good."

"The tires are puncture proof."

"Better still."

"And she goes like the wind."

"Gee whiz Wish I owned one."

"By the way, are you fond of riding?"

"Am I fond of riding? Well, I should say so!"

"Well, here's a street car transfer I just found. I won't need it, and you can ride home on it."

Where Pa Came In.

The young couple were out with the new baby when they met the man who had formerly been the husband's rival.

"So this is the new baby," said the former rival enthusiastically. "What a beautiful child he is! He looks just like his mother. He has eyes of blue just like hers, and his nose is just the same. He has her chin and mouth, and did you ever see such a resemblance in their ears? What a beautiful child!"

The wife beamed, while the husband stood by glumly.

"Hey!" he blurted out. "The kid hasn't grown his teeth yet. Do you think I've got a chance there?"

The Oriental Weavers.

More than 3,000 years ago, as tiles and marbles from Nineveh show, splendid fabrics were being produced for the adornment of the palaces of the kings of Assyria, and every oriental rug becomes a magic carpet when one realizes how through the long days of the long centuries these simple people have been weaving in with the colors of the jewels and the rainbow the sunshine and shadow of their own lives. How much of tears and sighing has gone to the tying of the myriad knots or followed the flying shuttle on its journeys to and fro!

Thought It Was a Regatta.

"I suppose," said the facetious Mr. Golding to Mrs. Malaprop, who had just returned from abroad, "that you saw an Italian vendetta while you were in that country?"

"Oh, yes, indeed!" replied the guileless lady. "We saw one in the canals at Venice, with all the dongolas decorated most lovely."

Awaiting Her Chance.

Maud—I do wish Tom would hurry up and propose.

Ethel—But I thought you didn't like him.

Maud—I don't. I want to get rid of him.—Boston Transcript.

In and Out.

Wigg—There seems to be quite a difference between a job and a situation.

Wagg—Oh, yes. For instance, when a fellow loses his job he often finds himself in an embarrassing situation.—Philadelphia Record.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

A Most Successful Season.

Lease Runs 40 Years All Stock in Treasury for Incorporated Under Laws
One-Sixth Royalty. Benefit of Holders. of State of California.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritas Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ola Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 15th, 1911.

ADVANCES TO 20c AUGUST 20th.

CRIME WAVE.

Becoming More Vicious as Well as More Frequent in Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The serious crime waves in Ontario are becoming more frequent as well as more violent. Outrages of a particularly revolting nature appear to be on the increase. Criminals escape altogether, or go unconvicted, of inadequate ly punished. Nor is any phase of the situation more peculiar than the tendency of the bench to meet this condition of affairs with leniency, and of juries to encourage it by almost invariable recommendations to mercy.

The Windsor Record points out that the perpetrators of the ghastly crime which resulted in the death and mutilation of a Goderich girl have probably escaped into the United States via that city. "Windsor is not guarded at present," it points out. "Officers Campeau and Mahaney of the provincial staff being suspended because they refused to wear brass buttons, and the local condition is a matter of public knowledge from end to end of the country." It continues its protest as follows:

While the western and particularly Windsor is without police protection crimes accumulate. The Fighting Island clubhouse was burned, and its owners made a vain appeal to the attorney-general; a burglary occurred at Learnington a few days ago, but there was no help for the sufferer; a theft of money occurred lately at Belle River, but nothing could be done to trace the criminal, and several local cases have arisen and passed into history in the last few weeks for want of police attention.

The government should lose no time in dealing with the situation at Windsor. Border towns are especially in need of police protection. But the problem is more than a local one. A growing disrespect for the law is manifested all over the Province, and the need of an adequate provincial force organized upon a proper basis is being demonstrated almost daily. The problem is one with which the Hon. Mr. Foy should cope without delay.

PILOT FINED $100.

For Being Incapacitated From the Effects of Liquor.

Quebec, Oct. 6.—A private enquiry was conducted this morning by Captain L. A. Demers, wreck commissioner at the pilot office into the charge of drunkenness brought against Branch Pilot Delisle who, it is alleged on August 15 last was incapacitated through liquor from assuming charge of the vessel Maud, and that the services of a substitute pilot had to be secured. This morning Capt. Demers rendered judgment in the case and condemned the pilot to a fine of one hundred dollars and costs.

Electrical Show in Denver.

Denver, Colo, Oct. 8.—The myriad uses of electricity for power, lighting, transportation and as a labor saver in office, shop and house work are illustrated in a great exhibition which will open in the Auditorium today under the auspices of the Colorado Electric Club. The spectacular feature of the exhibition is an imitation of a mountain sunset provided by three thousand vari-colored electric lights.

Columbus Day.

New York, Oct. 8.—Columbus Day, the anniversary of the discovery of America, by Christopher Columbus, will be observed as a legal holiday on Wednesday by fourteen States, several of them observing the day for transcontinental road is still the coun the first time.

AN EMPIRE BUILDER.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is likely to indcrease its dividednd rate next year, it is to make the distribution quarterly instead of half-yearly and it is to place faster and finer ships on the Atlantic route. These announcements made at the company's annual meeting, drive home the fact that in its 29th year the pioneer transcontinent road is still the country's greatest advertisement. The vast bulk of the corporation's securities being held in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, every fresh success achieved by this brilliantly managed enterprise tends strongly to establish and reinforce Canada's credit abroad and to facilitate the successful flotation of other Canadian ventures in the old world. It must be said that by teaching home-keeping Britons the value of the outer-dominions, the Canadian Pacific has been a powerful factor in the upbuilding and establishment of the Empire.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

Pure Air Cures Many Ills and Means the Prolongation of Life.

"Pure air is more precious than gold," said the venerable physician. "It is the best medicine in the world and means the prolongation of life and the cure for many ills which make my calling necessary and profitable. Don't tarry too long in crowded, ill-ventilated places and beware of 'stuffy' rooms. Now, the dangerous element in a stuffy place, like a rush hour subway train is, strictly speaking, not due to carbonic acid gas. That in its pure condition would speedily cause death but it has been established that the chief danger in breathing vitiated air is not entirely or even chiefly due to carbonic acid gas, but other to organic impurities which are invariably present inevitated air. "And here it may be pointed out that the other chief constituent of breath is water, and an amount varying from six to twenty-seven ounces, it has been calculated, may be given off in the course of twenty-four hours. Dr. De Chaumont, [illegible] authority on this subject, has estimated that an assembly of 2,000 people during a period of two hours—that is, the duration of an ordinary meeting—may exhale in respiration and give off in perspiration about seventeen gallons of water.

"The amount of carbonic acid given off by a man amounts to about three-quarters of a cubic foot an hour, or nineteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. Each individual, therefore, may be said to destroy about fifteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. And the man who occupies a hall bedroom and keeps his window down while he reads by gaslight far into the night should know that the burning jet gives off as much carbonic acid as he does himself. Then he may let in a little air."

Bismarck on Women In Politics.

Some interesting observations of Prince Bismarck on female suffrage have come to light. Of women in politics he said: "We men are all clumsy. We Germans especially are always ungainly bears, even diplomatists. Moreover, much less would be made public, for a sensible woman's mouth can keep silence. On the other hand, it can draw from an opponent in a tone of harmless chatter many a secret that he would not give up to us men. Woman's mouth chats so ingratiatingly on most subjects that we never notice, old donkeys that we are, that we have told them more than we intended to, for everything that is feminine beats us in cunning."—London Telegraph.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting in the north a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinks in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the taken was in despair. Then "try him wi' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just mind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."—London Standard.

Japan's Police Force.

Japan's police force was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world. Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the samurai were deprived of cherished weapons by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword. And a very formidable weapon it was then, being of the two-handed variety.

How Do You Take Your Defeat.

The way a man takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong man uses his failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young man who has made it a rule of his life to use every misfortune that comes to him as a point of departure for something better. He has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most men, but they only stiffen his resolution, nerve him up for a new start. They only make him more determined to conquer the next time.—Success.

The Worst Drink.

"But chi-chi, the chi-chi of Patagonia! That is the worst drink in the world," said a naval man. "The Patagonians gather wild apples. They dig pits and line them with horse hides, and in those pits they leave the apples to rot and ferment. When the pits are full of foamy, hissing juices the Patagonian warriors gather for their annual jag, and the women and children go off and hide in the woods. No wonder, for chi-chi is a terrible drink. It is a thick gray foam that hisses. It seems to be alive. It is like drinking snakes."

Mr. F. J. Daly and family have removed to Peterborough from North Bay, and taken up residence at 420 Rubidge street.

Fall Assizes Open Oct. 25th.

Chancellor Boyd will preside at the Fall Assizes which open on Tuesday, Oct. 25th. Unfortunately the usual white gloves will not be presented to his lordship as there are two murder cases on the docket. James Gorham charged with murdering his mother, and Hugh Delong accused of murdering his wife. It is thought that Mr. George Tate Blackstock, K.C. of Toronto will prosecute.

Important Seizure of Nets.

Another Peterborough man has made good. As Capt. Carson, well known on the waters of the Otonabee and whose home is in Peterborough, was patrolling Stony Lake with the government fishery patrol boat, "Naiad" on Saturday morning, a short distance from Beavertown, he spied some illicit fishing in progress. The captain arrested two men, engaged in netting and seized the boat used by them, together with many hundred yards of nets and many illegally caught salmon and white fish.

Service in Park Street Church.

Dr. Sam Luttrell yesterday continued his evangelistic services in the Park street church. The mass meeting held during the afternoon was very largely attended, and great interest was manifested in the proceedings. An address entitled "The man who wins," was delivered to men and was earnestly listened to.

SOCIETY EVENTS

The Times will be pleased to receive notices of Weddings, Social Events, Personal Announcements, which will be published in this column free of charge.

Mrs. Jas. Craig of Toronto, is visiting her daughter, 380 Stewart St.

Mr. P. A. Ferguson of Lindsay, registered at the Oriental Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bothwell of Cobourg, are guests at the Oriental.

Mr. Ernie Barnes is in New York on a ten days' trip in the interest of Diamond Hall.

Miss Kathleen Moloney of Ennismore, has gone to Bowmanville, where she will undertake the duties of teacher in one of the Public schools there.

Mr. Collins, organizer of the Woodmen of the World was in Port Hope on Saturday in connection with business of the order.

Mr. George Martin leaves today for Toronto. Mr. Martin's loss of in Peterborough will be seriously felt as he was always a hard worker in connection with the choir of Murray street church. A number of his friends recently held a skating party in his honor in the Brock street rink.

Mr. Henry Voigh of Brantford, was in the city on Saturday working up a good attendance of Y.M.C.A. men for the local convention at Toronto on the 28th of this month.

Mr. Colclough, a university student was in the city Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Colclough is on a lecturing tour in the interests of the Upper Canada Bible Society. He assisted at the service in All Saints' church last evening.

Steals Arabs at Ingersoll.

Herbert Taylor, 16 years of age, whose face is familiar to the local police, and who is wanted here for stealing a watch from a Mrs. Cowan seems to have got sticky fingers in Ingersoll, to which town he went after the local theft. Chief Thompson's endeavors resulted in the Peterborough stolen property being recovered at Port Burwell. Should the Ingersoll authorities decide to deal leniently with young Taylor it is likely that Chief Thompson will not press the Peterborough charge.

Guild of Good Fellowship Meeting.

The Guild of Goodfellowship inaugurated by Rev. Charles Carpenter in connection with St. John's church, held its second open meeting yesterday afternoon in the Princess theater. The attendance shows marked signs of increasing and all present took great interest in the proceedings. Mr. Carpenter took as his subject, "My Troublesome Friend," and gave a short bright address, appealing specially to young men. The guild seems to have filled a long felt want and will doubtless effect much good.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

More people from Peterborough took the train for Millbrook Fair than arrived by rail for the Peterborough Fair.

It seemed as though about half the population of Port Hope took in the Millbrook fair.

A second crop of raspberries has appeared on the farm of Mr. W. B. Anderson near Crawford's Grove. This abnormal growth of fruit is as rich in flavor as the early summer berries.

A local bartender was fined $20 and costs on Saturday for selling to a minor. The fine was paid instead of the alternative, viz., 30 days in Castle Nesbitt.

An alarm from box 42, gave the brigade a run to the corner of Divisionand Dublin streets Saturday afternoon. A fire in the shed of an empty house was the cause. Little damage was done.

The men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon was largely attended and of great interest. During the afternoon Rev. I Couch delivered a splendid address, and the proceedings were enlivened by selections by the George street Male Quartette.

A GOOD INDICATOR.

If you want to get a close line on the development of Canada you cannot do better than to study the annual statement of the Canadian Pacific Ry. Company, just recently issued. No business barometer can be more accurate in the recording of ebb and tide of commercial, manufacturing and agricultural prosperity from this report, touching as it does in its ramifications every part of the Dominion from the extreme west to the extreme east.

As indicating the forward movement in western settlement, it is shown that during the year 950 acres of the company's agricultural land holdings were sold at an average of $14.84 an acre. Add to this the lands secured by settlers from the government along with those passing from private holders to newcomers, and it must be evident that the vacant spaces are filling up fast in the west. And yet little more than the fringe of Canada's land heritage in the west has so far been touched, there being still millions of acres of good arable soil waiting for the coming of the pioneer.

During the year the C.P.R. carried about two million more passengers than were carried in the previous year, and there was a jump of over four million tons in the amount of freight handled. These figures speak for both east and west, and prove conclusively that the talk about Canada's development is something more than mere empty boasting. The people and the goods are back of the railroad's figures, and without them such a record as has been shown by the C.P.R. for this year would have been impossible. This surely is Canada's growing time, and it is difficult to see how there can be any checking of the pace for many years to come.

Edward Jobe Gets Seven Years.

A large and curious crowd gathered in the police court Saturday morning to learn what sentence would be handed out by the magistrate to Edward Jobe, the young self-confessed thief. In reply to Magistrate Dumble's question whether he had anything to say before sentence was passed, Jobe replied "No." His worship then imposed a sentence of seven years in Kingston Penitentiary. This was for three cases of burglary committed in local stores. On two charges of theft the prisoner was excused.

DAME NATURE HINTS.

When the Food is Not Suited.

When nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally withthe food. The old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried various kinds of breakfast food, but they were all soft, starchy messes which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit the old coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice. I began using them three months ago.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and never have headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way.

"Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms".

"There's a reason."

RAILWAY REGULATIONS.

Although there was little novelty in the railways' presentation of their case for the advance of their rates, there was much that was novel in the shippers' contentions. It Chicago it was testified by one railway that forty million dollars of earnings had been put back into the property. In this city it was testified that some thirty-five millions of dollars of earnings had been expended upon the new Pennsylvania terminal. This was in accord with the formerly approved rule of practice by the best roads—"a dollar for dividends and a dollar for betterments. It was this principle of plowing the earnings back into the property which has kept down the capitalization of American railways at the same time that their rates have not risen with other prices for services and goods.

On this formerly approved principle the shippers' consel joined issue, taking their cue, it must be admitted, from certain rulings of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. These improvements made from earnings were regarded as grievances, and in themselves a proof of extortion. It was asserted as a right that the roads should reduce their rates by whatever sums of earnings they have been accustomed to devote to improvements. Even the misfortunes of the railways were imputed to them for a fault. For example, it was alleged that because one road had lost large sums by equipment frauds, and had prospered nevertheless, therefore it had overcharged by the amount it had lost by embezzlement, and should be held to reduce its rates by the amount of its losses. The broad position of those assuming to act for the general public is that the railways should be allowed to charge no more than would just prevent their setting up a defence of confiscation. And, in estimating the permissible income the railways are held by these spokesmen to be entitled to no more than a reasonable income upon the amount of their own funds which they have devoted to the public use.

These gentlemen seem in some danger of winning a battle and losing a campaign. It is conceivable that they may prevent an advance in rates," and come to regret the consequent lack of vitality in the railways. American roads are far from having attained their growth. They are in need not only of income enough to sustain their life but to stimulate their growth. There is a certain justice in having the funds necessary for their growth contributed by those whose patronage of the railroads is a source of profit, rather than by the general public whose gain from the railways is less direct. If the railways are held to capitalize their betterments, and must borrow the money, interest must be paid on the money borrowed, and the rates must be adequate to pay the interest and providing a sinking fund for the establishment of the debt. As interest and sinking fund must come from earnings, it would seem to come to the same thing in the end.

Whatever the merit of this argument on either side, it is plain that a new light is thrown upon what is thought to be regulation of rates. Heretofore it has been thought that the function of government was merely to assure that rates were reasonable and just, that is, neither extortionate nor discriminatory, toward either persons or places. If the position assumed on behalf of shippers is sustained there is no detail of the management of the railroads too trivial for examination and control. It is not enough for the railways to sustain their claim that they need more money. They cannot justify on totals, but must prove in detail just how much they want for terminals, just how much they want for wages, how much for interest, and so on indefinitely.

The railroads plead that they cannot do it, and that nobody could. However that may be, it is evident that the success of the contention would establish a new definition of railway regulation, and one not in accord with the present law.—New York Times, Sept. 19th, 1910.

City Property Com. in Business Session

Plumbers Must Complete Their Work---The Architects will be So Advised

The City Property Committee met last night. There were present, Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald Duncan, Aldermen Morgan, Graham and Batten.

The chairman was authorized to procure an architect for remodelling the police premises.

Aldermen Morgan and Graham thought 80 tons of coal too much to burn for heating the City Hall premises, and they offered that something must be wrong with the heating system. This was not allowed, however.

Robert Wilson, janitor of the City Hall, asked for an increase in salary. He is getting $575 a year. Since his appointment his duties have been enlarged. This matter was left in abeyance.

The McDonald & Wilson Co., tendered through wlexander & Miller to fit up the Public Library with electric light fixtures for $549. The Tungsten Lamp people's tender was $593.31.

The McDonald & Wilson—(Alexander & Miller) tender of $549 accepted.

The architects of the Public Library will be instructed that the plumbing and heating of this building must be completed at once, and to take whatever steps necessary to this effect.

Mr. Sheehy's request that the taxes on the property on Water St. at C.P.R. station, which he rents from the town be reduced from $25 to $5, was refused.

The chairman was authorized to enquire into the cost of erecting a lattice fence, or a brick and cement division, at south end of the Public Library.

The chairman was also authorized to pay for cleaning and levelling the library lot at his discretion, and to have same seeded down this fall, should he consider such a course advisable.

ATTACK CONVENTS

(Special to The Times.)

Paris, Oct. 10.—More than a score of nuns have been wounded some of them fatally, and it is reported that several have been killed in the storming of Catholic convents in Portugal by fanatical mobs of Republicans and anti-Clericals.

More than 400 nuns herded together like sheep and guarded by Republican soldiers were held in Lisbon today to be transported out of the country.

RECOGNIZE REPUBLIC

(Special to The Times.)

Paris, Oct. 10.—It is stated upon high semi-official authority this afternoon that the French government will announce its recognition of the Republic of Portugal within a few hours, and that England's recognition will follow soon after.

These important steps are declared to have resulted from direct advices from King Manuel today to the effect that he has abandoned all idea of struggling against the new republic.

DROP WORD ROYAL

(Special to The Times.)

Lisbon, Oct. 10.—The transformation of the country into a democracy manifests itself on every hand. The word royal in connection with public buildings, theaters and other establishments has been entirely suppressed. Official documents begin "In the name of the Republic," and end with "greeting and fraternity." The privileges of the nobility have been abolished and the equality of religious sects proclaimed.

To Upset the Story Told by Mary Dolan

Evidence on Behalf of McNulty, Who Was Convicted on Her Testimony

Toronto, Oct. 10.—A. E. H. Creswicke, who defended Thomas McNulty at Barrie on a charge of infanticide, and will appeal to the Court of Appeal on a stated case, was at the attorney-general's department this morning in connection with the evidence.

Mr. Creswicke has made what he believes to be an important discovery since the trial. He says that Mary Nolan, mother of the child, told of receiving at 739 Yonge street a certain letter from McNulty after 1.30 on the afternoon of Good Friday. Mr. Creswicke has ascertained from the post office authorities the information that there was only a morning delivery on Good Friday, and they say the carrier in the district where Mary Nolan lived must have finished his route by 11.30 at the latest. This would throw discredit on her veracity.

Both McNulty and Mary Dolan are under sentence of death. The man was convicted almost wholly on the woman's evidence.

Mary Nolan testified that the letter in question advised her to strangle the babe.

LOSS OF LIFE WILL BE SIMPLY APPALLING

(Special to The Times.)

Sprague, Man., Oct. 10.—A. K. Stanning, editor of the Warroad Plain Dealer, says the property loss in the forest fires will be over one hundred million dollars. The loss of life he is unable to estimate, but says it will be simply appalling.

Longworth, with a population of over one hundred is burning. The inhabitants and some two hundred refugees are fleeing in all directions.

K. K. Cameron, General superintendent of the Canadian Northern, says the published reports of a total of five hundred dead are probably conservative. Mr. Cameron returned from the scene of the disaster on a special train today. Hon. Allan Berg, former secretary of the State of Minnesota, was on the special and said the loss of life was liable to run up to a thousand.

AN UNHAPPY FAMILY.

Fred Davis Charged With Threatening His Wife.

At the police court yesterday Fred Davis, a man employed as stone mason with a local construction company was charged with assault and threat of murder by his wife. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defence.

Mrs. Davis said that here husband was jealous, and told a long story of his actions, including threats he had made in which some throats were to be cut.

After due consideration of the facts of the case, Magistrate Dumble bound Davis over to keep the peace for two weeks when they will consider the advisability of a separation.

Chimes will be Accepted by St. John's Congregation When Offered

The Vestry Expresses Its Hearty Endorsation of the Committee's Work and Its Thankful Acknowledgment of the Liberality of Citizens and Others.

St. John's vestry met last night in connection with the project of installing in St. John's church tower the set of chimes being so liberally contributed to by our citizens in general.

The action of the Chimes Committee was fully endorsed by the congregation and by a standing vote the vestry carried a resolution to the effect that it will on behalf of St. John's congregation thankfully accept the chimes when offered. It being understood that they ought to be installed free of expense to the congregation.

The disposal of the old bell was left in the hands of the Chimes Committee.

The chimes are to be installed in St. John's church tower to the glory of God, to the good of religion generally and for the benefit of Peterborough citizens.

It was also decided by unanimous vote that these chimes are to be rung on all public holidays and national occasions; also on the event of any marriage wherever celebrated The applicant for such service to pay whatever fee is eventually decided on.

The meeting was well attended and the discussion unusually interesting.

Opening of Great Power System.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 11.—After years of the hardest kind of work, in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles, the project of supplying Canadian cities with electrical energy generated at Niagara Falls became an accomplished fact today. With ceremonies befitting the importance of the occasion the first hydro-electric power to be delivered in Ontario by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission will be officially turned on this afternoon. The ceremony will take place in the Auditorium, which is handsomely decorated with designs illuminated by the people's power. Sir James Whitney will preside and the Hon. Adam Beck and other public men of prominence will deliver addresses.

VERMONT MURDER MYSTERY.

Sensational Murder Trial Begins at Lunenburg.

Lunenbbrg, Vt., Oct. 11.—The mystery surrounding the case of Mrs. James Marsgall Dodge, a wealthy society woman of this city, whose preliminary hearing on the charge of having murdered William A. Heath, a painter, employed in her house, about the middle of last month will begin here today, seems to be as puzzling as it was at the time of Mrs. Dodge's arrest. Heath, a man of about 40 years, married and having several children, was killed by a shot in the back while he was employed in painting the woodwork in Mrs. Dodge's bedroom. Mrs. Dodge asserted, at the time of her arrest, that she had got fired the fatal shot and did not know who had fired it. She expressed the belief that Heath had committed suicide, but the location of the wound strongly argued against that theory. Mrs. Dodge steadfastly adhered to her original statement and it is believed that the authorities have been unable to find any motive to substantiate the theory of Mrs. Dodge's guilt. The fact that the revolver from which the fatal shot was fired, was identified by the police as the property of Mrs. Dodge only adds to the mystery of the case. Mrs. Dodge is about 48 years of age, a widow and of good social standing in the community.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and carelessness in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I lived or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night would leave me weak and exhausted. Pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, papers were cloudy, eyes blurred, hair began coming out and fall. Numbness in the fingers and feet and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, were an constant bait for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

Awful Experience of Refugee Settlers Along The Railway Right-of-Way

SANK IN THEIR TRACKS AND DIED BETWEEN TWO MERCILESS WALLS OF RAGING FLAMES.

Despatches From Rainy River Country Tell a Story of Horror, Suffering, Loss of Life and Property—Great Mills Reported Destroyed.—Homeless Settlers at International Falls and Fort Frances.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—A terrific prairie fire is raging this morning about eight miles east of Winnipeg along the line of the Canadian Northern Railway and travelling westward at a rapid rate on the strong southeast wind which is making the temperature of the city so high.

About seven miles farther east near the village of Loretto, the houses of two settlers have been destroyed and the people had to flee for their lives and leave everything.

There is a wall of prairies fire extending eight miles across the country at that point.

The first train through from Fort Francis since last Friday over the C.N.R., through the fire swept country arrived this morning with a number of refugees who had harrowing tales to tell. Among the passengers was W. A. Preston, M.P.P., who immediately wired Hon. Frank Cochrane asking him to send help at once to Rainy River.

Mr. Preston said that with the slightest change in the wind, Rainy River would be fire swept with danger of a terrible loss of life. He was much worried over the safety of the town. He said that a regiment of American troops have arrived at Beaudette and is taking charge of the fire fighting and the work of refuge. Hon. Allan Berg, ex-Secretary of State of Minnesota, was also on board.

The loss of life has not been exaggerated, he said. "It is liable to run up to a thousand."

Winnipeg, Oct 10.—Despatches this morning confirm all the tales of horror from the fire stricken district of New Ontario and Northern Minnesota. It is easily the worst disast-

AGENT WAS ARRESTED FOR SELLING BIBLES TO JEWS IN MONTREAL

(Special to The Times.)

Montreal, Oct. 10.—G. A. Woodman, an agent of the Montreal Bible Society, was arrested on Saturday charged with peddling illegally. Woodman was attempting to sell Yiddish Bibles in the Jewish quarter of the city. He tried to sell to a detective who arrested him because he could not read the book and "thought it might be immoral." Counsel for the Bible Society claimed that as the bibles were sold at cost, and Mr. Woodman was a religious worker employed by a charitable organization, there was no case against him. The court will consider the question, and give judgment later.

Crippen Trial Near at Hand.

London, Oct. 11.—The criminal sessions which begins at the Old Bailey courts today will be made notable by the trial of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American dentist, and Miss Leneve, his former stenographer who are under indiment on the charge of murdering Dr. Crippen's wife, known professionally as Belle Elmore. It is expected that the actual trial of the pair will begin about the first of next week.

The New Public Library Board in Initial Session Last Night

MR. E. H. D. HALL WAS APPOINTED CHAIRMAN.

Permanent Officials Will Not Be Appointed for Some Time Yet—Rules and Regulations to Be Drafted.

The board recently appointed to govern and control the new Public Library met for the first time last evening in the City Council's committee rooms. There were present:

For the Public School Board—Messrs. Duncan Walker, Inspector Mowat and Hazel Ritchie.

For the Separate School Board—Mr. Corkery and Dr. McNulty.

For the City Council—Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, H. R. H. Kenner and David Spence.

It will be noticed that the new board is a thoroughly representative one composed of gentlemen representing law, education, medicine, draughtmanship and mechanics. All are men of energy and of high standing in their several callings, capable of, and intending to, give the public an institution that will not only offer means of literary recreation, but educational onportunities.

These gentlemen entered into their new duties last night with an energy that presages splendid government for Peterborough's new Public Library.

His Worship Mayor Morrow presided at the preliminary proceedings, and explained the position of the new building as regards monies already expended and an estimate of what further monies and fitting will be needed to complete the building.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall was the board's unanimous choice as chairman.

The chairman, Messrs. Ritchie and Corkery were appointed a committee to look into the available assets of the Mechanics' Institute, which is to be absorbed by the new board. Their duties will include securing an inventory of the books on hand.

Mr. Corkery explained that for several years the Mechanics' Institute has been known as the Public library, which premises can be vacated at any term. The old institutes debentures are vested in trustees.

Messrs. Peters and Bryson, present librarians of the library will be retained until permanent officials are appointed for the new building.

Messrs. Spence, Mowat and Ritchie were appointed a committee to confer with the City's Property Committee regarding book stacks and other furnishings for the new building.

The board have $600 in hand to tide them over this year in the matter of current expenses.

Information will be gleaned from other public libraries as to number of officials employed, salaries paid same, and also the rules and regulations governing such institutions.

Mr. Corkery said the government grant is $250; this amount varies, however, according to conditions.

The chairman, Mr. Kenner and Dr. McNulty were appointed a committee to draft a set of rules and regulations.

Mr. Mowatt offered that the act provides that teachers are privileged to appoint one member—not of their own calling—on the Public Library Board.

The teachers and medical men will probably have separate rooms of their own in the building.

The board adjourned to the call of the chairman.

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR.

It is forty-nine years since the outbreak of the civil war which, in four years deluged a hundred battlefields with the blood of the best and bravest of the young men of the United States, points out the Montreal Star. In half a century much new light has been thrown on the causes which made the arbitrament of war inevitable and men and things are coming to assume more nearly the proportions which belong to them. If regret survives, rancour has perished, the judgment of history are already beginning to replace the prejudice and impassioned conceptions of men and boys and girls throughout the United States who are today reading the story of that terrible struggle are in a position to see the beauty as well as the sorrow of its heroism better than even the generation which grew up before them.

As a very real evidence of the healing of old wounds and the forgetting of old prejudices is the proposal made by the head of the great organization of veteran soldiers, who fought for the Union, that next year the survivors of the armies of the North and the South unite in a joint tribute to the memories of their heroic dead. Heretofore the dwindling ranks have paid separate tributes on shrines separated not alone by distance but by tradition. The thought that, with fifty years separating the beginning of the war from the conditions of the present day, it should not be difficult for the white-haired survivors of both armies to join annually in a single tribute to what then common hearts rapidly is one which has a dignity and nobility to raise it above ordinary things.

RIOTS IN GERMANY.

Furious fighting between police and strikers is reported from Berlin. Revolver shots were exchanged, and the police used their sabres recklessly, cutting down all who made the slightest remonstrance. The correspondent of the London Globe and others were attacked by the police while returning from the riot region. Reuter's agent had his finger laid bare to the bone. The police seemed to have lost their heads, and their violence looks like evidence of weakness and frenzy rather than of strength. Had such an exhibition taken place in the streets of London it would surely have been heralded as an evidence of the decadence of the nation.

The military and feudal elements are strong in Germany, and through their organs we may obtain the impression that the people are thirsting for military glory, eager to build a navy as great as that of Great Britain and willing to pay out their hard-earned money for that that purpose. The riots show the people in a somewhat different light. The nation is well-nigh crushed under the weight of the expenditure for the great armaments, and there is growing discontent with the high taxation. Some months ago it was discovered that public opinion strongly favored the making of an arrangement with Great Britain to check the ruinous competition in shipbuilding.

There is a growing disposition on the part of workers in all countries to get together to combine for common interests, and to refuse to be used as food for powder in international wars, the chief gainers in which are army contractors and feudal leaders eager for military careers. The growth of the sentiment of common brotherhood in France and Germany has seriously alarmed those whose interest lies in perpetuating barbarism.

CANADA FRENCH OR ENGLISH?

The St. Thomas Times says that the question of whether Canada is to be French or English was, according to Canadian history, decided on the Plains of Abraham generations ago, but recent events would indicate that the question is a live issue today. Bishop Fallon of London, though a Roman Catholic, sees in bilingualism, a menace to national welfare on the other hand, Archbishop Bourse of Westminster, thinks "it would be a calamity if the French languageshould lose any part of the position it now holds."

"We might ask the question, a calamity for whom?" adds the Times. "Certainly not for the unity and stability of the nation. To our national motto, "One Flag, one King, one Empire," should be added, "and one language." Canada is distinctly English speaking nation. The French, so far as Canada is concerned are a conquered people, and as such should conform to the language, laws and customs of their rulers. Had Britain been less lenient in her dealings with conquered people, much strife and discord would have been eliminated from the heritage of Britishers. The time to have begun the making of Canada an English speaking people was when the tri-color was lowered in Canada forever on the Plains of Abraham. This was not done, a generous, but unfortunate concession to a defeated foe, and today we are reaping the result. We have a dual language with all its inconvenience and expense, and nursing of feelings of loyalty towards [illegible] so long as the French language is spoken in Parliamentary halls in the deliberations of the nation, so long as a whole province is dominated by interests essentially French, and so long as that language is taught and spoken in Canadian schools to the exclusion of our national tongue, so long will there be a dividing line between two great sections of the Canadian people. The French language and the French flag should have no more rights and privileges in Canada than the flags and languages of a dozen other nationalities represented in this rapidly growing Dominion, and the sooner and the more emphatically this fact is made plain, the sooner will Canada become consolidated into a great, united, harmonious English-speaking daughter of the Empire."

LABOR AND THE PAYMENT OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT.

The British labor party, and the trade unions as well will press upon the government the demand for legislation annulling the so-called Osborne judgment of the highest courts, the judgment which declared that trade unions had no right to use any part of their funds for political purposes, not excepting the payment of the salaries of their representatives in the commons. Militant resolutions were adopted by the recent labor congress against that judgment, and some extremists even threaten disregard of the decision.

Some years ago the liberal government, at the demand of labor, passed a radical act legallizing peaceable picketing and boycotting after the courts had held such practices to be punishable under the conspiracy laws. The tory party, and even the lords, accepted that act in spite of much protest and criticism from employers and conservative thinkers, because, as was frankly admitted, they could not afford to offend organized labor. Now a parallel situation confronts both parties in the agitation against the Osborne judgment, which threatens to weaken, if not to destroy, labor representation in parliament.

The government feels that it cannot comply with the demand, but firm refusal would deprive it of labor's support, which it needs greatly. The tories rejoice at the liberal predicament, but they will face the same dilemma sooner or later. Some of their organs and leaders are advising the introduction of the principle of payment of all members of the commons. That would put labor members on the same footing with the richer members and end the "crisis." For years the tories have denounced the payment-of-members policy as mischievous and dangerous, but "necessity knows no law."

It is not improbable that a payment of members bill will be passed "by common consent" as a noncontentious measure. Labor would accept that as a temporary solution while still urging legislation overthrowing the Osborne decision. Strange are the shifts and changes of practical political Tories outbid radicals, parties steal one another's "clothes," positions are reversed, consistency mocked and yet few are consciously tricky in doing these things. "Circumstances alter cases," conditions and tendencies compel readjustment, and men see matters in a different light.

Duke of Connaught's Voyage.

London, Oct. 10. The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the Duchess of Connaught and a numerous suite, will sail from Southampton today for South Africa, to open the first parliament of the union of South Africa at Capetown. Their Royal highnesses are making the trip on Union Castle liner Balmoral Castle, with the cruiser Defence as an escort. Capetown will be reached October 31.

Japan's New Dreadnought.

Tokio, Oct. 10.—Something of a record for rapid naval construction has been established in the case of Japan's newest and most formidable battleship, the Kawachi, which was launched at the government yards at Yokosuka today, less than six months after the keel was laid down. The Kawachi has a displacement of 20,800 tons, and will carry a battery of ten 10-inch, ten 6-inch, twelve 4-inch guns and five torpedo tubes.

Mr. Ernie Warne is in New York on a ten days' trip in the interest of Diamond Hall.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quiet-ly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

100 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of STRONG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Comm. Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Conrad, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE SHELL UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD CAT COUNTRY, within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The Number for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 10th, 1911.

CRIME WAVE.

Becoming More Vicious as Well as More Frequent in Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The serious crime waves in Ontario are becoming more frequent as well as more violent. Outrages of a particularly revolting nature appear to be on the increase. Criminals escape altogether, or go unconvicted, or inadequate ly punished. Nor is any phase of the situation more peculiar than the tendency of the bench to meet this condition of affairs with leniency, and of juries to encourage it by almost invariable recommendations to mercy.

The Windsor Record points out that the perpetrators of the ghastly crime which resulted in the death and mutilation of a Goderich girl have probably escaped into the United States via that city. "Windsor is not guarded at present," it points out, "Officers Campeau and Mahaney of the provincial staff being suspended because they refused to wear brass buttons, and the local condition is a matter of public knowledge from end to end of the country." It continues its protest as follows:

While the western and particularly Windsor is without police protection crimes accumulate. The Fighting Island clubhouse was burned, and its owners made a vain appeal to the attorney-general, a burglary occurred at Leamington a few days ago, but there was no help for the sufferer; a theft of money occurred lately at Belle River, but nothing could be done to trace the criminal, and several local cases have arisen and passed into history in the last few weeks for want of police attention.

The government should lose no time in dealing with the situation at Windsor. Border towns are especially in need of police protection. But the problem is more than a local one. A growing disrespect for the law is manifested all over the Province, and the need of an adequate provincial force organized upon a proper basis, is being demonstrated almost daily. The problem is one with which the Hon. Mr. Foy should cope without delay.

Mr. W. C. Francey of Cobourg, was a guest at the Oriental.

PILOT FINED $100.

For Being Incapacitated From the Effects of Liquor.

Quebec, Oct. 6.—A private enquiry was conducted this morning by Captain L. A. Demers, wreck commissioner at the pilot office into the charge of drunkenness brought against Branch Pilot Delisle who, it is alleged on August 15 last was incapacitated through liquor from assuming charge of the vessel Maud, and that the services of a substitute pilot had to be secured. This morning Capt. Demers rendered judgment in the case and condemned the pilot to a fine of one hundred dollars and costs.

Conservation Meeting.

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—Representatives of the various provinces of the Dominion, will meet with the Commission on Conservation in Ottawa Wednesday to discuss matters regarding public health.

Electrical Show in Denver.

Denver, Colo, Oct. 8.—The myriad uses of electricity for power, lighting, transportation and as a labor saver in office, shop and house work are illustrated in a great exhibition which will open in the Auditorium today under the auspices of the Colorado Electric Club. The spectacular feature of the exhibition is an imitation of a mountain sunset provided by three thousand vari-colored electric lights.

Columbus Day.

New York, Oct. 8.—Columbus Day, the anniversary of the discovery of America, by Christopher Columbus, will be observed as a legal holiday on Wednesday by fourteen States, several of them observing the day for trans-continental road is still the country the first time.

AN EMPIRE BUILDER.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is likely to inderease its dividend rate next year, it is to make the distribution quarterly instead of half yearly and it is to place faster and finer ships on the Atlantic route. These announcements made at the company's annual meeting, drive home the fact that in its 29th year the pioneer trans-continent road is still the country's greatest advertisement. The vast bulk of the corporation's securities being held in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, every fresh success achieved by this brilliantly managed enterprise tends strongly to establish and reinforce Canada's credit abroad and to facilitate the successful flotation of other Canadian ventures in the old world. It must be said that by teaching home-keeping Britons the value of the outer dominions, the Canadian Pacific has been a powerful factor in the upbuilding and establishment of the Empire.

SIM SIMPKINS.

Sim Simpkins don't believe in things;
His fancy never spreads its wings.
He says that "two an' two is four
An' so shill be forevermore."
When Morse got up the telegraph
Old Sim read of it with a laugh,
And then says he:
"Hush! Needn't tell me.
I don't believe what I can't see."

And when 'twas said electric lights
Should gleam and glimmer through the nights
Old Sim said: "Shucks! How'll you send fire
A-scootin' thrpugh a solid wire?"
He proved that it could not be done
By argument that weighed a ton
When "Humph!" said he.
"You needn't tell me.
I don't believe what I can't see."

When Bell announced the telephone
Old Sim read of it with a groan
And wiped his specs and slowly said:
"Th' feller's plainly off his head.
Th' idy! Talk an' I could hear
Ten miles away all plain an' clear!
Huh! No, sir-ree;
You needn't tell me!
I don't believe what I can't see."

The wireless telegraph made Sim
Deny its truth with language grim.
"It's nothin' but a pesky sham.
Now, who could breathe a tellygram?"
And when the Wrights got up and flew
Old Sim just took another chew,
And "Umph!" said he.
"You needn't tell me!
I don't believe what I can't see."

Don't think this shaft is aimed at Sim
And that there's only one of him.
Oh, gentle reader, you and I
Learn of some truths, but do not try
To make them true, but wisely frown,
And arguments we try to drown
With "No, sir-ree;
You needn't tell me!
I don't believe what I can't see."
—Chicago Post.

In Doubt.

"Charles, you would better walk down to papa's office and see him about our engagement."

"Clara, I can walk to your papa's office, but I may need some help to get back."

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Marie Montessori, a lecturer in the university at Rome, is said to be the most intellectual woman in Europe.

Miss Helen Taft, the president's daughter, has the credit of being an excellent cook and of being able to make her own clothes.

Miss Anna Dreyfus of Chicago, a teacher of French, has been honored by the decoration of officer d'academie, conferred upon her by the French government.

Mrs. W. Eames Colburn, wife of the head of a Chicago banking firm, has built a modern seven room house for her thirty-five prize cats. The house is fitted up with brass beds, silk draperies and lace curtains.

Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, president of the Equality League For Self Supporting Women, is not yet an American citizen, because she married an Englishman. She has determined, however, to be naturalized in due form, though she would prefer to have congress make her a citizen by special act, as was done in the case of Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

Lady Greville is one of the latest additions to England's long list of American bearers of titles. Only a year ago the new Lord Greville was a younger son, but his brother and father have died since, the brother suddenly. Lady Greville is a daughter of the late John W. Grace of New York and the widow of Hugh S. Kerr of New York, who died in 1907.

Science Siftings.

Experiments with ultra violet light appear to show that it is more effective for sterilizing liquids than ozone.

A carload of radium, Edison says, would have as much energy as all the millions of tons of coal mined in the United States in a year.

A French scientist says the rays from incandescent lights are beneficial to human health, destroying bacteria, stimulating circulation and cellular activity and reducing pain.

Recent experiments have proved conclusively that coal dust which has been ground to a state so fine that it will pass a 200 mesh sieve will explode upon contact with either a naked flame or with the arc of an electric current.

Mr. F. J. Daly and family have removed to Peterborough from North Bay, and taken up residence at 420 Rubidge street.

HOME OF THE SHETLAND.

Little Pony Comes From a Picturesque Country.

Away to the north of Scotland lies the group of islands in which the diminutive horses commonly called Shelties have their home. The Shetlands are not all inhabited, some of the smaller islands being used merely as pasturage for a few sheep. There is little to attract either the agriculturist or the merchant, so progress is slow; the islanders till their land by old-fashioned methods, and many of them still have recourse to barter as a means of obtaining necessaries.

To the lover of the beautiful and to the artist there is much to charm. Some perhaps would describe the islands as barren—but what barrenness! The country, though destitute of trees, is so varied in the nature of its scenery that their absence in no way detracts from the general beauty of the landscape.

Countless tarns, streams and lochs all serve to make the coloring of the heather covered hills and the gloomy tints of the moors stand out in pleasing contrasts, while near the sea bold cliffs tower over the blue waters, whose waves dash against their rocky sides. Overhead numerous sea birds circle on their way to their nests on the ledges.

The largest island is known as the mainland, with a length of fifty-four miles and a width of twenty-one. The islands have a singularly mild and equable climate considering their exposed situation, and compose one of the most healthful districts of Scotland; but even the most adventurous tourists seldom visit them, because a doubtful sea trip in a small steamer is necessary before they can be reached.

Of the entire area of 551 square miles scarcely one-sixth is under cultivation, yet the Shetlanders manage to maintain something like 100,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 5,000 of the famous ponies. The inhabitants are of Norse origin and in their speech and customs retain many of the characteristics of their forefathers. They support themselves chiefly by the herring and other fishing industries.

They cannot afford to give much feeding to their ponies, so these hardy little animals run wild in herds on the hills or scatholds, picking up what food they can find. When the bleak wintry weather comes on they find their way down to the seashore, where they derive a scanty living from the seaweed which grows upon the rocks or has been left by the high autumn tides and freshened by melted snow or rain. At this time of year, too, they will gather in groups near the homesteads and are rewarded with an occasional truss of hay.

In spite of this precarious existence the Shelties seem happy enough and they are extremely hardy. They possess extraordinary strength for their size, being able to carry a man or woman with apparent ease for long distances.

The little ponies, with their rough, shaggy coats and flowing manes and tails, seem somehow to suit their wild rugged surroundings and the groups of them that are scattered about add the needed life to the landscape.

Perhaps it is a question of a survival of the fittest that makes these little creatures so very small, as horses of a larger type would be useless on the boggy moors or on the stony hillsides. They have been known to attain the age of thirty years and more, due probably to the healthful mode of life which they were forced to adopt, for they were born in the fields and lived and died in them.

Where Edwards Rest.

Here is a list showing where all the Royal Edwards have been laid at rest:—

Edward I., born 1239, died July 7, 1307, buried in Westminster Abbey.

Edward II., born 1284, died Jan. 25, 1327, buried at Gloucester.

Edward IV., born 1442, died April 9, 1483, buried at Windsor.

Edward VI., born 1537, died July 6, 1553, buried at Westminster.

Edward VII., born Nov. 9, 1841, died May 6, 1910, buried at Windsor Castle.

The Spinning Ant of Ceylon.

The spinning ant is found in India, in Ceylon, in the Islands of Malacca, and in Australia. This ant weaves its nest between two leaves of a tree, preferably the mango. It begins to build, or to weave, by drawing two leaves together. To do this it runs a line of its working material—material similar to the spider's thread — the length of the leaf and around it. While at work it clings to the leaf with its nails and, at the same time, draws on the leaf nearest to it with its mandibles. Sometimes the two leaves suitable for nest-building are too far apart. Then the builder calls in its fellow ants and they help it to form a chain. Each ant clings to the waist of its neighbor by its mandibles. Thus enchained, they work to build the nest of their comrade.

New Zealand's Wool Trade.

Sir Joseph Ward's the Prime Minister, speaking at Mangaweka, recently, said that New Zealand was to-day exporting more wool than any one of the Australian states. The total value of the exports had now reached twenty millions a year. Eighteen months ago people had predicted financial distress, but, happily, their fears had not been realised. The deposits in banking institutions had increased by more than four millions as compared with last year.

She Got Even.

A Lanarkshire postmistress explains how she got level with a customer who had paid for £2 18s of postal orders in threepenny pieces. First of all she kept him waiting while she counted over the coins three times, and then next day, when he came back to change some postal orders, she paid him out in the same threepenny pieces!

Unselfish.

Dad—My son, hard work brings the only true happiness. Why don't you work?

Son—Father, I intend to lead a life of self-denial. Why should I seek selfish happiness? Nay, nay—no work for me!"

Willing to Waive That.

"Miss Angeline," began the poor but proud young man, "if I were in a position to ask you to be my wife"—

"Good gracious, Mr. Throgson!" she exclaimed. "In a position? The idea! Do you think I would want you to get down on your knees?"

TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD.

Don Platt's Client Had a Stunted Sense of Humor.

A quaint story about Don Platt is told in the "Recollections of a Varied Life," by George Cary Eggleston. The story is given in Mr. Platt's own words:

"When I was a young man trying to get into a law practice in Ohio and eager to advertise myself by appearing in court a fellow was indicted for arson. He came to me, explaining that he had no money with which to pay a lawyer, but that he thought I might like to appear in a case so important and that if I would do the best I could for him he stood ready to do anything for me that he could by way of recompense. I took the case, of course. It was a complex one, and it offered opportunities for browbeating and 'balling up' witnesses a process that especially impresses the public with the sagacity of a lawyer who does it successfully. Then, if by any chance I should succeed in acquitting my client, my place at the bar would be assured as that of 'a sharp young feller who had beaten the prosecuting attorney himself.'

"But in telling my client I would take his case the demon of humor betrayed me. Just across the street from my lodging was a negro church, and there was a 'revival' going on at the time. They 'revived' till 2 o'clock or later every night with shoutings that interfered with my sleep. With playful impulse I said to the accused man:

"'You seem to be an expert in the arts of arson. If you'll burn that negro church I'll feel that you have paid me full price for my service in defending you.'

"I defended him, and as the witnesses against him were all of shady character I succeeded in securing his acquittal. About 4 o'clock the next morning a fire broke out under all four corners of that negro church, and before the local fire department got a squirt of water into action it was a heap of smoldering ashes, hymn books and all. A week or so later I received a letter from my ex-client. He wrote 'from St. Louis, 'on his way west,' he said. He expressed the hope that I was 'satisfied with results' and begged me to believe that he was 'a man of honor, who never failed to repay an obligation or reward a service.'"

FIRST PICTURE BOOK.

The Daring Idea That Was Carried Out by Johann Comenius.

Some 300 years ago a German savant had a wonderful vision. At that time children were taught to read by force of arms, so to speak, through hardships and with bitter toil on the part of teacher and of child. It seems curious that the first real step toward lightening the labor of children as they climb the ladder of learning was the product of the imagination not of some fond mother or gentlewoman teacher, but of a bewigged and bedtied university doctor.

It was Johann Comenius, however, who first conceived the daring idea that children could be taught by the aid of the memory and the imagination working together, "by means," as he quaintly expressed it, "of sensuous impressions conveyed to the eye, so that visual objects may be made the medium of expressing moral lessons to the young mind and of impressing those lessons upon the memory." In other words, the good herr doctor had the bright idea that picture books could be useful to children. Comenius made his first picture book and called it the "Orbis Pictus." It contains rude woodcuts representing objects in the natural world, as trees and animals, with little lessons about the pictures. It is a quaint volume and one that would cause the average modern child not a little astonishment were it placed before him.

As truly, however, as that term may be applied to any other book that has since been written, the "Orbis Pictus" was an epoch making book. It is the precursor of all children's picture books, and modren childhood has great cause to bless the name of Comenius.

Not the Same Spelling.

A stout man had recourse to a doctor to see whether something could not be done to reduce his size. "It's a disgrace, doctor!" he cried. "Just look at this bay window of mine! Now, what would you advise?"

"Well," replied the physician, eying his waist line, "all I can suggest is to diet."

"All right, doctor, I'm willing. What color would you suggest?"—St. Louis Republic.

A Pious Wish.

It was in a city hospital that a man refused to undergo an operation for appendicitis until his minister could be present.

"What do you want the minister here for?" asked the surgeon.

"Because I want to be opened with prayer," was the reply.—New York Tribune.

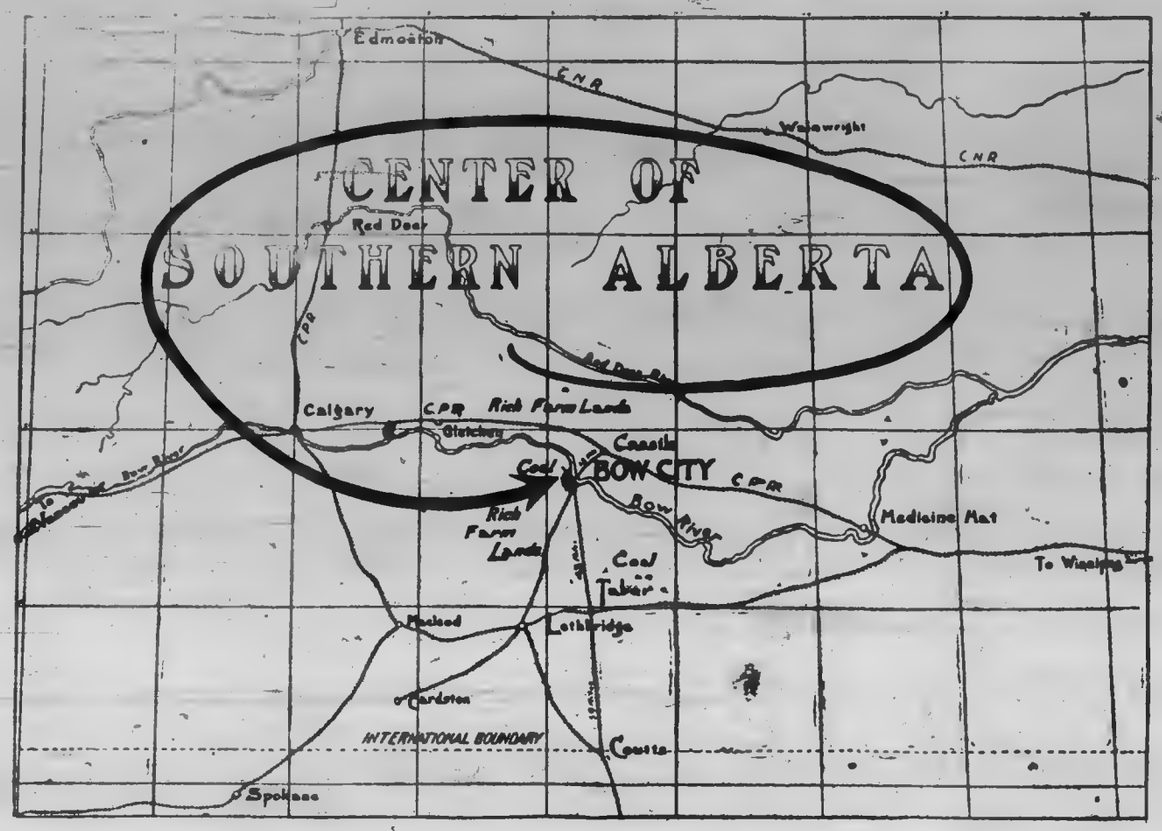
"Charlie" Carrington.

Earl Carrington, who was recently appointed Lord Great Chamberlain of England by King George, is one of the largest landowners in England. The late King Edward and "Charlie" Carrington, as he is popularly known to his intimates, grew up together in close intimacy. For five years he was governor of New South Wales, where he studied agriculture. Lord Carrington returned home a convinced and enthusiastic land-reformer. He believes in getting men back to the land, and has established no fewer than 8,000 small holdings on his estates. The new Lord Great Chamberlain has a wide reputation as an excellent administrator.

Toy Spaniel an Old Breed.

The English toy spaniel is undoubtedly one of the oldest and most popular breeds of pet dogs known. As far back as the days of Charles the Martyr this breed was much prized by the ladies of the court. In the narrative of the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, indorsed in Lord Burghley's hand and forwarded to the court, it was recorded that one of the executioners found her little pet (a spaniel of practically the same type as those afterward known in the reign of Charles II.), which had crept under the folds of her garments to be near her and which would not be taken away.

"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Colleries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid -a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City Lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your apulication by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

SALVATION ARMY.

A remarkable statement was made recently by General William Booth, the head of the Salvation Army. He declared that he had never taken a shilling from the army coffers for his own support. The army accounts he said, were absolutely in the hands of one of the first firms of accountants in the city of London. A balance sheet was issued annually and was freely circulated. The members of the army were becoming more and more the agents of governments and municipalities in social matters.

The general then gave some interesting statistics indicating the scope of the army's recent work. Only a fortnight ago, he said, its representatives sent £200 to Japan for the relief of sufferers by inundations. They had just entered Russia, and were besought to start work in Manchuria. There were 8,500 separate societies conducting their work in 32 different languages. The paid officers numbered 16,000, the employees 5,000 and there are 8,000 officers who gave their spare time and efforts for no remuneration. The army had 25,000 musicians. In a single week 46,800 indoor and 30,000 outdoor meetings were conducted with attendances of 140,000 in the one case and 2,000,000 in the other; 20,000 patients were taken to the hospitals, 260,000 people were fed, 19,000 men were sheltered, and 15,000 public houses were visited. Last year 60,000 situations were provided for men, and the army furnished employment—the best it could—to 40,000 who would otherwise have been workless.

The extent and vigor of the Salvation Army are the more surprising inview of the fact that the organization has been built up by one man who is still alive and chief conductor of its affairs. One reason why it has flourished is undoubtedly the confidence which it had in its veteran leader, another important source of strength being the enthusiasm of the members for their cause, which in a very real sence is the cause of human brotherhood. The major part of their work consists in helping the brother or sister who has fallen by the wayside. They have done more to ameliorate the condition of London's "submerged tenth" than any other agency in Britain. And they have stretched out their lines and encircled the globe.

Millaire, who has a record, protests his innocence, and the marriage which previously had been arranged, was performed by Father Carriere. The witnesses were guards from the jail. His bride will live with his people in Hull.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

A GOOD INDICATOR.

If you want to get a close line on the development of Canada you cannot do better than to study the annual statement of the Canadian Pacific Ry. Company, just recently issued. No business barometer can be more accurate in the recording of ebb and tide of commercial, manufacturing and agricultural prosperity from this report, touching as it does in its ramifications every part of the Dominion from the extreme west to the extreme east.

As indicating the forward movement in western settlement, it is shown that during the year 950 acres of the company's agricultural land holdings were sold at an average of $14.84 an acre. Add to this the lands secured by settlers from the government along with those passing from private holders to newcomers, and it must be evident that the vacant spaces are filling up fast in the west. And yet little more than the fringe of Canada's land heritage in the west has so far been touched, there being still millions of acres of good arable soil waiting for the coming of the pioneer.

During the year the C.P.R. carried about two million more passengers than were carried in the previous year, and there was a jump of over four million tons in the amount of freight handled. These figures speak for both east and west, and prove conclusively that the talk about Canada's development is something more than mere empty boasting. The people and the goods are back of the railroad's figures, and without them such a record as has been shown by the C.P.R. for this year would have been impossible. This surely is Canada's growing time, and it is difficult to see how there can be any checking of the pace for many years to come.

DESPATCHING CIRCUITS.

Grand Trunk Have Placed in Commission Two Telephone Train Despatching Circuits.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have recently placed in commission on their northern division, two telephone train despatching circuits as follows:—The circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction via Allandale, a distance of 145 miles, and another circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, a distance of 165 miles. Train despatchers on each of these circuits are located at Allandale.

On the circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction there are twenty-one way stations, and on the circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, twenty way stations. These circuits are constructed of No. 9 guage hard drawn copper wire, transposed at intervals of every half mile through the open country and as much more frequent as it is necessary in the vicinity of high voltage power lines in order to avoid inductive influences and to render the telephone circuits absolutely quiet. The station equipment is of the latest and most perfect type on the market and consists of a swinging arm transmitter and head band receiver for each way station, thus giving the operator the free use of his head, hands and body while using the telephone, the apparatus is swung to one side out of the way while not in use. The train despatching office is equipped with a selector system for calling offices and the duration of the ring in each way station is controlled by the despatcher, who plainly hears the ring through his receiver. Any office on the line can be signalled within eight seconds and as the signal bell in each office consists of a four inch gong there is little doubt but what the operator will hear his call even though outside of the office and at a distance from it. The despatcher has absolute control of the circuits and way stations must obtain his co-operation when desiring to communicate with one another.

The telephone is considered as being superior to the telegraph as a medium for despatching trains both as a factor of safety and a saving of time. By telephone each station and and numeral is first pronounced and then spelled out letter by letter by the despatcher for verification when an order is issued, and repeated in like manner by the receiving operator; while by telegraph stations and numerals can only be spelled out in Morse characters.

During the past three years the telephone has made rapid strides on trunk line railways in the United States and Canada for train despatching purposes and today over thirty thousand miles of railway is being so despatched. While the expense for constructing and equiping telephone circuits greatly exceeds that of constructing telegraph lines the railways have obtained so much better results with the telephone that they feel justified in spending the money.

We understand that it is the intention of the Grand Trunk Railway System to extend the use of the telephone over its more important lines in the near future.

The new system has met with the immediate favor of the despatchers and operators, the transmission being so excellent that the work is transacted in fully fifty per cent less time and in a more personal and satisfactory manner, than is possible with the telegraph.

STEPS BEING TAKEN TO GUARD AGAINST INFECTION FROM EUROPE.

To Protect the Dominion—Medical Officials Should Have Power to Return Liners to Quarantine.

Quebec, Oct. 7.—The fact that cases of cholera have been discovered on board the steamers that reached the port of New York has caused somewhat of a sensation in Quebec, the first port on the Canadian route where steamers arriving from the Old Country call after their run across the ocean.

Quebec knows what it is to have an epidemic of cholera. At various epochs its population has been stricken with the terrible plague, and because of the peril that once more arises the civic health bureau held a meeting last night to discuss the measures to be taken in order to prevent the spreading in the Dominion of the deadly disease.

Quebec of course is more exposed to the germs of disease that might be brought by immigrants, but in protecting this city the authorities look to the protection of the country. The quarantine station at Grosse Ile., is of course, a protecting shield, but to ensure more energetic surveillance of incoming foreigners the Quebec Civic Health Bureau has thought it wise to ask the Federal Government to make certain changes in the immigration law.

According to the present law the Federal Health Physician at this port, Dr. Page, has no authority to order the return of a steamer to the Grosse Isle quarantine. It occasionally happens that immigrants suffering from contagious diseases pass quarantine and that the disease develops between the latter station and this port, but the federal medical officer has no authority to order the steamer back. The committee decided to send its president, Dr. Jobin, and Dr. Catellier, city health officer, to Ottawa, next week, where they will request the government to amend the immigration law so as to give more power to the medical officials.

LONDON PAPERS HESITATE TO BELIEVE PORTUGUESE DYNASTY HAS FINALLY GONE.

London, Oct. 6.—The Portugal Legation is still without news of the situation in Lisbon, and no connected account of the fighting which led to the establishment of a republican government is yet available.

By an old treaty alliance, confirmed seven years ago, Great Britain is bound to come to the assistance of the King of Portugal should he be dispossessed by rebellion, but this succor must be "duly applied for." Therefore, in the opinion of British statesmen no difficulty is likely to arise in the present case, although should King Manual claim their protection he would be received upon a British warship as on British territory.

The London morning newspapers express deep sympathy with the king and the queen mother, and while recognizing the strength of the republican movement in Lisbon and the enormous influence the brilliant success of the Republic of Brazil is likely to have on the course of events in Portugal, they hesitate to believe that the dynasty has disappeared for all time.

It is considered exceedingly doubtful whether the provinces are as republican in feeling as Lisbon, or whether the revolutionary parties are sufficiently united to form a stable and enduring government. At the same time it is admitted in government circles that it is much to be feared that Manuel has joined the ranks of the kings in exile.

The question that is deeply engaging public attention is the influence it is likely to have on Spain. It is thought the republican movement would gain successful revolution in Portugal is a great accession of strength in Spain, and though the power of the clergy in Spain is far greater than in Portugal, the forces of discontent are so extensive that a situation of great danger might develop.

DID KING MANUEL TRY TO END LIFE

Paris, Oct. 10.—Dethroned and a fugitive, King Manuel tried to end his life when he learned that his monarchy had been proclaimed a republic. But was prevented by his mother, Queen Mother Amelie, who threw her arms about his neck and cried: "You are the only one I have left now, don't put me to further pain."

This report came from Lisbon today. It added that King Manuel was so unnerved by emotion and the exciting battle scenes which he had been through that he had to be helped aboard the royal yacht Amelie when he fled with his mother and others of the royal family.

The news that Manuel was so physically exhausted that he could not walk gave rise to the rumor that was forwardedhere from Gibraltar early today that the king had been wounded during the bombardment of the palace.

EXODUS OF CLERICALS

The exodus of clericals began from the Portuguese republic today. At the expiration of the twenty-four hours which had been granted members of the Catholic orders to leave the country Romanists of every order began flocking towards the frontier. Two Catholic monasteries were stormed by the republicans, one at Campolito and another at Grago. A number of priests were killed in the fighting. It is said that the republic will confiscate all church property in Portugal, and the vatican has taken steps to try to prevent this through the offices of the friendly powers.

SOLDIERS ORDERED TO LEAVE.

The flight from Portugal today did not include Romanists alone. All soldiers who had not sworn allegiance to the red and green standard of the republic were ordered to leave under pain of arrest and trial for treason by court martial. Soldiers and monarchist families fled to the coast and into Spain.

A disposition was evidenced in the foreign capitals today to await the result of the Portuguese rebellion in Spain before taking cognizance of of the new Portuguese regime.

Although the republic is the recognized government in Lisbon, Oporto and the greater part of the interior of Portugal the northern provinces have not forsworn their allegiance to Manuel.

ROYALISTS TAKE HEART.

A report from Madrid stated that the Royalists had been taking heart through the stubbornness with which the advance of republicanism was being contested in the north where the church is very strong.

The indications today were that ere another twenty four hours have elapsed a great international war fleet will be at anchor off the Portuguese Portuguese coast. The Brazilian cruiser Barrosa was in the Tagus harbor this morning, to which point the American cruiser Des Moines was despatched from Gibraltar. The British cruisers Minerva and Newcastle left Gibraltar for Oporto while three Spanish warships were heldheld at Algiers for orders to proceed either to Lisbon or some other Portuguese point. The French cruiser Admiral Aube departed for Portugal and it is said in naval circles at Toulin that the battleships Veritas, Justice and Liberte would likely be ordered into Portuguese Raters. The Italian battleship Regina Elena proceeded to Cadiz, Spain, to await orders, and it was believedthat she too, would be ordered towards Portugal.

PROMOTION FOR OFFICERS.

All of the officers who took part in the revolution have been promoted, following a measure drawn up by the heads of the republic made effective today.

Vienna, Oct. 8—Portugal's "uncrowned queen," Mlle Gaby Deslys, whose twinkling toes brought Manuel to his knees, and is said by some to have caused the boy ruler his fortune and his throne, today gloried in her friendship for the youthful exmonarch.

Mlle Deslys, who set Paris by the ears, and created a furore in London, is appearing at the Apollo Theater here, dancing light-heartedly before vast audiences, while each hour brings tidings of the ruin of her lover.

Last night great throngs packed the Music Hall to see the chic little French woman. At her throat there sparkled a magnificent sunburst of diamonds, wrung from bankrupt Portugal by Manuel that he might buy his way into her favor.

"Recently, in Paris, the Variete Theater offered me a high salary to appear, billed as Manuel's mistress," she declared. "I refused indignantly. The same theater then produced a sketch wherein the king and myself were the two chief figures. I cannot be blamed for that. I never asked the papers to call me the 'Uncrowned Queen of Portugal.'

"I first met the king fifteen months ago in Paris, where I was dancing. He was brought behind the scenes and introduced to me after the performance. It was love at first sight.

"After that first meeting, we met frequently. He came repeatedly to Paris to visit me. We were always happy together in those days.

"In February of this year, his highness summoned me to Lisbon, and at his request I danced at the great charity fair the king organized for the relief of the victims of the Oporto fire.

"I did not live in a suite in the royal palace as was declared yesterday. I stayed in a suite in a hotel near the palace, but theking paid paid me marked attention and was in my company nearly all the time I was in his capital. He even presented me to his royal mother.

My contract for my next engagement is here. See for yourself that I am to get $25,000 for appearing three months here. I believe that my income is greater than the king.

"I last saw the king in August in Paris. I had a long letter from him but a few days ago wherein he wrote of his great joy over the prospect of seeing me again in Paris at the end of October.

Gibraltar, Oct. 6.—The first definite news of the whereabouts of King Manuel was received here today from a British warship at Lisbon, stating positively that the monarch is at Cintra, and that the queen mother is aboard the Portugese royal yacht Amelie.

TROOPS AGAINST REBELS.

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Instransigeant published a story this afternoon to the effect that the Portuguese legation in this city had received an Oporto despatch saying that it is believed royal troops in that city, who remained loyal to the king's standard, are moving against the revolutionists' army in Lisbon. Two columns of troops are said to have left Oporto today for the south.

The troops left Fort Elvas, which at last reports was holding out against the rebels. According to the plan of the Oporto military the two columns were to join at Santiarem, at which point the railway tracks have been torn up. Progress south from Santiarem will be made on foot.

Paris, Oct. 6.—A provisional Republican Government today holds sway in Lisbon. Reports from the Portuguese provinces are to the effect that warfare is raging but that the revolutionists are steadily subduing the royalists.

The exact whereabouts of King Manuel is not known. London claims to have authentic advices to the effect that he is steaming there on the cruiser Newcastle. Madrid hears that the King and the Queen Mother Amelie passed through San Sebastian early today on a special train.

The general belief in Lisbon seems to be that the entire Royal Family the king, his mother, and his grandmother, Queen Maria Pia, have taken refuge at Mafra, a few miles from the Portuguese capital.

THE WAVE OF REVOLUTION.

Lisbon, Oct. 6.—The ministry of the infant republic of Portugal held its first session today in the capital to take steps for the establishment of a permanent government while its standard was being carried through the provinces upon the crest of a seething wave of revolution.

Reports were received that the revolutionary forces had planted the new red and green banner of liberty above the city of Oporto but that fragmentary detachments of the rebels had been routed near Monanto.

PEOPLE AND NAVY COOPERATE

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Portuguese Republican leader, Senhora Lima, received the following despatch today from Minister of Justice Costa, of the Portuguese Provisional Government. "A Republic has been proclaimed with the cooperation of the army, navy and the people. Provisional government has been established. Numerous messages have been received from the provinces in support of the Republic. The Royal family is in flight.

NEW RULERS OF PORTUGAL.

The members of the new Portuguese Government, who convened today, were the following:

President—Theophile Braga.
Minister of Justice—Alfonso Costa
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Bernadino Machado.
Minister of Finance—Bazilo Telles.
Minister of Public Works—Antonio Luiz Gomes.
Minister of War—Col. Barreto.
Minister of Marine—Amato Azovado Gomes.
Minister of the Interior—Antonio Almeida.
Civil Governor of Lisbon—Eusebio Leao.

Lisbon, Oct. 9.—Provisional President Theophile Braga and his associates, every day feeling more secure in their newly assumed authority, are drawing tighter the reins of government and began actively today to put into practice the principles for which they had stood, and which they have promised will be the bulwarks of the new republic. It is apparent that no time is to be lost not only because of the necessity of meeting popular expectations at home, but as well for the moral effect upon other nations, the recognition of which is anxiously sought.

The first step was the publication this morning of an official decree ordering all the religious bodies in Portugal to leave the country within 24 hours.

The government had promised the separation of state and church, and the suppression of the religious orders. Almost at the moment that the decree appeared, Marquis De Pombal was placed under arrest charged with having sheltered members of the religious bodies, and having concealed arms in his house. Troops were stationed in the vicinity of the religious establishments to prevent attacks upon them by mobs.

HOISTED BRITISH FLAG.

The hoisting of the British flag over the Jesuits' monastry in the Rue de Quethass, saved the occupants from the attacking Republican troops last night, one priest was killed and the others arrested.

The attack began during the night after republican troops had been fired upon from the windows of the monastery. It is believed that the attack upon the soldiers proceeded under the direction of the municipal guards.

The fighting was severe for a time, but when the Jesuits saw that they were getting the worst of it and in peril of their lives, they ran up the colors of Great Britain. The flag was respected by the troops who at once suspended operations. It was then found that one priest had been killed. Subsequently the other occupants of the monastery were placed under arrest.

JESUITS THREW BOMBS.

According today's papers, the fight at the Jesuit monastery last night started when the Jesuits threw bombs upon the heads of the parading pupils of the polytechnic school, killing three of the youths.

The troops hurried to the scene and fired a volley at the windows of the building. The Jesuits responded with more bombs. They were many victims on both sides.

It is estimated that today not more than 500 persons were killed in the revolution. Latest indications are that the republic will not meet with serious difficulties. The most marked feature is the resentment shown by a portion of the populace against the clergy. The churches remain closed.

The situation in Spain is reported to be growing more alarming hourly. Alfonso and his advisors are making desperate efforts to forestall revolutionary plans, and General Weyler, "the butcher" of Cuban fame, has been placed in absolute control of the soldiery. This means war without quarter should a reported concert between the other various revolutionary factions and the Carlists result in an open attack on the monarchy.

Cheaper Telegraph Rates.

The proposal to establish cheaper telegraph rates in Canada, will probably involve a long drawn out fight with the telegraph companies. The proposed rate is from 12 to 15 cents for the ten word domestic telegram now charged 25 cents. Rates to distant points will vary according to distance, just as at present, although there will be a reduction if the postmaster-general is able to carry out his intention.

Pay Taxes to Banks.

The Ottawa Journal says that a recommendation will be made to the city council to allow collecting city taxes at any of the Bank of Ottawa branches during the last ten days of November. This is an entirely new move, and might be worthy of emulation in Peterborough. It will in no way interfere with the collections at the city hall, but will mean that if people want to pay at the bank instead of going to the city hall, they can do so.

On Final Railway Survey.

The Lindsay Post says that the surveyors who are making the final survey for the C.P.R. between Orillia and Lindsay are making good headway. They have the line surveyed as far as Beaverton where their headquarters is at present. They expect to complete the survey about the end of the month. Trains may be running between Orillia and Coldwater next year and it is possible that the Orillia to Lindsay end will also be ready next fall. However, it is more likely to be 1912 before the line from the harbor to Lindsay is ready for traffic.

A lady doctor writes:

"Though busy hourly with my own affairs, I will not deny myself the pleasure of taking a few minutes to tell of my enjoyment daily obtained from my morning cup of Postum. It is a food beverage, not a person like coffee.

"I began to use Postum eight years ago, not because I wanted to, but because coffee, which I dearly loved, made my night long and weary periods to be dreaded and unfitting me for business during the day.

"On the advice of a friend I first tried Postum, making it carefully as directed on the package. As I had always used 'cream and no sugar,' I mixed my Postum so. It looked good, was clear and fragrant, and it was a pleasure to see the cream color it had as my Kentucky friend always wanted her coffee to look—'like a new saddle.'

"Then I tasted it critically, for I had tried many 'substitutes' for coffee. I was pleased, yes, satisfied, with my Postum in taste and effect, and am yet, being a constant user of it all these years.

"I continually assure my friends and acquaintances that they will like it in place of coffee, and receive benefit from its use. I have gained weight can sleep sound and am not nervous. There's a reason."

A High Priced Horse.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

A shantyman named Christy Brook appeared before P. M. Dumble yesterday in the police court charged with being drunk. Chris got rid of his wad of $25 during his few days in town. He was allowed to go the magistrate, no doubt, thinking this punishment enough.

A man who works in the Canadian General laid a charge against a fellow workman of assault, but later withdrew the charge. The latter did not appear in court, but sent the money to pay costs, which amounted to $2.10.

Fire of Rebellion is Rapidly Being Fanned Into Fierce Flames

ARE READY TO STRIKE BLOW IN SPAIN—GREAT UNREST PREVAILS.

Attitude of the Army Premier Declares are Loyal to Monarchy — Troops Massed at Strategic Points.

(Special to The Times.)

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Spain is an armed camp today in its northern district, around Barcelona, Valencia, and along the Portugual frontier. From the stern measures taken by the government it is evident that King Alfonso and his advisers looked upon rebellion as an imminent menace.

For the time being at least the king has withdrawn from his determination to take the field in person and head his army in military operations. Practically entire charge of the drastic steps against revolt are in the hands of General Weyler, "the butcher of Cuba."

THE FIRE OF REBELLION.

The fire of rebellion which has been smouldering in Spain for several years today is rapidly being fanned onto fierce flame despite the free swing to crush revolt given to the merciless Weyler, captain-general of Catalonia.

King Manuel has been requested virtually commanded to keep out of Spain for fear his presence will excite the present turbulence into open hostility.

St. John's Present Bell.

Many citizens are enquiring as to what will eventually become of the present bell in St. John's church, when a set of chimes are installed. This bell is valued at $600, and at the vestry meeting held on Monday evening it was suggested by some that this asset will be needed by the committee to aid in defraying the expenses connected with installing the chimes. However, others would like to see the bell, with which are associated many past memories—historic, national and individual—retained; hence it was determined to leave the bell in the congregation's possession until such time as its disposal becomes necessary. This bell is the congregation's property vested in the wardens as they are elected from time to time.

Many citizens suggested to The Times yesterday that should it be found impossible to retain this bell in St. John's, they would like to hear it ringing from the tower of All Saints' new church.

Tax Chinese Laundries

(Special to The Times.)

Windsor, Oct. 11.—The proposal to place Chinese laundries under a license system was adopted by Windsor City Council last night. The enforcement of regulations is left in the hands of the police.

GEORGE CLARKE WAS LOCATED

ELEVEN DAYS AFTER HE VANISHED FROM TORONTO ON HIS WEDDING MORN.

Located on Country Road— Twelve Miles From Brantford—Unable to Tell Where He Has Been.

With his mind a blank as to the last two weeks, unable to tell what he has done or where he hasbeen, GeorgeEdward Clark, who disappeared from the Iroquois Hotel, Toronto on Wednesday, September 28th, the date of his intended marriage in Guelph, has been dound in a country road 12 miles from Brantford.

Full particulars have not been received, but from what has been learned by Toronto relatives over the long distance telephone, Clark is not in a condition to throw much light on the mystery, which despite his reappearance, is almost as extraordinary as when he was first missing.

So far as can be learned, Clark was discovered by a connection yesterday afternoon or evening. It was a chance meeting. Clatk did not recognize his relative, but the latter knew Clark, though Clark was weary, travel-stained and ill.

A telephone message was sent to Toronto, and another to his mother in Guelph. The mother is in Brantford today, and will take her son home, if he is able to travel.

Clark had severe attack of fever years ago. Although he has been filling a commercial position, he has been a great reader and student, and the after effect of his illness and excessive study may have caused him to wander away on his wedding morning.

The circumstances of his disappearance was peculiar, but could be explained by mental or nervous strain.

Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable. Yours faithfully,

Praises Zam-Buk

How It Healed a Terrible Burn.

From top to bottom of the great British naval ladder Zam-Buk is known and used. Admiral and stoker alike have proved its value, as the foregoing and the following show:

Stoker Kinganorth, of H. M. First Class Cruiser "Cochrane," says:—"One day I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but from the first, the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of coal dust and dirt from the pipe having got embedded in the flesh and setting up blood-poison. A large scab appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good for my arm. Indeed, I got worse, and I became alarmed at the spreading of the poison. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

No matter in what occupation or stage of life you may be, for skin injuries and diseases of all kinds you will find Zam-Buk is the latest and best in scientific healing. That is why it is so popular to-day. Mothers should see that it is always handy in the home. It is a proved cure for eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, poisoned wounds, tetter, itch, bad leg, varicose ulcers, suppurating wounds, cold sores, chapped hands, babies' sores, inflamed patches, etc. Zam-Buk is also a specific for piles. The Man Who Organized Ontario's Power System

HAS MET OPPOSITION AND HARDSHIP FROM THE START OF THE PROJECT.

Adam Beck Is the Big Man of London. Worshipped by His Fellow Citizens—Likes Trouble and Does Not Run From It.

(From the Toronto Star.)

When that mysterious electric power which man can make, but cannot understand, comes racing over the wires to Berlin this afternoon, lighting dark places and turning standing wheels, there will be one man in the crowd to whom it will spell fulfillment. If you want to find him you will be wise to look somewhere in the back of the crowd surrounding the premier; he is usually to be found in the background at ceremonials of all kinds, being a man who hates fuss and feathers. Yet had it not been for the initiative, the bulldog determination, and the sheer weight of personality that Adam Beck carries about him, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission and all it means to Ontario and the people of Ontario would still be in the limbo of projected schemes, an egg to be hatched when the beams of the political sun should shine most warmly.

Hon. Adam Beck

HON. ADAM BECK, A BUNDLE OF ENERGY, WITH VARIED INTERESTS.

Fond of His Home-life and Horses, Unselfish, Unassuming, London's Big Man.

There is no better example of public spirit than that to be found in the person of Adam Beck. What he has sacrificed in bringing to today's completion the scheme with which his name is always associated only he knows, and he will not tell. Time—and he is at the head of a big manufacturing concern—money, friends have all gone by the board. Single eyed he has seen a vision, and pressed forward to it over everything that stood in his way and the obstacles have been legion.

He is fifty-three years old, in his prime, in other words. Born at Baden, in Waterloo county, his nationality is not hard to guess. He comes of that sturdy German stock which went into Waterloo when it was standing forest and turned it into the perfect farm lands of today. Opposition and hardship are what his type of man grows up on; the more trouble you give Adam Beck the better he likes it.

"Like Lord Rosebery, I had three great ambitions," he tells you. "One was to marry the most beautiful lady in Canada, another was to win the King's Plate and the other to be in politics.

A PARADISE FOR THE WORKMAN

JUDGE GRANTHAM SAYS THERE IS HIGH WAGES HERE FOR ALL.

A Knock for Tax Pay.—Kilkenny People Have No Use for his Half Way Home Rule Scheme.

London, Oct. 11.—Judge Grantham speaking at Lewes said that Canada is the workingman's paradise, with no idlers, none unemployed, none unemployable, and high wages for all. Many Canadians complained bitterly that the Mother Country would do nothing to assist their economical difficulties and financial arrangements treating them no better than her commercial enemies, he said. There is danger of losing Canada if she is deceived by the tempting bait of reciprocity.

He said the Canadian railwaymen and miners sent a message by him to their fellow-workers in Britain: "Give up your false pride in the strength of your members. You are fighting for shadows, losing the substance. You are killing the bird that lays the golden eggs. The capitalist is your greatest friend. He is the only man who can create work. Without work you cannot live. Help him. Do not thwart him at every turn."

COBOURG PRISONER SENT TO KINGSTON.

Antonio Dintorio Gets Three Years for Attempted Murder of Fellow-Countryman.

Cobourg, Oct. 12.—Yesterday the pretty little lakeside town of Cobourg was greatly excited all day long over the trial here in the county building here, of Antoine Dintono, charged with attempting to kill by shooting a fellow Italian named Antonio Croneza. The Crown had a very strong case, and called many witnesses for the prosecution. The trial ran along all day until five o'clock when the prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

It will be remembered that Antonio Dinto, a railway laborer, shot and wounded his comrade Antonio Cronezle in the neck. Dintorio tried to escape, after the attempted murder by flying towards Lake Ontario. Chief of Police John C. Ruse, commandered an automobile with Benny Huff as chauffeur and followed the Italian. Chief Ruse found his man at the Horse Show Park, lately renowned as to local interest, by the great success made by the string of horses of Hon. J. R. Stratton. Here Dintono was arrested and yesterday was tried and sentence. Dintono took his sentence very stoically. Many of his fellow countrymen were in the court and most of them seemed to take a more active interest in the trial than did Dintono.

FOURTEEN TOWNS HAVE BEEN WIPED OUT BY FOREST FIRES

THE TOLL OF DISASTER KEEPS GROWING—FOURTEEN TOWNS HAVE BEEN WIPED OUT.

4000 People are Reported Missing and 8,000 Homeless—Awful Stories of Death and Suffering From the Living Inferno.

(Special to The Times.)

Winnipeg, Oct. 11.—Seven thousand square miles of territory in northern Minnesota and southern Ontario were a smoking funeral pyre today.

Through the night the fire raged, driven before a relentless wind, and today found the toll of disaster reaching up to appalling totals. An area containing more than 15,000 residents had been devasted. More than 1,000 are believed to be dead, and from 2,500 to 4,000 others are missing. Fourteen towns and villages have been wiped out. Eight thousand men, women and children are homeless. The property loss was estimated over $100,000,000, and there was no sign of the fire's abatement.

SUFFERING IS INTENSE.

Unendurable suffering befell the people; panic reigned and in the communities of Rainy River and International Falls refugees rendered desperate by the terrible situation gave way to violence.

On the Canadian side the North west Mounted Police patrolled the stricken area with orders to shoot all looters on sight, on the American side the regiment of Minnesota National Guard was split in detachments for police duty. The guardsmen were instructed only to make arrests and assist in the relief work.

DEATH AND DISASTER.

The meagre details which came out of the living inferno today brought nothing but stories of death, disaster and suffering. Stories of human suffering were beyond conception. Men and women refugees who had fled to this city, to Rainy River, to War Road or International Falls, were nearly insane from fear and the ghastly sights they had witnessed.

Dead bodies strew every road and every line. The creeks and rivers are full of floating corpses. Near the sale by all dealers. site of the burned town of Beaudette more than 100 charred and blackened bodies were laid out in the temporary morgue today.

DR. CRIPPEN BEFORE A JURY

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST HIM OUTLINED BY RECORDER TO GRAND JURORS.

He Charged Against Him—Insisted on the Main Points of the Evidence as Already Brought Out.

London, Oct. 11.—The October sessions of the Central Criminal Court opened here this morning. In charging the grand jury, Recorder Sir J. Fulton said that there were 95 persons to be tried at the sessions, and amongst the cases to be disposed of was the charge of murder against Dr. H. H. Crippen, who was described as a dentist, and Miss Ethel Clare Leneve, who was indicted for being an accessory after the fact.

"An accessory after the fact," remarked the recorder, "is one who knowing felony to have been committed, received, relieved, comforted, or assisted the felony. It is necessary therefore, in Miss Leneve's case that those who brought the charge against her should establish the fact that she knew that Crippen had committed murder.

OUTLINED THE EVIDENCE.

"Your duty, happily," he continued, "is not to try the case, but merely to see that the evidence on such as to justify your returning a true bill against either or both."

His lordship then proceeded to deal in detail with the evidence given at the police court. From this, he said, it is apparent that Mrs. Crippen was seen in excellent health and spirits in January last. Soon after then she disappeared. In consequence of certain rumors and suspicions as came from the disappearance, Dr. Crippen wrote to Dr. Burroughs, a friend of his and of Mrs. Crippen, that she had died in California, and that the cable announcing her death, had come as a great shock to him. Crippen, he said, told practically the same story to Mrs. Martinetti, a friend of Mrs. Crippen, that his wife had taken pneumonia on a boat going to America, and she had died in Los Angeles.

Berlin, Brilliant with Color, Honors Inauguration of Hydro-Electric Power

PRIME MINISTER OF ONTARIO PRESSED THE BUTTON FOR THE INAUGURATION.

Crown Burst Into Blaze of Niagara Generated Illumination — Ontario's Inexhaustible White Coal —A Crown of Lights—A Big Time at Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—As the clock approached the hour of half-past three o'clock this afternoon, Sir James Whitney, representing the Government of Ontario, rose upon the stage in the darkened auditoriyom of Berlin's big skating rink, and a fair young girl, Miss Hilda Rumpel, daughter of one of Berlin's largest manufacturers, came forward and a hush of expectancy fell upon the thousands packed in the building.

The maiden, chosen from Berlin's fairest daughters, to represent her at the great inauguration of the Niagara power undertaking, was clad in white, while about her was a sash of red, white and blue and on it the word "Ontario." In her hands was a cushion, and on this a button. She proffered this to Ontario's Premier and Sir James pressed the button. On an instant there was seen upon her head a crown of lights with the russet gold and crimson of Canada's maple leaf and the dark sides of the lofty building burst forth into a gleam of dazzling light.

In that first instant of confusing transformation the eye travelled swiftly with one half conscious sensation from banner to banner with the circles of incandescent globes. Downwards to the myriads moving lights o. the best electrical devices of a score of Ontario leading firms while to the ear came the mingled sounds of a delighted peopule

Archdeacon Madden Predicts Fall of the Church of Rome

London, Oct. 11.—Ven. Archdeacon Madden, of the Evangelical Alliance deputation to Canada, gave a stirring address in the First Presbyterian Church last night, and in the course of his address said: "The Church of Rome is doomed. Her Nemesis is upon her and the influence behind the upheaval which will effect her entire disintegration is her spirit of intolerance. For centuries she has stood as the exponent of tryanny and the malignant foe of religious liberty. The great influx of races from Southern Europe to seek protection under the Union Jack, the controversy between Spain and the vatican, the upheaval in Portugal, are all signs of the times, the prophetic handwriting on the wall, the signs of her approaching senility and crumbling throne."

Continuing, the archdeacon pointed out that every effort was being made to make Canada a Catholic country, and that the advances must be met.

FREEDOM OF THOUGHT AND SPEECH.

Are we living in the twentieth century and in free Canada, or have we returned to the mediaeval ages and the days of the Spanish Inquisition? asks the Kingston Standard. The Catholic school board of St. Henri, a part of Montreal, have refused to allow Dr. Cousineau to inspect their schools, "not because," as the Montreal Witness says, "Dr. Cousineau is not a good doctor and a good man the board expressly admits that he is both—but because Dr. Laberge, the head of the city health department, with which Dr. Cousineau is connected, is accused of being, or of having been, a Freemason and a Freethinker." Commenting on this the Witness says:—

"This in some respects is going a little further in interference with liberty of thought and attempted coercion of it, than in mediaeval times. Galileo was made to recant, it is said, through a form of recantation, he once is said that the world moved, and after having to proclaim himself to believe a great assembly of ecclesiastics found, others that he detested and abjured the truth as he had maintained it, was confined in the dungeons of the inquisition for an indefinite period. Darwin was ridiculed and his system condemned as contrary to the Bible. All the same old world was moving then, and is moving still, in spite of the efforts of Galileo's judges, who have all the effect against Rome in their case, and the punishment fell on him; but the Catholic school board of St. Henri is seeking to punish Dr. Cousineau, rather than he himself, because Dr. Laberge, head of the department under which he serves, the purpose of course, is too apparent to need any professor's insight and key to its origin. The intention is to force Dr. Laberge out of the city's service because of his supposed theological opinions."

We suppose if Dr. Laberge were a Jew or a Mohammedan, the St. Henri school board would also refuse to admit Dr. Cousineau into their schools. This is not the way Great Britain treats its citizens of foreign birth or those who are not of the Christian faith and we very much doubt if any other nation in the world would so treat one of its citizens.

We wonder how the St. Henri school board would like to have a Christian missionary treated in a similar manner by the Chinese, the Japanese or any other non-Christian people.

The Montreal City Council who employ Dr. Laberge and Dr. Cousineau will scarcely put up with this kind of nonsense. If it does it will distinctly disappoint decent citizens who have some idea of tolerance.

CAN'T DISARM

In the Midst of an Armed Camp Says Lloyd George.

London, Oct. 10.—In an interview with Lloyd George, published in the Review of Reviews, he deplores the fact that out of every million of revenue he raises, half a million goes for armaments. Yet he says, "We cannot disarm in the midst of an armed camp. Any remedy must be international." The lamentable waste of money created by preparation for war was perhaps never more fully illustrated. Great Britain needs so many things—better education, better houses, food and clothing for the masses of her people—yet she is compelled to spend half her income to protect herself from Germany. And what is Germany? Another aggregation of human beings, of toilers who require every bit they earn to provide themselves with the necessaries of life, but who are required to give up a large part of these earnings to protect themselves from Great Britain. What should we think of two neighbors who, in very needed money to equip their houses with modern furniture, food and clothing, tables and beds, but who stinted themselves in these articles that they could provide themselves with stone walls, iron shutters, pistols and fierce dogs, who spent money on these things, not to keep away burglars, but to protect themselves from each other, and from other law-abiding citizens. Could such a monstrous illusion be matched in any lunatic asylum? Every nation is, or claims to be, a law-abiding citizen of the world. Every nation acts as if it were the only law-abiding citizen in a community of thieves and murderers.

We in Canada cannot cure the illusions of Europe, but we can surely do something to prevent them from spreading to this continent. We have had, as between Canada and the United States, a condition of peace extending over nearly a century. We have been during that time free not only from war, but from the fear of war and the preparation for war, so far, at least, as this continent is concerned. Each country does spend money on armaments, but not on arming itself against its neighbor. Our military preparations are rather in the nature of protection against the breaking loose of some lunatic asylum elsewhere. It is in our power to continue this condition, and not only so, but to advertise it and illustrate its benefits. Therein lies the immense importance of the proposed celebration of the century of peace. It ought to be a great celebration worthy of a great occasion, worthy of the opportunity it affords for illustrating the advantages of peace and friendship. Delusions cannot be argued away. The best way to deal with them is to create an environment of sanity.

RAILWAY REGULATIONS.

Although there was little novelty in the railways' presentation of their case for the advance of their rates, there was much that was novel in the shippers' contentions. In Chicago it was testified by one railway that forty million dollars of earnings had been put back into the property. In this city it was testified that some thirty-five millions of dollars of earnings had been expended upon the new Pennsylvania terminal. This was in accord with the formerly approved rule of practice by the best roads—"a dollar for dividends and a dollar for betterments. It was this principle of plowing the earnings back into the property which has kept down the capitalization of American railways at the same time that their rates have not risen with other prices for services and wood.

On this formerly approved principle the shippers cannot plead hard case, taking their case, it must be admitted, from certain rulings of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. These improvements made from earnings were regarded as grievances and in themselves a proof of extortion. It was asserted as a right that the roads should reduce their rates by whatever sums of earnings they have been accustomed to devote to improvements. Even the misfortunes of the railways were imputed to them for a fault. For example, it was alleged that because one road had lost large sums by equipment frauds, and had prospered nevertheless, therefore it had overcharged by the amount it had lost by embezzlement, and should be held to reduce its rates by the amount of its losses. The broad position of those assuming to act for the general public is that the railways should be allowed to charge no more than would just prevent their setting up a defence of confiscation. And, in estimating the permissible income the railways are held by these spokesmen to be entitled to no more than a reasonable income upon the amount of their own funds which they have devoted to the public use.

These gentlemen seem in some danger of winning a battle and losing a campaign. It is conceivable that they may prevent an advance in rates, and come to regret the consequent lack of vitality in the railways. American roads are far from having attained their growth. They are in need not only of income enough to sustain their life but to stimulate their growth. There is a certain justice in having the funds necessary for their growth contributed by those whose patronage of the railroads is a source of profit, rather than by the general public whose gain from the railways is less direct. If the railways are held to capitalize their betterments, and must borrow the money, interest must be paid on the money borrowed, and the rates must be adequate to pay the interest and providing a sinking fund for the establishment of the debt. As interest and sinking fund must come from earnings, it would seem to come to the same thing in the end.

Whatever the merit of this argument on either side, it is plain that a new light is thrown upon what is thought to be regulation of rates. Heretofore it has been thought that the function of government was merely to assure that rates were reasonable and just, that is, neither extortionate nor discriminatory, toward either persons or places. If the position assumed on behalf of shippers is sustained there is no detail of the management of the railroads too trivial for examination and control. It is not enough for the railways to sustain their claim that they need more money. They cannot justify on totals, but must prove in detail just how much they want for terminals, just how much they want for wages, how much for interest, and so on indefinitely.

The railroads plead that they cannot do it, and that nobody could. However that may be, it is evident that the success of the contention would establish a new definition of railway regulation, and one not in accord with the present law.—New York Times, Sept. 10th, 1910.

Opening of Great Power System.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 11.—After years of the hardest kind of work, in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles, the project of supplying Canadian cities with electrical energy generated at Niagara Falls became an accomplished fact today. With ceremonies befitting the importance of the occasion the first hydro-electric power to be delivered in Ontario by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission will be officially turned on this afternoon. The ceremony will take place in the Auditorium, which is handsomely decorated with designs illuminated by the people's power. Sir James Whitney will preside and the Hon. Adam Beck and other public men of prominence will deliver addresses.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

A Most Successful Season.

The Royal Muskoka Hotel, Highlands of Ontario, has just closed a most successful season. Among the notable guests who were at the Hotel over last Sunday were the Earl and Countess of Albemarle and Lady Kippel, London, England.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Quess, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate to obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 38 refineries in California are erving for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 16th, 1911.

CRIME WAVE.

Becoming More Vicious as Well as More Frequent in Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The serious crime waves in Ontario are becoming more frequent as well as more violent. Outrages of a particularly revolting nature appear to be on the increase. Criminals escape altogether, or go unconvicted, or inadequately punished. Nor is any phase of the situation more peculiar than the tendency of the bench to meet this condition of affairs with leniency, and of juries to encourage it by almost invariable recommendations to mercy.

The Windsor Record points out that the perpetrators of the ghastly crime which resulted in the death and mutilation of a Goderich girl have probably escaped into the United States via that city. "Windsor is not guarded at present," it points out. "Officers Campeau and Mahaney of the provincial staff being suspended because they refused to wear brass buttons, and the local condition is a matter of public knowledge from end to end of the country." It continues its protest as follows:

While the western and particularly Windsor is without police protection crimes accumulate. The Fighting Island clubhouse was burned, and its owners made a vain appeal to the attorney-general; a burglary occurred at Leamington a few days ago, but there was no help for the sufferer; a theft of money occurred lately at Belle River, but nothing could be done to trace the criminal, and several local cases have arisen and passed into history in the last few weeks for want of police attention.

The government should lose no time in dealing with the situation at Windsor. Border towns are especially in need of police protection. But the problem is more than a local one. A growing disrespect for the law is manifested all over the Province, and the need of an adequate provincial force organized upon a proper basis is being demonstrated almost daily. The problem is one with which the Hon. Mr. Foy should cope without delay.

REPUBLICANS DISMAYED.

At Candidature of Dr. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

New Jersey, N.J., Oct. 7.—The Republicans of New Jersey are wearing a look of dismay over the fact that Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, is a candidate for the office of governor of New Jersey. He accepted the Democratic nomination in a speech of such clearness and vigor that already he is a formidable figure. The leading men of his party are enthusiastic. The ruling group at Trenton is uneasy. For a time there was a tendency on the part of Republicans to smile at the spectacle of a theoretical politician casting his beaver into the ring. But, to continue the metaphor, Dr. Wilson "strips well" and seems to be in prime condition.

New Jersey has no debt of gratitude to the Republican party. Government in that state has been entangled with "the interests" for many years. The legislature has had rather more than the average number of bosses and lobbyists. Certain politicians have been the subject of court inquiry. Perhaps for these reasons Republican insurgency finds many followers in the state. The house is divided against itself. There is a general feeling that it cannoyt stand.

The policy of Dr. Woodrow Wilson is moderate, sane and strong. First of all, he recognizes the value of industrial combinations. He sees no evil in a corporation merely because it is a corporation. But he is sure that any evil attributed to a corporation is due to the man or to the board who may be in position to command. For this reason he objects to the plan of fining the company. Legally any incorporated company is a person, but not a person to be held responsible. If the law is broken by such a company the responsibility rests upon one or more men. To find these men and punish them as individuals is the policy of the Democratic candidate. To the argument that these men are often mere dummies, Dr. Wilson replies: "Put one or two conspicuous dummies in the penitentiary and there will be no more for hire." He does not agree with the Rooseveltianidea that to punish a company you must break it up. He says that it is not fair for the means of the stockholders to be jeopardized.

The president of Princeton is no tyro. He is a graduate in law from Johns Hopkins University. He did not practice because, according to the New York Evening Post, he discovered that law had ceased to be a profession and had become a trade. During all his terms at Princeton he has met difficulties squarely, has fought prejudice both amongst alumni and undergraduates and has labored to keep the spirit of the university democratic. He is a man of refinement and of vast knowledge, a student of the ways of men, a careful and ready speaker, a powerful and exact writer. His entry into politics is worth watching.

MORE THAN ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE ARE HOME LESS AND DESTITUTE—MUCH SUFFERING.

Fort William, Oct. 8.—Over a thousand people are homeless as the result of the disastrous forest fire which completely destroyed the towns of Beaudette, and Spooner, Minn., about 200 miles west of here on the C.N.R. They have only what they had on their backs when the fire caught them.

It is feared that hundreds of settlers south of here have perished, as it is known yesterday that they were packing up to come to town but have not reached here yet. One man named Ramsay, ran with a child in his arms, seven miles to town, and reported several families behind him, but they have not turned up yet.

FIRE SPREAD RAPIDLY.

The fire broke out about 6 o'clock northwest of the town of Beaudette, and half an hour later both that town and Spooner were enveloped in flames.

The C.N.R. sent an engine and fifty empty box cars to the relief of the stricken towns, and in fifteen minutes all who could reach the station were safe on the Canadian side, although it looked as if they were going out of the frying pan into the fire, as the town of Rainy River was on fire in several places. The Rat Portage Lumber Company at that point lost their entire plant and yards. The Selvin Lumber yards at Spooner, just across the Beadette River from Beaudette, were entirely consumed, they losing over one hundred and fifty million feet of sawn lumber, and having great difficulty in saving the planing and sawmills.

The fire is regarded as the most disastrous in the history of Northern Minnesota and Western Ontario. A number of lives were lost and the damage to property will mount up into the millions.

TRACK STREWN WITH CORPSES

Down coming trains report the right of way strewn with corpses, five being found between here and five miles west. They were endeavoring to get away from the fire and got on the track, only to be burned to death between the rails. The bodies were destitute of clothing, everything being burned except the shoes, one mother being found with a six-months babe lashed to her breast, both so completely charred by flames as to be unrecognizable.

G. P. Hagen, a prominent merchants of Spooner, and his wife had a very narrow escape from the flames.

A GOOD RECORD.

Only Five More in Local Jail Than in Former Years.

Considering that Peterborough is a manufacturing center of rapid growth the statistics of the county jail, just issued by Sheriff Hall for the past years, show that the city and county are very law abiding.

Two hundred and forty-one prisoners were received at the jail during the year ending September 30th, twenty of which were females. This is only five more than last year. The number of prisoners in the jail at the first of the month was nineteen, four of whom are awaiting trial and nineteen are serving short sentences. One is of unsound mind. During the year thirteen prisoners were sent to Central Prison and one was sent to the penitentiary. One hundred and ninety-four were maintained by the county, the balance by the government. The work of the prisoners was largely cleaning the building and keeping the park and grounds in repair. It cost 83-8 cents daily per prisoner. With 24 cells, the greatest number of prisoners at one time was 22.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Thomas Morgan, a life-long resident of the township of Douro, who lived on lot 11, concession 4, dropped dead at noon on Monday. He had just walked out from his house and was proceeding down the yard, when he was seen to stagger and fall forward on his hands. When he was picked up it was found that the vital spark had fled. The deceased, who was seventy-one years of age, was born in Douro. For the past five years he had lived on the the farm on which he died. He was widely known and highly respected and his many friends will deeply regret his sudden taking away.

It is reported that the Bank of Nova Scotia has leased the old City Hotel, which is undergoing extensive alterations, suitable for bank premises. The building permit calls for an expenditure on this property of $1500.

Lindsay Man is Fooled.

Yesterday morning a citizen of Lindsay happened to stop over in Port Hope, waiting for a train per G.T.R. for Kingston. Getting "biggety" about the train time, this resident of the town of the broad main street and classic river scenery, walked into the G.T.R. ticket office on Walton street. As he emerged, the man from Lindsay suddenly dropped his handkerchief at the entrance to the office. Bystanders noticed that he took an unusually long time to pick up the afore said kerchief. They then saw the man from the banks of the Scugog trying vigorously to pick up an American silver dollar inlaid years ago in the cement entrance to the door. When he found that the dollar stuck tighter to the cement than to his covetous fingers, the Lindsay man muttered "Well the blank coin is worn out any how it would not pay for one pound of cigars."

It is currently reported in Cobourg that the present G.T.R. station, will this fall, be replaced by a new structure. The new depot, it is said will be placed to the south of the present station on the site now occupied by the house of the station agent.

Receives Great Praise.

The roadbed and general conditions both in operating and service on the GrandTrunk Pacific Railway between Winnipeg and Edmonton is coming in for great praise from patrons who have gone over the road.

At the general offices at Montreal a letter was received from a Professor of one of the prominent Collegiate Institutes in the west which reads as follows:

"On my recent trip in the West I travelledover the Grand Trunk Pacific between Saskatoon and Winnipeg. It was myfirst trip over this road, and must say I was surprised to find the roadbed in such excellent condition. It seemed like travelling in one of the old main lines in the east. The dining and sleeping car service was first-class in every particular, and I found the train officials courteous and obliging. Passengers whom I met were unstinted in their praise of the road and its appointments."

TO TAKE A BALLOT

On Which of Hon. Senator Cox's Offers Will Be Accepted.

Charlotte street church congregation will ballot on which of Hon. Senator Cox's generous offers of aid in building a new church, they will accept. The members have ballots in hand, which must be marked and returned before Sunday, Oct. 24th. The three propositions are as follows:

Offer No. 1.—A cash subscription of $10,000 towards the erection of a new church on the present site.

This option would involve an expenditure of about $42,000 for a new church, remodelling the sheds, and making necessary repairs to parsonage—or the congregation would themselves have to raise about $32,000.

Offer No. 2.—All of the property known as the Aaron Cox home, lying east of the center wall of the double house, for a site for new church and Sunday school room.

This option will entail an expenditure of about $60,000, and as our present property would sell for, say $12,000, would necessitate the congregation raising $48,000.

Offer No. 3.—All the land necessary for church, Sunday school room and parsonage on the property known as the A. L. Davis home, and situated on Belmont avenue, together with a cash subscription of $25,000.

This option would involve an expenditure of about $65,000; but as we would realize say, $12,000 for the present property, and Senator Cox's subscription of $25,000 equalling $37,000, it would leave the congregation to raise $28,000.

ESCAPED FROM DEATH ON RAILWAY TRACK.

Grand Trunk Engineer's Prompt Action Undoubtedly Saved the Life of Victor Lawson.

That eight-year old Victor Lawson was not killed on the Grand Trunk Railway at Macdonnel street, yesterday morning, was undoubtedly due to the leading engineer of a double header, acting so promptly that the train was brought to a standstill within a few feet.

At nine o'clock, little Victor, who lives with his grandmother, Mrs. Baker, 546 Park street, went out to play and wandered over to the track, a hundred yards away. Just as he got there two locomotives with a caboose came west, and the little fellow then walked directly on to the track, not noticing that another train was following. He was struck by the pilot and thrown off the track, thus escaping being run over. He was carried into Mr. Jack son's grocery store, which is situated just north of the crossing, and Dr. Cameron was called. It was found that other than receiving a bad shaking up and a few cuts and bruises about the head his wounds were slight, and no serious result will ensue.

After his wounds were attended to he was carried to his grandmother's which is just about 50 yards from the store, where he is now resting nicely. Mrs. Baker was greatly agitated over the affair, and stated that his parents were in Toronto and he had been left in her care.

Although trains run at a pretty good rate of speed, the crossing is not considered a dangerous one. A train from the west can be seen approaching for a distance of 350 yards, and one from the east can be seen 150 yards distant, which gives ample time for any person to get off the track at the rate the trains run. It is generally reported that children are so familiar with the trains that they do not realize their danger, hence this morning's accident.

Absolutely no blame can be laid on the train crew, as the proper signals were given for the crossing. It evidently was the one train so closely following the other that puzzled the youngster.

DESPATCHING CIRCUITS.

Grand Trunk Have Placed in Commission Two Telephone Train Despatching Circuits.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have recently placed in commission on their northern division, two telephone train despatching circuits as follows: One circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction via Allandale, a distance of 143 miles, and another circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, a distance of 165 miles. Train despatchers on each of these circuits are located at Allandale.

On the circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction there are twenty-one way stations, and on the circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, twenty way stations. These circuits are constructed of No. 9 guage hard drawn copper wire, transposed at intervals of every half mile through the open country and as much more frequent as it is necessary in the vicinity of high voltage power lines in order to avoid inductive influences and to render the telephone circuits absolutely quiet. The station equipment is of the latest and most perfect type on the market and consists of a swinging arm transmitter and head band receiver for each way station, thus giving the operator the free use of his head, hands and body while using the telephone; the apparatus is swung to one side out of the way while not in use. The train despatching office is equipped with a selector system for calling offices and the duration of the ring in each way station is controlled by the despatcher, who plainly hears the ring through his receiver. Any office on the line can be signalled within eight seconds and as the signal bell in each office consists of a four inch gong there is little doubt but what the operator will hear his call even though outside of the office and at a distance fromit. The despatcher has absolute control of the circuits and way stations must obtain his co-operation when desiring to communicate with one another.

The telephone is considered as being superior to the telegraph as a medium for despatching trains both as a factor of safety and a saving of time. By telephone each station and and numeral is first pronounced and then spelled out letter by letter by the despatcher for verification when an order is issued, and repeated in like manner by the receiving operator; while by telegraph stations and numerals can only be spelled out in Morse characters.

During the past three years the telephone has made rapid strides on trunk line railways in theUnited States and Canada, for train despatching purposes and today over thirty thousand miles of railway is being so despatched. While the expense for constructing and equiping telephone circuits, greatly exceeds that of constructing telegraph lines the railways have obtained so much better results with the telephone that they feel justified in spending the money.

We understand that it is the intention of the Grand Trunk Railway System to extend the use of the telephone over its more important lines in the near future.

The new system has met with the immediate favor of the despatchers and operators, the transmission being so excellent that the work is transacted in fully fifty per cent less time and in a more personal and satisfactory manner, than is possible with the telegraph.

FAMOUS LACROSSE PLAYER.

Mr. Jack Simpson of Vancouver, is Visiting Friends Here.

Mr. Jack Simpson, of Vancouver, a former member of The Times' staff, is visiting relatives in this neighborhood. He is accompanied by his wife, and is at present sojaiurning in Lindsay. The Post says that Jack distinguished himself away back in the eighties, as a member of the famous Peterboro lacrosse club. Those were the days of the long runs and long throws, and Mr. Simpson participated in many a hard fought struggle on the old cricket grounds in Ashburnham. Associated with him on the team at [illegible] were Billy Rudkins, Mike Halhin, Dod Fortye, Jack Craig, Kit Rutherford and Billy Scott, at present residing in Peterboro; Jimmy Sheehy of Chicago, the late Dr. Yelland and Billy Sanderson, of Peterboro; Jim Coughlin, in the West; Mike Tierney in Rochester; Joe Joyal and Percy Myles, residence unknown; Billy Morrow, of New York; Dick Kelly, afterwards with the Montreal Shamrocks, who was considered to be the greatest centre fielder in the world, the late Rev. Father Rudkins, of Peterboro, the late Jumbo Henderson, of Orillia, and Mike McDonald, in British Columbia. This great team made its last stand in the summer of 1895 when it went down to to defeat at the hands of Orillia.

Away back in 1892 Jack Simpson was attacked by a cannibal named O'Neill on the Maitland lacrosse team, from Toronto, who planted his teeth in Jack's shoulder; O'Neill was afterwards sent down for assaulting a lake captain.

When Mr. Simpson went West some years ago he was largely instrumental in introducing lacrosse on the coast.

Crippen Charged with Murder in First Degree Leneve as Accessory

All Possibility That Girl will Go to Gallows Has Been Removed---She is Being Prosecuted for Having a Guilty Knowledge After the Crime

London, Oct. 12.—The Grand Jury, sitting in Old Bailey court, today returned an indictment charging Dr. H. H. Crippen with murder in the first degree for the death of his wife, Belle Elmore, the music hall singer.

Miss Ethel Clare Leneve, Crippen's companion in his flight to Canada, was indicted on the charge of being an accessory after the fact of the murder, in that she had guilty knowledge that a crime had been committed.

Under the indictment, Crippen, if convicted, may be hanged, but Miss Leneve's severest punishment would be a prison term. The young woman thus escapes any possibility of a death sentence.

The trials probably will open Tuesday instead of Monday, as at first intended.

I shall ever remain at heart a true Portuguese and hope that my country will do me justice and try to understand my feelings. My departure must in no way be taken as an act of abdication."

WEEDMARK BOASTED THAT HE HAD KILLED HIS WIFE

EVIDENCE PUT IN THAT WEEDMARK WAS PROUD OF HIS TERRIBLE ACT.

First Pleaded "Guilty" But His Lawyer Changed Plea—Daughter Tells of Family Jars.

Perth, Ont., Oct. 12.—Rufus Weedmark of Smith's Falls, was put on trial today for the murder of his wife in theirhome in the early hours of Saturday, April 30th.

Prisoner was brought into court with his wrists chained. In answer to how he pleaded, he replied "guilty," but his counsel, C. J. Fey, immediately pleaded not guilty. E. A. Duvernet of Toronto, is Crown Prosecutor.

Dr. Stammers, of Smith's Falls, testified that he was called to Weedmark's home about four o'clock in the morning. The prisoner was standing in the small living room downstairs. Witness saw Mrs. Weedmark lying on the lounge. Her body was still warm. Weedmark said to him "I did it doctor. Didn't I make a good job of it, Doc., eh?" In a little while Weedmark observed that his wife wouldn't send him down any more. She and the neighbors had been telling lies about him. Witness found marks on the woman's neck at the windpipe. The cause of death was strangling by external violence.

Alexander McLachlin, machinist, of Smith's Falls, gave evidence of a row in the door of the Weedmark home about ten o'clock the night before. Witness interfered and told Weedmark he was a coward in putting hands on his wife's neck and trying to push her off the steps.

MOTHER THREW TEAPOT.

Evelyn Weedmark, a daughter of the prisoner, gave evidence in a straight forward matter-of-fact way. She and her sister Ella were lying on the floor until they were ordered upstairs by their father. After a while they heard their mother scream and went downstairs. They found their father with one hand on their mother's throat and the other on her nose. Between ten and eleven o'clock the night previous Weedmark had got a baseball bat and was going to hit his wife with it.

She admitted her father had been drinking and was pretty near drunk. Her father had accused his wife of wrongdoing. Her mother could take her glass. When her mother had got her father out of the Central two months after he was sent up, there was a row and on another occasion her mother threw a teapot at Weedmark's head.

Mrs. Gilligan swore that the prisoner came over to her place on Saturday morning and said: "Come over and take care of the dead." Witness replied: "Surely not." Prisoner said "Yes I killed her I meant it, and I done it."

WAS QUITE SOBER.

W. H. Code swore the prisoner told him: "I had thought it over for quite a while, and made up my mind to kill her. I was as sober as you are. She won't get the chance to send me up again."

Routine Business of Fire, Water and Light Committee

The City Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night, Chairman Alderman Morgan presiding. There were also present, Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Graham, Batten, Metheral and Buller.

A letter was received from W. Henderson, superintendent of the water works, giving a list of hydrants set during the year.

A report was read from W. A. Howard that the Bell Telephone Co. had installed the power for the fire alarm system, and recommended its acceptance from July 1st, 1910, and suggested that the battery supplies not needed be disposed of.

The chairman was authorized to sell any of the supplies that would deteriorate.

Ald. Metheral moved, seconded by Ald. Graham, That the light at the corner of Smith and Concession Sts. be moved to the south west corner, and that an incandescent lamp be placed on Brock street, between George and Aylmer. Carried.

Mr. Herbert Fife, of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, was present and the account between the city and the company for street lighting was satisfactorily adjusted. A deduction of $21.25 was made from the company's bill for lights that were not burning during contract hours.

Ald. Metheral moved, seconded by Ald. Batten.—That the order for a light on Maitland avenue, and one on Pearl avenue, be cancelled.—Carried.

It is understood that the residents on these streets do not want these lights.

Residents petitioned for an arc lamp on corner of Maitland avenue and John street. This matter was left in abeyance.

Citizens asked for an arc lamp at the corner of Maria and Burnham streets, Ashburnham. This matter was left in abeyance.

His worship here offered that this committee is already overdrawn and he wants all expenditure that is not imperative avoided.

Citizens on Lansdowne street asked for lights.

Ald. Buller suggested that as this street and others asking for street lighting are on the boundary line, arrangements should be made with adjoining townships for their assuming a share of the cost of street lighting in such localities. This will be looked into.

Ald. Morgan here enquired if firemen who had quitted the brigade after one year's service and signed with the brigade again a year later, should be entitled to first or third year pay. There seems to be one instance in which a fireman is drawing third year pay under the foregoing conditions.

No action was taken in this matter.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald Buller.—That the clerk notify the Water Commissioners that the water was shut off on Sunday, and the fire department not notified. Also to request a reason for such action.—Carried.

Hon. Pres.—Wm Snowden.
President—Fred Stenson.
Captains of Hunt—Thos. Rutherford and Arthur Blade.
Secretary—Arthur Ringer.

The following are members of the Club:—Messrs. Jack Stanger, Percy Grimes, Jas. Haggart, Jas. Houlihan, Harry Garbutt, Wm James, Jas. Douglas.

A BOY BURNED.

Five-Year-Old Harry Stenson In Hospital Through Playing With Matches.

Another warning, with practically applied proof is now before the children of Peterborough as to the danger of playing with matches. Shortly after the dinner hour yesterday, Joseph, the 4½-year-old son of Mr. Harry Stenson, 434 Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham, employed as wine clerk at the Windsor Hotel, was playing with some other boys in front of Collin's grocery store, Ashburnham. It seems that little Stenson put a parlor match on a rock and struck it with a stone to see and hear the expected slight explosion. The explosion came all right enough, but unfortunately a piece of the ignited sulphur flew to his blouse or sweater. The cloth caught fire at once, and the child screamed with the pain. Mr. Collins, hearing the boy's cries, rushed to the rescue. Taking a jute bag from a delivery wagon, Mr. Collins wrapped it round the child tightly, thus smothering the flames. The boy even with this prompt action sustained such severe burns about the face and neck that he was sent to St Joseph's hospital. Dr. McPherson was summoned, and did all that medical skill could suggest for the little sufferer. The child was taken to the hospital in Comstock's ambulance. Enquiries made last night from his father elicited the comforting news that the child was doing as well as could be expected and that his sight will not be affected nor his face permanently disfigured.

Are Searching for the Dead---More Than 5,000 People Homeless

SEVENTEEN BODIES BURIED IN A TRENCH OUTSIDE OF BEAUDETTE YESTERDAY.

Removing Dead Animals—Towns of Fort Frances and Rainy River are Believed to Be Quite Safe.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—An organized search was started today for the bodies of those who perished in the great forest fire which swept Northern Minnesota and part of Ontario, leaving in its wake the ruins of a dozen towns and villages, possibly 500 dead, more than 5,000 homeless and monetary damage upwards of many millions. Apparently no persons were burned to death on the Ontario side.

The fire was still burning today, but the wind which had fanned it to a raging inferno and carried it with incredible swiftness from town to town had died away. Between 300 and 400 bodies had been recovered, and others were buried today without attempt at identification, so badly were they burned.

STILL A MENACE.

The great international conflagration was still a menace today. Rangers from the danger zone declared that great areas were still afire and that, unless rain fell in great quantities, the fire would smoulder until snow fell.

Vast quantities of provisions and medical supplies were shipped into Rainy River, War Road, International Falls and other points where refugees are massed. It was reported that an epidemic of typhoid had broken out and doctors were despatched.

REFUSE TO LEAVE.

Although suffering intensely, the bulk of the refugees who had lost relatives in the fire refused to leave the burned out zone, hoping to recover bodies of their beloved ones and give them decent burial.

Detachments of militia throughout the stricken regions of Minnesota were sent out with wagons to bring in the dead. Posses of residents were formed for the same work. Across the border the Mounted Police assisted by residents and refugees took up the work of searching for the dead.

HARROWING TALES.

Some of those who returned from this work told harrowing tales. They said that dead bodies of men, women and children were found just as they had fallen. In some instances the charred bodies of husband and wife were found clasped in each other's arms. Children were found clutching the bodies of their parents.

Captain Olds of Bemidji, who is in charge of the Minnesota National Guard, has ordered his troops to shoot looters on sight.

PROVINCES WILL FIGHT IT OUT

OPPOSE THE JURISDICTION OF THE SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE IMPORTANT REFERENCE.

Privy Council Will Act—Ontario to Join in an Appeal From Court's Decision That it Has Power.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—In the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., Mr. Edward Bayly, K.C., with him, on behalf of the Provinces of Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba and Alberta, moved to quash the references made by the Dominion Government, and now pending in relation to legislation respecting fisheries, insurance, and the incorporation of companies, on the ground that the British North American Act did not authorize parliament to constitute a Dominion court for the purpose of answering abstract questions on matters of the kind, the answers to which, in any event, would be academic, and perhaps dangerous, and prejudicial to civil rights.

Mr. Lafleur, K.C., appeared on behalf of the Provinces of Quebec and British Columbia, and intimated that they had consented to the reference in regard to fisheries, and were anxious for a decision regarding them.

After consideration the majority of the court was of the opinion that the court had jurisdiction to hear and decide the references. Upon this decision being announced Mr. Nesbitt asked that the hearing of the references upon the merits should not be pressed for the present, as it was in contemplation to [illegible] represented by him that they should apply to the judical committee of the Privy Council for special leave to appeal from the decision of the court that they had jurisdiction.

The court did not give any formal decision on the request for a postponement, but it is understood that it will be granted.

King Manuel Tells Why He Fled From Throne

"I AM AN OUTCAST BECAUSE OF PLOTS OF MY POLITICAL ENEMIES."

Would Gladly Have Sacrificed His Life, But Found That His Best Friends Were Aiding Conspirators.—Youthful Monarch is Nervous and Depressed.

Gibraltar, Oct. 10.—Following is King Manuel's own graphic account told today of the revolution which led to his disposition as ruler of Portugal:

"I am an outcast today because of the plots of political enemies. I have been criticized for not fighting for my throne, but I am not discouraged.

"I had no fear of personal danger and would gladly have sacrificed even my life for my country. But when I found that there were plots on all hands, and that those I supposed to be my best friends were aiding the conspirators, I lost heart. Physically I was strong enough, but morally I was too weak—too disheartened—to fight those many intrigues. So I fled.

DO NOT WANT REPUBLIC.

"The thing I feel most keenly is that I have been driven from my own country. If Parliament had decreed that a republic should be established, I would not have stood in the way. But the people did not want a republic. They were opposed to having the monarchy destroyed. They may accept the republic forced upon them, rather than have any more bloodshed, but it will be against their will.

"As for myself, I have no worries about the future. I have youth and health, and these two things are all that any man should ask."

GUESTS AT GIBRALTAR.

Manuel, his mother and grandmother, the ex-queen and the ex-dowager, have taken up quarters in the governor's house here, as the guests of the governor, Sir F. W. C. Forestier-Walker. The deposed king's sentries and guards at this mansion have been doubled to ensure the safety of the exile.

It was persistently rumored this morning that Manuel and queen mother Amelie would go to England this week instead of to Spain. There was no confirmation, however, of this report. Manuel is dejected and depressed. He is excessively nervous, and it is evident that he broods over the events in his native land.

Law Descends on Montreal Financier

Montreal, Oct. 12.—A writ of seizure was taken out at the court house today against C. D. Sheldon, the financial wizard, by a lawyer named Waddell in the Quebec Bank buildings who claims that Sheldon owes him $100.

It is understood that he is acting for several of Sheldon's clients. Half an hour later a bailiff appeared at Mr. Sheldon's new house in Westmount and served the papers and commenced to make an inventory of his effects. There was no one at home, except the English housemaid, who said that Mrs. Sheldon had not come home since she went out at one o'clock yesterday afternoon to buy the supper for last night.

OFFICES CLOSED TODAY.

Sheldon's offices in the City and District Bank were closed today and a sign posted up saying that they wouldn't be opened up until tomorrow at ten o'clock. The reason they are closed today is given as being because there is a holiday on the New York Stock Exchange. Sheldon sublets his office from J. A. Bonin, the lawyer.

SAVING HIS FURNITURE.

When told this morning that a writ of seizure had been taken against Sheldon Mr. Bonin jumped up and said he must hurry away and take some steps to save his furniture. It appears that Sheldon has a nine thousand dollar mortgage on his house, only $1,500 cash having been paid for it. When he closed his account at Garand and Terroux he had but thirty dollars. The Monday previous he had $100,000.

Tale after tale of want, pribation and sorrow is being told around Sheldon's closed doors by people who so confidently left money at the wicket during the past six months, and if Sheldon returns, which even the most sanguine appear to think unlikely, there will be a scene in the narrow corridors of the City and District Bank building hard to equal for pathos and wretchedness. The Crown prosecutor in the meantime is looking up the law in regard to embezzlement and an attempt will bemade to bring Sheldonback, if he fails to return of his own accord.

The last customer in Sheldon's office last night was an old lady who had come in to claim $200 which she had placed on deposit there after the day's business.

WANTED MONEY BACK.

"I must get that money back," she declared with tears in her eyes. "It was hard earned and all that I had. I made it during Eucharistic Congress week, and I can't afford to lose it."

It was explained to her that Sheldon had gone away after stopping payment on his cheques and that no one in the office was authorized to pay out money on Sheldon's account.

But the lady could not be appeased nor in fact be made to understand. "I want my money. I must have my money," she insisted over and over again. The clerks had great difficulty in persuading her [illegible] office without her money, and after she departed the doors were closed.

The amounts invested with Sheldon are estimated as high as $2,000,000 but no one can tell.

TWENTY-EIGHT BODIES HAVE BEEN RECOVERED.

Mr. D. B. Hanna Has Received a Telegram From Rainy River, and is Seeking Further Information.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Mr. D. B. Hanna, third vice president of the C.N.R. when seen by a press representative at his offices this morning said: "I have just received a telegram from Mr. H. M. MacLeod, our general manager, stating the bodies recovered in the Rainy River district number now twenty-eight. But in view of the many exaggerated and conflicting reports I am sending off a telegram asking for the full authentic truth in the matter of loss of life and recovered bodies."

Mr. Hanna also informed the reporter that the State of Minnesota had the matter of relief in hand and already contributed $100,000 and supplies for the sufferers and that Fort Francis has contributed $200.

CLARK SANDBAGGED AND THEN ROBBED!

Possible Explanation of Disappearance of Guelph Man on the Eve of His Marriage.

Guelph, Oct. 12—It is thought George Edgar Clarke of Guelph, who disappeared from the Iroquois Hotel on the night before the day he was to have been married and turned up at Bradford on Monday, was sandbagged and robbed of $100 which he had at the time, but which had disappeared when he was found in a dazed condition.

He cannot tell anything about where he was or what happened. He is still not back to his normal condition of mind. It was in the barn of his cousin, Mr. Holtby, two miles from Bradford, that he was found by the latter. The Toronto police have been trying to solve the mystery, but can do little as they have nothing to go on.

AN EMPIRE BUILDER.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is likely to indcrease its dividedn rate next year, it is to make the distribution quarterly instead of half-yearly and it is to place faster and finer ships on the Atlantic route. These announcements made at the company's annual meeting, drive home the fact that in its 29th year the pioneer transcontinent road is still the country's greatest advertisement. The vast bulk of the corporation's securities being held in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, every fresh success achieved by this brilliantly managed enterprise tends strongly to establish and reinforce Canada's credit abroad and to facilitate the successful flotation of other Canadian ventures in the old world. It must be said that by teaching home-keeping Britons the value of the outer-dominions, the Canadian Pacific has been a powerful factor in the unbuilding and establishment of the Empire.

THE LAKE LEVELS.

The project of a dam at the mouth of the Niagara River in order to raise the level of Lake Erie and thereby improving all the ports on that lake, has for some years been urged by shipping interests in the United States, but the International Waterways Commission, which has had the matter under consideration, has come to the conclusion that such a dam would do more harm than good.

In its report the commission declares that the effect of constructing a dam at the point named would be to raise the low water stages of Lake Erie about one foot, those of Lake St. Clair 0.61 foot, and of Lakes Michigan and Huron about 0.27 foot, but the high water stage would not be at all affected. These are all the advantages that could be expected from the carrying out of the proposed work.

On the other hand the commission finds that a dam would increase the oscillations in Lake Ontario by five and a half inches—that is to say, low water would be made lower by about four and a half inches. The effect of this would be to reduce the levels in the St. Lawrence canals by about 7.66 inches. This would be detrimental to navigation. It is pointed out in the report that in weighing these advantages and disadvantages, it is to be remembered that the persons who are to benefit by the former are not identical with those who are to suffer by the latter.

If the advantages and disadvantages could be equally distributed, the commissioners are inclined to think that the former would outweigh the latter, and that the expediency of the undertaking would be a question of cost. They believe, however, that the advantages to be gained are not of such an overwhelming character as to justify the undertaking with its inevitable and often damaging effects.

MORMONS AT LARGE.

There is nothing to prevent a man from practising polygamy if he marries all his wives in different countries. At least that seems to be the meaning of a decision given the other day by a judge in Toronto, who held that a man was not guilty of bigamy although he had two wives living, one of whom he had married in Ontario and the other in the States.

ANOTHER BRIDGE

Over the Niagara to Mark the Century of Peace.

Toronto, Oct. 11. It is proposed to build another bridge over the Niagara River to mark in a befitting manner the century of peace between Great Britain and Canada.

The consul-general of the United States at Ottawa suggests that the century of peace between Great Britain and the United States be marked by a bridge over the Niagara River. The Buffalo Express says that the Niagara Gorge is already well bridged, and asks whether a new bridge would mean any more than the old ones. Mr. Anson A. Gard of Buffalo, well known in Toronto, answers the Express thusly:

"The gorge," say you, "is already well bridged." London has many bridges, but to the world there is but one, "London Bridge." There might be a dozen bridges spanning the Niagara gorge and yet the citizen of some distant part of our country not know of one of them. But one commemorative of "a century of peace," built by two great peoples, would carry with it so much of genuine sentiment—lasting sentiment—that it would stand out and alone. Our consul-general at Ottawa is right. No one should question that some great thing should be erected to mark the century of peace, and what so fitting as a bridge of peace?

It ought to be possible to make the bridge and its approaches so distinctive as to suggest and illustrate the idea of peace. It could be made a conspicuous and enduring monument, and as Mr. Gard points out it would have the advantage of being in two countries. It is for those who oppose the bridge proposal to suggest something better. It is now time for the representatives of the two countries to get together and arrange for a fitting celebration of one of the landmarks of the world's history.

DEVELOPMENT OF CANADA.

Great Strides Being Made By This Country.

If you want to get a close line on the development of Canada you cannot do better than to study the annual statement of the Canadian Pacific Ry. Company, just recently issued. No business barometer can be more accurate in the recording of ebb and tide of commercial, manufacturing and agricultural prosperity from this report, touching as it does in its ramifications every part of the Dominion from the extreme west to the extreme east.

As indicating the forward movement in western settlement, it is shown that during the year 950 acres of the company's agricultural land holdings were sold at an average of $14.84 an acre. Add to this the lands secured by settlers from the government along with those passing from private holders to newcomers, and it must be evident that the vacant spaces are filling up fast in the west. And yet little more than the fringe of Canada's land heritage in the west has so far been touched, there being still millions of acres of good arable soil waiting for the coming of the pioneer.

During the year the C.P.R. carried about two million more passengers than were carried in the previous year, and there was a jump of over four million tons in the amount of freight handled. These figures speak for both east and west, and prove conclusively that the talk about Canada's development is something more than mere empty boasting. The people and the goods are back of the railroad's figures, and without them such a record as has been shown by the C.P.R. for this year would have been impossible. This surely is Canada's growing time, and it is difficult to see how there can be any checking of the pace for many years to come.

RAILWAY REGULATIONS.

Although there was little novelty in the railways' presentation of their case for the advance of their rates, there was much that was novel in the shippers' contentions. It Chicago it was testified by one railway that forty million dollars of earnings had been put back into the property. In this city it was testified that some thirty-five millions of dollars of earnings had been expended upon the new Pennsylvania terminal. This was in accord with the formerly approved rule of practice by the best roads—"a dollar for dividends and a dollar for betterments. It was this principle of plowing the earnings back into the property which has kept down the capitalization of American railways at the same time that their rates have not risen with other prices for services and goods.

On this formerly approved principle the shippers' consel joined issue, taking their cue, it must be admitted, from certain rulings of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. These improvements made from earnings were regarded as grievances, and in themselves a proof of extortion. It was asserted as a right that the roads should reduce their rates by whatever sums of earnings they have been accustomed to devote to improvements. Even the misfortunes of the railways were imputed to them for a fault. For example, it was alleged that because one road had lost large sums by equipment frauds, and had prospered nevertheless, therefore it had overcharged by the amount it had lost by embezzlement, and should be held to reduce its rates by the amount of its losses. The broad position of those assuming to act for the general public is that the railways should be allowed to charge no more than would just prevent their setting up a defence of confiscation. And, in estimating the permissible income the railways are held by these spokesmen to be entitled to no more than a reasonable income upon the amount of their own funds which they have devoted to the public use.

These gentlemen seem in some danger of winning a battle and losing a campaign. It is conceivable that they may prevent an advance in rates, and come to regret the consequent lack of vitality in the railways. American roads are far from having attained their growth. They are in need not only of income enough to sustain their life but to optimulate their growth. There is a certain justice in having the funds necessary for their growth contributed by those whose patronage of the railroads is a source of profit, rather than by the general public whose gain from the railways is less direct. If the railways are held to capitalize their betterments, and must borrow the money, interest must be paid on the money borrowed, and the rates must be adequate to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund for the establishment of the debt. As interest and sinking fund must come from earnings, it would seem to come to the same thing in the end.

Whatever the merit of this argument on either side, it is plain that a new light is thrown upon what is thought to be regulation of rates. Heretofore it has been thought that the function of government was merely to assure that rates were reasonable and just, that is, neither extortionate nor discriminatory, toward either persons or places. If the position assumed on behalf of shippers is sustained there is no detail of the management of the railroads too trivial for examination and control. It is not enough for the railways to sustain their claim that they need more money. They cannot justify on totals, but must prove in detail just how much they want for terminals, just how much they want for wages, how much for interest, and so on indefinitely.

The railroads plead that they cannot do it, and that nobody could. However that may be, it is evident that the success of the contention would establish a new definition of railway regulation, and one not in accord with the present law.—New York Times, Sept. 19th, 1910.

Mr. Colclough, a university student was in the city Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Colclough is on a lecturing tour in the interests of the Upper Canada Bible Society. He assisted at the services in All Saints' church last evening.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

First Offering

Atlanta Oil Company

Capital Stock $600.000---Par Value $1.00

No Preferred Stock. No Bonus or Free Stock. No Bonded Indebtedness. Lease Runs 40 Years. All Stock in Treasury for Development. Incorporated Under Laws of State of California. One-Fifth Royalty. Benefit of Holders.

100 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Creek, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 3c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are crying for the crude. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 16th, 1911.

ADVANCES TO 30c AUGUST 30th.

ROOSEVELT ON TARIFF.

Says He Had Nothing to Do With Drawn-up Platform.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt got here at eight o'clock this morning after a 27-hour trip from Atlanta. He is to stay here until 5.30 o'clock, when he leaves for St. Louis, for a twenty-four hour stop. Col. Roosevelt reiterated, in a talk on the train this morning as it neared Hot Springs, the declaration he made at Atlanta on Saturday night, that he was not to be held accountable for the tariff plank in the Saratoga platform.

"I have already made my attitude with respect to the tariff known in my western speeches and in those at Saratoga and Syracuse," said the ex-president. "The Saratoga plank was not of my making. I have not changed my position on the tariff."

The ex-president, it was reported this morning would come out in his speech at Indianapolis next Thursday with a severe arraignment of the Payne-Aldrich law. His Indianapolis speech will be an effort to help along the candidacy of United States Senator Beveridge. John Kern who is opposing Beveridge, has stated on the stump that Roosevelt has straddled the tariff question by proclaiming himself as against it in the West and for it in the East through the Saratoga convention plank. The ex-president would not tell how he proposed to handle the tariff question until he gets to Indiana.

"Wait till we are there," quoth the colonel.

If Col. Roosevelt attacks the Payne-Aldrich tariff law in Indiana, it is suggested here that he will find himself in an embarrassing situation when he gets back to New York State to take up the fight for Henry L. Stimson, his candidate for governor.

Col. Roosevelt refused to comment today upon the action of the Indiana Democrats in getting Colonel Wm. J. Bryan to stump Indiana in the trail of the African hunter. Colonel Bryan is to be one day behind Col. Roosevelt, and according to word that has reached the Roosevelt special train, he is to attack Mr. Roosevelt for his attitude with respect to the tariff expressed in the Saratoga platform.

Receives Great Praise.

The roadbed and general conditions both in operating and service on the GrandTrunk Pacific Railway between Winnipeg and Edmonton is coming in for great praise from patrons who have gone over the road.

At the general offices at Montreal a letter was received from a Professor of one of the prominent Collegiate Institutes in the west which reads as follows:

"On my recent trip in the West I travelledover the Grand Trunk Pacific between Saskatoon and Winnipeg. It was myfirst trip over this road, and must say I was surprised to find the roadbed in such excellent condition. It seemed like travelling in one of the old main lines in the east. The dining and sleeping car service was first-class in every particular, and I found the train officials courteous and obliging. Passengers whom I met were unstinted in their praise of the road and its appointments."

A QUAINT OLD TAVERN

The Old Cheshire Cheese, in the Heart of London.

SERVES A FAMOUS PUDDING.

A Noble Pastry It Is, and It Was Sampled by Such Men as Gladstone, Dickens, Thackeray, Tennyson, Trollope and Whistler.

Nearly all Americans when they go to London make it a point to visit that quaint old tavern in the heart of the newspaper and printing business, the Old Cheshire Cheese, to partake of its famous pudding.

It is the Londoner's delight when he gets back to Fleet street to make a rush for the pudding, and it is almost the last thing he eats before leaving it. Travelers in the Sahara have seen mirages of that pudding, and during the Boer war the men shut up in Ladysmith and Mafeking dreamed of it at regular intervals.

Precisely at 1 o'clock p. m. Tom conveys the pudding from the first to the main floor. It is a big pudding, and the price of it is just 2 shillings—that is to say, a feed of it is 2 shillings, as much as you please, as many shares as you ask for, cut and come again, all for 48 cents of American coin. Cheap, aye, and, oh, how good it is! It is worth crossing the Atlantic to get a sniff of it, and the aroma lingers in the memory for many a day.

Big? The dimensions are Falstaffian. It is a round earthen vessel something more than two dozen inches deep, with a diameter of about eighteen inches. A noble pastry, my masters!

When it is placed upon the service table an elliptical white crust meets the hungry gaze. Tom and his myrmidons take their places in front facing the host, who, knife and spoon in hand, poses with gentle dignity and benignant mien. It is a moment of solemn thought when every man hopes that his portion will be larger than his friend's and that he will be blessed with an abundance of gravy. But they ought from years of acquaintance with the host to understand that his hand is as steady as his judgment is impartial.

No more and nothing better for one than for another. He waves his weapons, and the first onslaught is made. The room is full of a delicious steam-bearing with it the concentrated essences of ambrosial substances. The guests sniff it up and murmur choice blessings on the cook, the original inventor, the house and the host. It is a time when men feel good, one toward the other.

One smell of that pudding makes the whole world kin. This famous pudding, which has tickled the palates of thousands, is thus compounded:

A crust of flour, water and suet.
Beefsteak.
Sheep's kidneys.
Larks.
Mushrooms (freshly gathered).
Oysters.
Stock.
Pepper and salt.

But it is the boiling that does it. For at least twelve hours this heaven sent pudding is kept slowly simmering in an immense copper specially constructed for the purpose. It must not boil quickly, but the same temperature be kept up the whole period. The steak assumes a juicy tenderness; the larks—not sparrows, as some malignant spirit has suggested, although sparrow pudding is not to be despised—are seethed to the bone, and you can chew up each little songster without an effort; the kidneys are soft and mushy and offer no resistance to the digestive organs, and the oysters, despite their lengthened cooking, are not leathery. The amalgamation and assimilation of the variety of constituents are perfect; the result is bliss.

There is a story told of one eminent litterateur who had seven helpings of the pudding and still yearned for more, and there is another remarkable narrative of four men who ordered a pudding of the regulation size and finished it among them.

J. Pierpont Morgan praised the pudding, and Theodore Roosevelt was delighted with it. Lord Beaconsfield bestowed his approbation thereon, and Gladstone thought it far superior to his famous "three courses." Dickens, Thackeray, Meredith, Swinburne, Tennyson, Trollope, Whistler, Leighton, Sala, Phil May—all sorts of the best of men of their day have fed upon the pudding, and it no doubt helped to inspire their work.

Apparently any cook can fashion it, mix it, fix it, boil it. Let any cook try it. Lots of cooks have tried it, but the results have not been satisfactory. There was a man who once ran the Old Cheshire Cheese, and in his day the pudding first achieved its great fame. When he sold the old hostelry and took a house in the financial district he announced that the same pudding—the same in every respect—would be served every Saturday.

Many of the Chesser's old patrons came around to celebrate. There was the size, but the aroma was wanting; there were the identical materials, but the flavor was not in them. It was not the same, not a bit of it. There was something missing. It may have been the shades of the departed great ones of a bygone time. And so it is that today the famous dish of the Old Cheshire Cheese tastes as of old, and its devotees cannot be seduced by any designing invitation based upon "just as good" simply because there is nothing just as good.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. Patrick Costello's Death.

Yesterday morning Patrick Costello, well known to many local citizens, passed away in the House of Providence, aged eighty years. The deceased is survived by two brothers, Michael of Ennismore, and John of Minnesota. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning to St. Martin's church, Ennismore, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

A Suggestion re Oil Wells.

Yesterday afternoon a leading local legal luminary perpetrated a joke. Men were filling carts with the oil soaked scrapings of George street. This well known lawyer, who is equally well known in another, but kindred position, remarked to a Times representative "Are these men taking that smelly, oil saturated stuff down to where they are borin' stuff down to where they are boring for oil? It must be as good for 'salting' an oil well as where prospectors shoot gold dust on to rocks that they intend to sell for a gold mine."

A Local Option Case.

County Magistrate Edmison will go to Norwood on Monday to hear the evidence in a charge which has been laid against Larry Kilorne, the proprietor of a hotel in that place, by License Inspector Elias Williams, of selling liquor in a local option district.

Things Booming at the "Y."

Things seem, to, use a slang expression, "to be doing at the 'Y.'" New men are being enrolled at every class held there. There were almost one hundred on the gymnasium floor. The intermediate class have emblazoned on their banner the motto "The Biggest and Best," and it looks as though they will uphold the title. The business boys are making excellent progress under the leadership of Mr. Galley. The senior class held a splendid meeting last night.

Mr. Munro Succeeds Mr. Larmonth.

Some weeks ago The Times noted that Mr. J. H. Larmonth, who for the past few years has filled the position of managing director of the Peterborough Light & Power Company, and the Peterborough Radial Railway Company, is leaving the city to engage in larger interests of electrical power concern. It is now announced that Mr. W. H. Munro will succeed Mr. Larmonth as local manager of the above noted interests. Mr. Munro, is a Peterborough boy, who has come home after an absence of some years, having been engaged for the last six years in electrical and hydraulic power work.

Rev. Canon Tucker Appreciated.

The impression made by Rev. Canon Tucker in his address before the immense audience in St. Paul's church will be lasting in the minds of those who had the privilege of hearing him. Yesterday many flattering remarks concerning this talented speaker were to be heard in the streets. The needs of Japan, of China, of India, of Darkest Africa, as told by Canon Tucker, thrilled all with their enormity. "And yet, said he, "we come across men in the twentieth century who claim to be intelligent, and who say that they do not believe in missions. If there is one command above all others laid upon us by God it is this, 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel.'"

The J. J. Turner Band.

Few local weddings for many a day, have attracted as much general attention as did that of Mr. Weber Turner yesterday. The big factory with both filial and paternal propriety was decorated for the occasion. A huge brand new Union Jack proudly flew at the mast head above the building, and beneath were a multiplicity of smaller flags. The employes of the factory organized an unique demonstration. They formed a band that had Sousa beat a million miles for originality and diversity of tune. The band procured a rig specially for the occasion, and, whilst the symphony of their playing might not excel that of an English regiment in originality, its playing was superb. In front of Victoria Park, Mr. R. M. Roy took a photograph of the band that, when presented to the public this morning will doubtless prove an interesting souvenir of the nuptials of one of Peterborough's best known younger manufacturers.

Mr. Sam Baker, the Water street barber, has had the luck to catch a 15-pound lunge in Little Lake.

In Peterborough, the city run by water power, its sounds good to hear that good old hymn in which the words "Angels to beckon us," are used. Berlin, Ont., however, yesterday, thought more of "Beck(on) the push button," which turned power to that prosperous little town.

His Lordship Bishop Archambault of Joliette, is quoted as saying that "Freemasonry neither admits the idea of religion or of God." While this prelate of high degree and extensive education, doubtless is thoroughly informed on all points of Church doctrine, he will undoubtedly be contradicted in the matter by those acquainted with the teachings and principles of Masonry.

Mrs. (Dr.) E. V. Frederick, George street, will receive during the fall and winter on the second Thursday of each month.

Mrs. R. A. McKee nee Miss Ethel Sawyer) will receive for the first time since her marriage on Friday afternoon and evening, October 14th, at her home, 197 Dublin street.

As testifying to the popularity of Mr. Webber Turner, of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, it might be mentioned that the employes of their factory presented this young man with an address and some handsome pieces of furniture on the eve of the latter's marriage.

The "Arabian Nights."

The collection of tales called the "Thousand and One Nights," or the "Arabian Nights," is of unknown date and authorship. It was first made known in Europe about the end of the seventeenth century by Antoine Galland, who was employed by Colbert to collect manuscripts in the east. The copy of the Arabic manuscript brought by Galland from Syria contained a marginal note dated 1584, and from internal evidence the middle of the fifteenth century has been fixed upon as the probable period of the composition of the work. Some of the tales were evidently borrowed by the writer from other authors, and Von Hammer identifies, at least the plot and some of the stories of the "Arabian Nights" with an earlier collection in Persian called the "Thousand Fanciful Stories."

April Fooling.

The origin of the custom of April fooling cannot be traced with any degree of certainty. In the literature of the last century there are found many references to it, and yet beyond that it is scarcely possible to go. One suggestion is that the custom of playing tricks on the first day of April was derived from some ancient pagan custom, such as the Hull festival among the Hindoos or the Roman feast of the fools. One fact, however, we do know, and that is that the practice prevails in many countries under various names which would seem to indicate that it dates away back to the early history of the race.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Four Extremes.

The coldest place on earth inhabited by man is Verkhoyansk, above the arctic circle, in northeastern Siberia. The thermometer there drops to 90 degrees below zero in January, but sometimes rises to 86 degrees above zero in the shade in July, dropping, however, to the freezing point on the warmest summer nights. The hottest place in the world is the interior of the great Sahara desert, in Africa, where the thermometer rises to 122 degrees. The wettest place is Greytown, Nicaragua, where the mean annual rainfall is 240 inches. The place of least rain is Port Nolloth, in South Africa, where less than an inch sometimes falls in a year.

All For Love.

"Did you ever know a girl to die for love?"

"Yes."

"Did she just fade away and die because some man deserted her?"

"No; she just took in washing and worked herself to death because the man she loved married her."—Houston Post.

Footnote to the News.

"I see," remarked Mrs. Boomis, who was reading the evening paper aloud because her husband's eyes were tired, "that boots and shoes are going up."

"I wonder," said Mr. Boomis thoughtfully, "if all shoes will be affected. Do you suppose, for instance, that low shoes will be higher?"—Youth's Companion.

DESPATCHING CIRCUITS.

Grand Trunk Have Placed in Commission Two Telephone Train Despatching Circuits.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have recently placed in commission on their northern division, two telephone train despatching circuits as follows.—One circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction via Allandale, a distance of 145 miles, and another circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, a distance of 165 miles. Train despatchers on each of these circuits are located at Allandale.

On the circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction there are twenty-one way stations, and on the circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, twenty way stations. These circuits are constructed of No. 9 guage hard drawn copper wire, transposed at intervals of every half mile through the open country and as much more frequent as it is necessary in the vicinity of high voltage power lines in order to avoid inductive influences and to render the telephone circuits absolutely quiet. The station equipment is of the latest and most perfect type on the market and consists of a swinging arm transmitter and head band receiver for each way station, thus giving the operator the free use of his head, hands and body while using the telephone; the apparatus is swung to one side out of the way while not in use. The train despatching office is equipped with a selector system for calling offices and the duration of the ring in each way station is controlled by the despatcher, who plainly hears the ring through his receiver. Any office on the line can be signalled within eight seconds and as the signal bell in each office consists of a four inch gong there is little doubt but what the operator will hear his call even though outside of the office and at a distance from it. The despatcher has absolute control of the circuits and way stations must obtain his co-operation when desiring to communicate with one another.

The telephone is considered as being superior to the telegraph as a medium for despatching trains both as a factor of safety and a saving of time. By telephone each station and and numeral is first pronounced and then spelled out letter by letter by the despatcher for verification when an order is issued, and repeated in like manner by the receiving operator; while by telegraph stations and numerals can only be spelled out in Morse characters.

During the past three years the telephone has made rapid strides on trunk line railways in the United States and Canada, for train despatching purposes and today over thirty thousand miles of railway is being so despatched. While the expense for constructing and equiping telephone circuits, greatly exceeds that of constructing telegraph lines the railways have obtained so much better results with the telephone that they feel justified in spending the money.

We understand that it is the intention of the Grand Trunk Railway System to extend the use of the telephone over its more important lines in the near future.

The new system has met with the immediate favor of the despatchers and operators, the transmission being so excellent that the work is transacted in fully fifty per cent less time and in a more personal and satisfactory manner, than is possible with the telegraph.

YOUNG MAN WAS BURNED TO DEATH

AN ENGLISHMAN NAMED EPPISON, SLEEPING IN CARRIAGE SHED LOSES HIS LIFE.

13 Horses are Also Lost—Damage by Early-Morning London Fire Will Reach About $25,000.

London, Ont., Oct. 13.—William J. Eppison, a young Englishman, recently arrived, was burned to death this morning in the most destructive fire London has had for some time.

The fire was discovered at 2.15 in McAdam and Ferguson's livery barn. The whole structure was then a mass of flames, which spread rapidly to adjoining barns and to Smith's cigar factory, which the firemen by the hardest of work, saved.

Young Eppison was sleeping upstairs in the carriage shed. Thirteen fine horses were burned to death in the barns.

The origion of the fir is unknown. The loss will be about $25,000.

Eppison's body has been recovered. It is apparent that he made desperate efforts to escape. His trousers and coat lay across his arm, and he had fallen in a heap overcome by the smoke.

CALL THE STRIKE AN INSURRECTION.

French Premier Does not Mince Words in His Denunciation—

Paris, Oct. 13.—Premier Briand, this afternoon issued a public statement denouncing the leaders of the French railway strike. He denounced the strike as an insurrection, built upon criminal foundations and aimed at the permanency of a governmental institution. The premier admitted that he and Minister Millerand had been acting as intermediaries between the railroad employes and the companies, when hotheads precipitated the break and violence followed.

Tourists in Trouble.

Boulogne, Germany, Oct. 12.—This city and other points upon the frontier are crowded with tourists unable to proceed into France because of the great railway strike.

Huntsville, Oct. 13.—Thos. Spiers was fined $10 by the magistrate here yesterday for tarring and feathering a young man named Baker, who works in a lumber camp near by and who had been keeping company with a daughter of Spiers. Baker admitted to the court that he had betrayed the girl. The father had become so enraged at learning this that he waylaid the young man one night, tied his hands, marched him to the Spiers house and applied the warm tar to his face, hair and clothes. Baker was too terrified to resist or make fight. He said yesterday that [illegible] and the magistrate stipulated that they should be married today.

Shortly after arriving in Sherbrooke he married a Miss Charest, giving out that he was a single man. Wife No. 1 arrived in town yesterday and through the efforts of the police located her husband. (Special to The Times.)

Rome, Oct. 13.—The Catholic press protests against the decision of the Italian Cabinet denying the expelled Portuguese orders the right to settle in Italy. Harry Huffman Hurt in Local Factory by Elevator.

Whilst Harry Huffman of Bolivar street, was yesterday morning at work in the B. F. Ackerman saddlery factory, in the new extension, near the top of the elevator, some one started the "lift," with the result that the trapdoor at the top was quickly thrown back, catching Mr. Huffman in between it and the wall, severely hurting him. The young man was removed to his home and medical aid was at once summoned. His chest and stomach were crushed, causing severe pain. It is hoped that no internal injuries were sustained.

WIFE MURDERER TO PAY PENALTY

RUFUS WEEDMARK IS SENTENCED TO HANG ON THE 14TH OF DECEMBER.

Weedmark Found Guilty—Went Into Box and Said He Had Been Drinking and Was Irresponsible.

Perth, Ont., Oct. 13.—The jury in the case of Rufus Weedmark, charged with the murder of his wife, Katherine, in his home at Smith's Falls on April 30th, after forty minutes deliberation, returned a verdict of murder and Weedmarck was thereupon sentenced by Chancellor Boyd to be hanged on Dec. 14. Weedmark received the verdict and the sentence without any visible show of emotion. The line of defence was that the prisoner had been drinking heavily, and had been provoked by his wife.

Weedmark took the stand in his own defence. He said he had been drinking heavily the night of the tragedy, but repudiated the statement that he had intended to do it. He did not, after grabbing his wife, realize what he was doing until his wife cried out. He was then sorry for what he had done.

In answer, the judge, he said he was sorry for breaking up a good home.

Pall of Revolt Hangs Over Spain Drastic Military Precautions Taken

SPAIN IS MENACED BY REPUBLICANS AND SOCIALISTS ON FERRIER ANNIVERSARY.

Military is Aggressive.— Artillery Massed at Strategic Points—Day Dawns With Reports of Many Arrests.

Madrid, Oct. 13.—The pall of revolt which has hung over Spain today became more menacing than at any previous time as the Republicans Radicals and Socialists prepared to celebrate the first anniversary of the execution of Prof. Ferrer, who was put to death following the Barcelona outbreak last year as an inciter of anarchy.

Spain's drastic military precaution to stamp out revolt against Alfonso's throne were climaxed today. For a fortnight troops have been massed in the barracks of Barcelonia, Madrid, Valencia and other centers of discension. In Catalonia, the hotbed of agitation against the monarchy, Gen Weyler, the governor-general, who declared that he would stifle the first signs of rebellion in blood, was at the head of a great military force.

AN ARMED CAMP.

Not alone the cities but Spain in its entirety was an armed camp. The frontier and provincial districts were policed with soldiers. Artillery was massed at all strategic points. Soldiers with bayonetted guns and double rounds of ammunition in their bandoliers were used as police. The government's plan was to overawe the people by a tremendous military display.

MANY ARRESTS MADE.

The day dawned with reports of numerous arrests. From Catalonia came advices that many persons were seized for displaying Republican colors, and for gathering in the streets of the town.

The last order given by the war minister was to prevent crowds from gathering so to stop all speechmaking and destroy all Republican flags. Secret gatherings of anti-monarchists were forbidden as the worst form of lawlessness.

Today was the original day set by the anti-monarchist leaders for rebellion against the king. It was reported from Paris and London that emissaries of the Republicans had succeeded in negotiating loans from the same agency which had financed the Portuguese revolt and that vast quantities of arms and ammunition had been shipped into Spain on filibusters and distributed.

Premier Canalejas, whose shrewd diplomacy had been noted behind all of the king's recent acts, attempted to allay public feeling by a statement given out on the eve of "Ferrer Day." He said that the government made no objection to peaceful tributes paid to the memory of Prof. Ferrer, but that the occasion could be seized as an opportunity for violence and archistic display. The premier said that the government was prepared for any emergency, and that the ministry felt no fear over the outcome of events of the day.

THE BOBCAYGEON LOCKS ARE IN VERY BAD SHAPE.

The water is again very low in the river this year, says the Lindsay Post, and launches have to abandon their boat houses to keep afloat. The recent rain raised the water slightly, but not enough to make any material difference to navigation. The building of the Bobcaygeon dam last year was expected to keep the level of the water in Sturgeon Lake and Scugog river at a greater depth all year round, but now there are several other leaks. The locks will have to be built immediately as it is almost impossible to operate them in their present condition. Large volumes of water are leaking through all the time, and the gates have become warped, and extremely difficult to move. It is expected that the government will install a new lock in the near future, the erection of which will aid navigation in our river to a marked degree.

COL. ROOSEVELT A NEW APOSTLE OF DISCORD.

John A. Dix, Democratic Nominee for Governor of New York, Strikes Out.

Thomson, N.Y., Oct. 13.—Declaring that Theodore Roosevelt is new apostle of discord and dissention John A. Dix, in accepting the Democratic nomination for governor of New York State at his home here today asserted that the menace of new nationalism overshadowed all state questions and even aimed at the overthrow of some of the fundamental institutions of the nation.

"We have already had to our cost ample proof of his ability to disturb business, destroy values and create a condition of panic country wide in its evil effects," said Mr. Dix of Col. Roosevelt.

Teachers Convened Here Yesterday

Owing to the fact that the teachers of Peterborough, as those of other parts of Ontario, are engaged during the month of June, on preparing for examinations, the convention usually held then, were, this year opened yesterday in Assembly Hall of the local Collegiate Institute.

Miss Weir, president of the association in her address, described her trip to the 47th National Education Association, held last July at Boston, Mass., at which a great many Canadian teachers were present. As several of those taking part in the program were amongst the foremost educators of the Republic a condensed resume of their various addresses was most instructive and interesting.

The attention paid to the physical and moral well being of American school children, and the patriotic sprit displayed at all times throughout the convention in Boston were to be admired. The arrangements made by the various committees to make the stay of the visitors pleasant, were all that could be desired. Miss Weir's address was listened to with keen interest and was discussed by several of the teachers present.

The Nominating Committee for the present session was then named by the president.

Interesting and valuable papers on arithemetic were read by Messrs. Richardson, O'Brien, and Merreitt, under the following heads: (a) Cancellation; (b) Measures; (c) Some Difficulties. In connection with the treatment of the above subject blackboard demonstrations of the various phases of each were given, and a thorough discussion was held after each paper.

A joint meeting of the city and county teachers were held during the afternoon in the Normal school.

COUNTY TEACHERS.

The annual convention of the County Teachers' Association was opened yesterday morning in the Normal School, with a large attendance, representative of teachers from all parts of the country. President S. A. Smith son.

The session was opened with the reading of the aminutes and routine business, after which the president delivered his annual address.

An interesting address of the last annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association was given by Miss M. Ward, who contributed a complete but consise report of the work accomplished during the sessions.

Miss Jessie C. McRae gave a schol arly and interesting address on the subject, "The Value of Art in Public Schools."

Missionary Alliance Convention.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13—Delegates from many States have assembled in Atlanta, Ga., for the twelfth annual Southern conference of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Opening with a welcome demonstration tonight the proceedings will continue until October 23, on which date the convention will close with the annual missionary offering, which usually runs into thousands of dollars. Speakers of more than ordinary prominence in the religious world have been secured for the convention this year, among them are Rev. H. F. Senft, of Philadelphia, Dr. A. B. Simpson, of New York; Rev. W. N. Ruhl, of Thibet, and Rev. L. B. Compton, the well known mountain evangelist of North Carolina.

Arrange for Gettsburg Celebration.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—One of the greatest patriotic demonstrations ever held in the United States will take place in 1913 on the battlefield of Gettsburg, if the plans discussed at a preliminary meeting of the arrangements committee here today are carried out. The demonstration will be in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the great battle between the Union army under Gen. Meade and the Confederate forces under Gen. Lee. That the celebration of the semi-centennial will be truly national in its scope is already assured by the acceptance by nearly all States of the invitation to participate. Two Southern States, Georgia and North Carolina, were the first to respond to the invitation. It is expected that the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans will have the leading parts in arranging for the celebration and that virtually all the other patriotic organizations of the country will participate.

"CHURCH AND STATE."

Large Gathering Turned Out to Hear Mr. Burnham Speak on This Interesting Subject.

A meeting that proved most interesting and one of the largest ever addressed in Smith, was held on Wednesday evening when Mr. J. H. Burnham spoke on "State and Church." The speaker said that he was pleased to see that the management had taken every pains to remove "suspicion" from the occasion by inviting speakers from both political parties. It was too bad that some of them had not turned up. Some people, like some of our newspapers were getting afraid to call their souls their own. Such people did not deserve to have any souls. He paid a strong tribute to the Peterborough Morning Times in this relation and said "It was the one avenue of getting arguments on "ticklish" questions before the people of the city. The speaker said the question was not a religious question. The pope had made it a question of state. The papacy considered, as it freely stated, that Protestantism was almost dead, and it was devoting its immense power to the crushing out not of Protestantism but of the idea of the sovereignity of the people. He said it was no doubt irritating to Protestants to hear that they were not really married, but living in unholy and corrupt union, that their missionaries were "hyenas," that their religion was "soulless," etc., but they could stand that. When, however, the freedom of the people was attacked, when the sovereign power and will of the people was declared to be an intolerable condition of freedom, when the time was considered ripe for forcing us back to the old class system, it was time to take notice. The Church of Rome felt powerful enough now to move in the matter. Immense numbers of prominent and educated men had of recent years become Romanists. Rome was fighting the battle of the Church vs. the people, not of the Church vs. Protestantism. The recent decrees of his holiness made his position quite clear and definite. If the mass of the people did not fight their own battle for intellectual freedom the classes would not do it, for the classes are with Rome. It was to be hoped that right would not have to yield to might. Liberty looked doubly sweet when it appeared as it might have to be given up. The powerof the Church of Rome in Canada was greater than that of all other churches combined, and possibly of the State also.

Bishop Fallon Has Bomd That Will Startle Some One--Bi-lingual Schools

INTERVIEW HE HAD WITH PROV. SEC. HANNA WAS PUBLISHED IN PRESS.

The Bishop Is Compiling a Reply Which Will Be Ready for the Press In a Day or Two.

(Toronto Star.)

"I stand by and reiterate every word of the statement I made on the 22nd of September, the only statement which I have authorized to have published. On that occasion I stated that the assertions made in the public press that I am unfriendly to the French-Canadian people are false and malicious. I stand by that statement again today and reiterate every word of it, notwithstanding the publication of an interview that may have been had with me and the saying that I am opposed to the teaching of French or any other language in the Seperate or any other schools of my diocese."

BISHOP FALLON'S STATEMENT.

Such is the statement Right Rev. M. F. Fallon, Bishop of London, made to the Star this morning, replying to the publication of an interview Provincial Secretary Hanna had with Bishop Fallon. Mr. Hanna wrote a long letter to Dr. Pyne, giving an extended report of what he understood Bishop Fallon's stand on the teaching of French in this diocese is, and according to the letter Mr. Hanna understood the bishop to be opposed to the teaching of French.

Bishop Fallon is on a confirmation tour in the western end of his diocese, and the interview was had with him at St. Augustine over the long distance telephone.

THE INTERVIEW WITH HANNA.

"The Provincial secretary did have an interview with me some four and a half months ago. It took place at Sarnia, and this was how it was brought about. Rev. Father Kennedy, one of the pastors there, told me that Mr. Hanna was in town, and he asked me if he might request Mr. Hanna to call on me. I told him I would be pleased to have the Provincial secretary call, and from what Mr. Hanna told me he was equally pleased to see me. At least he told me so.

"The conversation we had lasted about half an hour, and the school topic took up most of the time. What transpired between us was by no means confidential, but it was not meant for publication. Whenever I want anything published I am quite capable of looking after it myself.

"At the present time I am engaged in drawing up a reply to the publication of that interview. It will take me some days yet to complete it, and when it is finished you will find that I stand by the statement made by me some weeks ago. I have certain data to make public and my reply will show without the slightest chance of being misunderstood how I stand on the subject. I might add that the reply will prove quite a surprise to some people, and will act considerably like a bomb.

"Pending that reply I might state that there is no hostility, but on the contrary there is absolutely friendliness to the French-Canadian people, their language, and their interests in my opposition to the bi-Angual school system and its results in my diocese."

POLITICAL METHODS.

"Do you care to express an opinon on the publication of what transpired between you and Mr. Hanna?" the Star enquired.

"Politics are politics, and when one is in the game one has to use the methods," the bishop replied. "I am not in the game so when I have anything to say I hit straight out.

"What do you think of Mr. Hanna's summing up of what was said by you?"

"I read the letter in the Devoir, but I have not yet seen the translations in the English papers. However I am not being fooled by Mr. Hanna.

"The letter was written by the Provincial secretary to Dr. Pyne. Whether the giving out of it was a piece of office robbery or of official treachery I don't know, but I will deal with it when I make the statement I am going to make at an early date, giving the facts to show the condition of public education under the bi-lingual system in the county of Essex and other parts of my diocese."

"According to a letter as published in the press Mr. Hanna is of the opinion that the stand you are taking is directly opposed to what you said in the statement you sent out," the Star remarked.

"I don't care what Mr. Hanna says. I am not being fooled. I know what I said to Mr. Hanna, and the opinions I expressed to him then do not in any way conflict with the statement I authorized to be made public. I'll attend to Mr. Hanna when I get the time."

The Star had considerable trouble in locating Bishop Fallon. A wire was sent to him at London, and the answer came back that he was out of town on a confirmation tour, but where no one seemed to know. It was thought that he was at Zurich, but a long distance message failed to reach him there. Then Wingham was tried, and there it was learned that he was in St. Augustine, where he was finally located.

Will Issue a Warrant for Sheldon's Arrest

Montreal, Oct. 13.—A warrant for the arrest of C. D. Sheldon, the absconding investment broker, will be an early development of the smashup of Sheldon's "blind pool" operations in Montreal.

The warrant will charge Sheldon with obtaining money by fraud. He will also be charged with being a fugutive from justice.

It develops that there was a plot behind Sheldon's disappearance.

Sheldon's offices were opened this morning at 9.00. A great crowd rushed for entrance, but few were admitted. At 9.35 business was declared in liquidation.

HE DID NOT COME.

Messrs. Wilks and Burnett, in the Merchants Bank building, are the liquidators in possession.

This morning's train from New York failed to bring back Sheldon to make good his promise that he would be here on Thursday to resume business and pay off his clients.

NO WORD FTOM FINANCIER.

The Sheldon staff reported for duty this morning in the expectation that Mr. Sheldon would appear. Like the creditors, they are apparently doomed to disappointment.

No word has been received from Sheldon.

"I am pleased to recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as the best thing I know of and safest remedy for coughs, colds and bronchial trouble," writes Mrs. L. B. Arnold, of Denver, Colo. "We have used it repeatedly and it has never failed to give relief." Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Men and Women Clamor for Money

Montreal, Oct. 13.—At noon today the promised time of Mr. Sheldon's return to his office, there was no Mr. Sheldon.

Wild rumors were running about Montreal all morning and it was really believed for a time that the investor had returned.

Detective Markey, of the local department thought he recognized Sheldon getting off the New York train. He shadowed him to the Queen's Hotel, where he had breakfast without registering. Before he had finished witnesses had been produced who knew Sheldon personally, who said it was the wrong man.

AVAILABLE ASSETS SEIZED.

Acting on an order from Judge Charbonneau, Mr. Burnett, who was yesterday appointed provisional guardian of the Sheldon property, Sheldon, himself being declared insolvent by the court, visited the investor's offices in the City and District Bank buildings, and seized all the available assets. These included the books of the firm, they will not be gone into or opened until ten days have elapsed. Several more writs of seizure have been taken out against the missing man, including one from P. F. Collier, the publisher, whose firm is suing him for a set of books he failed to pay for.

CROWDS IN CORRIDORS.

Crowds of women and men filled the corridors of the office building this morning. Every one was awaiting the return of Sheldon. The office doors were locked. At about 10 o'clock Mr. Burnett, the notary, with Mr. Burnside, Sheldon's office manager, appeared, unlocked the doors, slipped inside and closed them again.

There was a clamor for money by the excited throng. Shortly after wards they reappeared with a bundle of books, the sole assets of the Sheldon firm.

Sheldon's mail is very heavy this morning and Mr. Burnett has applied for autgority from the court to seize this also.

RAINY RIVER HOLOCAUST.

The loss of the Maine and the drowning of two officers and 272 men were made the pretexct for war with Spain. A substantially greater loss in lives and money is represented by the forest fires which have devastated the Minnesota border, and which have swept into Ontario. A far more righteous war than that of 1898 might be waged upon the persons and practices responsible for such conflagrations.

If railway engines, improperly equipped and carelessly cleaned or operated, are at the root of the trouble, the great corporations which own them should be brought smartly to time. If camping parties are shown to be in the habit of leaving smouldering fires behind them, examples should be made of the offenders which would serve as a warning in the future. If the number of fire rangers is insufficient, it should be augmented. If it lacks discipline, it should be organized. The great fire of October, 1910, cannot be prevented now. Nothing which the State and Provincial governments may do can recall to life the cartloads of dead bodies which have been dragged away from the place of Minnesota's desolation. The pitiful scenes, the agonies of the dying, the burning alive of helpless women and children, as well as men—these things are part of the past. It is for the governments concerned to say whether they shall be part of the future also.

If "an enemy had done this," the cry of vengeance would have been long and loud. But nations will suffer at their own hands injuries which, had the foe inflicted them, would have meant instant reprisals. There is a great war of peace to be fought, a war directed against the agencies of destruction which are depleting the continents' forests and leaving the homes of hundreds a heap of ruins.

The Vastness of India

For eighty years at least writers have endeavored to bring home to the outside world an knowledge of the vastness of India, but so far as can be perceived have failed. The average man, says the Fortnightly Review, reads what they say, learns up to their figures, tries to understand their descriptions, but fails, for all his labor, to realize what India is—a continent large as Europe west of the Vistula, and with 30,000,000 more people, fuller of ancient nations, of great cities, of varieties of civilization, of armies, nobilities, priesthoods, organizations of every conceivable purpose, from the spreading of great religions down to systematic murder. There are twice as many Bengalese as there are Frenchmen, the Hindostanee, properly so called, outnumber the whites in the United States; the Mahrattas would fill Spain; the people of the Punjab with Scinde are double the population of Turkey, and I have named four of the more salient divisions.

Everything is on the same bewildering scale. The fighting peoples of India, whose males are as big as ourselves and more regardless of death than ourselves, number at least 120,000,000, equal to Gibbon's calculation of the population of the Roman Empire. There are 400,000 trained brown soldiers in the native service, of whom we hear perhaps once in ten years, and 2,000,000 men who think that their proper profession is arms, who would live by arms if they could, and of whom we in England never hear a word. If the Prussian conscription were applied to India we should, without counting reserves or landwehr, or any force not summoned in time of peace, have 2,500,000 soldiers actually in barracks, with 500,000 recruits coming up every year, a force with which not only Asia but the whole world might be subdued. There are tens of millions of prosperous peasants whose hoardings make of India the grand abenbant of the precious metals—tens of millions of peasants beside whose poverty fellahs or Sicilians or Connaught men are rich; millions of artisans, ranging from men who build palaces to the men who, nearly naked and almost without tools, do the humblest work of the potter.

Every occupation which exists in Europe exists in India. The industry of the vast continent never ceases for India, with a population in places packed beyond European precedent, imports nothing either to eat or drink, and but for the Europeans would import nothing whatever. She is sufficient to herself for everything save silver. Amid these varied masses, these 250,000,000, whose varied descriptions would fill volumes, the tide of life flows as vigorously as in Europe. There is as much labor, as much contention, as much ambition, as much crime, as much variety of careers, hopes, fears and hatreds. It is still possible for a moneyless Indian to become Vizier of a dynasty older than history, or Finance Minister of a new Prince whose personal fortune in hard cash is double that of the late Emperor William, or abbott of a monastery richer than Glastonbury ever was, owner of an estate that covers a country, head of a firm whose transactions may be vie with those of the Barings or Bleichroders. One man, Jule Pershad by name, fed and transported the army which conquered the Punjab.

TOLD BY THE TEA.

Personal Character Indicated by the Kind One Drinks.

Did it ever occur to you that character could be told by the kind of tea one drinks? I have been selling tea for more than 25 years, writes a dealer, and during that time I have been also studying human nature. It has often come to my mind that the tea one drinks has an influence or is influenced by the traits of character of the drinker.

The users of the old reliable Chinese tea known as Oolong are generally of steady, even-minded ways, that know what is what and are satisfied with the substantial things of life and not much given to idle frivolities; people who can be depended on to do about what is right, to say what they mean and mean what they say. Those who use the Oolong with a little green mixed in it to tone it up can almost be put in the same class.

Those using the green teas known as Japanese or Gunpowder are not to be taken seriously; apt to be untruthful and hot-headed; people to be cautious of in all dealing.

English Breakfast seems to be favored by those who are never satisfied with anything—persons thick and unresponsive to favors, often injuring their best friends by their grouchiness.

Ceylon and India teas are affected by faddists, who are willing to drink most any kind if it is considered the proper caper, if it has the "they say" label; ready to change off to the next new brand that appears if they hear that "they say" it is the tea to drink.

The Young Hyson that our forefathers used almost exclusively, though not much used now in this section, is a sharp tea, and might be said to sharpen the tongues, if not the wits, of the users.

Those who do not use tea at all I would class as of a selfish disposition, not caring for the niceties or enjoyments of life nor looking with favor on those who do, a sort of "dog-in-the-manger" kind if people.

Curious Cossack Customs.

Many queer customs and usages are prevalent among the Cossacks of the Don. No man changes his clothing on a Monday. If he did it is believed that he would suffer from a severe skin disease. On Thursday no fat or flesh must be pickled or corned. If any one neglected this the meat would be full of worms in a fortnight. Wool is not spun on a holiday, else the cattle will sicken and die. A hen is always given an uneven number of eggs to hatch, never an even number. Bones left from a dinner at a funeral are thrown into the river, else the dead will appear to the living in fearful shape. And at the same meal no one dare cut bread. It must always be broken.

His Latest Request.

There is a clever lad who will get his living in this world. For playing truant maternal authority cut off his supper. Casting one fond look at the authoress of his existence, he paused at the door to say:

"Mother, I am going to die, and when I am no more I wish the doctor to cut me open and look at my stomach."

The maternal heart was filled with awful borebodings, and the maternal voice asked what he meant.

"I wish it to be known," he answered, "that I died of starvation."

This was enough. The small boy was triumphant and retired to his little bed gorged to repletion.

The Mississippi at St. Paul.

At St. Paul the Mississippi River is at its best as regards scenery. The approach to the city is made through stretches dotted with beautiful islands, and below this is a succession of bluffs that put the Hudson Palisades to shame. About St. Paul and between it and Minneapolis the banks are magnificent with wooded high shores, broken in places by Minnehaha Creek, where enters the river after tumbling over rocks, making Minnehaha falls. At another place it is entered by the Minnesota river. At the affluence of the rivers is situated Fort Snelling, the early Indian fort built in 1821, and now an army post.

Disillusionment.

When a person's dress and bearing are striking it is natural to expect that voice and conversation will be in keeping. Nevertheless it does not always turn out so.

A man standing on the street corner, waiting for his car, saw two very pretty and tastefully dressed girls approaching from opposite directions. Their smiling faces showed that they were acquaintances, and as they came nearer the observant man prepared to hear gracefully expressed greetings and well-bred tones of voice.

What he heard, in a chirping, bird-like treble, was this: "Wot you chawin', May?"

Unrecognized.

There came a knock at the door. The man of the house answered it.

"Good morning, sir," said the caller. "Don't you want"—

"I don't want anything!" snapped the man of the house, slamming the door in his face. "Ding these peddlers!"

It was a fatal mistake.

The stranger had come to make him an offer for his [illegible] lot, which he was trying to sell.

Opportunity [illegible] this door.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that although twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations were carried on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreement has been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Comon, Capital Crude, Hard Oil and Ambalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stand worth par. Mr. Cassell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL name $2.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 3c to 4c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within EIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 35 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. HUNTER ST., PETERBOROUGH

A Mighty Close Call

A Hunter's Fierce Combat With Three Bears.

The valleys and gulches of Montana are full of miners, and her mountains are the homes of many hunters. Each one of these takes his life in his hands every morning and is devoutly thankful—if he thinks of it at all—when night finds him with a whole skin and unbroken bones. It is an everyday occurrence for a miner to get smashed to smithereens, filled full of ugly holes from pistol balls or punctured with a bowie knife until his immortal soul can find a dozen or more loopholes of escape; while the hunter who goes through the season without a skirmish with a mountain lion or a rough-and-tumble fight with a bear or some other citizen of the wildwood, is not only particularly lucky, but is a rather scarce article. I have seen many phases of these vicissitudes in my year and a half of life in the mountains, but I have neither seen nor heard of anything in this line which for perilous result or singular and thrilling detail exceeded an adventure which happened a few weeks ago and of which I have just heard.

"Pete" Stambaugh is an old hunter whose Nimrodic blood leads him to the utmost fastnesses of the mountains every spring and keeps him there all summer. He knows every trick of woodcraft and every wild animal. Scars of claws and tooth are all over him, and he's proud of these trophies of battle. But Pete had some of the conceit taken out of him the other day along with so much blood that he simply couldn't have lost another ounce and lived to tell it.

It all came about through a couple of cub bears and a bee-tree.

Pete and his best crony, Sam Kellar, had been camped for some weeks at a point in the mountains about forty miles from here, alongside a convenient trout stream. One day Pete found a bee-tree a few hundred yards up the mountains. Next morning he took his axe and a couple of buckets and went after honey. On felling the tree it split open for some distance, disclosing a great store of sweetness. Pete made several trips to camp with filled buckets. By the middle of the afternoon he was tired, and when he had filled his buckets again he sat down for a rest. Presently he saw the horns of a deer above the underbrush a few hundred yards away. Hastily setting his buckets on top of a big bowlder, Pete caught up his Winchester and started after the deer. He followed it for some distance without getting a shot, and at last, when near sundown, reluctantly gave up the chase and returned for his honey, out of humor and hungry for supper. The bee-tree was on the opposite side of the stream from camp, so when he reached a point opposite the bee-tree he sat down his rifle against a tree, intending to cross over get the buckets, retrace his steps and go to camp. Without a thought of any presence but his own, he approached the bowlder, walked quickly around a jutting corner and stopped still in astonishment.

Right before him on top of the fallen tree, were two cub bears, intent on getting honey. Most of that which could be reached was gone, and the cubs were whining and growling at a great rate as they reached their paws inside and brought them out, sometimes empty, sometimes with chunks of honey and bees, which they ate impartially and with great gusto.

Pete cast one quick glance around. Of course, the chances were that the mother bear was not far off. Still, she was not in sight, and if he could only get them across the brook to his rifle he wouldn't care whether the mother came after him or not. Quick as a flash he grabbed up the nearest cub under his right arm, caught the other under his left arm and made for his rifle.

The cubs at once began to howl and struggle. That he expected and didn't care for. But before he had taken half a dozen steps they were answered by hoarse growls from the stream, and a few rods to his left. Evidently the mother had just gone down after a drink of water after a feast of honey, and she now came crashing through the thicket towards him. Just at this point the stream made a big bend, near the neck of which the bee-tree had stood. Right in the bend a young pine had been blown down so as to bridge the stream. The banks were steep lined with briers, and the bed was filled with rough jagged rocks. Pete did some quick thinking, and then he made for the pine, partly because he could cross it quicker than the stream itself and partly because he believed it would break down under the bear as she came after him, being partly rotten. The big end was next to him and extended perhaps twenty feet out on the bank, lying five or six feet above the ground, the stump being on the hill side.

Pete reached the bridge not more than two rods ahead of the bear, and began its passage. He skipped along nicely and would have got over safely, but just when half way from the stump to the stream he lost his footing—it had rained the night before, and the half-rotted bark was very slippery on the under side, and flaked off under his foot—and fell "kerslap" to the log on his stomach and was so balanced that for an instant he could not recover himself. As he fell the cub under his right arm slipped from his grasp, and figured no more in the proceedings. The other was pinned fast under Pete's body, and getting hold of his left hand, sunk its teeth in with all the strength of its jaws, growling like a little demon before Pete could do more than convulsively grab at the log with his right hand he was seized by the legs by the mother, who tried to draw him down to her. With a hunter's quick instinct he drew his knife and began slashing backwards with his right hand, while he tried with his left arm to hold on to the log.

It was a serious fix to be in, and Pete exerted all his strength to get his legs which were being clawed and chewed to pulp, out of the paws of the mother and his hand out of the jaws of the cub. By a sudden jerk he threw the latter from him, its body striking on the sharp point of a rock below breaking its back. Just as he was about get [illegible] legs up from the mother, he heard a tremendous roar, and looking up saw another bear, big and mad, evidently the head of the family on his hind legs, and coming full tilt toward him, his eyes fairly flashing fire, and his hot breath, heated by passing over his blood red tongue, striking Pete full in the face. The old hunter's heart came as nearly stopping as it ever will before it quits beating forever as he realized that he was looking death in the face at shorter range than ever before, and on a spot where, not a full minute before, there was nothing to suggest the least danger.

Before he could do more than lift his hand the second bear was upon him. Only for the fact that the bears were much lower than him, there would have been a very sudden ending of the affair. As it was, each was pulling against the other—one by the head the other by the feet. The blow from the second bear's paw took one half of Pete's coat and a big piece of one shoulder with it. Maddened by the pain and the undignified and helpless situation in which he found himself, Pete struck wildly at the beast's head, and scooped out an eye. That encouraged him and he struck again and again at the other one. Blow after blow was exchanged with the rapidity of lightning. Pete's scalp was gone, and he felt the blood running from a dozen wounds and blinding him. At last he felt his knife sink deep to the bone, and the bear gave a great roar of pain, and drew off. The instant he was released from the second bear's clutches he was jerked backward by the mother bear. As he fell he managed to whirl over, and the hold of the bear breaking he lit on his feet and faced her. Grasping his keen, sharp-pointed knife he prepared to sell his life as dearly as possible. Then bear and man were locked in a death struggle. Pete rained blow after blow upon the bear's body—it was no time to hunt for a vital spot. More than once the bear's teeth sank deep into his shoulder and tore out great chuncks of flesh. Around and around they fought until they fell down and rolled over and over toward the bank, until stopped by a bowlder. It was Pete's turn to be on top just then, and he gathered all his failing strength for one mighty blow. His knife sunk to the haft, but he hadn't strength to withdraw it. The bear's paws relaxed their hold; she lay quivering, and made no effort to rise or continue the fight. Pete could not see but he crawled to one side and waited for the onset of the father bear, whose fierce growls and struggles he heard a few feet off. He had only strength enough and sense enough left to know that he could offer no more resistance, and waited to be put out of his misery. Then he lost consciousness.

Kellar thought nothing of Pete's absence until long after night came. Then he knew something was wrong. By daylight next morning he was on the trail and soon found him. Pete and the mother bear lay a few feet apart, the latter dead, the knife in her heart and with twenty-six other stabs in her body and head. Pete was not quite dead, but he was so torn and mangled as to be barely worth patching. His left shoulder was almost gone, and the right one was badly bitten and the collar bone broken; his scalp was torn down over his face for nearly four inches, his slashed bloody skull making a ghastly showing; his left cheek was a mass of pulp from a blow of the wicked paws; half the flesh was torn from his legs below the knees, one bare knee-pan glistened in the morning light.

The right leg above ankle had been

Mrs. Duggan Hears From Her Son.

Some five years ago Mr. Anston Duggan, son of Mrs. Thos. Duggan, 730 Bethune street, left for the West. During these years his mother has received no word from her son, and has consequently worried greatly over his silence. Mr. and Mrs. Duggan advertised for him and made enquiries at Leicester, Washington, the last place where he had been heard of, with no results, and last Monday when Mrs. Duggan received a letter written by Arnston, on his 24th birthday, written in Seattle, Wash., expressing an earnest desire as to how his parents were getting on.

Many Bonfires of Leaves.

The almost bracing odor of burning leaves was overpowering in nearly every part of the city yesterday. There is a bylaw prohibiting bonfires; still if every citizen of Peterborough, who deliberately builds and starts a bonfire of fallen leaves, were fined there would be a cry reaching to the skies above and a consensus of condemnation against the city fathers who passed the bylaw.

Boy Scouts to Meet Tonight.

The Boy Scouts are requested by Mr. F. J. Neal, in command, to meet on the market square tonight at 7.30 o'clock sharp, and march to the armories to attend the band concert. All the scouts are asked to be on hand promptly. Mr. F. J. Neale, vice-principal of the Central school, has taken charge of the Boy Scouts, Mr. D. Oscar Waring having resigned.

Assault Case Off Till Monday.

At yesterday's session of the police court, Percy Dalton was charged with assaulting an old man named John Richardson. Mr. Richardson gave evidence stating that on the evening of Sunday last, on Concession street, Dalton called him names and struck him on the face twice. Mr. James Conroy testified that Richardson is in the habit of "chewing at the boys." Richardson asked witness to hold his coat and he (Richardson) would "wipe the street with any of the boys." Mr. Conroy said that boys bother the old man by throwing stones at his house. As some of the witnesses wanted were not present, the case was enlarged until Monday next.

Burned Child Progresses Favorably.

The little 5-year-old boy, Joseph Stinson, who, as noted in yesterdays issue was badly burned wailst playing in Ashburnham on Wednesday afternoon and, who is in St. Josephs Hospital, was reported last night as progressing favorably. It turns out fortunately that the child's face will not be disfigured, most of the burns being on his chest and under the arm pits. The child owes not only his being saved from disfigurement, but possibly his life, to the prompt action of Messrs. Collins, Hogan and McKone.

CANADA'S FAMOUS FOOTBALL TRAINER.

Gives His Opinion of Zam-Buk.

Mr. Sim Vaughan, trainer of the Hamilton Tigers Football Team, and admittedly one of Canada's finest trainers, is amongst those who have proved how useful Zam-Buk is to the athlete, as well as in the home. He says: "I hold Zam-Buk in the very highest esteem as a balm and embrocation for athletes. As trainer to the famous Tigers Football Team of Hamilton, I introduced it some time back, and it would be safe to say that there is not one single member of the team who has not been indebted to Zam-Buk for the cure of some bad bruise, cut or sprain. Zam-Buk prevents wounds 'taking the wrong way' and ensures rapid and healthy healing.

"Many of the ordinary preparations cause hard encrustations to form on a wound or cut, and when these get knocked off, the wound is worse than ever. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, while healing a wound keeps the tissue soft.

"In my estimation it is the finest healing balm obtainable; and no athletic institution or no athlete should be without it. I say this after over fifteen years experience as a trainer of athletes, and after experimenting with nearly all known embrocations. Zam-Buk is, without doubt, entirely superior."

Athletes should note that the above opinion is shared by such well-known sportsmen and athletes as Sherring, of Hamilton, Longboat, the All Blacks, of New Zealand, and all the leading football organizations of England. For sprains cuts and abrasions, for stiffness, muscular rheumatism, and as an all round embrocation and balm, Zam-Buk is—as Mr. Vaughan expresses it—"entirely superior." All druggists and stores at 50c box. Refuse imitations.

WILL STAND TRIAL.

Hugh Deline Will Appear on Charge of Murder at Fall Assizes.

Yesterday the busy little town of Havelock, was well filled by farmers and others, attracted by the impending trial of Hugh Deline, charged with having murdered his wife. The witnesses heard were Cora Parks, a sister of deceased, who told of how her sister was abused; also Mrs. Arthur Parks, Jas. Hillon and Coroner Kindred. Deline was brought here at noon by Constable Cochrane, but did not give evidence. Deline told Constable Bennett that he was not feeling too bad and liked to be out in the fresh air.

The prisoner, who was brought down on the noon train showed improvement in his general appearance since going to Peterborough jail.

Mrs. Samuel Newall, Mrs. Matthew Little and Mr. Wm. McMillan gave similar evidence as at the inquest. Mrs. Little said that when she examined the body of the dead woman cow manure was found on the left leg, which looked as though it was off a man's boot. She also saw a mark on the floor at Mrs. Deline's body which looked like the imprint of a knee, which led her to examine Deline's trousers, which bore similar stains to that on Mrs. Deline's clothing. Wm. McMillan also saw clots splattered on the floor. Mrs. McQuaig also gave very similar evidence.

The result of the investigation was that County Magistrate Edmison committed the prisoner for trial at the Fall Assizes, Oct. 26th.

A Mighty Close Call

chewed into stumps and the tibia was broken. His left hand was a mass of bloody flesh where the cub had chewed it. His clothes were simply rags and strings. The bear with both eyes entirely out, had managed to crawl a few yards up the hill and was lying quite still, but moaning in great pain. One cub, unhurt, was trying to get its natural breakfast from its dead mother; the other with its broken back, was lying by the bowlder where it had fallen the night before.

Three shots quickly finished old Pete's work, and Kellar then turned his attention to his partner. It was tough work, but he improvised a litter of boughs and vines and managed to drag Pete down to the shanty. Some time that day a doctor brought him back to life, and the tough old man, thanks to a good constitution and our bracing mountain air, is in a fair way to get around by Christmas.

But it was an almighty close call.

CANADIAN CROP.

Conditions of Crops in Canada Regarded as Good.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The Census Office publishes today a bulletin on the condition of the crops in Canada at the end of September. The reports show lower averages of condition for the whole of Canada than those of a year ago, but the reduction applies chiefly to the Northwest provinces. In the Eastern provinces a high per cent. is maintained for nearly all the crops, and quantity and quality are nearly as good as a year ago and better than two years ago. In Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta there is a drop of about 20 per cent. in the quality of grains and roots, but the threshings indicate that the yield will be larger for wheat, oats and barley than was promised at the end of August. For the whole of Canada the condition of rye at the end of September was 83.59, which is ten per cent. better than two years ago and 2.39 better than last year. Peas and beans are nearly eight per cent. lower in condition than a year ago, but nearly ten per cent. higher than in 1908. Buckwheat is about the same as last year and 12 per cent. better than in 1908, whilst mixed grains are better by five per cent. than last year and by 19.47 per cent. better than two years ago. Corn for husking compared for the three years 1910, 1909, and 1908 shows percentages of 85.12, 86.77 and 82, and corn for fodder of 89.82, 87.18 and 92 for the respective years. The condition of potatoes is 76.08 at the end of September compared with 90.37 last year, of turnips 82.09 to 83.34 and of sugar beets 83.13 to 71.02, whilst in 1908 their conditions ranged from 68 to 74. Alfalfa has a condition of 83.30 for the end of September, and it exceeds 90 in the Maritime Provinces and Ontario. In Quebec and the Northwest provinces it is not more than 70 per cent., and in British Columbia it is 88.33. All field grains in the province last named exceed 92 per cent. in quality.

The estimate yield of rye this year for Canada is 1,634,000 bushels of peas 6,444,500 bushels, of beans 1,089,600 bushels, of buckwheat 7,302,000 bushels, of mixed grains 20,103,000 bushels, of flax 4,314,000 bushels, and of corn for husking 17,682,000 bushels. The average bushels per acre for these crops is 19.43 for rye, 16.69 for peas, 20.4 for beans, 26.98 for buckwheat, 34.91 for mixed grains, 9.04 for flax and 53.82 for corn. Better averages for wheat, oats and barley are assured when the final returns are made in December than the reports for the end of August gave.

PEOPLE OF ESSEX Despatch Says They are on Point of Break IN A GREAT STATE A Strongly Worded Resolution Passed OF EXCITEMENT

A SENSATIONAL RAID IN NEW YORK

FIRM CHARGED WITH UNDERVALUATIONS OF OVER $1,00,000.

Both British Subjects—Will International Complications Follow Arrest of the Duveens—Proceedings an Outrage.

New York, Oct. 13.—International complications are likely to result from the arrest of Benjamin and Henry J. Duveen, the biggest art dealers and importers in America, it was declared today by counsel for the two men.

Both are British subjects and the intimation was made that an appeal may be made to their government to demand a thorough investigation of the sensational raid on the firm's establishment this city. The Duveens are charged with undervaluations amounting to more than $1,000,000.

A POWERFUL FAMILY.

"All of the members of the Duveen family are British subjects. Henry J. Duveen, the head of the firm being a brother of the late Sir Joseph Duveen, and an uncle of the four younger men who comprise the rest of the firm," said Walter T. Steam, one of the legal representatives of the Duveen Art Company. "The fact of their citizenship may surprise some of the readers, for the British Government has a habit of looking after their subjects in other countries. There will be many surprises.

WILL CONTINUE BUSINESS.

"The seizure of books, safes and of the store itself and the sensational arrest of Benjamin Duveen and the night raid on the Lusitania were also untimely, so ill-advised and so unfair as to be simply outrageous, and it will doubtless attract international attention. However the concern will open and continue business despite the grabbing of its books provided the fourth amendment to the legislation of the United States is in force.

FORBIDDEN FRUIT.

Men Blacklisted Fined for Procuring and Using Liquor.

At yesterday's session of the police court, Manly Smith was charged with having been drunk, although on the "blacklist." He pleaded guilty, and said that he was at an Ashburnham hotel, when a man came along and he (Smith) asked him if he ever indulged. Being answered emphatically in the affirmative, Smith gave him a dollar and told him to get a bottle. His friend procured the spirits and the two men went into an alleyway and had a few drinks. Smith then took what was left in the bottle home with him. Unfortunately (?) for him intelligence of his fall from virtue got abroad, and, hence the trial. Smith was fined $12.60 and given ten days to procure the coin.

Another blacklisted man, Harry Mitchell was accused of worshipping too ardently at the shrine of Bacchus. He admitted the soft impeachment. He and another man were at the shop of a local carriage painter. He gave the painter $10 for his work and gave another $1 to get a bottle which resulted in both the painter and Mitchell contributing $12.60 for their worship of King Alcohol.

Lord Lovat Takes a Bride.

(Special to The Times.)

London, Oct. 15.—Quite the most fashionable wedding of the season so far was that of today in which Miss Laura Lister, youngest daughter of Lord Ribblesdale and a niece of Prime Minister Asquith, will become the bride of Lord Lovat, the chief of the ancient and important Scottish clan of Fraser. The ceremony will be performed at St. Margaret's, Westminster, and will be followed by a large reception at the Downing street home of Prime Minister Asquith.

Rumored That Bishop Fallon Has Been Summoned to the Vatican

PUBLICATION OF HANNA-PYNE LETTER HAS STIRRED UP INTENSE FEELING.

About 700 French-Canadians, Including Priests, Pass a Resolution of Protest Against Any Action of Bishop Fallon to Interfere with French Language.

London, Oct. 14.—It is rumored here today that Bishop Fallon has been summoned to Rome and that he will leave for the vatican next week.

Windsor, Oct. 14 The publication of the Hanna-Pyne letter has so stirred up intense feeling throughout the country where the French-Canadians form a large section of the population. The tension between the two languages in this county as revealed by the letter has been recognized for some time past. A short while ago nearly 700 French-Canadians, including several of the clergy met at Tecumseh and passed a strongly worded resolution of protest against any action on the part of Bishop Fallon that would exchange the teaching of English for French in anyt of the schools.

WAITING FOR OVERT ACT.

This meeting, it was claimed, was prohibited beforehand by Bishop Fallon, but ineffectually. Now they are waiting for what they call "some overt act" of the Bishop for the feeling to burst out into a bitter open struggle.

Hamilton, Oct. 14.— Very Rev. Mon. Mahoney, vicar-general of the Hamilton Diocese, said "I am positive Bishop Fallon has been misquoted in that part of the letter which refers to a meeting of the bishops having been held and there was no such meeting."

Kingston, Oct. 14.—"I have no information to give out on the subject," was the reply of his grace Archbishop Gauthier to a reporter regarding the Pyne-Hanna letter.

Bishop Fallon will be in Goderich on Sunday and is to issue a statement then with regard to the whole controversy.

Some Opinions of The Fallon Incident

IN WATERLOO COUNTY THE DUTCH ASK FOR NO SPECIAL FAVORS.

"Bishop Fallon is Right; More Power to His Elbow," Says Well Known Protestant Minister—The Bishop at Goderich on Sunday.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—"Bishop Fallon is right; more power to his elbow."

That is the way Rev. Dr. Bryon H. Stauffer, pastor of the Bond Street Congregation church, sizes up the stand taken by the Roman Catholic Bishop of London diocese on the question of bi-lingual teachings in the Public schools.

Bishop Fallon's diocese takes in the county of Essex, where is to be found a colony of Canadians of French ancestory, but where, according to the Bishop, small effort has been made to teach English in the Separate schools.

Dr. Stauffer comes from a county of Waterloo, their ancestors are Pennsylvania Dutch, induced out of deference to their loyalistic principles to migrate thither at the time of the American revolution.

But Dr Stauffer, in an interview with a press representative today, indicated the essential difference that now exists between the French Canadians of Essex and the Dutch Canadians of Waterloo.

A HOMOGENIOUS COUNTRY.

"Bishop Fallon and I," continued Dr. Stauffer, "can stand together on his present platform until the crack of doom. The only hope I have is that on the night of the 6th of October, the store of James Edgar, George street, was robbed, the thieves gaining an entrance through a window. A quantity of goods were stolen. At the time of the robbery the guilty parties hid the stolen stuff in the rear of the old City Hotel. A few days ago some men were making a few changes and came across the loot. While they were home at dinner, some person moved the stuff into a pit some distance to the rear. The men engaged on the alterations, notified the police and they found the goods. Chief Thompson set a watch on the hiding place, which resulted in the arrest of a young man named Sullivan yesterday. Sullivan denies having anything to do with the robbery, but the evidence is strongly against him. He will appear in the police court this morning.

WARRANT SWORN OUT FOR SHELDON

CHARGED WITH OBTAINING MONEY BY FRAUD—BUSINESS MANAGER LAYS THE INFORMATION.

Sending Out His Picture—Private Information Starts the Wheels of Justice—Frauds Alleged Since Last March.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—A warrant was sworn out at eleven o'clock this morning for the arrest of C. D. Sheldon, the missing financial investor.

It charges him with obtaining by fraud various sums of money from various people totalling in all about twenty five thousand dollars.

The information is laid by David Burnside, 221 Prince Arthur street, Sheldon's former business manager.

The warrant was signed by Hugo Lanctot and handed to High Constable St. Mars for service.

In his information Burnside alleges that the frauds have been going on since the fifteenth of March last.

Montreal, Oct. 14—If it is learned as is expected, even in police circles, that Sheldon has left the city, then the police of other cities will be notified that he is wanted. His picture, if one can be had, will be sent broad cast and information as to his where abouts will be requested. Should he be found in any of the cities advised of the matter a request will be made for his dentention.

An officer will then leave the city and on arrival at the place where the man might be held will begin the arrangements for the return of the prisoner. This will take some time.

Until private information was laid the wheels of justice were motionless.

In the meantime the whereabouts of Sheldon is unknown to the police.

Undeniable Proof of Canada's Benefits

Wharfage Advocated by Hon. J. R. Stratton and Supt. McClellan Brings Good Results.

On Thursday the Otonabee Navigation Company's steamer Monarch, arrived in Peterborough from Rice Lake points with two scows, on one of which were 268 hogs for the Matthews Company. These hogs were the largest lot of porkers ever brought up the Otonabee river. They weighed, on an average 251 pounds. Some of them went as high as 431 pounds. On the other scow were a thousand bags of grain and potatoes, shipped by Mr. W. J. Edmison, the well known Harwood general merchant. These shipments which are almost a daily occurrence, indicate the rapidly increasing value of the Trent Valley Canal System as a means of inland transportation. The wise policy of Hon. J. R. Stratton and Superintendent McClellan in persuading the Dominion Government to build wharves for the accommodation of shippers is producing marked results. There is no doubt whatever that we have a great heritage in this great waterway, and we hope the policy which characterizes the present government in regard to the development of this system will continue.

Local Players in Toronto Today.

Mr. Conny Murphy, the clever short stop of the T.A.S. ball team here, leaves this morning for Toronto to play for St. Mary's team of that city, against the T. In this game Harry Burridge will play first base for the Eaton team, whilst Corny Burns will play outfield for St. Mary's. The game will be played this afternoon at Hanlan's Point for a cup donated by the Toronto Star. The Eaton team has already won one game in the competition, and, if they are successful this afternoon will own the championship and cup.

The license inspector notified the court that Fred is an habitual user of stimulants. He was fined $2.60 and given 10 days to dig up the price.

150 Persons Said to Have Perished in Wrecks off Coast of England

TERRIFIC GALE SWEEPS COAST, AND BRITISH STEAMER IS LOST AT SEA.

Twenty-five Bodies Washed Ashore—Many Ships Reported Wrecked—Death Roll May Reach 200—Great Alarm Felt—Many Fishermen are Drowned.

London, Oct. 15.—The English and Irish coasts are lined today with wrecks, and grave fears are felt that the hurricane, which is hourly increasing in violence, will claim the largest death roll of this year's gales. Already more than 150 persons are reported to have perished. Many big vessels have either foundered or been driven ashore, while numberless fishing smacks are missing and believed to have sunk.

Corpses are being washed ashore at numerous places. Sixteen passengers and sailors are known to have perished in the foundering of the steamer Heathfield, which went down in the North Sea, while twenty are believed to have died on the steamer Cranford, missing off Hartlepool and believed to have sunk.

Many small groups of three and four fishing boats are reported missing from ports along the coast, and it is almost sure they have been lost for seven large steamers had great difficulty in remaining afloat in the high seas that were running. Telegraph reports from along the coast indicate that more than a dozen big vessels are stranded along the coast and that their crews have been compelled to take to the rigging, because of the seas that are washing over their decks. Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the imperilled mariners, as the seas are running so high the life-savers have been unable to launch their boats.

The gale is increasing in fury, and warnings have been sent to all ports that it is unsafe to venture out.

The bodies of five seamen from the Cranford were picked up. The ship carried a crew of twenty. It is believed the men were attempting to reach shore in a small boat when they were lost. Some of the wreckage coming ashore indicates that a sailing ship met a like fate.

Lifeboats from many points were out all last night, and in some instances effected rescues. In other cases they were unable to reach distressed craft.

Mr. J. H. Burnham in one of his characteristic and fearless speeches made at the 4th line of Smith, on the subject of "Church and State," regretted that whilst the management had "removed all suspicion," by inviting speakers from both political parties to be present, they had not turned up. Mr. Burnham in his remarks said, "Some people, like some of our newspapers, were afraid to call their souls their own.". He spoke in high terms of the articles in the Morning Times, saying, "It is the one avenue of getting arguments on ticklish subjects before the people." Mr. Burnham's speech, whilst 4-tempore was, a masterly handling of his subject.

Tremendous Power of Thibetan Pope at an End

(Special to The Times.)

Calcutta, Oct. 14.—China has crushed out the last vestige of the Government of the once powerful Dalai Lama, at Lhassa, according to advices received here from Thibet today. Chinese soldiers seized the agent of the Dalai Lama and spirited him away to a secret hiding hiding place, upon a warrant accusing him of conspiring to send supplies to the Lama at Darjiling.

An order of decapitation followed the arrest of the agent, but this was later cancelled for fear it would result in an out break.

The agent, is an abbot, seventy years of age, and he had acted as the secular minister for the Lama, who lived in strictest seclusion.

The arrest was the final step in the movement of the Chinese government to wrest the tremendous powers from the Lama's government in Thibet.

Chicago Churches in Campaign.

Wilbur Chapman, will preach the gospel at fifty different meetings every night and afternoon during the revival.

King Manuel Will Issue a Manifesto

(Special to The Times.)

Gibraltar, Oct. 14.—King Manuel is engaged in the preparation of a manifestation to the press of Europe, setting forth the truth concerning the revolution. The manifesto will not be published until some time after the king's arrival in England.

Lisbon, Oct. 14—King Manuel, in a letter to a personal friend here, declares that he was forced to leave his country because his ministers absolutely abandoned him. The royalist officers, on the other hand, maintain that they were ready to continue the fight, but the king's rapid flight left nothing to fight for.

"An homogenious Canada is desirable; of course with one language. No nationality should have special privileges regarding the preservation of its mother tongue.

"My Pennsylvania Dutch ancestors came to the country with a speech of their own and settled in a solid community. They had something infinitely greater than the appeal of a conquered people; they had the claim of loyalists who had left their cultured farms in Pennsylvania and came here to settle because of their allegiance to the British Crown.

CLAIMED NO SPECIAL RIGHTS.

"They did not—these Dutch ancestors of mine—claim the right to have the minutes of the county council printed in two languages—English and Pennsylvania Dutch—nor did they want the regulations of the railways printed in two languages. They sent for English school masters to teach their children. They wanted them to learn English, and the result is that today, while they love their mother tongue and speak it at the fire side they have English as the vehicle of their usual thought.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE.

"A morning paper says that we should try now to induce the heads of families in these French-speaking communities to speak English. I think that is putting the cart before the horse. I went through the ward the other day to hear a woman scold her child in Yiddish and the little one sassed back in English. That was the result of the teaching of Miss Howe in her Elizabeth street school.

"The same thing can be done with the French children of Ontario. But the place to start is in the schools.

WHEW, HOW I HATE HEAT!

Say Mr, and Mrs. Fat.

Is it any wonder that the fat people hate hot weather? If your heart and lungs and stomach were bound around with layer after layer of false flesh that gave out a terrible unnatural heat and that interferred with their normal function you would understand the averation of fat people to hot weather. There is absolutely no reason for fat people staying fat in this age of triumph. We do not advise drugging yourself, dieting or exercising yourself to death, but there is a method that has been proven successful. It is the famous Marmola tablets which do the work of removing fat exactly like nature intends it should be done. They stop the digestive organs from producing fat. They seek out the fat as it lies around the body and 15 ounces a day. These tablets are made from the great Marmola prescription it at the rate of from 12 to 15 and compressed into hard tablets by tremendous power. You may carry one in your pocket and always eat a meal in peace of mind, for you know that the tablet will get you the best results from such a meal. These tablets contain nothing but Marmola, Cascara, Aromatic and Peppermint Water, but they do their work so pleasantly, harmlessly, and so fast that you will be surprised. They are sold by every druggist, price 75 cents per case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, 1192 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

A POWER BUND.

Niagara power is at the door of the municipalities of Western Ontario, a ready servant. Its energies will be turning the wheels of industry, lighting the marts of commerce and illuminating the homes in a score or more of towns and cities in the electric zone before the snow flies.

The Hydro-Electric Commission, a state Board appointed by the Province of Ontario, with splendid foresight, indomnitable courage and in the face of strenuous opposition, has woven a web of transmission lines from Niagara Falls to Toronto on the East and Windsor on the West, and Berlin on the North at the behest of a group of 35 municipalities.

It was a vast work undertaken by the people of a state. A unique piece of public ownership, which ensures to Ontario for all time to come—cheap power, cheap light and cheap heat.

This power line carries the highest voltage of any line in existence, namely 110,000 volts, and its workings will be an object of interest to electrical engineers over the entire continent. 6

The official opening of the great public service was held at Berlin, on October 11, and was made the occasion of a three-day demonstration. The Ontario Cabinet, the Hydro-Electric Commission, members of the Provincial Legislature, mayors and editors of Canadian and American cities attended.

Berlin was selected as the point at which this demonstration should be held because of the movement to obtain Niagara power for the union of municipalities was launched there and it was the first municipality ready to receive it.

Berlin owns all its public utilities—water, gas, electric light and power and street railway system. It has over seventy manufacturing plants and is one of the greatest industrial centres in Canada.

LORD ROSEBERY'S BET.

It is on record that a bet has been made by Lord Rosebery in a London club with Lord Chancellor Loreburn that by November 1916, compulsory militia service will be established in Great Britain. As Lord Rosebery is an imperialist in his sympathies, and still, nominally at least, a liberal, much stress is laid on his declaration by the makers of conscription literature, which is now enjoying a wide publicity in the United Kingdom. The conversion of such a man as the ex-premier to the belief that Great Britain must take a leaf from the experience books of Continental Europe is considered significant. It would be idle as well as futile to deny that the attachment of his name to the cause of which Spencer Wilkinson and others have been identified, has a certain amount of significance.

His opinion might be regarded unprofessionally, of course, as a greater value than that of Lord Roberts, whose profession would naturally be thought to influence his judgment.

As a historian as well as a stylist, Lord Rosebery commands respect and a large amount of the argument he advances is historical, but historical writers will admit that the parallel he draws between the case of Great Britain of today and the Prussia in the disastrous year of Jena is a stretch on the imagination and there will be a long controversy before John Bull will authorize the "King's press" as a permanent recruiting agent of the fighting forces.

RACIAL FEELING.

Mr. Bourassa Stirring Up Strife In Quebec.

Montreal, Oct. 14.—The Telegraph has the following in regard to Henri Bourassa and his campaign to incite racial feeling in Quebec:

That the most of the people of this province still regard Henri Bourassa with interest, but respect for his talents has long since been swallowed up in contempt for his antics. While another Frenchman has been preaching racial peace and a united Canada, Mr. Bourassa has been proclaiming, from the platform and through the press, the gospel of race strife and dissatisfaction. Destructive statesmanship is easy, and Mr. Bourassa's firebrands may kindle bonfires here and there, but the time is past, in Canada, when a national conflagration is likely to result. In the end he must be consumed by his own fires.

To what extent he is going may be judged from the columns of his newspaper, Le Devoir. This is the paper which tells the French of Quebec that "Our role will be to provide food for the cannon on board the English warships." In a recent issue the following appears:

"Those of our fellow-countrymen, who followed the counsel of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and went to South Africa to fight the Boers recall with what sentiments of disdain they were received by the regular English troops. They also remember the contemptuous title which was cast at them—'Colonials.' They returned tired of their bragging of the Empire."

Mr. Bourassa is a good forgetter when he wants to be. Not a word does Le Devoir say of England's spontaneous and whole-hearted acknowledgment of the important part which was played by the Canadians in South Africa. Its readers are left to believe that the Colonials departed unthanked, though it is a matter of history that no debt to the over-seas dominions has been more freely and thankfully admitted by Great Britain.

"Colonials" is not, or at any rate ought not to be a term of contempt. It breathes the spirit of new lands and new endeavors, of wide and pleasant places afar from the crowded center of an older and confined civilization. Canada should find no more shame in such an appellation than youth would find in being called young. The Dominion has no reason to regret being a daughter in the Mother's house so long as she is "mistress in her own." This fact is too widely appreciated among Canadians of all classes and creeds to be affected by anything which Henri Bourassa, trouble-maker may do or say.

DESPATCHING CIRCUITS.

Grand Trunk Have Placed in Commission Two Telephone Train Despatching Circuits.

The Grand Trunk Railway System have recently placed in commission on their northern division, two telephone train despatching circuits as follows:—One circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction via Allandale, a distance of 145 miles, and another circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, a distance of 165 miles. Train despatchers on each of these circuits are located at Allandale.

On the circuit between North Parkdale Junction and Burlington Junction there are twenty-one way stations, and on the circuit between Allandale and Nipissing Junction, twenty way stations. These circuits are constructed of No. 9 guage hard drawn copper wire, transposed at intervals of every half mile through the open country and as much more frequent as it is necessary in the vicinity of high voltage power lines in order to avoid inductive influences and to render the telephone circuits absolutely quiet. The station equipment is of the latest and most perfect type on the market and consists of a swinging arm transmitter and head band receiver for each way station, thus giving the operator the free use of his head, hands and body while using the telephone; the apparatus is swung to one side out of the way while not in use. The train despatching office is equipped with a selector system for calling offices and the duration of the ring in each way station is controlled by the despatcher, who plainly hears the ring through his receiver. Any office on the line can be signalled within eight seconds and as the signal bell in each office consists of a four inch gong there is little doubt but what the operator will hear his call even though outside of the office and at a distance fromit. The despatcher has absolute control of the circuits and way stations must obtain his co-operation when desiring to communicate with one another.

The telephone is considered as being superior to the telegraph as a medium for despatching trains both as a factor of safety and a saving of time. By telephone each station and and numeral is first pronounced and then spelled out letter by letter by the despatcher for verification when an order is issued, and repeated in like manner by the receiving operator; while by telegraph stations and numerals can only be spelled out in Morse characters.

During the past three years the telephone has made rapid strides on trunk line railways in theUnited States and Canada,for train despatching purposes and today over thirty thousand miles of railway is being so despatched. While the expense for constructing and equipping telephone circuits, greatly exceeds that of constructing telegraph lines the railways have obtained so much better results with the telephone that they feel justified in spending the money.

We understand that it is the intention of the Grand Trunk Railway System to extend the use of the telephone over its more important and operators, the transmission belines in the near future.

The new system has met with the immediate favor of the despatchers ing so excellent that the work is transacted in fully fifty per cent less time and in a more personal and satisfactory manner, than is possible with the telegraph.

TORTURED TO DEATH.

Miner Had a Ring Burned Into His Face at Revelstoke.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Part of a human face, badly burned with acid, was handed over to the chief analyst of the government yesterday by Dr. Eagan, Provincial health officer at Vancouver. It is the only clue to a Vancouver. It is the only clue to the solution of a mysterious murder recently discovered at Revelstoke.

The victim was a miner named Frank Julian, who is thought to have been set upon by members of the Black Hand. He was cut up, and before being murdered was evidently tortured. A ring around the face was burned in by the use of acid It is to determine what acid was used that the analysis is being made.

Grand Trunk Engineers.

For the past few weeks a committee representing the engineers of the Grand Trunk Railway System has been in conference with the superintendent of motive power. So quietly did they carry on their negotiations that althought twenty-six of them were domiciled at a Montreal hotel for weeks there has been no publicity about the matter. The negotiations werecarrjed on with the best of good feeling on both sides and now, it is pleasant to record that an agreementhas been reached satisfactory to all concerned. The engineers asked for a substantial increase of pay, amounting it is understood to something like 12 per cent. The Grand Trunk was willing from the first to grant them an increase and the result of friendly negotiations is the agreement concluded Thursday. The representatives of the engineers left for their home Friday last entirely satisfied with the result of their mission to Montreal.

160 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently started its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Oil Fields, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Creek, Reed Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is positive that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL, passes $1.00 a barrel at well. Quote from 5c to 5c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUERRERO, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 32 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines in service, up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overSubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The lumber for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

Local Proof of English Superiority.

"Esperanto," the newly invented univeral language, may, if adopted by the various nations of the world become a general means of communication between the peoples of different tongues. Still, the good old English language, when used by the class from whom Canada's immigrants are mainly drawn has one word that has a universal significance Yesterday a Times representative in a local moving picture show, sat directly in front of two recently imported English immigrants of the gentler sex. Incidentally these ladies had about six babies in arms. The first picture was a western drama. As the Indians crept up behind the rocks to attack the colonel's daughter and her lover, one of the immigrants remarked "Them 'blooming' Indians don't give the lovers a chawnce at all." The next picture showed a ten-year-old child who heroically saves about ten lives. The lady referred to was heard to say: "The 'blooming' kid went strite to the spot and saved all them 'blooming' duffers." This is a shorthand report of two sentences which demonstrate the equality of English talk, at least, with that of Esperanto.

NOT A WHEEL MAY TURN.

Commercial Paralysis Threatened Every Trade Today On All Railways of France.

Paris, Oct. 14.—Martial law practically existed throughout France today as a result of the great railroad strike, which threatens to broaden into a commercial paralysis, touching every trade and completely stopping the wheels of industry throughout the Republic. Leaders in the railroad strike this morning declared that by night not a wheel would be turning on any railway system.

The ministry looks upon the present strike as a political revolution, rather than an industrial disaster. So menacing does President Fallieres and Premier Briand declare the situation to be that the army today is on war footing.

Nearly 100 arrests have been made, Premier Briand declared today that the strike leaders would be dealt with in a severe manner, and orders were given to jail all men making incendiary speeches.

Six strike leaders, including Mons. Lemoine, secretary of the general committee of the strikers, were arrested today at the office of the Socialist paper the Hmanite, after the police had been openly defied.

Mons. Jaures, leader of the Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies, and sixteen of his fellow members gathered at the office of the Humanite to discuss the progress of the strike with the leaders.

The police raided the office, but they did not secure entrance until after a stout resistance had been made. Afterwards Jaures denounced the arrests.

VISITORS ARE LEAVING.

Foreign visitors in all the French cities are leaving as they are able. The employes of the subway system of the Lyons and Mediterranean have voted to join the strikers.

Soldiers were everywhere today, the railroad terminals were guarded with troops assisted by the Municipal Guard and the Gendarmerie. The garrisons had all been reinforced, and those who have come in to answer the reserve call were assigned to patrol duty.

General Dalstein, military governor of Paris, has been warned of the extreme gravity of the situation and, in fear that violence would crop out in the capital, drastic measures were taken. The streets are patrolled with soldiers with fixed bayonets and batteries of cannon have been drawn up in parks about the garrisons for immediate use.

THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED WITH THE ARMY OF SYCOPANTS

Deserted by Ministers—No One Came To See Him in His Hour of Trial Admiration for Some Republican Leaders.

Lisbon, Oct. 13.—It is learned that the suicide of Admiral Reis so disconcerted the Revolutionists that it nearly wrecked their plans. It seems that shortly before the hour agreed upon for the mutiny the minister of marine, signalled, asking the warships whether they were ready to repel an attack at a moment's notice. This signal dismayed the conspirators, who refused to accompany Admiral Reis in a boat to the cruiser San Rafelo to start the revolution. Whereupon in despair the admiral killed himself.

The death of the admiral was plac arded, but Dr. Camacho convened the council and issued a denial, which saved the situation.

WEARY OF THE BURDEN.

Captain Dess, who commanded the royal yacht Amelie on the voyage to Gibraltar, says that during the flight King Manuel discussed the situation frankly with his uncle, the Duke of Oporto. He expressed a certain feeling of satisfaction and declared that he was utterly weary of the burden of the crown and disgusted with the army of sycophants and place hunters around the throne. He even expressed admiration for some of the Republican leaders for their courage and energy. Whereas the opposing sections of Monarchists had shown neither resolution nor ordinary pluck.

Capt. Dess believed that the king bitterly felt his complete desertion in his hour of trial, not a single minister having tried to see him or inform him of the course of events. The members of the cabinet all fled or went into hiding, except the premier, who was kept confined to his residence by an injured foot.

ENGLISH LADY WHO SPOKE IN CANADA A YEAR AGO WILL TOUR UNITED STATES.

Women Will Get Votes—She Says There's a Good Chance for Equal Suffrage in England.

New York, Oct. 14.—"Women rule the world because they rule the child, said Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the chairman of the National Administrative Council of the Independent Labor Party of England, and leading member of the British Parliament here today. Mrs. Snowden is one of the most prominent suffragettes of England, and with her husband is making a tour of the United States.

"The great artist, the great poet, owes more to his mother than to his father," she continued. "He is moulded by woman to mould the thoughts of others. Man will never be other than secondary. But woman's influence, existing as it does, today, without responsibility, is ruling the world very badly. Women need the ballot to rule the world well.

"Those who believe in masculine domination over woman, who see in her a chattel or a servant of man, are, of course opposed to the idea of sex equality of suffrage. As a matter of fact the chances for women's suffrage in Great Britain are excellent."

Snowden himself is also an ardent supporter of equal suffrage.

"One of the first uses that women will make of the ballot when they have won their right to vote, will be to vote against the tax on foodstuffs. In fact in my estimation the enfranchisement of women would be one of the surest means of reducing the cost of living," he said today.

The Dominion Government in response to the representations of Hon. Local Young Man to Wed.

It is generally rumored in local society circles that Mr. George Rogers, son of Mr. R. B. Rogers, who played a large part in constructing the local section of the Trent Valley Canal, including the Peterborough lift lock, is on October 26th to lead to the matrimonial altar, Miss Anita daughter of Dr. Simmons of Frankfort, Ont. George's many friends will extend sincere congratulations, first on his choice of a bride, and secondly on his entering the grand army of benedicts.

Former Local Girl Wedded.

Our older citizens will remember Mr. Chas. H. Hibbert, who was formerly head bookkeeper of the Canadian General Electric Company. Yesterday some of his old friends received cards from Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert, announcing the marriage of their daughter Miss Gladys Rupert, to George Walter Currigan, at Stanbridge, Quebec, on Thursday, Oct., 6th. The announcement cards were gotten out by Messrs. Birk Bros., of Montreal, thus indicating a large and fashionable wedding.

A Record Run.

The steamer Manita of the Otonabee Navigation Co., made a record run to Rice Lake on Thursday, taking a private party to Gore's Landing and Idyl Wyld. This trim little steamer made the run from Wolfe street wharf to Gore's Landing in two hours and twenty minutes. After dinner the party went to Idyl Wyld and returned to Peterborough at 6.30, making the run from Idyl Wyld home in about three hours. Owing to low water, natural at this time of the year, as boats are thus delayed by slowing down at shoals, this is considered a record run.

THOUGHTS OF A BUSY FELLOW

On Past, Current and Coming Events of Local Import.

ST. JOHN'S BELL.

With a set of chimes for St. John's Church a sure thing—thanks to the generosity of Peterborough citizens generally, to say nothing of many subscriptions from out of town, kindly forwarded by old residents of the city—the question naturally arises, what is to be done with the present bell in the ancient and ivy-covered tower of Peterborough's historic Church. The bell, of course, is the property of St. John's congregation and can only be disposed of by a vote of the vestry. Some there are who would favor its being sold, the purchase price therefrom to be applied to the cost of installing the chimes; but the majority of St. John's people would like to see this "ringing" memento of past events at least retained in town. Not only is it a metallic link between individual memories, let them be sweet or sad, but it is inseparably associated with Peterborough's history, and local and national sorrows and rejoicings. It has rung in the jubilees of Britain's greatest Queen, the coronation of her grandest and most peaceful king, and his noble son's recent ascension to the British throne. In measured notes it tolled the deaths of Royal Victoria and Edward, and also that of Canada's Grand Old Man, Sir John A. McDonald. Its intrinsic value is appraised at $600, but its memorial worth is incalculable; in fact it is characterized by many older citizens as a "dear" old bell that should be kept in Peterborough at any cost.

But in discarding the old love for the new, there are still years of sacred service in Peterborough for St John's old and faithful servant the bell. Three Anglican churches there are in this city—two with bells and one in need of such. 'All Saints' is the offspring of St. John's, and yet without a bell. Then what could be more appropriate than that the sweet toned notes of the latter's bell should from the tower of the new church, continue, its pleasing duty of calling the faithful to worship for generations to come, as it has done for more than one generation that has passed away.

PAST AND PRESENT.

When gathered in "smoker" conclave in the City Hall's neatly appointed committee room, one is oft-times reminded of the days of yore 20-odd years ago—when committee meetings were star-chamber sessions as far as the press was concerned, and when the town hall's down-stair appointments presented a happy-go-lucky and untidy appearance. These days the offices offer a neat and business-like aspect, and no committee meetings are held without some member of the press—the public's servant—being present. In this way public criticism is invited, and the aldermen's attitude on every question during the year freely advertised, as a guidance for the electors at the polls the following election.

The above leads one back twenty years or so ago, when the town of Peterborough was represented on the Council Board by the following gentlemen: Mayor, James Stevenson, Esq.; Councillors, Thos. Cahill, Adam Dawson, Harry Winch, Thos. Kelly, R. S. Davidson, Adam Hall, E.H.D. Hall, John Baptie, A. A. Rutherford, Wm. Langford, Jas. Kendry, J. J. Hartley. At that time, if one's memory is not at fault, Mayor James Stevenson was also chairman of the School Board and member of the Dominion House. These gentlemen although enjoying but the humble term of councillor were of as heavy a calibre as many a subsequent "alderman," in deed and word, and some of them in avoirdupois. Of them, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Kelly, Dawson, and Rutherford have passed over the great divide, and the remainder are still living. Mr. E.H.D. Hall is now city solicitor, Mr. Kendry succeeded as conservative member at Ottawa, Mr. Stevenson, to be in turn retired by Hon. J. R. Stratton.

The council at that time rarely met more than once a month, with a few committee gatherings thrown in. The City Fathers these days rarely get clear with two meetings a month, and a committee meeting almost every night. Aspirants for municipal honors should make a note of this, and, if elected, prepare to "board" at home in place of "living" there.

A QUESTION OF GAS.

With Mr. Dittman seeking an extension of time in which to discover the elusive natural gas, Mr. Carew anxious for a similar franchise to that granted Mr. Dittman, and the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company boring for gas, surely there'll be no further call for natural gas in the city hall over Ald. Turner's famous dog by-law. Still, for all that, one notices quite a number of dogs running the streets, not under controll of any person, tearing open-mouthed after bicycles and rigs, to say nothing of making themselves a howling nuisance. One ugly-jawed monster the other day disturbed the harmony of a peaceful neighborhood by annihilating a family of cats. A neighbor does not miss the cats, but he mourns the destruction of a perennial or two. A dog that makes light of taking a five-foot fence at a bound and has either acquired or inherited a disposition to destroy all things animate and inanimate, like this dog has, is in danger of being surreptitiously dealt with, by-law or no by-law—and there are others!

STREET PAVING.

A public meeting will shortly be called to discuss the street-paving proposition. Apart from the question of the city's present assessment and taxes, it must be conceded that street-paving is as much needed as concrete sidewalks and crossings, looked at in the light of "permanent improvement." They run on parallel lines in this respect. All this work represents a big saving in upkeep. But it is for the rate-payers to say, whether they shall sanction the issue of $70,000 worth of debentures for such work in the near future, or not. His Worship and his colleagues don't wish to force this enterprise on the rate-payers, and hope for a representative gathering at the coming public meeting, when it is expected that the pros. and cons. of the situation will be intelligently discussed and a definite conclusion arrived at.

HAD A BUSY TIME.

Finance Minister Ald. Bradburn, has kept a close watch on the expenditures of the several civic committee this year, and he's had a very busy time of it!

Warning to Owners of Local Automobiles

It seems that a few of the owners of automobiles, in a plethora of excitement over their ownership, even though there may be a sinister mortgage in connection therewith, seem to think they, in their autocratic superiority over the humble pedestrian or horse drivers own full control of the streets, and thereby endanger the lives of pedestrians. The following has been handed The Times for publication:

AUTO REGULATIONS.

The Ontario Statute of 1906 fixed the limit of speed in cities, towns and villages at ten miles an hour, and upon any public highway outside the city or town limits at fifteen miles per hour, but the Act provides that any person who drives a motor vehicle on a public highway recklessly or negligently or at a speed or in a manner which is dangerous to the public, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, including the nature, condition and use of the highway and to the amount of traffic which actually is at the time, or which might reasonably be expected to be on the highway shall be guilty of an offence under the Act. The penalty under the Act is not to exceed $50 for a first offence, for a second offence $100 and for a third or subsequent offence imprisonment not exceeding one month.

The police commissioners at their last sitting considered this matter and it was considered that on George street between McDonnel St. and the C.P.R. station and on Charlotte street between George street and the G.T.R. station, six or seven miles an hour should be the limit.

The owner of the automobile is responsible under the act for all violations of the law, and boys and girls should not be allowed to drive autos.

The commissioners instructed the chief of police to prosecute all offenders and to put a stop to the evil habit of 'delivery boys riding and coasting their little wagons on the side walks.

A PRESENTATION.

Address and Suit Case Given to Employe of Cressman & Co.

A happy event connected with the staff of the big Cressman dry goods store occurred Friday night, when Mr. Gillespie Stewart, connected with the firm for three years, but leaving today to take a position in St. Catharines, was presented with the following address and an elegant suit case and brushes. The address was as follows:

Mr. Gillespie Stewart,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Gillespie,—We, your friends and fellow employes of the Cressman store, having learned of your decision to sever your connection with the firm wish to take this opportunity of expressing to you in some small way the esteem in which you are held.

It would be impossible in this limited space to mention in detail the many remembrances we shall have of your connection with us, however, suffice to say that your honorable and cheerful disposition has established a friendship that can long withstand the tide of time.

In your new field of labor we sincerely hope you will be successful. When we reconsider that you have yet by far the greater part of life's arch to span, we feel assured that a great future awaits you, and in consideration of the fact that "In the lexicon of youth which fate reserves for a bright manhood there is no such word as fail"—any fears we have for your destiny are thus set at naught.

As a token of remembrance of the many warm friends you leave behind we ask you to accept this suit case and these military brushes, hoping that whenever they are brought into requisition they will also bring on associated thought.

"The Cressman Staff."

Signed on behalf of your store friends.

Oct. 14th, 1910.

Gillespie Stewart is the son of License Inspector Stewart of this city. He leaves Peterborough with the best wishes of a host of friends, who are sorry to lose his companionship, but feel assured that he is but starting out on life's journey with a very brilliant future before him.

Local Health Statistics.

The 28th annual report of the Provincial Board of Health for 1909 has just been issued. In this appear some items of local interest, to wit. During the year there were 45 cases of small pox in this county, one in Otonabee, one in Dummer and one at Havelock. Twenty-nine bacterial samples of Peterboro water were made. Of twelve samples of Peterboro milk were analyzed with an average result of 12.92 of fat therein—a fair test. One sample contained formaldehyde, the only sample in Ontario found by the Department to contain it. The report gives extensive diagrams of Lindsay water purification system with a detailed map of the Seugog river, showing the source of that town's drinking water supply and its contaminations. One photograph shows a pretty pastoral scene of about a dozen cows bathing in the Seugog above the intake of the Lindsay pumping station.

Tuesday Evening Club Room.

The third meeting of the Guild of Good Fellowship, in connection with St. John's church, organized here by Rev. Chas. Carpenter, was held yesterday in the Princess Theater. During his address Mr. Carpenter noted that every Tuesday evening hereafter one room will be open to young men who like to come, at his house on Antrim street. Here young men can come to chat, read or smoke. He asked that anyone having spare tables, chairs or other furniture might donate such to furnish the room. The guild seems to have "caught on" with the young men of St. John's.

Another Invasion of Gypsies.

Nervous mothers, with small children, will regret to learn that Peterborough is again, temporarily, the headquarters of a band of some forty itinerant gypsies. They resemble and have the characteristics of the band that caused so much excitement here last summer. They are at present encamped at Downer's Corners in Wilson's Lane (up Saturday a number of them, including a few women, paid a begging visit to the city. They were accompanied by a couple of large trained bears. As the men and bears walked down Hunter street to the bridge they were followed by such a crowd of children as to remind one of the story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin. Owners of chicken coops had better remember to lock the doors for a few days.

CLAIMED LAND IN CANADA.

Sensational Raid on the Redeemable Investment Company.

Boston, Oct. 14.—Federal authorities visited the offices of the Redeemable Investment Company yesterday and came away with Manager Charles H. Brooks, the books of the company and several thousand dollars in cash, all taken under a warrant charging the company with the use of the mails in a scheme to defraud.

The Redeemable Investment Company was organized three years ago as a holding company with a capital of $10,000,000.

Circulars found in the office say that the company promotes only those properties of which it is the owner, or of which it has control, and that the stock is not listed, as the company's redemption fund furnished a market for the stock on demand at a price in no case less than the price paid the company together with at least six per cent. for the time it has been issued.

The circulars also say that the company controls the Santo Domingo Mining Company, which is said to own 85 per cent. of the mines of Jalisso, San Domingo, and a ranch of 70,000 acres in the same State; the Norman Plass Lumber Company which claims to own 356,000,000 feet of timber in British Columbia; the Bolton and Canadian Wheat Company, having 20,000 acres of land in Canada, and the Okengan Development Company of Washington.

BEGAN YOUNG.
Had "Coffee Nerves" from Youth.

"When very young I began using coffee and continued up to the past six months," writes a Texas girl.

"I had been exceedingly nervous, thin and very sallow. After quitting coffee and drinking Postum about a month my nervousness disappeared and has never returned. This is the more remarkable as I am a primary teacher and have kept right on with my work.

"My complexion now is clear and rosy, my skin soft and smooth. As a good complexion was something I had greatly desired, I feel amply repaid even tho this were the only benefit derived from drinking Postum.

"Before beginning its use I had suffered greatly from indigestion and headache; these troubles are now unknown.

"The change from coffee to Postum was made without the slightest inconvenience, did not even have a headache. Have known coffee drinkers who were visiting me to use Postum a week without being aware that they were not drinking coffee.

"I have known several to begin the use of Postum and drop it because they did not boil it properly. After knowing how it should be prepared they have tried it again and pronounced it delicious."

The company has now 155 employes, and a large number of orders on hand.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mr. Wm. Logan on Sunday Afternoon.

An old and respected resident of this city passed away on Sunday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock in the person of Mr. Wm. Logan, at the age of 76 years. The death of Mr. Logan will be deeply regretted by all those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, of a kind and affable nature he made many warm friends. His friendship was lasting, always eager to help those in distress and ready with a kind word to his fellow men.

The late William Logan was born in Smith township. He came to this city as an apprentice to the blacksmith trade, entering the shop at the corner of Brock and Alymer streets, and gradually worked himself up. He entered in partnership with Mr. Douglas, and finally took over the business twenty years ago and continued in the business until the time of his death, a period of about fifty-four years. The deceased was at one time captain of the old fire brigade and a veteran of '66, being a sergeant in his company.

The late Mr. Logan was a Presbyterian in religion and a member of St. Andrew's church.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, five daughters and one son. The daughters are, Mrs. Eric Jones, Minnie, Vennie, Noma and Rae, and son William. He has one brother David, residing in Lindsay. Mr. Logan had been ill for about two weeks suffering from paralysis.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 from his late residence to Little Lake cemetery.

FRENCH MAY QUIT SCHOOLS

WILL WITHDRAW SUPPORT FROM SEPERATE SCHOOLS IF FRENCH IS DROPPED.

Priests in Essex are in Two Hostile Camps—Great Difference of Opinion also Exists Between Roman Catholic Laity.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 15.—"You may say this, and say as forcibly as you can, that unless Bishop Fallon desists in the persecution of the French Canadians of this diocese in taking away from them the use of their language—the right which they have had for a hundred years—they will respectfully withdraw their support from the seperate schools and give it to the Catholic Public schools. I do not mean that they will withdraw their support from their church, you understand, but I do mean that the Separate schools which have been so generously and warmly supported here for so many years will be left without aid in the future."

The above was the emphatic statement of a life-long resident of this district, a Roman Catholic, and therefore for obvious reasons a man who would not allow his name to be used. Asked as to his explanation of the Bishop's statement that he had never opposed bilingual schools, he made use of a short and ugly word rendered famous by Colonel Roosevelt.

PROMISED BRIDE TOOK MONEY.

Windsor Man About to be Married, Cannot Find $1,700 in Cash and His Would-be Wife.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Louis Gruff, 34 years old, a carpenter of Windsor, Ont., was awakened from his day-dreams today with the disappearance of his promised bride, Miss Irene Allen of Detroit, and $1,700, the savings of a lifetime. When he failed to find the girl he appealed to the police for aid in his search.

Gruff said he met the young woman two years ago in Detroit and last Tuesday when he visited here there they agreed to go to Kansas City and get married. They came to Chicago and, while waiting there between trains, were guests at a hotel near the Union Station. Gruff was advised to go out and get shaved and Miss Allen asked him to leave his money with her. e did so, and when he returned his bride to be had flown. Miss Allen, it is said, had sent her baggage back to Detroit.

WELLMAN STARTS ON HIS BALLOON JOURNEY TO EUROPE

WELLMAN MADE GOOD START ON TRANS-ATLANTIC BALLOON JOURNEY.

Thousands of People Watching for the Big Air Ship and Eager to Hear Any News That Came From the Craft.

(Special to The Times.)

Atlanta City, N.J., Oct. 15.—Walter Wellman, the American newspaper correspondent and aeronaut, and a crew of six men sailed away from Atlantic City today for Europe in the monster dirigible balloon America, starting on the most daring, perilous and spectacular trip in the young history of aviation.

There Will be a Bitter Fight Over Fallon Attitude---Waiting for Reply

ISSUE BETWEEN ENGLISH AND FRENCH CATHOLICS CAUSES EXCITEMENT.

Sides are Lining Up for the Fray—Dr. Reaume's Secretary Has Been Dismissed—Bishop Fallon's Attitude.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—If Bishop Fallon stands to his guns he will win out. That observation is frequently made by those who know the insidious nature of the controversy that is now uppermost in the public mind. There is going to be a struggle, and that struggle will not be over the ethics of Hon. W. J. Hanna informing a colleague of the nature of an interview he had with a Roman Catholic Bishop over the teaching of French in public schools, nor are the public vitally concerned with the loyalty or honesty of a civil servant who extracted a memorandum from the fyle of his chief, which and through devious ways became public. Mr. Maisonville has paid the penalty for his act, but that does not end the matter.

HOW IT STARTED.

The whole situation is complicated. The public record of the matter commences with the publication of an article in a Toronto paper under date of Sept. 17, in which the bishop was accused of causing unrest and dissatisfaction in his diocese. The following week certain comments appeared in the editorial columns of the Quebec press which caused his lordship to disclaim any unfriendliness towards the French in his diocese, and to deny the allegation that he had issued instructions against the teaching of the French language in the schools in Essex and Kent. That some influence emanating from the bishop had been exerted in the diocese was subsequently disclosed, and then came the publication of an article in La Revue Franco-Americaine on Oct. 1, over the pseudonym "Michael Renouf," which was reprinted in Le Devoir, Henri Bourassa's paper, on Oct. 7. The publication of a retranslation into English and the attendant discussion during the past week is fresh in public remembrance, and his lordship's promised statement tomorrow is eagerly awaited.

Bishop Fallon believes that a child who grows up in Ontario without a knowledge of English will be hampered in his battle with the world. This stands to reason. On this continent English is in a commanding position The United States has one official language. Other tongues are spoken, of course, but for business and politics English is required. On the Continent of Europe it is possible to travel from Boulogne to Brindisi without losing touch with the English language. French may be the universal tongue of diplomacy, but more and more English becomes the language of business. In this country whether in Ontario or Quebec, no child should be denied a knowledge of English, and the advantages which undoubtedly it brings.

But at the same time the children of French parents should be allowed to learn French. There is an old saying that a bi-lingual man has a double-barrelled mind. None of the prominent French-Canadians of Canada who speak both languages have lost their distinctive French characteristics because they can speak and think in English. Mr. Bourassa's English is smooth and well-ordered. Mr. Brodeur would be at home in Zorra. Dr. Reaume addresses an English audience with evident freedom. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a polished speaker in English and in French. It is surely not asserted that the French Canadianism of these eminent men is impaired by their knowledge of Shakespeare's idiom. Nor is the chief justice of the Supreme Court any less an Irishman because he is a master of literary and colloquial French.

It is not necessary in order to conserve the French Canadian race, to deny the children of French parents the knowledge that will enable them to get along better in the world. Nor is the man who suggests such education a traitor to the French race.

Bishop Fallon is the object of a good many attacks by writers in the French press. A dozen batteries are aimed at him, not fairly. So long as the majority of people in Canada speak English and so long as an overpowering majority of the ninety millions next door to us speak English, surely the children of this Province should receive English instruction in the Public and Separate schools.

A PISTOL BATTLE.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 14.—In a running pistol battle between Officers James, Creedon and Zetty, and George Douglass, a South Carolina negro, the policemen got their man after wounding him. The fight occurred at an early hour this morning in the darkness.

Douglass had shot up the home of Mrs. Bessie Redman, killing his sweetheart, Mamie Bell, aged 20, and injuring Mrs. Redman and Simpson Galloway. Douglass was jealous because he was not invited to the dance which was being held.
